

HUERTA'S FAMILY IS SAFE—HE MAY ENTER FIELD WITH TROOPS

No Official Word That He Is Leaving Is Received.

Evacuation of Guaymas By the Federals Has Begun.

Rebels Could Enter Capital Within a Few Hours.

*****KEEPS TO CUSTOM.*****

Mexico City, July 15.—Gen. Huerta was about the principal streets of the capital this morning, and at 11 o'clock, as usual, went to the barber shop in front of the cable office to be shaved.

Washington, July 15.—With Huerta's family in flight today from Mexico City, the resignation of the dictator was expected early today by officials in Washington. Mexico City dispatches stated Huerta and Gen. Planquet, minister of war, might follow their families to Vera Cruz today.

No word of the movements or intentions of Gen. Huerta was received in the early official dispatches today. The only official communication from Mexico City was a message from the Brazilian legation there, the contents of which evidently had been censored until nothing but a mere list of routine formal announcements was made.

May Stay and Fight.

In some quarters the view was expressed that the departure of the dictator's family meant only that he was preparing to make a final stand against the Constitutionalists, commanding his troops in person.

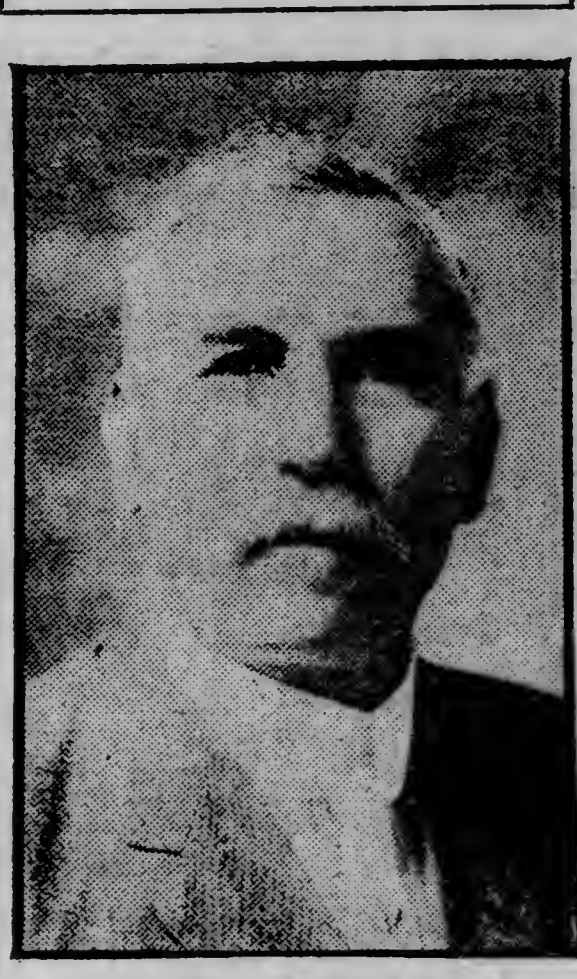

Administration officials, however, said they were convinced Huerta was not ready to quit, and directed their efforts at averting fighting in the federal capital and arranging some means of transferring power without further loss of life.

Carranza's forces continued preparations today to press the campaign against Mexico City. Officials believe the Constitutionalists will be in Mexico City within a few weeks regardless of the action of the Huerta government.

Evacuated Guaymas.

Washington, July 15.—The new assistant secretary of the interior is named Bo Sweeney. No. 10 is not a nickname he received from his parents just as it stands. Bo comes from Seattle.

GRAND JURORS RESUME WORK ON THE BAILEY MURDER.

Prisoner Says Plight Is Punishment for Her Jealousy.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 15.—A grand jury from which two members withdrew because of friendship for the Carman family, resumed today its work in the case of Mrs. Florence Carman, held in jail as having fired the shot which killed Mrs. Louise Bailey in Dr. Carman's office at Freeport on the night of June 30. It was expected that the jury would complete its work today, and that if an indictment were found it would be returned tomorrow.

With the resumption of the hearing District Attorney Smith announced that he had issued a subpoena for Mrs. Ellen Corby, a niece of Mrs. Carman. It is understood that she is one of the two women who have been sought since the murder, as having been in the doctor's waiting room and who fired when they heard the shot fired.

The first witness examined today was Henry De Beau, who testified to seeing Mrs. Bailey going to the Carman home. Another witness was Miss Helen Combs, who was in the waiting room when the murder was committed. It was thought likely that Mrs. Carman would not be called before the grand jury.

CONSERVATION PATH OPENED

White House Conference Brings Agreement on Bills.

Action at This Session of Congress Seems Assured.

Washington, July 15.—As a result of a long conference at the White House last night, all differences of opinion over proposed conservation legislation were removed, and passage of the bill at this session of congress was believed to be assured.

After several hours' discussion a complete agreement was reached between advocates of the Adamson general dam bill, now pending in the house, and the Ferris bill to regulate water power projects on public lands. The conference decided to keep jurisdiction over all dams and water power sites on the public domain and those on property not in the public domain separate.

At the Conference.

The participants in the conference were the president, Representative Underwood, Secretary Lane and Garrison, Representatives Adamson and Stevens, representing the interstate and foreign commerce committee, and Representatives Ferris and Lenroot of the public lands committee.

Following the conference, which lasted until after midnight, it was said that consideration of the Adamson bill would be continued in the house as soon as the appropriation bills are out of the way.

The disagreement over the dam bill was the principal obstacle in the way of the passage of the program mapped out by Secretary Lane and agreed to by the president.

BAVARIAN BAN ON TRUST TOBACCO.

Munich, Germany, July 15.—The Bavarian war ministry today ordered all branches of the Bavarian army including the officers' messes and the men's canteens to purchase their cigarettes only from firms independent of the tobacco trust. The trust cigarettes already had been banned from Bavarian railway stations.

SMOTHERED IN QUICKSAND

Seven Miners Lose Lives Near Iron River, Mich.

Eighth Saves Life By Leaving Boots and Clothes Behind.

Iron River, Mich., July 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Seven men were killed in the Balkan mine at Alpha last night when a bed of quicksand caved in from the roof of a drift. State Mine Inspector Job says it may take a month or longer to recover the bodies. The killed: BATISTA BATTAN, aged 40; married; DOMINCO BEVOLA, 28; single; ANTOINE BOSCHI, 40; single; JACOB MAKI, 27; single; VICTOR PALLAORA, 22; single; DIMITAR RADATOVIC, 45; married; BATESTA ROSSI, 25; single.

Drilling Into Roof.

A crew of nine was working in a drift drilling into the roof to tap a bed of water so that it could be drained and the mine dried out. Suddenly the drill went through a strata of iron. The drill was shot out as if from the barrel of a rifle, followed by a stream of quicksand.

The crew ran for the shaft 300 feet away, but seven were caught by the onrushing quicksand and buried alive. Two reached the ladder in the shaft and escaped. The second man was buried almost to his shoulders but pulled himself up on the ladder, stripping him of his boots and clothes as he did so.

KANAWHA VALLEY SWEEP BY STORM

Much Damage Is Done By Elements in West Virginia.

Charleston, W. Va., July 15.—The Kanawha valley was swept during last night and early today by storms which caused losses estimated at $250,000. The Masonic temple in Charleston was damaged to the extent of $35,000 by lightning and almost at the same time two horses were killed in the street not far away. A number of buildings were blown down and telephone and telegraph wires crumpled.

Campbell Anderson, a brakeman, was blown from the top of a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train into the branches of a tree as the train crossed the trestle at Marmet, but escaped with minor injuries.

OVER 3 INCHES OF RAIN IN ONE HOUR

Raleigh, N. C., Suffers Damage in Excess of $100,000.

Raleigh, N. C., July 15.—Damage estimated in excess of $100,000 by rain here late yesterday by a cloud-burst. The Carolina Power & Light company was put out of commission, two state printers and the News and Observer basements were flooded, some being six feet deep in water. The rainfall was 3.4 inches in one hour, the greatest here in twenty-six years.

TELLS "BILLION-DOLLAR CONVENTION" TO WATCH THE GROWTH OF DULUTH

Minneapolis Publisher Says City Will Soon Have Million Inhabitants.

"All Harbors Are Keys Unlocking Riches of Land and Sea."

"The Building of American Cities," Is Allen D. Albert's Theme.

That Duluth is destined to have a million inhabitants in a surprisingly short number of years and will be eventually a city of world-wide importance, commercially and educationally, is the optimistic prophecy of Allen D. Albert, associate publisher of the Minneapolis Tribune, who gave a brilliant speech before the convention of national building owners and managers, the "billion dollar convention," this morning at the Spaulding hotel.

Mr. Albert was eloquent, scholarly and practical in his address and painted in word imagery the romance of "The Building of American Cities." Many present said Mr. Albert's address was the finest ever delivered before a convention of the association and a rising expression of thanks was accorded the speaker.

"The development of cities," said the speaker, "comes in waves. Duluth has had its first wave of development, has paused to rest its breath, and is now ready for its second, great high tidal wave of growth."

"Nothing can check its growth unless the people themselves fail to grasp the richness of life which its many advantages afford, and I do not think this probable."

All Harbors Are Keys.

In giving his reasons for so optimistic a prophecy, he said: "All harbors are keys, keys by which the land unites with the sea."

VOTE ON JONES MAY COME NEXT FRIDAY

Adverse Report Finished By the Senate Committee.

Washington, July 15.—After a night of constant effort to line up administration senators for President Wilson's nomination of Thomas D. Jones of Chicago for the federal reserve board, the whips reported to the White House early today that a vote probably would not be reached before Friday or Saturday, and that the result, while a victory for the president, would be very close.

Six Democratic senators were reported to the White House as unalterably opposed to the confirmation. The president was taking no part in the preliminary fight for a vote in open session.

The banking committee finished its adverse report on the Jones nomination. Vice President Marshall checked repeated attempts to start the discussion in open session. A minority report by Senators Shafroth, Hollis, Lee and Pomeroy, favoring the nomination was ready for presentation.

FINAL DEMANDS ON WESTERN RAILROADS FRAMED BY LEADERS

Vote in Favor of Strike Is Practically Unanimous.

Managers Say Increase Would Add $33,000,000 to Payrolls.

Men Claim Former Arbitration Agreements Were Broken.

Chicago, July 15.—Official written notice to the managers' committee of the Western railroads, that the 55,000 engineers on those roads would not arbitrate their wage difficulties with their employers was prepared today by union officials.

The position of the engineers was outlined verbally to the managers' committee yesterday when the result of the strike vote showing that nearly all of the engineers and firemen favored a strike was made public. A formal reply to the message from the workers was expected late today or tomorrow.

Add $33,000,000 to Wages.

The managers' committee contended that the requests of the engineers for increased pay and more liberal overtime allowances would add $33,000,000 to the railroads' payrolls. The firemen and engineers asserted that their requests were reasonable and just.

The engineers said they had exhausted every effort to avert a strike, and that effective means to force the railroads to action would follow unless a reply was received shortly from the (Continued on page 6, second column.)

WORKMEN'S GARDENS VALUED AT $6,480

Steel Corporation Prizes to Employees Are Awarded.

Connellsville, Pa., July 15.—Vegetables valued at $6,480 are maturing in 162 gardens at homes of workmen employed in the Leisenring plant of the Steel Corporation. The vegetables were valued by the estimate of judges who yesterday inspected the plots and today awarded three prizes for the best.

The winners are George Orr, coal miner; John Dolan, road man; and Andy Chulko, coal drawer. Seventeen other persons were given honorable mention, and so well was the garden carried on that the committee recommended additional prizes for next year.

The awards were made under the general plan of the United States Steel corporation to encourage vegetable raising among its employees.

LORIMER BANK WITNESSES GONE

Chicago, July 15.—It was learned today that witnesses wanted by the federal grand jury investigating the affairs of the La Salle Street bank while it was a national concern have fled from the city. One man, it is said, has gone to Los Angeles, but federal agents there as well as in other cities will be sent copies of the subpoenas and will try to serve them.

MERCANTILE FIRM FRAUDS

Nine Convicted in Barr & Widen Case in Chicago.

Over $1,000,000 Is Secured From Creditors of Bankrupts.

Chicago, July 15.—Nine defendants accused of using the mails to defraud in connection with the Barr & Widen Mercantile agency were found guilty today by a jury before Federal Judge Landis.

More than $1,000,000 had been realized by the company through its business methods, according to the government's contention. It was asserted the Barr & Widen agency would learn the names of creditors of bankrupts and then send them letters agreeing to collect the claims, usually suggesting that the bankrupt had concealed assets. Large fees were received and the creditors got little return.

Widen Killed Himself.

Widen, one of the men at the head of the business, committed suicide when the government began its investigation.

The men convicted are: Abram H. Freeman, superintendent of agents; Chicago; Frederick Wendler, general manager; in the St. Louis office; Charles F. Day, Kansas City; James T. Minehart, and Robert B. Pender, Pittsburg; Joseph Stevens and W. W. Fellers, Kansas City; and J. H. Workman and Joseph Finkleman, St. Louis.

The policeman maintained the defense that the shooting was accidental and this view was accepted by the jury.

POLICE ARE NOT IMMUNE

Chief Troyer Warns His Own Chauffeurs and All Others.

Chauffeurs of the police department will be required to drive safely and sanely as well as others who steer automobiles through the streets of the city.

Orders to that effect have been issued by Chief Troyer. He states that frequent complaints have come to him that chauffeurs of the department often drive in a reckless and dangerous manner without regard to the safety of the people on the streets.

The chief also informed the chauffeurs that they will be expected to observe the terms of the new amendment to the traffic ordinance, as well as the other traffic regulations. The amendment provides that a vehicle is to stop ten feet from any street car which is standing on a corner to receive or discharge passengers.

The only exception will be in responding to urgent hurry-up calls. The chief suggests further that the police machines be driven along Michigan street, or First street, particularly during the hours of congested traffic.

The bulletin issued by Chief Troyer to the drivers is in part as follows: "To all Motor Vehicle Drivers in this Department."

"Frequent complaints have come to me regarding the way the drivers in this department handle their motor vehicles. It is claimed that very often they drive in a reckless and dangerous manner, without regard to the safety of the people on the streets."

"I wish to call attention to the fact that there has just been passed an amendment to the 'Traffic Ordinance' by the council. This amendment will take effect and be in force on and after Aug. 3, 1914, and I will expect every driver to comply with the law re-

PROGRAM WILL BE KEPT SECRET

Annual Bar Banquet Expected to Be Up to Standard.

Just what is in store for the Duluth judges and attorneys and their guests on the program for the annual banquet of the bar association for the eleventh judicial district Saturday evening, July 18, at the Fairmont hotel, is being kept secret by the chairman of the banquet committee, it is unwilling to divulge. He has given assurances, however, that there will be "something doing" and that this year's program will not be overshadowed by famous banquets of previous years. As is customary, the program will be sprung as a surprise.

It has been announced by the committee that the only speaker of the evening will be President William L. Bryan of the University of Indiana. Although the subject of Mr. Bryan's address is not yet known, it is believed that it will be a serious vein and probably the only one of the evening.

The banquet will be held at the Commercial club at 7 o'clock sharp. Judges of the state supreme court will be guests of honor at the occasion. The judges will arrive here tomorrow evening and will be entertained by a committee on a trip over the Iron range country Friday and will spend Saturday taking in the sights in about Duluth.

The four local district judges today affirmed the judgment which Mayer entered in municipal court. The company appealed from the municipal court judgment.

Mayer was driving west along Superior street and was struck from behind by a street car at Thirty-third avenue west. He sued for $3000 damages.

WILL TEST RIGHT TO REMOVE NUISANCES

The health department has decided to embark on a new method of getting rid of certain nuisances, that of doing the work and assessing the cost against the property.

The first move in this direction will be to tear down an offensive outhouse at Woodbury. The property has been vacant for about a year and notices to the owner to improve conditions have not been accorded a response. The outhouse has been particularly offensive to the occupants of three nearby residences.

It is unknown whether or not the owner will contest the bill. Should he do so the action of the department will be tried out in the courts on its merits. Should the city win out it will give it a very effective means of getting rid of numerous other nuisances in the city.

NURSE IS ARRESTED FOR NURSE'S DEATH

San Jose, Cal., July 15.—Eva J. Rinehardt, a nurse sought for the alleged murder of her companion nurse, Mrs. Kathleen Bluet, was arrested here today on a warrant issued in Placer county. Miss Rinehardt is charged with having killed Mrs. Bluet in order to collect her life insurance.

Charged With Murder.
Auburn, Cal., July 15.—The charge against Miss Rinehardt is murder, according to Sheriff McAuley. He said that Miss Rinehardt and Mrs. Bluet were trained nurses and partners in a small private hospital here. Miss Rinehardt was in Auburn for only a couple of months and she left soon after the death of Mrs. Bluet, who was cleaning some clothes in the disinfecting room when she received the burns which at first were supposed to have caused her death.

Mrs. Bluet was insured for $10,000 in a New York life insurance company and for $2,000 in an accident insurance company. The latter policy was paid to Miss Rinehardt, but the other company refused to pay and began the investigation which resulted in a murder warrant being issued.

Mrs. Bluet was about 55 years old while Miss Rinehardt is about 27.

FOUR MILES OF CONCRETE

Council Orders New Duluth Road Paved to South Line of Gary.

Petition Asking for Half of the Improvement Is Presented.

The city council at a special meeting held late yesterday afternoon ordered the New Duluth road concreted to a width of eighteen feet from Eighty-fourth avenue west to the south line of Gary. First division, an approximate distance of four miles.

A petition was presented for the improvement of the middle section, which includes Zimmerman avenue from Ninety-third avenue west to Commonwealth avenue and Commonwealth avenue from Zimmerman avenue to the south line of the main line of the Spirit Lake Transfer company. This is about half the highway to be paved, being about two miles of roadway. This cost is estimated at $42,440, or half of the estimate of the whole cost, $84,880.

The sections on either end were ordered improved by resolution, the petition not including them. The estimated cost of the west section, running from Eighty-fourth avenue west to the intersection of Zimmerman avenue and Ninety-third avenue west, is estimated at $22,400. That of the east section, running from the south line of the transfer tracks to the south line of Gary division, near the big fill on Commonwealth avenue, is estimated at $12,840, making the total estimated cost of the two ends $35,240, or the same as that of the work petitioned for.

Three separate resolutions, one for each section, were passed. Each states that the cost of the improvement, except the city share for intersection, shall be assessed to the property benefited, for a distance of 150 feet on each side of the highway. They also provide for the levying of an advance assessment of 50 per cent.

Rough Estimates.
No surveys or detailed figures of the job have been prepared. The estimates were prepared in the office of the city engineer and are general approximations.

A petition having been presented for the middle section the city can go ahead with that part of the paving without further delay. The affidavit states that they do not propose to lose any time and expect to have that part of the work completed in the meantime. Under the charter the resolutions ordering the two ends will have to lay over sixty days. They will become effective at the expiration of that period unless a remonstrance, signed by 25 per cent of the property owners owning 25 per cent of the frontage benefited, is filed in the meantime. The paying covered by the resolutions will not be done this year. The officials do not anticipate the presentation of objecting petitions.

At the same meeting a resolution was passed vesting the responsibility of part of Nelson avenue on the point. A petition asking the Northwestern Fuel company, which desires the use of the avenue in the construction of a new coal dock costing about $600,000. Ordinances appropriating $5,000 for material used for repairing the Sixth avenue viaduct, $477 for the purchase of a steam drill outfit for the works division and $280 for a balance governor for the water and light department were given third readings and passed.

A resolution was passed releasing the National Surety company from its obligation to pave Victoria street with asphalt from Woodland avenue to the Hartley road. In exchange for the release the surety company is paying the city $600. A petition has been presented asking that Victoria street be concreted to a width of sixteen feet and bids for the work have been advertised.

CZAR'S DOCTOR SENT TO MONK

Czarina's Lady-in-Waiting Sent to Attend Rasputin.

Woman Who Tried to Kill Him Makes Statement.

St. Petersburg, Russia, July 15.—The emperor's court physician, Prof. Sergius Petrovitch Federoff, and the empress' lady-in-waiting, Mrs. Vrhova, started today for Tyumen, Siberia, according to the Courier, to attend the mystic lay monk and imperial confidante, Gregory Rasputin, who is suffering from a wound inflicted by a woman who tried to kill him.

In a newspaper interview today, Guseva, the would-be assassin, who is in jail, said she had long meditated killing Rasputin and thus put an end to "the awful evil wrought by him in Russia by his impostures under the guise of a prophet."

"Without conscience," she declared "he had shaken Christianity, was sowing temptation and was blasphemously mocking the most holy feelings of true believers," and she added that she had sworn absolute immunity and had openly and without conscience ruined the lives of young girls.

Guseva concluded: "I, as a simple Christian, could not suffer his abuse of the church. I wanted to kill him last year. I went to Yalta, but could not approach him because he was so closely surrounded by aristocratic women followers."

"I regret that I failed to kill him. All the same, he will not live. The Russian people will not endure such disgrace."

Lays It to Rasputin.
Rasputin, in an interview, said: "I feel that I cured Holodorus, abbot of Tsartayn. But to the confusion of himself and his friends, I am now living and they will have nooses put around their necks."

"The Russian people have a great rival of Rasputin in the Russian capital, whence he was recently banished owing to Rasputin's influence with the emperor. Rasputin is recovering from his wound."

CHASSELL, MICH., MAN RESCUES TWO GIRLS

Dives Into Portage Lake; Saves Them From Drowning.

Houghton, Mich., July 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Edward Hollaps of Chassell saved two lives last night by jumping into Portage lake and rescuing Miss Hazel Gross and Miss Mabel Hutchings of that place, who had fallen from the girls were swimming off Robinson's dock. Miss Gross was taken with cramps and called to her friend.

Pulls Companion Down.
When the latter swam over to assist her, Miss Gross pulled Miss Hutchings under the water. Hollaps heard their cries for help and jumped into the lake. He saved Miss Hutchings without trouble, but Miss Gross disappeared. Hollaps dived several times and finally brought Miss Gross, unconscious, to the surface and the shore. The girl was restored to consciousness after an hour's work.

CHURCH HAS TWO SETS OF TRUSTEES

Judge Fesler Must Decide Who Gets Insurance Money.

Whether E. Koskitalo, Matti Iru and Charles Hill are the trustees of the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran church at Eagle, Carlton county, and are authorized to receive insurance money due the congregation for the loss by fire of their meeting house, or that distinction belongs to William Peterson, John Koski and Oscar Lampi, is a question which Judge Bert Fesler will decide in a law suit, the trial of which was concluded before him this morning.

The suit, which is one to determine which set of men are the trustees of the church, grew out of a factional fight which started a year ago last month over the question of "firing" the pastor. The Northern Assurance company, Ltd., of London, was made defendant in the action to recover $350 brought by Koskitalo and his faction. The other faction also claimed to have trustees and the insurance company got out of the law suit by paying the money into court. Peterson and his associates, also claiming to be trustees, intervened and the question now hinges on which group is entitled to get the money.

The church burned to the ground on June 27, 1913. The fire is believed by some to have been of incendiary origin.

About 6,400 men are involved.

The co-operative plan, in force here since 1911, is said to be the only one of its kind in the country. The company sets aside 22 per cent of the gross passenger receipts into a fund from which wages are paid.

The wages of the men have been increased since the strike of 1910 from

PRAYS FOR JUDGE WHILE ON GALLOWS

Paris, Ark., July 15.—Arthur Tillman, 22 years old, was hanged today for the murder of his sweetheart, Amanda Stephens, aged 19. Her body was found in an abandoned well at Delaware, Ark., last March.

Kneeling on the trap door, Tillman prayed for fifteen minutes, asking forgiveness for the judge who, he said, was responsible for the death of an "innocent boy," and for the sheriff who conducted the hanging.

HAS BURIED LOOT; IMMUNE FROM LAW

New Orleans, La., July 15.—Unless she is wanted by officers of some other city, police here say they cannot hold Mrs. Charles C. Craven, 20 years old, widow of Charles Craven, the train bandit, who they said had confessed she had hidden $54,000 of her husband's loot. The young woman defied detectives. She has been on a charge of being a fugitive from justice.

Craven was killed and a companion wounded near Wildwood, Fla., five months ago by detectives who trailed the pair as suspects after an Alabama train robbery. The woman told the detectives that most of the $54,000 in cash and jewelry was obtained in the Alabama robbery. She said it was buried near Savannah, Ga.

The above telegrams from the biggest and strongest brokerage houses in Canada speak for themselves. PROGRESS OIL is offered in 500,000 share blocks in Canada at 10 cents, and probably worth nothing. Why should the Duluth public pay an oil stock promoter 25 cents?

No further comments are necessary. It is to bar just such stocks that the Duluth brokers advocated and fought for a Blue Sky Law for Minnesota. In regard to the advertisement in last night's Herald, signed "Progress Oil & Gas Co.," the accusation is so absurd in the face of indisputable facts that we hardly think it worth while to notice it, as any one with any sense or who knows the personnel of our firm knows that such a statement is not only ridiculous but utterly false and malicious.

This is the last warning we shall give Duluthians regarding Calgary oil stocks. There are many wildcats of which the newspapers everywhere as well as legitimate brokers are cautioning the public against.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS OFFER MADE TO CONRAD

Fort William Directors Want to Buy Baseball Man Out.

Northern League Magnates
Attempting to Smooth
Out the Tangle.

WILL TIE A CAN TO OWNER CONRAD.

Late this afternoon the magnates of the Northern league adopted a resolution that if Conrad, president of the Fort William team, five days within which to accept the cash offer made by the remainder of the officers, and direct William to leave for his holding in the club. In the event of Mr. Conrad refusing to accept the offer, the expiration of the five days he will be deprived of his franchise. Shortly after the calling of the league meeting to order late this afternoon the reply to the offer of the Fort William minority stockholders was received from President Conrad. The answer was curt and to the point. Mr. Conrad refused absolutely to consider the proposition. It was then that the resolution was adopted that will tie the franchise away from Conrad should he refuse to sell his interest in the club.

D. W. Mitchell, vice president of the Fort William Baseball club, and S. J. McQueen, secretary of the same club, submitted an ultimatum at the special meeting of the directors of the Northern league, at the Spalding hotel today, in which the two officers and directors of the club were told that if Mr. Conrad, president of the club, would either withdraw or that the others officers and directors would sever their connection with the club.

During the morning and early afternoon session of the magnates, the Fort William directors were the only matter to come before the consideration of the magnates. Nothing was broached in connection with the rumored transfer of the Winona franchise to Fort William.

With President John Burmeister in the chair, and with Harry A. Blume representing the Duluth club, Fred Curtis, manager of the Winona team, as representative of Winona, J. Kavanaugh, representing Grand Forks, A. B. Coates, representing Virginia, President P. J. Schmitt, representing the Superior club, and Fargo represented by proxy, the meeting developed into a consideration of way of means of straightening out the tangle in the affairs of the club. At the time of adjournment, shortly after noon, the solution of the difficulty in the affairs of the club as Head of the Canadian Lakes was defined in the proposals of the club. The remainder of the stockholders, Conrad is the holder of the majority of the stock of the club, it is said. Over the long distance telephone a debate followed as to the propriety of the action of Mr. Conrad at the meeting. Mr. McQueen and Dr. Mitchell stated that they, as representatives of the other directors and stockholders of the club, were not prepared to accept the action of Mr. Conrad and that in the event of Conrad refusing to his interest, the remainder of the stockholders and officers of the club will withdraw from its affairs. The meeting in session this afternoon, the session being called to order by the president, the president, the distance answer of President Conrad to the ultimatum of Vice President Mitchell and Secretary McQueen is expected to be acted upon before the adjournment of the session. The magnates are expected to straighten out the difficulty and to restore harmony within the ranks of the club owners of the club. President Burmeister declared that the affairs of the league generally were in good shape. He declared that the attendance is about the same as last season for a similar period and that the closeness of the race for the pennant is expected to sustain the present interest to the end of the season.

FRENCH PARTISANS LEAD IN BETTING

London, July 15.—Boxing experts here show a remarkably even division of opinion as to the chances of "Gunboat" Smith, the American heavyweight, and George Carpenter, the French heavyweight champion, in their twenty-round match to be fought at Olympia tomorrow night. The betting odds today were a shade in favor of the Frenchman.

This was due probably to the enthusiasm of his countrymen, a great number of whom have crossed the English channel to support their hero. They describe him as a "fighting boxer," while they call Smith a "boxing fighter," and they contend that science is bound to defeat the transatlantic punch.

Interest in the contest is great and the attendance promises to create a record for this country. Fined by the example of the Rev. John Harvey Boudier, who acted as master of ceremonies at the Welsh-Ritchie match, and of Rev. Everard Digby, who occupied a similar position at the Wells-Bell match, many clergymen have obtained seats around the arena and are said to intend to bring their wives with them. The officers and midshipmen of the American battleship Missouri will be present in strength to cheer the former bluejacket of the flagship.

TIONESTA GETS IN MOTION PICTURES

At noon today the Anchor line steamer Tionesta steamed out into the lake and then came back through the piers. This was not for the purpose of showing the city to the passengers, the picture man, whom the company has sent up from Buffalo, a chance to "take" the city and the sea being as smooth as glass.

The only unusual result was that the tug office was besieged with telephone calls from people up town who wanted to know what was the matter, why the Tionesta turned back, did not break someone's leg and had somebody on board dropped dead.

The Bible is authority for the statement that "a city that is built upon a hill cannot be hid."

But the Tionesta is built upon a hill cannot be hid.

Charles Lundstrom, 74 years old, a resident of the western end of the city for thirty years, died last night of heart failure at his home, 2431 West First street. When members of the family went to call him at 3:30 o'clock this morning he was found dead.

Mr. Lundstrom retired last evening at 10:30 o'clock in apparent good health. He had not complained of feeling ill and when his body was discovered this morning it was a great shock to the family.

Mr. Lundstrom has lived in the West end for about ten years. He resided for eighteen years at Seventeenth avenue west and Raleigh street. He leaves a widow and one daughter, Mrs.
John Gulbranson, and one son, Nels Lundstrom. During the last few years he has conducted a small confectionery store at the corner of Twenty-fifth avenue and First street.

The coroner was notified of the death and this afternoon a post mortem examination will be held at Olson & Crawford's undertaking rooms. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon from the undertakers at 1:30 o'clock with burial in Midway cemetery.

STRIKERS THREATEN BRADLEY, OHIO, MINE

Steubenville, Ohio, July 15.—Sheriff Huscarl and twenty deputies hurried to Bradley, near here, today in response to a call from the mine manager, who said a large body of striking miners from Delmont and Rush Run were marching on the mine to stop the pumpers and others on duty in the pit. The sheriff arrived before the striking and his display of force so discouraged them that they withdrew into the hills after telling him they would come again tomorrow.

Governor Cox was notified of the situation, but the sheriff made no request for troops. It was reported here

TWO FRENCHMEN KILLED IN MEXICO

Washington, July 15.—Killing of the director and the inspector of the school of the Christian Brothers at Zacatecas, Mex., and the imprisonment of eleven members of the order, all French citizens, were reported to President Wilson today in a telegram laid before him by Brother Clementius, a member of the order. The president was asked to take immediate steps to have the imprisoned men set free and to prevent further similar occurrences at places where other schools are maintained. A similar petition has been sent to the French government.

PROHIBITION BEFORE IOWA REPUBLICANS

Des Moines, Iowa, July 15.—As in the recent Progressive state convention here, the liquor question appeared to be dominating the attention of the delegates to the Republican state convention today prior to the call to order by Paul Stillman, temporary chairman.
Indications were that a vigorous contest would be precipitated in the committee on resolutions over this phase of the platform.

Of equal importance before the convention was the fight for the nomination for auditor of state. Friends of the five candidates, Frank Shaw, J.

SAY MILWAUKEE IS VERY DECENT PLACE

Milwaukee, Wis., June 15.—Managers of saloons, dance halls, hotels and padding gardens testified before the Wisconsin vice commission today.

According to testimony, Milwaukee is a well regulated city, care being taken in every case that drinks are not sold to young girls and that the actions of the patrons of these places are at all times decent.

Hotel keepers testified that the abolition of the segregated vice district had reduced their incomes appreciably, there now being practically no after-midnight trade originating from such sources.

John Kotvalski, the proprietor of a saloon and dance hall, when asked if any indecent language was ever used about his place, answered: "Yes, sir.
Quite often I hear German and Polish."

WHY BONDS ARE NEEDED

School Board Answers the Questions of "A Plain Citizen."

Morgan Park Will Have 1,000 to 1,200 Children Soon.

The school board has replied to the questions of "A Plain Citizen" Monday evening in the editorial columns of The Herald, a letter was published from "A Plain Citizen" asking the board to explain the reasons for the bond issue. The Herald offered the use of its column for a reply, and it is herewith published.

"To the Editor of The Herald: Dear Sir—The question asked by 'A Plain Citizen' in Monday's issue of The Herald, wanting information as to the present indebtedness of the independent school district of Duluth, and as to the provisions that are being made by the board to liquidate the same, are important questions, and questions that all voters of this city should be familiar with in order to vote intelligently upon the question of issuing the $200,000 bonds, which are to be voted upon by our citizens on July 15.

As a member of the board, and chairman of the committee on administration and finance permit me to give the following facts in relation to this matter:

1. General fund—Used for general maintenance of the school system, including repairs.

2. Building fund—Used in the purchase of sites, new construction, and for original equipment.

3. Sinking fund—Used in the payment of bonds as they mature and for the interest on outstanding indebtedness.

"Eight mills is the limit of taxation for the general fund and it requires all of it to maintain the schools at the present standard. In addition to this, the board is allowed to levy eight mills for the building fund. The law does not limit the amount that can be levied for the sinking fund. It has been the aim of the board to keep its total annual levy within twelve mills.

"The bonded indebtedness of the independent school district of the city of Duluth is as follows:

Amount	Rate	Maturing	Option After
$ 100,000.00	4 1/2 per cent.	Jan. 1, 1921	.....
100,000.00	5 per cent.	Aug. 1, 1921	.....
100,000.00	5 per cent.	Sept. 1, 1922	.....
100,000.00	5 per cent.	May 1, 1923	.....
100,000.00	5 per cent.	June 1, 1924	.....
100,000.00	4 per cent.	Oct. 1, 1924	.....
200,000.00	4 1/2 per cent.	Feb. 1, 1940	.....
200,000.00	4 1/2 per cent.	Aug. 1, 1940	.....

$1,200,000.00

"The approximate value of the sites and property owned by the district is as follows:

"School sites, $440,000.

"School buildings, $2,300,000.

"Text books, apparatus, furniture, etc., $170,000.

"The sites and buildings are valued at cost, nothing being added for appreciation of real estate nor deducted for depreciation of buildings. The figure for furniture, etc., is the present estimated value.

"In 1907 the board adopted the policy of levying a tax one mill for a sinking fund to be used in payment of the bonded indebtedness. The board has endeavored to pay about 40 to 50 per cent of the cost from taxation and the balance from the proceeds of the bond issues extending over a thirty year period, with an annual levy for a sinking fund to liquidate the bonds as they mature.

"The cost of holding a special election is estimated at from $800 to $300, and the board thought it best to save this cost by holding the bond election at the same time as the school election, and combining to care for all the new buildings at one election rather than separate elections for each.

"As stated in previous notice, the proposed $200,000 bond issue is to take care of the following construction:

1. A new grade school in Morgan Park division, generally spoken of as the Model City at the new steel plant. Estimated cost $140,000.

2. A new grade school to be located on block 43, New Duluth, First division, which is between New Duluth and Gary. Estimated cost $30,000.

3. An eight or ten-room addition located at Fortieth avenue west and Ninth street. Estimated cost $25,000.

4. A junior high school to be erected on a portion of the Lincoln school site at Twenty-sixth avenue west and Fourth street. Estimated cost $30,000.

"From a reliable source the board learns that it will have to care for from 1,000 to 1,200 pupils at Morgan park in the very near future. Allowing forty-two pupils to each room, which is the maximum, it will be seen that this building must contain at least twenty-four rooms.

"The conditions at Gary and New Duluth must be taken care of. The present Stowe school at New Duluth is one of the oldest schools in the city and unfit for further use. One rented store room, two portable schools and the Stowe school are all in use at Gary and New Duluth, and are no longer fit for the purpose or large enough for the number of pupils. A ten-room building, arranged so that it can be added to, is planned for that locality.

"The addition to the Merritt school is absolutely necessary, and the advisability of junior high school centers has been discussed through the press, and is doubtless familiar.

"These cost estimates are based on the past experience of the board in the matter of new construction. On this question, too, there is chance for a wide difference of opinion. Since the horrible catastrophe in Ohio most boards of education have adopted either drop-proof or semi-drop-proof construction. Our board has adopted a type of construction which is practically drop-proof except the roof. It is thought that this type will prove to be the most economical, and certainly our children are entitled to this protection. New construction must be of the same general type in all parts of the city; a fireproof building should not be erected in one portion of the city and a fire-trap in another.

"It is the aim and desire of the board to administer the affairs of the district as wisely and economically as possible. It welcomes inquiry and honest criticism to enable it to decide what will best serve the greatest number. Respectfully submitted,

"C. FRANCIS COLMAN,
Chairman of Committee on Administration and Finance."

FINAL DEMANDS ON WESTERN RAILROADS FRAMED BY LEADERS

WICKWIRE RESUMES.

Iron River, Mich., Iron Mine is Again Being Worked.

Iron River, Mich., July 15.—The Wickwire mine here which had been closed for some months past, has resumed operations with a full force, and the superintendent has been instructed to mine and ship as much ore as he can before the close of the season.

It is reported that several other properties will likely resume operations at an early date. The ore movement is now much heavier than it was a few weeks ago.

"HAD TALKED LONG ENOUGH"

So Officer Arrested the Socialist Candidate for Governor.

Is Released—Chief Promises to Define Soap Boxers' Rights.

Tom J. Lewis, Socialist candidate for governor, was arrested at 9:30 last night at the corner of Superior street and Twentieth avenue west by Patrolman George Monahan because, as the policeman stated, Lewis "had been talking long enough."

When Monahan attempted to pull Lewis from the box on which he was standing, Lewis demanded to know on what specific charge he was being arrested and Monahan replied that it was under a public street.

Lewis began talking about 9 o'clock and was preceded by William S. Towne, Socialist candidate for congress, and Richard Jones, Socialist candidate for senator from the Fifty-eighth district. Lewis was taken to headquarters and let go on his own recognizance.

The matter came up for hearing this morning in municipal court and was dismissed on the recommendation of Chief of Police Troyer, who promised Lewis and his representatives that an order would be issued by him to all patrolmen defining their duties with regard to public street meetings hereafter. Monahan did not put in an appearance in court this morning.

This is the second arrest of Socialist street speakers in the last two weeks. Moses Baritz having been arrested about a week ago charged with having used immoral and indecent language. After a trial before Judge Cutting he was found not guilty. Patrolman Cavanaugh was the complaining witness against Baritz.

Members of the Socialist committee in charge of the meeting state that Monahan's charge that they were obstructing traffic was only a subterfuge and that he made the arrest because of his personal objections to Socialism. They say that Patrolman Magnuson and Lieut. Holmstrom were present at the meeting and that no complaint was made by them, nor did they attempt to arrest the speakers who followed Lewis when the latter was arrested.

The Socialists will hold a meeting this evening at First avenue west and Superior street and another at Twentieth avenue west and Superior street. Mr. Lewis will speak at both meetings.

Carried Boose in Auto.

Leeds, N. D., July 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hans Rickheim, charged with bootlegging, is also accused of using his own common carrier for the transportation of the prohibited fluid from East Grand Forks, Minn.

Rickheim is said to have used an automobile, well stocked with liquor, making frequent trips from Grand Forks to this district.

SAVAGE MOSQUITOES.

Insect Pests Bother U. S. Troops More Than Mexicans.

Minot, N. D., July 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. D. Brubaker of this city has just returned home from Vera Cruz, Mex., where his three years' enlistment period recently ended.

Brubaker was in Vera Cruz during most of the recent trouble, and for several weeks was located at one of the outposts.

Mosquitoes, says Brubaker, are the United States troops' greatest enemies, and the Mexican brand is as savage as the New Jersey breed was ever painted.

Brubaker relates an interesting experience of seven Mexican Federals who ventured into the American lines, begging food and water. They were cared for, and allowed to return to their own ranks.

SWITZERLAND WILL BE PEACEMAKER.

Geneva, Switzerland, July 15.—The Swiss government has officially acceded to the request made by both Greece and Turkey for the appointment of an arbitrator to settle the differences between these two countries if negotiations now going on at Smyrna fail.

A Greco-Turkish commission is endeavoring to reach a settlement on the emigration question and an exchange of property belonging to Greek and Turkish refugees.

LATE JUSTICE IS GIVEN LAST HONORS.

Clarksville, Tenn., July 15.—The body of Horace M. Lorton, late associate justice of the United States supreme court, who died Sunday, was buried early today in Greenwood cemetery here, beside the graves of his two children.

The interment followed services at Trinity Episcopal church, conducted by Rev. H. J. Mikell of Nashville. Justice Lorton's favorite hymns, "Just As I Am," and "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," were sung. Business was suspended during the funeral.

The body arrived last night, accompanied by the family, Chief Justice White, Justices Lamar and Pitney and others. The body lay in state at Trinity church from 9 o'clock this morning until the funeral.

POOR MADE WEALTHY

There are more millionaires in the United States today—according to statistics—than penniless people. Why? Because they have invested their money in just such propositions as we offer, which produce the greatest amount of wealth—not horse races, which pays even money—but $1.00 to $1.00 is the outcome should we strike a gusher next to the discovery well, where we will drill two wells on seven holdings.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE SENATE

Perhaps the tendency is to over-estimate the importance of the opposition to the president's appointments to the Federal reserve board.

The general assumption seems to be that it is a fight between the president and the senate, but it is not—at least not yet.

It is a fight between a majority of the senate committee on banking—five Republicans and two Democrats—and the president; and it is again becoming forcibly evident on every hand that the president, as usual, has the people with him.

Nor should it be forgotten that the members of the senate banking committee who are making the trouble are practically the same members of the senate banking committee who tried to make trouble when the currency bill was pending. They were defeated then; they may easily be defeated now.

The pretense is, of course, that the opposition of these senators is in the public interest; and there is a denigratory appeal to the prejudices of those who are likely to be suspicious of anybody who has more than they have.

It is a flimsy pretense, though, and there are few who do not penetrate it. The main purpose is to make trouble for the president. There is a touch of demagoguery in it: there is a touch of narrow racial and nativist prejudice because Mr. Warburg has not long been naturalized and is a Jew of German birth; but the real poison is jealousy of the president and resentment of his successful leadership.

The fight, thus far, has been between the five Republicans and two Democrats who constitute a majority of the banking committee, and the president. When the currency bill was pending in committee there was a fight between a majority of that same committee and the president, and the trouble-making majority included the Republicans and one or two Democrats. The president won in that fight; he may win in this.

It is to the public interest that he shall win in this fight; and one way to make his victory sure would be for commercial and civic organizations everywhere to let the senators know that the nation is with him, that it will not countenance an attempt to play peanut politics with an organization so vital as the Federal reserve board, and that it wants these nominations confirmed.

Having been notified by the colonel that he will not be a candidate for governor of New York, numerous bull moosers insistently request that he refuse to be a candidate for governor of New York. Oh, you bossless party!

MOVING PICTURE CENSORSHIP

A bill for Federal censorship of moving pictures is before congress. Bills for state censorship are before many legislatures, and several states have adopted them. There are also projects, some of which have been carried out, for official municipal censorship.

The moving picture is a highly popular form of amusement, and manifestly it is susceptible to a very wide range of usefulness. Manifestly, too, it is capable of great harm. Some effective means of protecting the public against its possibilities of harm without destroying its possibilities of good is desirable, of course.

If there is to be a conflict between national, state and municipal censorships, confusion is likely to be the chief result.

If a national censorship is legally provided for, there will be nothing to prevent state and local censorships also.

The question whether there should be an official censorship is the issue, and it is not one that is to be disposed of off-hand.

The national board of censorship, an unofficial body, is out in a pamphlet definitely opposing legal censorship, and it submits a series of reasons for its stand. Some of these will challenge thought, and one or two will be found difficult to answer.

The national board, made up of representatives of a large number of societies and associations, is working effectively. It is the only agency which has attempted to work on a national scale. For five years it has continuously examined the bulk of the films put on the market. It conducts its work through 135 volunteers who fairly represent public opinion. They are carefully chosen "from those who appear to have the judicial temperament, interest in people, entire disinterestedness, an understanding of the appeal of motion pictures."

The proposed Federal censorship bill proposes to put this power into the hands of five officials.

There is much to be said for the present plan; and there are good reasons against official censorship. The personal equation enters very largely. What may seem objectionable to one may seem wholesome to another. The size of the non-official board tends to reduce the objectionable features of personal opinion and to increase the beneficial features. A board of five would be much more likely to develop this personal equation vexatiously than a board of 135.

Among the reasons urged against official censorship are these:

That Federal authorities will never be able to dictate to states or cities what pictures they shall or shall not see; that the law is necessarily too inflexible to apply to all or most of the complex situations presented in motion picture subjects; that many of the film subjects most dangerous to morals belong to the extra-legal group over which the Federal board would have no legal jurisdiction; that the national board is able by moral suasion to do constructive work in censoring films, while the legal board would find itself limited to destructive censoring; that a legal board represents class legislation or paternalism in morals; that political appointees on legal boards are temporary and open to many sinister influences.

The strongest argument here is that it is impossible to prescribe by law precisely what pictures may or may not be shown. Whatever prohibitions are enacted by law must be within a very restricted list, and much—most, indeed—must be left to the judgment of the censors. Though the national board is naturally impressed with its own importance, and may not be unbiased, there is much to be said for its view of the matter, and for its service as compared with that of a legally circumscribed official body.

To judge from some things that were said at the recent teachers' meeting the failure to teach spelling well isn't the only fault to be found with the public schools.

A NEW BOOSTER.

No. 1 of Volume 1 of the Northern Minnesota Booster, W. R. Mackenzie, editor, is at hand; and a right lively and promising youngster it is.

It is the spokesman, primarily, of the Northern Minnesota Development association; but it is also the spokesman of Minnesota and of the campaign for its development and settlement. It is bright, bustling and breezy, and it is welcome as a reflection of an inspiration to the boosters among the press of Northern Minnesota.

And to think that there are several cities in which the mercury is jiggling around all the way between 90 and 110!

FAKE RAILROADS.

One way the railroads can increase their revenues is by doing away with the tribute they are paying to imitation railroads which really are devices to procure rebates. This the interstate commerce commission has repeatedly pointed out in a series of decisions, most notable of which was the "industrial railways case."

A more recent decision describes a flagrant case in point. In Muncie, Indiana, there is a glass factory. The glass factory owns a "railroad," the Muncie & Western, which has less than three miles of track consisting mainly of yard tracks and sidings in and around the factory. It connects the plant with the various railroads serving Muncie. The railroad company pays the factory five thousand dollars a year rental for the sidings and yard tracks, and owns outright the mile of main track. The stockholders in the railroad and the stockholders in the factory are the same people.

The railroad doesn't own a freight car or a locomotive, and it never did. For three years it leased a locomotive, but in 1905 it quit this, and ever since all switching has been done by a general belt line company at actual cost, which in 1912 amounted to about sixty-eight hundred dollars for maintenance and operation. This cost is about seventy-five cents a car.

Yet the Muncie & Western demands and receives from the real railroads handling the output of the glass factory $250 a car on inbound material and $350 a car on outbound manufactured products. "In other words," as the decision puts it, "the trunk lines pay these sums to this non-operating plant railway for the privilege of handling traffic into and out of the glass works." Not over twenty-eight thousand dollars has been spent by the glass factory on its "railroad," and this has all been repaid out of earnings.

In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1912, the "railroad" earned $23,626, all derived ostensibly from switching operations performed by it, but in reality performed by the Muncie Belt Line at cost. Its expense account for that period amounted to $11,357.50, leaving it a net operating revenue of $12,268.44. After the payment of taxes amounting to $318.49 and after paying to the proprietary company for a right of way within the plant $5,000, there was left to the plant railway a surplus of $6,949.95. This amount added to the accumulated surplus of previous years left the company a total surplus of $20,516.

"The record," says the interstate commerce commission, "presents a remarkable example of the devices resorted to by industrial companies for exacting allowances from the trunk lines on their own traffic. Here we have a plant railway, representing a total investment of twenty-eight thousand dollars, upon which there accrues to the proprietary interests an annual net revenue of nearly fifty per cent, although the plant railway owns neither cars nor locomotives and does not itself turn a wheel."

The commission held the Muncie & Western to be purely a private facility of the glass factory, and not entitled to the allowances it is getting from the trunk lines. It is but one case of a very great many. The railroads got into this sort of thing, as they got into rebating; if there is any difference—through competition for business. They have been forced out of rebating, and they must be forced out of this also. If they are not glad when it happens, they ought to be.

Now if the Bull Moosers can only get him to say he won't be a candidate for vice president in 1916, they can rest easy as far as the second place on the ticket is concerned.

Free From Politics; Hence Efficient.

From the Herald & Tribune. Surgeon General Rupert Blue of the United States marine hospital service has been rushed to New Orleans years ago to handle the yellow fever epidemic. When any important and difficult health problem arises in one of our seacoast cities the marine hospital service is reasonably sure to be called on.

As an example of high governmental efficiency, based on non-partisan selection and non-partisan conduct of the department, the marine hospital service is in the front rank.

It solved the health problem of Panama and gave Orlean's of the horrible conditions of the old French regime a situation that made the building of the canal possible.

It solved the health problem of New Orleans and released that city from the bondage of an annual destructive yellow fever.

It solved the yellow fever problem that weighed so heavily on the prosperity of the South and crippled its best efforts at development.

It has solved the problem of Central American ports by providing adequate warning and protection to this country against those foci of infection.

As a result it has been called on, it has answered. Whenever it has answered, it has proved efficient.

It is a national asset in a national lesson in what can be accomplished by public officials, not highly paid, who are allowed to do their work unhampered by politics or partisanship.

At the End of the Road.

This is the thought I had, my dear, Out in the wind and rain: They who have nothing have little to fear—

Nothing to lose or to gain. Here by the road at the end of the year, Let us sit down and drink of our beer.

Happy-go-Lucky and her Cavalier, Out in the wind and rain, Now we are old, hey, isn't it fine, Out in the wind and rain?

Now we have nothing, why snivel and whine? What would it bring us again? When I was young I took you like wine.

Held you and kissed you and thought you divine— Happy-go-Lucky, the habit's still mine, Out in the wind and rain.

Oh, my old Heart, what a life we had led, Out in the wind and rain! How I was drunk and how we have fed!

Nothing to lose or to gain, Cover the fire now; get to bed, Long is the journey and far has it led. Come, let us sleep, lass, sleep like the dead.

Out in the wind and rain, Madison Cawelin in the Bellman.

Stocks and Babies.

Lippincott: "What's the baby crying for now?" asked the head of the house from the depth of his paper. "He wants his own way," answered the mother.

And with his mind on the latest stock quotations baby replied: "Well, if it's mine, why don't you let him have it?"

Not "Enemies" of Big Business

Editorial in the Springfield Republican.

The politics of the president's public statement on the Warburg-Jones incident will not escape attention. Still, full political use of the affair has been made by Mr. Wilson in minimizing the importance of the matter to a friend of legitimate business interests. To this extent, at least, the senate opponents of the nomination of Messrs. Warburg and Jones as members of the Federal reserve board have played into the president's hands by creating an opportunity for him to seize the occasion to make a statement on the subject.

The word "psychological" has been used overworked of late, but every time it is used it seems to have a new meaning. The word comes from a "psychological moment." Business is the word, the corner stone of the nation's life, the heart of the nation's life, the life of the nation's life. It is the life of the nation's life, the life of the nation's life, the life of the nation's life.

Socialist View of Big Crops

Victor Berger's Milwaukee Leader: Nine hundred million bushels of wheat will be harvested this year. More corn will be out, husked and transformed into meal and flour than ever before in the history of the earth.

More cotton will be gathered and woven into clothes than this world has ever gathered and woven before. The earth will yield up enough to feed, clothe and care for every human being on this globe.

Yet millions will be hungry, poorly clad and in desperate need of all things that even the dumb brutes have in abundance.

This is the only problem that is being talked about. It is the problem that touches every person whose life is worth living.

But our politicians and press will not talk about it. You will not hear it mentioned in the newspapers or on the radio.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, June 15.—(Special to The Herald.) The Lake Crystal Review, a Republican publication, publishes the strong editorial of The Duluth Herald in which such a high tribute is paid to Congressman Hammond, the Democratic candidate for governor. At the close of the editorial, Editor Neff adds:

"A young man with a wit better than a horse, a body that is a masterpiece of things to eat. But as rapidly as the boy looked about him at the others dining and talking, he looked at the high prices of foodstuffs when purchased by the boy to try to get along on a bowl of soup and waiting for the finger bowls. The father looked across the table at Sleicher and remarked:

"A youngster would eat everything on the train if you'd let him." "Yes," laughed Sleicher, pleasantly, and it's too bad I didn't think to tell you about the meals on this train being American plan. It's $1.25 a meal and it wouldn't have cost you anything more if the boy ate everything on the card."

The father gasped, then tried to collect himself, and finally lapsed into a thoughtful silence. It was a bad blow. As he sat in the smoke he later looked sadly out of the never a word. At breakfast the following morning Sleicher again came to the table at the same table with the father and son.

A night's sleep had brightened up the father a lot, and he no longer looked downcast over his wasted opportunity. Instead he was looking forward to ordering breakfast with much zest. He kept suggesting things to his little boy that might tickle his appetite and the boy gleefully ordered without stopping to wonder what weird change had come over father. Sleicher, too, listened to the boy with a great deal of satisfaction.

"Well, we made up for last night," chuckled the man to Sleicher after he had ordered enough food for a family of eight. "They'll lose money on it."

"The way," remarked Sleicher in reply, "it's too bad I didn't think to call your attention to the prices printed on the card here. That American plan only applied to dinner. You've probably run up a pretty large bill, because now you're settling your food like that by piecework, as they say in the factories."

And the father sat struggling for breath like a person in the last stages of the hooves.

Private John Allen, who once came up out of the Southland and established himself as one of the characters of congress, stopped off in Washington a while ago to visit his old friend, John Sharp Williams. They went over to one of the house galleries and looked out at the bunched on the floor.

Senator Thornton of Louisiana has a weakness for being concerned. He is a close double for Santa Claus and has led the country's capitalists all through his section of the country, and elsewhere to draw a great variety of pictures of that country.

They have made a great hit with Thornton and this goes whether the pictures were flattering or not. They really were shown a preference for those that were unflattering. Every time he sees a cartoon of himself he tries to get to the original to frame and hang in his home.

Connie Mack, manager of pennant baseball teams, got his start as a ball player on a team up in Connecticut back in the early '80s. He really loved that team was Thomas Reilly, now a member of congress from Connecticut. In 1884 Mack took up a subway man and bought a watch as a token of appreciation for his work on the team. Since then Connie Mack has been a watch dog to him, but the Reilly watch is the one that he still carries. He can look at his watch and tell within a few seconds of the exact time.

I hear old people say that they are unselfish, but I never could see that they really were. "Number One" always figures very prominently in whatever they do.

I like my father and my mother, especially when they are in good humor, but I don't like them as a matter of principle, not because they are particularly wonderful, but chiefly because I am used to their ways. And then, of course, they are used to my ways, which helps a great deal.

I suppose I could get used to other parents, if necessary, and like them as well. I never think of leaving my parents even when they are harsh. I know that other parents would be just as faulty at times.

I don't know whether I honor my father and mother or not, as the Bible teaches, I don't really know what the word "honor" means. I think old people should be more careful in the use of their words.

I make these few confessions in the interest of philosophy, ethics, science and religion. I should be glad to elaborate upon application.

I want to be set right before the world and I want the world to be set right before me. I am a Child.

Hammond for Governor

Views of State Press on the Democratic Nominee.

Those Who Know Him Like Him. Mankato Review: The Lake Crystal Union, Republican, republishes the strong editorial of The Duluth Herald in which such a high tribute is paid to Congressman Hammond, the Democratic candidate for governor. At the close of the editorial, Editor Neff adds:

One Benefit of the Direct Primary. Chicago Herald: Down in Maryland they are in the throes of a second primary. The several candidates—all of the same political faith—both on the stump and in the pulpits are telling the shortcomings of their opponents. In South Carolina the same thing is happening, although fresh revelations regarding Ole L. Blease, who is endeavoring to be fitted to a toga, might seem unnecessary.

Everywhere, under the direct primary system, candidates are telling the people the exact facts about their rivals within their own hearing. These are not always edifying spectacles. But they are interesting and provide benefits of public information.

In the old days, while the men who ran the conventions undoubtedly knew the shortcomings of all candidates, it was the point of party loyalty to keep these quiet. Now such ethics do not obtain.

Far in advance of the election the people now know pretty well the kind of men who are presenting themselves. Their own party associates see to it that the people are kept informed. The direct primary is not a panacea, but it has some manifest benefits and advantages. It brings the people into closer knowledge of our would-be rulers.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1894.

"Newspapers in the East are discussing with a great deal of avidity just now the availability of Senator Cushman K. Davis of Minnesota for the Republican presidential nomination."

"President Debs of the American Railway union says the union will fight the general managers' plan and crush it, but in an address to the strikers he said the only thing to be done was to get them back at work."

"The Populist county convention at Marshall, Minn., voted to boycott all the newspapers of that village. The editor of the News-Messenger found that only twenty-six of the delegates to the convention were subscribers to his paper, and of these twenty-six, twenty-two were in arrears from 75 cents to $9 for subscriptions."

"The engagement of Miss Roxey Todd and G. Fred Stoddard is announced. The marriage will take place in November."

"Miss Lucretia Graham and Nellie B. Jones of Cleveland, Ohio, who have been the guests of Mrs. F. L. Wright, 509 East Third street, for two weeks, have gone to St. Paul."

JUDGE KAREL IS INDORSED

During the night of Feb. 20, sustaining injuries for which he is seeking $6,050 damages. He alleges that he was groping around in the dark at the time trying to find the office of a tenant in the building. The defendants are charged with negligence in failing to properly light the building so that such accidents might be avoided.

"There's some others, but none like his," one man proclaimed Ferrel. "This is the best reading matter I have ever seen." Whipping out his map and pointing to a reading matter, he went on to tell his countryman, "The proprietor might have thought Ferrel was a fool, but he was not. He was a man of stock instead of being tried on a charge of threatening to do bodily harm to the people in the court. The affair furnished considerably more amusement to the people in the courtroom than the case of the man who was arrested as the evidence and did not attempt to interfere with the justice of the law. The laughter, differing only when the man was told the principal threatened to become unethical."

The origin of the row appears to have been the publication of an article in the public through newspaper advertisement against the stock of the com-

UP AND DOWN THE ELEVATORS

Whitney Wall announced this morning that one of the delegates is to be selected to take the trip in the hydro-aeroplane with Rogers Janus tomorrow afternoon.

Choice was Mr. Wall. He has not yet accepted.

The delegates and their wives will be the guests at the "Ready Money" this evening. "Ready Money" is an appropriate show for such a convention, seeing as how the delegates represent about $1,000,000,000.

Just after Donald Lawder got through talking on advertising and newspaper publicity, the man who is President Randall announced that a badge bearing the name of Doty was found. Immediately cries of "Cheap advertising" ran through the hall. Doty, however, claimed his badge.

Every hotel in the city is well filled and many cots are being placed in the hall by the hostesses to accommodate the stream of transients.

Word was received this morning that a sickness in the family of H. E. Martin of Atlanta will prevent his coming to the convention. He was to have made an address this morning on "Building For Profit."

Another telegram came this morning that H. E. Doty of Ohio would not be able to come and make his address tomorrow morning on "Appraisal of the Building Industry." H. E. Doty of Cleveland will take his place, it was announced.

Atlanta, St. Louis, Indianapolis and Omaha are still fighting for the convention.

It looks more and more like Charles E. Doty of Cleveland for the presidency.

Simon W. Straus of New York is in New York and unable to reach Duluth in time for his address this afternoon. One of his men, Nicholas Roberts, one of his men in Chicago, to read his paper for him.

More than one-half of the delegates are going to take that special trip the Mesaba range Saturday morning.

THIS IS A "BILLION-DOLLAR CONVENTION"

Delegates Assembled in Duluth Represent Invested Capital of More Than $1,000,000,000.

Duluth is housing, for four days this week, a billion-dollar convention. The members of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers represent a total capital of more than $1,000,000,000.

Each delegate, in addition to registering his name with the secretary, must also give the estimated capital that he represents. A total of these figures was made this morning and it was found that the men, who had announced their holdings, represented $460,000,000. Estimating the remaining seventy-five men, who failed to list their capital, at about $150,000,000 the total will run well over the billion-dollar mark.

The George R. Reed company of New York represents the largest holdings, with a capital of $200,000,000. There are several who represent $50,000,000, while over sixty are managers for property valued at $1,000,000.

ATLANTA BOOSTERS HAVE SONG BOOK

The men from Atlanta are outdoing 1915 convention and this morning appeared a specially prepared convention song book, which was arranged by Fred Houser and Ivan E. Allen, both of Atlanta.

The book contains every song worth while from the days of the Civil war to this afternoon. Mr. Houser said this morning.

On the cover is the following: "Is Everybody Happy? Sure! Let's Sing." The song list opens with "America" and closes with "Auld Lang Syne."

ELKS TALK OF MUSIC IN THEIR RITUAL

Take Up Business After Election—Los Angeles in 1915.

Denver, Colo., July 15.—The official decks swept clean of contests for offices and the 1915 reunion date and place selected, the golden jubilee session of the grand lodge, and the Executive Order of Elks, sailed into a choppy sea of legislation with morning, afternoon and evening sessions set for today. One of the most radical innovations the grand lodge has been asked to consider is that of adding vocal music to the ritual of the order.

Replacing Seattle with quick precision, Los Angeles and Southern California delegates, swinging the annual reunion for 1915 back to the Pacific coast when it seemed sound eastward to Chattanooga, Tenn. Los Angeles was selected by a vote of 805, Chattanooga receiving 141 votes and Seattle 31.

Previous to the selection of the date and city for the next reunion, Raymond Benjamin of Napa, Cal., assistant grand master of that state, was elected grand exalted ruler, and a close contest for grand esteemed leader, W. F. Schad, Milwaukee; grand secretary, Dr. C. R. Robinson, Dubuque; grand treasurer, Charles A. White, Chicago; grand trustee, Calvin Kingley, Iowa; grand scribe, George H. Clark, W. Gulfport, Miss., July 15.—Two women who were unable to attend the convention here last night, suspected of being the missing sisters, Mrs. Elsie Dennis and Miss Beatrice Nelms of Atlanta, Ga., evidently outwitted the officers detailed to watch them and left the city during the night. They could not be located here today. The police think they departed in a launch. Officers and others who observed the two women along the Gulf coast the last few days said they bore strong resemblance to photographs of the missing women. One of the women had written home that she had murdered the other.

LIVE CHEAPLY AT WORK FARM

Prisoners Boarded There at Cost of 5.5 Cents a Meal.

Parole System Is Found Satisfactory After One Month's Trial.

Six miles out from the city on the Swan Lake road, where the new work farm in local county and city prisoners are getting three "squares" a day at an average cost of 5 1/2 cents per meal.

And according to records which are on file in the office of County Auditor Halden, the board bill of every prisoner fed at the expense of the county or city is cut in two when the misdemeanor is transferred from the county to the city work farm.

Since the joint county and city work farm has been operating, Supt. Prov. Ward of the institution has found that the net cost of feeding prisoners per meal is 5.52 cents per meal, which is an average taken for five months. Mr. Ward has been keeping an accurate record of what has cost the county and city work farm commission to feed the prisoners since Feb. 1. It is true that a few prisoners have received at the farm during the month of January when the institution opened, but he has not figured out the meal cost separately for the first month.

Five Months' Record.

The record for the last five months is as follows:

Month—	Served.	Aver. Cost.
February	4,494	$4,453
March	4,224	$4,073
April	4,447	$4,194
May	5,781	$5,551
June	5,323	$4,444

On the other hand, at the county jail it costs 11 cents per meal for the board of all county, city and United States prisoners. During the month of July, 1914, 56,878 meals have been served costing $7,354.68.

The Bill of Fare.

The bill of fare at the jail is substantially as follows:

Oatmeal	Butter	Milk	Coffee	Bread
Soup	Bread	Meat	Potatoes	Butter

Baked beans are usually served three times a week on Fridays.

At Work Farm.

The county and city work farm, where the work farm commission is providing meals for the prisoners, substantially the same bill of fare is provided. The meals are well prepared and visitors at the farm who have been satisfied that the truth will come out, have been heard from the hard workingmen. And at the farm, the men are kept at work.

Parole System.

The regular monthly meeting of the work farm commission was held yesterday afternoon at the courthouse. Superintendent Prov. Ward presented his report which among other things showed that one month's trial of the parole system had been very satisfactory. The men who have been sent to the farm to parole, appreciate it, said Mr. Ward.

At the cost of the county of conducting the work farm for the year 1915 would be about $16,000 and a resolution was adopted calling upon the county board and city council to provide for this amount in their levies.

The expense will be split evenly between the city and county. The same resolution was adopted for the year 1916.

A list of the prisoners who have been paroled since Jan. 8, when prisoners were first received at the farm, has been prepared by Supt. Ward as follows:

How Expended—	June, 1914.	Months.	Total.
Meals	4,112.33	1	$11,333
Laundry	10.44	1	10.44
Shoes	2,022.81	1	4,045.66
Furniture and fixtures	70.00	1	516.00
Personal	17.81	1	2,399.96
Tools	84.85	1	2,855.04
Transportation	125.58	1	4,285.85
Household supplies	125.58	1	4,285.85
Building	2,750.50	1	14,251.71
Clothing	2.00	1	436.87
Fire wood	20.20	1	1,112.80
Fed	65.95	1	122.61
Medical	10.68	1	1,112.80
Land clearing	144.80	1	14.84
Drainage, ditching and fencing	6.15	1	18.25
Light and fuel	1.15	1	27.40

The item does not fairly represent the cost of work during the month. It shows the amount paid for foodstuffs during the month, a considerable portion of which is new, and not used.

QUIZ NIECE OF CARMAN'S

Jury. Her counsel had agreed to waive immunity for her, but in the opinion of the district attorney it is inexpedient to have her testify.

The last witness before the jury was Frank J. Farrell, a tramp, who went to the back door of the Carman house on the night of June 30 to ask for food. It is said that Farrell's story corroborates in general the account given yesterday by Cella Coleman.

More details of this story became known today shortly after the grand jury investigation was resumed.

Besides saying that Mrs. Carman had hurried through the kitchen from the back yard immediately after the shot which killed Mrs. Bailey was fired, the maid, as understood, said Mrs. Carman had on a kimono at the time. Mrs. Carman herself has said she was in her bedroom.

Mrs. Carman, who is here, said today that he was sure the hand thrust through the window when the shot was fired was his. He recalled, he said, that on the wrist he saw a man's cuff.

Dr. Carman made public today a letter addressed to his wife from Rochester, N. Y. The letter was written in what was apparently disguised handwriting and looked as if it might have been penned by a woman. It was not taken seriously.

Statement by Mrs. Carman.

SURRENDERS TO PRESIDENT

Congress at Last Consents to Carry Out His Program.

Constitution of Freedom for Business Is Assured.

Chicago, July 15.—John Callan O'Laughlin, in a Washington dispatch to The Herald, says: Congress once more has surrendered to the president. The quiet persistence of the man in the White House has had its effect upon the senate. There is no longer any talk of passing the trades commission and railroads securities bill and then adjourning.

Recognizing the unbending character of the backbone of the chief executive, the Democrats who, sub rosa, have been talking revolt now are urging prompt action upon the entire business program of the administration. They are making a wry face, but they want to get home to mend the political fences.

Expects Trade Bill to Pass. The interstate trade commission bill is now before the senate. Senator Newlands, who has it in charge, says that he expects this measure to pass the senate Friday.

The Clayton bill then will be made the unfinished business, and when it is disposed of the railroad securities bill will be debated and acted upon. The most optimistic in the senate expect adjournment by the middle of August, the most pessimistic by Sept. 1. With the passage of these measures the president will feel that his constitution of freedom for business has been created.

It has been a hard struggle, lasting through a special session which merged into the regular session. To obtain the results which he deemed necessary Mr. Wilson has had to be constantly on duty.

Locked Horns With Interests. He was compelled to lock horns with the great interests protected by the tariff, with great banking interests which desired to solidify their control of the currency and banks, facilities generally of the country, with great monopolies anxious to perpetuate their hold upon industry. To a large extent all these interests are correlated and naturally they unified their opposition.

But the president is about to reach the goal upon which he had fixed his eyes when he entered the White House. He is satisfied that the tariff law has proved beneficial. It has tended to remove artificial advantages enjoyed by the favored few in industry at the expense of the many and has tended to free trade channels which were choked by privileges.

There has not been that calamity which was predicted when the tariff was undergoing revision, and in this connection it is worth while recalling that the president in his message to congress recommending action upon this system of our economic life declared it would be unwise to move headlong with reckless haste or with stroke that cut at the very roots of what had grown up by long process and at our invitation.

What Is Achieved. What he wanted and what he believed he has achieved is a freer and more wholesome development under an improved fiscal system. With the tariff revised, the president turned his attention to the banking and currency situation. He sought to have removed the evils of the antiquated banking system—concentration of money in New York, speculation at the expense of business and periodical money stringency.

The reserve system is in process of creation under the law recently enacted. Mr. Wilson has placed upon the Federal reserve board men in whose judgment, ability, experience and common sense he has supreme confidence. The system is in operation. The chief executive believes its use to the country will be recognized; that New York will cease to have control of the finances of the country, and that there will be a greater equalization of credit for the nation.

To Protect Business. Now the trust reforms are being developed. The bills which that reform is urging are not intended by him to strike at, but rather to protect legitimate business.

He wants them to aid in the restoration of untrammelled competition, to do away with the evils of monopolies and the agencies which have created monopolies—holding companies, interlocking directorates and price cutting; to place business in a position where it will know what it can and cannot do.

He wants the interstate commerce commission to have control of future issues of railroad securities, in order to remove from the shoulders of the people the burden which inflated issues create.

No Enmity Towards Business. That the president has no feeling of enmity against big business because it is big has been shown by the statement he made several days ago in connection with the nomination of Messrs. Jones and Warburg for membership on the Federal reserve board. (The Democratic party) knows," said the president, "business of the country has been chiefly prompted in recent years by enterprises organized on a great scale, and that the vast majority of the men connected with what we have come to call big business are honest, incorruptible and patriotic."

The five measures which comprise the business program of the president when in operation are expected fully to remove the shackles which have been placed upon business as a result of its rapid development in recent years.

The man at the bottom will have a better chance to establish himself in business enterprise and preserve his independence. He will not suffer from tariff discrimination. He will not find the doors of credit so tightly closed against him. He will not be ground down by monopoly. He will not have to pay freight rates based upon watered stock.

Seeks to Aid. Moreover, according to the administration, business, when it adjusts itself to the new legislative conditions, will find that what has been done is in its interest.

The president always has held to the view that it does not alter a thing to upset it and break it and deprive it of a chance to change. Therefore, in the remedies he has insisted upon he has been careful to take into consideration the effect upon legitimate business, and it is said for him that nothing that has been done will affect injuriously in the remotest degree those enterprises which have operated in accordance with just principles.

The laws enacted and about to be placed on the statute books will be in force for some years. Only a revolutionary change in government will alter them. The president has promised a cessation of business legislation once the anti-trust bills are approved.

Consequently, if the next congress be Democratic, business will not need to feel alarmed. If the Democrats should lose the house to the Republicans, it follows that nothing can be done for the Republicans would not pass any measure recommended by the president.

Hold Senate By Eight. The Democrats hold the senate by a majority of eight. If they should increase this majority it would mean that the senate would remain Democratic until 1918, and even if a Republican or Progressive should be elected it would be impossible to obtain any new business legislation.

Moreover, in case of a complete change of administration there would be little tinkering with the tariff, since the Republicans and Progressive parties are pledged to a tariff board which would recommend changes in duties only after full investigation.

Such amendments as would be made to the Federal reserve law would be in the nature of recognized improvements. The trust question undoubtedly would be reopened, but merely for the purpose of increasing the power of the interstate trade commission.

So the administration feels that the president is to be congratulated by the country upon getting on the statute books laws which will remove unrest from business, assure stability and based on principles that, to quote the president, will save us from a final hard crystallization of monopoly and a complete loss of the influence that quick enterprise and keen independent energy alive.

FISHERMEN HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Launch Begins to Fill With Water in Open Lake.

Samuel Goldfish of 208 East First street and two fishermen, who were on their way to Duluth from French river, were almost drowned yesterday noon, when several miles off Lakewood. A cork in the bottom of the boat became displaced and several inches of water had rushed in before the three men realized the predicament they were in.

Goldfish and the two fishermen, Lee Johnson and John Gustafson, hastily closed the hole with some rags and after a search about the bottom of the boat succeeded in finding the cork. This opening, Goldfish said this morning, is to allow the escape of water used in flushing the vessel at the end of each trip.

The trio arrived in Duluth about 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

OUSTED FROM PRESIDENCY

N. F. Hugo Succeeded By W. P. Heimbach as Copper Company Head.

Butte - Alex Scott Stockholders Hold a Spirited Meeting.

A hot contest developed over the election of officers of the Butte-Alex Scott Copper company at its annual meeting yesterday afternoon. When it was all over the roster was found to have been changed under an amendment taking the place of N. F. Hugo as president, and T. J. Bennetts being elected vice president. Thomas Furness was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

No change was made in the remaining directors, the retiring members being re-elected. The office of general manager, formerly held by N. F. Hugo, was abolished. A warm discussion took place over the future policy of the company regarding operations and dividends. One faction favored more active development work and increasing the production of the mine at once, while the other, led by Hugo, urged conservatism till such time as the metal market should improve. The latter finally prevailed and it was later unofficially announced that the present production would not be augmented for the time being. The event however of the price of copper metal being advanced to such a point that a forward policy would be pursued and the payment of dividends resumed.

As shown by the annual report, the Alex Scott Copper company is in a strong position financially with a cash balance of $49,383.85 in its treasury.

MOST TALKED ABOUT CITY

Duluth Was in the Limelight at National Real Estate Convention.

Delegates Say Attention of Investors Is Now Centered Here.

"Duluth was easily the most talked of city at the Pittsburgh convention of the National Association of Real Estate exchanges," said N. J. Upham today on his return home from the trip.

The exchange here made a hit in the way its members are getting on. Waverly Park proposition and closed it up with a neat profit of $40,000 to the International Realty association, he averred. In recognition of that, as previously intimated, this city was awarded a handsome silver cup which will be retained permanently by the local exchange. In addition to that, another cup put up for annual competition will be held here for a year or until such time as some other city can show larger profits than $40,000 in a deal.

The competition for the cup during the next twelve months promises to be keen, according to Mr. Upham. Minneapolis, Fort Wayne, Ind., Kansas City and Knoxville, Tenn., are said to be already preparing propositions to submit it to the associates.

A third trophy also came to Duluth at the hands of the convention in the presentation of a loving cup to N. J. Upham as a token of appreciation for his services in organizing the International Realty associates and serving as its first president. The Duluth delegation at Pittsburgh might have gathered in still another cup offered for the best five-minute speech on real estate proposition, but they did not enter a contest in that connection, and a Detroit orator copped the cup.

The convention was the best in the history of the association, Mr. Upham said. More than 1,000 outside delegates were in attendance and $30,000 was spent in their entertainment, to which the city of Duluth and $10,000 by the city of Pittsburgh and $10,000 by the city of Duluth contributed.

Almost everything that could be done to make the trip a success was provided, including boat trips, social receptions and auto runs.

Duluth Well Advertised. "Taken all in all, Duluth came in for some good advertising at the convention, and as a result it looks certain that considerable outside capital will be attracted here for investment in the near future," said Mr. Upham.

"Operator have come to regard this place as a right up in the front contingent, ranking with any of the big cities in the country in point of offering real estate opportunities. Values here, as shown in the Waverly Park deal, were regarded as relatively lower than most points in the country."

"Regarding assertions being made in some quarters that Duluth has not the acreage available as sites for big industrial propositions, I wish that some of those who think that could have made a round of Pittsburgh with us and seen how large factories here are sandwiched in along steep ravines."

The Duluth delegates at the convention distributed a large number of booklets setting out the fact that the National association had its origin here, when during the summer of 1907, the local board entertained members of the Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Louis real estate boards. At that gathering the formation of a national organization was suggested, and it was agreed to hold the first meeting the following year at Chicago.

The organization of the International Association is credited to N. J. Upham, who was instrumental in securing the bulk of the stock subscriptions. The history of the Waverly Park transactions may be considered, according to government officials, as a landmark in the history of the city.

Former United States Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, whose name was mentioned in testimony at the New Haven investigation conducted by the interstate commerce commission, recently discussed the report of the commission which was made public Monday.

BUDGET PLAN FOR HONESTY

State Legislators See a Chance for Intelligent Work.

Efficiency Commission's Report Means Financial Reform.

St. Paul, Minn., July 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Members of former legislatures who have labored in vain to keep down appropriations while approving every meritorious object see at last a ray of light. The budget plan contained in the efficiency commission's report is going to be the salvation of the conscientious member. He will be able to vote intelligently.

The budget plan implies the organization of the state government first. Of course, it would be possible to list the appropriations and call that a budget, but it is hardly a budget. It comes as near being a budget as the young wife's account: "Left-hand side—'John gave me $10'; right-hand side—'Spent it all.'"

Nobody appreciates that better than men who have served in former sessions.

Leap in the Dark. Senator Ellwell, who has been on the finance committee of the senate for eight years, says: "It is a leap in the dark making appropriations."

In the house one of the most active committees in the last session was the committee on public accounts, which did more than any other agency, up to the time the efficiency commission was formed, to propose better ways.

C. L. Sawyer of Minneapolis was one of the active members of the committee. Mr. Sawyer says:

"I am thoroughly in accord with the idea of cutting down the number of state commissions and otherwise reducing the state government to a business basis. The bill which I introduced last year for an interim commission covered the same points."

The conscientious members who realize what it means to go home the back way because of the sinful total of their appropriations, appreciate the opportunity for an honest legislature to do good work with the budget system as an enlightener.

SCANDINAVIAN IS FREED FROM PRISON.

San Francisco, Cal., July 15.—Alfred Johanson, a Scandinavian seaman, who served two years in San Quentin prison for another man's sentence, was given his full freedom yesterday by Judge Dooling of the United States district court.

While Johanson was drinking in a waterfront bar of Nagasaki, Japan, he was drugged and delivered on board the United States army transport "Chambers," bound for San Francisco from the Philippines, as Peter Grimes, alias Jimmy Rogers, a forger who had been sentenced by the United States consular court in Shanghai to three years in San Quentin.

Grimes and his keeper, Willis Kilgore, a deputy United States marshal, disappeared and Kilgore has never been caught, though Grimes was arrested again not long ago in Hong Kong.

Johanson speaks but little English, and could not make himself understood until in San Quentin he was assigned for a cellmate a fellow countryman.

UNION PACIFIC CAN DISTRIBUTE FUNDS

Equitable Loses Suit to Enjoin Cutting of Melon.

Albany, N. Y., July 15.—By a decision of the court of appeals yesterday the Union Pacific Railroad company is permitted to distribute dividends to holders of preferred stock on certain holdings to the exclusion of holders of preferred stock.

Action was brought by the Equitable Life Assurance society to enjoin the defendants from the distribution of the dividends. The court of appeals has affirmed the decision of the lower court.

The distribution of common stockholders by the decision amounts to about $50,000.

Of this, $58,084.157 resulted from Northern Pacific transactions and $15,882.200 came from the sale of securities resulting from the exchange of convertible bonds. The Union Pacific officials maintained that these sums were "profits" and liable to distribution under certain provisions of the articles of association which excluded the preferred stockholders from participating in the dividends.

The court held that the plaintiff had not shown sufficient cause for action, this being one of the questions asked.

The amount of preferred stock held by the Equitable Life Assurance society in the road was $1,618,000. Outstanding stock in the Union Pacific at the time the action was brought was $21,682,000 of common stock and $9,543,500 of preferred. The dividends were declared some months ago, but payment was held up by litigation.

ASK WOMAN'S RELEASE.

State Board Urged to Free Mill City
Triple Murderess.

St. Paul, Minn., July 15.—Contending that she was temporarily insane at the time, friends yesterday appeared before the state board of pardons and made an earnest appeal for the release of Mrs. Stella Brennan, noted serving a life sentence in Stillwater prison for the murder of three children.

Mrs. Brennan was sent from Hennepin county in following a long trial in which she was not really responsible for the crime.

It developed at the hearing that her principal friend now is Warden Wolf of the Stillwater penitentiary, who is about to retire from that position. After being in the penitentiary for several months she has informed the members that Mrs. Brennan's case is one that should be given careful attention.

During her nine years in prison she has developed into an expert stenographer.

While in prison Mrs. Brennan gave birth to a child. The youngster is now with its grandparents. Warden Wolf has informed the board that Mrs. Brennan seems to have no knowledge of the crime with which she is charged. At the time of her trial she was in a delicate condition and the murder is ascribed to temporary insanity due to this fact.

The board of pardons also heard a plea in behalf of Fred A. Briggs, sent from Hennepin county for complicity in the robberies and the murder of a policeman in which Peter Juhl and Jerry McCarthy, two notorious gunmen, were involved. The point was made that Briggs had no knowledge of the crime with which he was charged he was connected.

Fully a bushel amount of petitions were presented in Briggs' behalf. They contained the names of many men prominent in business and professional life in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

LOGES INTERESTED. North Dakota Organizations Face Le- gal Battle Over Paying Taxes.

Fargo, N. D., July 15.—(Special to The Herald).—Members of fraternal organizations are taking a great deal of interest in the reported plan of the state tax commission to mandamus county officials to compel them to place the buildings and furniture owned by secret orders on the tax rolls. There has been a law for many years against assessment of property of lodges when the property was used exclusively for lodge purposes. Those organizations owning and renting halls had to pay.

Many attorneys have long doubted the constitutionality of the exemption law and are practically unanimous in their opinion the court will order the assessment of the property.

Should that suit win it is probable the law exempting churches and other religious property will also be tested. In some towns of the state religious organizations own churches and parsonages and rent the churches for public entertainment and rent the parsonages when not occupied by the pastors.

M. C. A. organizations rent rooms and serve meals in competition with rooming houses, hotels and restaurants and escape the payment of taxes imposed on the men against whom they compete.

The display of dairy cattle will represent all the leading breeds with many types of each. It will afford an excellent opportunity for comparing the different breeds and will give the man planning to engage in the industry a splendid opportunity to see the higher types of all the breeds. There are numerous other livestock entries and the race and entertainment program is high class.

Vienna, July 15.—A judicial inquiry has been ordered into the deaths of a guide named Meloung and four others whose frozen bodies were found on the Gross-Venediger glacier near Gratz. ## One Thousand Dollars Is the Value Set For Three Bottles of Quaker Extract

LISTEN TO A REPORT OF A PIONEER OF PETERSBURG

If ever it has been proven that Quaker Extract is a most wonderful remedy for stomach trouble of all kinds, it was proven in the case of Mrs. J. J. Westmoreland, 326 Lawrence street, Petersburg, Va., who reported at the drug store as follows: "My stomach complaint was indeed chronic, because I have suffered so long with it. For the past four years, so bad that my stomach at times could not even retain cold water."

She had belching and bloating, pains in the stomach, side, chest, fluttering of the heart, dizziness of the head, and had to sit up at nights. She had tried all kinds of remedies, but had got no relief from any of them. She was getting worse all the time, had about given up all hope of getting well, when the Quaker Health Teacher came to Petersburg.

After reading some of the remarkable cases Quaker had cured, she called and purchased a treatment. After taking three bottles of Quaker Extract, she said: "All my misery has gone, and I can eat anything I want without any fear of its hurting me afterwards. I want not only the people of Petersburg but the world to know what Quaker Remedies have done for me, so that others who suffer can know that at last there is a cure for them. I would not take a thousand dollars in exchange for what Quaker has done for me."

Any one who does not believe this statement may call on, phone or write Mrs. Westmoreland, and she will gladly tell you what Quaker has done for her.

Now with all the facts you have read and heard from your friends and neighbors, why will you suffer longer? Start today, and get well. You want to feel good. If you stay in that run-down, weak, poisoned condition longer you will soon be a charge on your friends, and you know well how long people care for that kind of trouble, so call today, get well and happy again.

Gaskins, the Quaker Health Teacher, is at the Orpheum Pharmacy, 201 East Superior street, Duluth, Minn., from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. If you cannot call, order by mail. The goods will be sent to you by express on receipt of price.

Quaker Herb Extract is three for $2.50; $1.00 bottle and Oil of Balm, for any ache or pain, 50c. Quaker Cough Syrup for coughs and colds, 25c. All Healing Salve, for piles, corns, old sores, 25c.

WHITE SOX MAKE FIRST GAME OF WINNIPEG SERIES

Henry Clay Blanche Blanks
Invaders, 2 to 0, and Whiffs Twelve.

Dad Ford Features Game
By Rudely Interrupting
a Triple.

BY BRUCE.

Henry Clay Blanche vanquished the Canadians in the first of the international series games by the count of 2 to 0. Having read that the Canadian interests pressed their influence in the Panama canal tolls matter and thus shed some blushes on our patriotic countenances, the poet and patriot asked the gallant O'Brien to send him in against the foreign foe. During the course of the afternoon twelve of the enemy were set down by strikeouts and but four hits were gathered. Against the golden-hued twirling of Henry Clay Blanche was set forth the more calm and peaceful throwing of Dusty Rhoads, a reformed third baseman. During the present season the aforementioned Mr. Rhoads has been a prickly thorn in the sides of the White Sox. He beat us the last visit here and he beat us at the Peg. Therefore the revenge of yesterday carried in its wake more than the usual sweetness.

In only one round did the enemy appear dangerous. This was the only round that more than one hit was gathered. After Joseph Wilkes and Mr. Tacke had whiffed, the venerable Fred Curtis bunted and landed safely on first. Kirkham singled through the lane at second and both runners moved up on a passed ball.

Mr. Swain of the opposition has the reputation of being one of the real deadly ones in the wood slagers of this league. It was he who strode to bat in this present game. He was bering the meddling interference of the Panama canal tolls bill, the poet and patriot promptly proceeded to strike out the Swain slinger.

During the course of the afternoon Henry Clay Blanche was the most part to his smoke and curves. He used his great call of the pinch, but after the third round he settled into the even stride of smoke and his hop ball and moved along majestically to the end without being threatened. The present season's strikeout record is fourteen, according to the unofficial rumors. This record is placed opposite the name of Henry Clay Blanche. At the end of three innings Blanche had whiffed eight men and it looked as if he would set aside a new record. After the third round only one hit was gathered from the smoke and slugs of Blanche's delivery, but he failed to keep pace with whiff that of the first three rounds.

We started early. After passing the predicament of the foreign first we proceeded to gather all that was needed to win the international conflict. Brackets went out from Rhoads to the well-known Southern states of house painter and then Buddy Brackett hit on the nose and the strikeout line for deep center. Calhoun misjudged it for one fleeting second and then moved back. When the ball was recovered the runner was on second. Bond singled over second, the ball falling out of reach of the outstretched hand of Tacke, and the run was over. Blanche started the seventh by singling over third base. We have had three responsible business men present make affidavit to this event, so we believe that it will eventually get into the record books. Rhoads walked Brackets and Crooke. The visitor pitched as if in a sort of daze and continued now and then to peer at Blanche as one gazes on some astounding freak of the sidish.

Bond lofted gently to Altermatt and then James Collins hit to Kirkham in left and the poet pitcher beat the throw to the plate. The ball was thrown to the round by belting one to Kirkham.

Some Fifty Fielding. Father Ford raced back to the cigarette sign in the fourth inning, one down out of the humid atmosphere that was ticked for three hours. Mr. Curtis, the best house painter in the southern section of the state, was the author of the crack. Mr. Ford left the ball fall from his hands but recovered it before it hit the ground.

In many respects the international series of the two clubs will take on some of the aspects of the recent A. R. C. gathering at Niagara Falls. In our midst today are peace delegates from all of the clubs of the Northern league, including Superior. The idea is said to be to patch some new peace strips over several ragged outbreaks. The delegates are expected to take in two or two of the games of the present series.

The Giants started batting in the opening inning and scored three runs by bunting a double and two singles with an error, a wild pitch and a base on balls. ## MAGNATES IN SESSION HERE

Problems of the Northern League Being Discussed
By Managers.

President Burmeister and the magnates of the Northern league are in session at the Spaulding hotel today. The matter of the general tangle at Fort William is due to come before the delegates for consideration, and it is said that before the adjournment of the meeting there may be a transfer of the Winona franchise to Port Arthur.

Port Arthur has for some time been anxious to get into the Northern league. Encouraged by the attendance at Fort William, it is whispered around that some of the magnates of the league are willing to make the transfer, and further, that there is backing for the placing of the Winona team in Port Arthur for the remainder of the season.

President Burmeister is here and also representatives of all of the teams and the league.

THE SENIOR FOUR WINS A CONTEST IN THE FOG

Ten Eyck Sends Four of His Crews Off to a Driving Race Through the Low-Hanging Banks of Fog—The Kenora Prospects.

BY BRUCE.

Jim Ten Eyck staged a handicap boat race last evening through the confusing fog banks that hung like a pall over the bay course. Four fours started and rowed for eight minutes. The senior four finished ahead, with the bantams second, the junior four third and the lapstreakers bringing up the rear.

The contest was a handicap affair that was started clear down on the Superior entry side of Oakla. The lapstreak crew was sent off in the lead. The junior four was sent away about four or five lengths behind the lapstreakers, and the bantams about three lengths behind the juniors. The bantams were given about five open lengths of water start on the seniors.

It was some race. Clear up ahead, through the heavy bank of fog, could be dimly perceived the plunging lapstreakers, straining every sinew to hold the handicap allowance. Running the eye down the line of struggling fours the observation halted at the swiftly gliding senior four. Class and quality proclaimed itself in the beautiful rhythm of the four men and the manner in which the boat rose up the rapidly lessening distance of the handicap.

At the end of the one minute, the passing of which was megaphoned out through the descending fog to the four contending crews by Coach Ten Eyck from the launch, the lapstreakers were still hanging doggedly to their lead. The juniors were overhauling the lapstreak crew and the bantams were pulling up on the juniors. And back in the rear, pulling that beautiful stroke, even and with the head cutting through the water, came the seniors, a national championship crew that looked every bit the part.

Seniors Pull Up.
At the end of the two minutes the lapstreak crew still led. The juniors were cutting down the lapstreakers, the bantams were pulling ahead of the juniors. At three minutes the seniors were almost even with the bantams. At four minutes the seniors and bantams were racing nearly neck and neck and out of the mouth of the big megaphone Ten Eyck was pouring words of encouragement to the little bantams.

For nearly a minute of the prolonged eight minutes racing time the seniors glided along in easy fashion at the side of the bantams. They had caught the field, for the lapstreakers had fallen back and the bantams had slowly passed the juniors.

and were pulling the stroke through at a lower figure. And then Jimmy announced but one minute more to row and the seniors raised the stroke and daylight, or fog-light, appeared between the stern of the senior boat and the bow of the bantam shell.

The seniors beat the bantams home by about two open lengths of water and the bantams in turn beat the juniors home by about two lengths. The lapstreak crew brought up the rear. It was a grand race, for often some great shell races are witnessed in the training periods of preparation. The contest seemed to bring out the fact that the Duluth Boat club bantams are a real crew—one that will level up in general rowing characteristics with some of the bantam crews of the past, and Ten Eyck had produced three winning bantam fours since he has been at the boat club.

St. Paul and Winnipeg have had four seasons in which to develop and perfect bantam fours. Whether this time has been sufficient to produce four that will take the measure of the four that Duluth is to send to Kenora this season, is a matter that only the rowing of the regatta will answer.

In the contest of last evening the bantams looked fast. There are some rowing enthusiasts here who are a little in the eye of the critic, perhaps—but butte boat travels, and that is the vital and vastly important consideration.

Too Foggy For Eight.
It was too foggy to take out the eight. The final week of domestic rowing poll is two days gone. It is proving a strenuous week and one filled to the brim with hopes and expectations.

In this final week at home before the rowing of the Northwestern International regatta, Jimmy Ten Eyck hopes to round out some more improvement on the bantam four, to put some finishing touches on the junior eight and to install a more pronounced get together spirit into the junior four.

The members of the junior four have not been together very long in some more respects than an eight it is necessary for a four to row together. In this respect the junior four will start at Kenora under a decided handicap. Duluth hopes to win the junior eight—hopes with the buoyant and fervent hope of a champion; and yet the prospect is not of the rosy hue of last year.

They had an eight that won with ridiculous ease at St. Paul and journeyed East and won the national senior eight-oared championship of the Firemen, policemen, out-of-doors men, two-fisted men in general, all say PEERLESS satisfies. Once they start using PEERLESS they cannot get the same satisfaction out of any other brand.

PEERLESS is made from pure Southern Kentucky leaf, aged for three to five years, so as to bring out slowly and naturally all the juicy mellowness and richness of the tobacco. That's why its quality never varies—and that's why hurried-up, hashed-up tobaccos can't compare with PEERLESS.

In the strenuous hours of work or in the pleasant hours of relaxation, be sure to have some of this wonderful tobacco with you.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL GROUND IS BROKEN

Work Started on Virginia School, Second of Kind on Range.

Virginia, Minn., July 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ground was broken today for the new parochial school of the parish of the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes. It is expected to cost about $50,000 and will be built by day labor. Fathers Powers stated it will probably not be ready for use until the beginning of the school year 1915. It will be the second parochial school on the range, that at Hibbing opened two years ago in connection with the parish of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament.

LAKE COUNTY TO IMPROVE HIGHWAY
Road to Lake Vermilion Via Beaver Bay to Be Fixed Up.

Two Harbors, Minn., July 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county commissioners yesterday decided to lay out and establish a road which has been known as the St. Croix Lumber company road and runs out of Ely. It connects with the St. Louis county road at west end of section 31, township 62, range 11, and runs east and south through Lake County, connecting with the Isabelle road in township 55, range 8. In Lake county it runs through the town of Beaver Bay, to Ely and Tower, and is thirty-five miles long and has been used by the St. Croix Lumber company for hauling supplies. The road as it stands is in fairly good condition and the county figures that it can be put into first class shape with small cost.

BUHL HEATING PLANT.
New System Is About Installed By Virginia Concern.

Buhl, Minn., July 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new steam heat mains being put in by the Virginia Plumbing & Heating company under the direction of Mr. Cherne are about completed. The heating connections with the mains, for which about twenty permits have been granted, will be completed by the end of the week. A new steam sewer from the corner of the creek is almost finished. Whole City Absorbed In Big Show Being Pulled Off By Elks.

Virginia, Minn., July 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Virginia is carnival mad so to speak, judging by the amount of interest displayed in the affair. The local Elks are pulling off the carnival this week. Every one is going to the big carnival grounds at the foot of Cleveland avenue and business is almost at a standstill here. The carnival is being pulled off by the Elks. The Elks are pulling off the carnival this week. ### THREE HOMES BURGLARIZED

New Duluth Families Lose Money and Jewelry While They Sleep.

Burglars Cut the Telephone Wires—Believed to Have Worn Felt Shoes.

While members of three New Duluth families peacefully slumbered last night, burglars entered their homes, ransacked the bedrooms and living rooms, stole money, watches, jewelry and clothing, and even went so far as to remove a new pair of trousers and carry the former off.

The homes were those of Robert Crager, Robert Bloyer and G. Washington Harrison, the former two families residing on Ninety-seventh avenue, near McEwen street, and the latter across the alley on Ninety-eighth avenue. At the home of the former two the screen doors had been unhooked, but a hole was punched in the wire netting and the hook removed. At the Harrison home the screen had not been hooked.

From the Crager home the burglars got about $8 in cash, a gold watch belonging to Mrs. Crager, and cuff buttons belonging to Mr. Crager. They also took Mrs. Crager's trousers and carried Mr. Crager's trousers out of the house. The trousers were well worn, but had attached to them a pair of suspenders. These were carried off, but the trousers were found with pockets turned inside out in the rear yard.

The sum of $145 was taken from the pockets of Mr. Bloyer's trousers, which were hanging on a chair beside his bed. His watch was also taken. This home was the only one of the three that had telephone connections, and the wires of this instrument were cut this morning, showing that the burglars did not intend that communication with the police should be too readily secured in case they were discovered.

From Harrison's home the burglars got $2.50 from Mr. Harrison's trousers, which also were on a chair alongside of the bed. Here the house had been more thoroughly ransacked. A Russian buffalo overcoat belonging to Mr. Harrison and a pony coat belonging to Mrs. Harrison were taken.

The burglars took place, it is believed, between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning. The thefts were not discovered until the families awoke at 6 o'clock. The police were notified shortly afterwards, and Sergeant Robert McDermott, assisted by Patrolmen Root and Denham, spent several hours investigating the premises for possible clues. None have been found so far.

The police are of the opinion that the burglars are implicated in the thefts, from the method in which the robberies were carried out. They appeared to know where the bedrooms were and just how to get into the homes. They also appeared to know just the habits of each family. Some of the members of the families claim to be light sleepers, but no noise of any kind was heard by any of them. It is thought that the men wore felt shoes while going through the houses.

Surprised By Friends.

Miss Sarah Hanson was pleasantly surprised last evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Reinertsen, 624 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, by the members of the Young People's Society.

AWNINGS AND TREES TOO LOW

Trees with low-hanging branches, as well as awnings that are said to be lower than the ordinance allows, are being complained of by West Duluth people. It is claimed that on nearly every street in this end of the city the branches of trees hang so low that it is necessary for persons of ordinary height to bend their heads to be able to pass under them.

Similarly, it is said that some of the awnings are not over six feet above the sidewalk level. The ordinance provides that these should be at least seven feet.

The city departments will be requested to investigate these complaints, according to a letter from the Duluth Commercial club. The subject is to be brought up at the meeting of the club Friday evening.

IS KEEPING WARM.

Former Proctor Man Tells of Temperatures of 127 Degrees.

M. R. Sheldon, former general secretary of the Proctor Y. M. C. A. probably often longs to be back to the Head of the Lakes where it is cool. He is at present in India, where the temperature is in the shade and that it often goes to 135 degrees in other than shaded spots.

In part, he said: "I have found India to be a very interesting country. My work has taken me to practically all the important cities, Tuticorin, Bangalore, Madras, Calcutta, Dacca, Jamalpur, Allahabad, Lucknow, Bombay, Delhi, Karachi, Quetta, Rawalpindi, Jacobabad and Lahore, and into nearly every section of the country, even down into Ceylon, and in each section there are different sights to see, different languages and religions and different customs and style of dress. My work has been pleasant although exceedingly difficult. We have many obstacles here that are unthought of in the United States. At present the heat in a part of my territory is something terrific. The temperature ranges from 105 to 127 in the shade during the hot hours and in the sun it goes as high as 135."

Install Officers.

Officers of West Duluth Council No. 255 and Poobahat Council No. 312 Royal League, were jointly installed last evening at the West Duluth Commercial club. The installation was presided over by the Rev. J. C. Reinertsen, pastor of the Methodist church. The ceremony was held following the installation a social session was held.

"A Foul Tip."

"A Foul Tip," a comedy drama of three acts, will be presented Friday evening at the Odd Fellows hall in Proctor under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Forbes Memorial Methodist church. The play was presented early last month by the graduates of the Proctor high school.

SOME OF THE PROMINENT BUILDING MEN ATTENDING THE DULUTH CONVENTION

CHARLES E. DOTY, Cleveland, Ohio, Vice President of the Association, Who Is Expected to Be Elected President.

JOHN H. HALL, Cincinnati, Who Is Manager of the Emery Estate, Which Is the Fourth Largest in the United States.

GUY H. WRIGHT, St. Louis, Mo., Manager of the Wright Building.

BUILDING MANAGER IS CRACK GOLFER

W. R. LAKE Of Chicago.

The reason why W. R. Lake of Chicago lays claim to being the best golfer among the building managers in Duluth, is that he has managed buildings for so long and has heard his tenants swear at him for so many years, that he feels he has mastered the golf game for this summer sport.

Mr. Lake said this morning that he can swear better than any man he ever met, if he has to, and that as a result he never loses a game. The other fellows are all handicapped, he says, by his vocabulary and he has never been at a loss for a word and never repeated himself.

Mr. Lake is manager of the Western Union buildings in Chicago, and one of the most popular members of the association.

the business men of the town had retained a "special prosecutor" to assist in the case. The attorney for the defendant invariably asked each witness if he had ever contributed anything toward the support of the "special prosecutor." One old man was very zealous in his efforts to convict the defendant. The attorney started to ask him the regular "contribution question," but the witness interrupted him, and gave his answer in the middle of the question, with the following result:

"Have you ever contributed anything toward the support of the 'special prosecutor'?"

"No, sir; I never did—not a cent!"

"Of your family?"

"The witness was excused amid the laughter of the court, jury, and audience. He left the room, mad as a hornet, and was heard to mutter: 'I ain't got no family.'"

"THE HEART OF DULUTH"

St. Louis Man Fixes It at Third Avenue West, But Says Department Stores Are Needed There.

Although Duluth's most valuable corner on Third avenue west and Superior street, its value would be doubted or trebled, if there were department stores there instead of three banks, according to Joseph M. Robinson of St. Louis, one of the delegates to the building managers' convention.

Walter Pollock of Cleveland, who had planned to make a survey of Duluth's business property with the plan in view of deciding as to the most valuable place of frontage in the city, is unable to come to the convention, but he has written a letter to the effect that he is coming tomorrow morning and he is to be asked to make the appraisal of Duluth property.

"I know nothing at all about Duluth, except what I learned yesterday afternoon in walking up and down your main streets," Mr. Robinson told The Herald this morning. "But from what I have seen, I believe, Third avenue west is the most valuable and really the 'heart of business property.'"

Mr. Robinson is manager of the Merchants-Ladies' building in St. Louis, one of the largest in the Missouri metropolis.

He is speaking from experience, would be worth three times as much as much if these banks were not there. Department stores should be on every corner there and this city would then have the biggest corner in the West.

"But these banks are in office buildings," Mr. Robinson was informed. "That's what saves the corner. Banks, you know, close at 3 o'clock and traffic stops. If it wasn't for the offices Third avenue west would be absolutely dead after 3 o'clock. The fact that it is a transfer point helps to a great extent and in reality is what saves that clothing store. A bank can be anywhere in a downtown district and make money, but a department store cannot. At least think that traffic would result in department stores were on every corner at Third avenue west would be remarkable."

CARBAJAL-CARRANZA REGIME WILL BE RECOGNIZED BY THE U. S.

STRONG ESCORT OF LOYAL TROOPS GOES WITH HUERTA PARTY

Mexican Capital Is Quiet Under Change of Power.

Strict Censorship Over All Dispatches Is Established.

Dictator Scores the United States in Resignation Message.

TIME FOR THE REPUBLICANS TO DO TALKING

Events Will Speak for the Administration, Says John Lind.

President's Special Envoy to Mexico Is Visitor in Duluth.

Refuses to Discuss Passing of Huerta's Regime of Loot.

Vera Cruz, July 15.—The special train said to be conveying Gen. Huerta and his family left for Mexico City today on its way to the capital. It was understood that the train was accompanied by a large force of loyal troops. The train was seen leaving the station at 5 o'clock in the morning.

Mexico City, July 15.—When Gen. Victoriano Huerta and a large party of his friends, composed of former ministers of state and prominent officials of his administration, stepped on the special train on their flight last night to Vera Cruz, a strong escort of the Sixty-ninth Federal Infantry accompanied them.

This is the regiment which has always been renowned for its loyalty to the former dictator, and which had always formed his special guard at the National Palace.

Only a few persons were at the station to witness the departure, which had evidently been carefully planned. A strict censorship was imposed today on incoming as well as outgoing dispatches.

Change Calmly Received.

The change in government, whereby Gen. Huerta turned over the provisional presidency to Francisco Carbajal, had been calmly received by the populace. Besides the demonstration made in honor of President Carbajal when he was leaving the chamber of deputies building after taking the oath, no other outbursts of importance have occurred.

AVIATOR 154 FEET UNDER 5 MILES HIGH

Barograph Carried by Oelrich Shows His Altitude.

Leipzig, Germany, July 15.—An official test today of a barograph carried by Heinrich Oelrich in his biplane showed that the altitude attained by him on his recent flight of July 14 was over 8,000 meters, or 26,246 feet, that is, only 154 feet less than five miles.

BLAMES BODY FOR ILL MIND

Ohio Physician Talks on the Causes of Insanity.

Chicago, July 15.—"In all instances mental diseases are due to physical causes and should be met by physical measures," said Dr. Carl F. Sawyer, Marion, Ohio, today to the convention of alienists and neurologists in session here. Dr. Sawyer declared that a study of 2,700 case histories he had found that a physical ailment was virtually always the cause of any of the forms of insanity. Psychic causes are mere side roads, he asserted.

The physical side was attracted so much attention that the physical has been lost sight of," said Dr. Sawyer. "I am convinced that wherever physical conditions are not shown to be the cause of psychic states, it is due to the weakness of the investigator and to the immaturity of his methods rather than to the absence of a physical cause."

Effective Treatment.

Defective elimination and highly increased red corpuscle proportion in the blood are present in the largest class of insane cases, Dr. Sawyer asserted. Treatment to obviate these conditions, and develop an increase in the white corpuscles is effective, he said.

Colonization of all epileptics was advocated by Maurice D. Lynch of Chicago, chairman of the special appeals committee of the United Charities. State laws should be enacted, he asserted, under which epileptics could be committed to such colonies.

"Insanity," Dr. George A. Zeller of Peoria, Ill., member of the Illinois board of administration, took issue with some other speakers at the meeting when he declared that insanity is not shown to be the cause of psychic states, it is due to the weakness of the investigator and to the immaturity of his methods rather than to the absence of a physical cause.

Interviewing John Lind is more than an accomplishment for a newspaper reporter. It's a miracle.

A Herald reporter performed this miracle this morning. Mr. Lind was asked: "Are you ready to talk now?" and he replied laughingly: "I am not in a position to say 'I told you so.' No, I have nothing to say. Let the Republican leaders in Washington who espoused the cause of Huerta do the talking. Their continued lamentations over the passing of his regime of privilege, loot and murder will not mislead the people. Events and results will speak for the administration and for the nation."

That was all that the man who "can be silent in seven languages" would say about the downfall of Huerta and the triumph of President Wilson's policy in Mexico. Mr. Lind accompanied by Mrs. Lind and their little son John, arrived in Duluth yesterday, and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Uno Schmay for two days. They will leave for Minneapolis tomorrow.

Mr. Lind even before he served as governor of Minnesota, had been known

600 GIRLS DRIVEN OUT BY 3 A. M. FIRE

Some Escape From State Home at Geneva, Illinois.

Geneva, Ill., July 15.—Six hundred girls quartered in the state home for girls here were driven out into the dark at 3 o'clock this morning by fire which was discovered in the administration building, a four-story structure in the middle of a group of smaller buildings in which the girls are housed. Only attendants sleep in the administration building.

None of the young women, so far as learned, was hurt, although they fled precipitately to the ground, some of them in their night clothes. A few of the girls, seizing the opportunity to escape, ran away. They had to go in what few clothes they had a chance to grab as they fled from the fire.

The fire departments of Geneva, Batavia, St. Charles and Aurora were summoned in addition to the fire fighters living at the state institution, and the flames were under control at 9 o'clock. The loss is put at about $50,000. Mrs. Carrie O'Connor of Rock Island is superintendent of the home.

Up to 108 at Tulsa, Okla.

Okla. City, July 15.—After a respite of two or three days, high temperatures were prevalent again in Kansas and this part of Missouri. One death and half a dozen prostrations resulted.

Records for the season were broken yesterday in several Kansas towns. Concordia reported a maximum of 116 recorded by the government thermometer, while those in the streets registered 128. Clay Center, with 108 degrees, Manhattan with 106, Abilene with 108, Medicine Lodge with 106 and Independence with 102, all set new season records. The temperature in Kansas City was 95.7 degrees.

Hot winds were reported from several Kansas points, causing alarm for the corn crop.

WESTERN RAILROADS AND EMPLOYEES MAY CONFER ONCE MORE

Managers Send Note to Officials of the Unions.

Ask for Definite Statement of Proposals of Men.

Chicago, July 15.—A step toward the resumption of negotiations looking toward a settlement of the wage differences between the 55,000 engineers and firemen and the eight Western railroads and the railroads, was taken today by the conference committee of the railroads in a letter asking for a definite statement of the proposition supported by the unions.

The letter was addressed to W. S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and W. S. Carter, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and was in response to the formal notification of the result of the strike vote in which nearly all the employees favored a strike.

Managers' Request.

The request of the managers' committee was in the following words: "Please advise this committee the definite propositions you are now supporting under the authority given you by this strike vote and which we may understand to be the basis of settlement by which a strike may be averted."

The letter was signed by A. W. Trenholm, chairman of the managers' conference committee and general manager of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway.

The letter of the union leaders to the conference committee did not give details of the strike vote, but only the total vote of the union of 55,000. It was expected that the union officials would consider the communication later in the day before drafting their reply.

LAYS HIS FALL TO THE UNITED STATES

VICTORIANA HUERTA.

GRAND JURY IS NEAR CARMAN CASE VOTE

Last Witnesses in Bailey Murder Probe Are Examined.

Minneapolis, N. Y., July 15.—The grand jury weighing the evidence against Mrs. Florence Carman, who is charged with slaying Mrs. Louise Bailey in Dr. Carman's office June 30, last, was expected to vote for or against an indictment late this afternoon.

District Attorney Smith, in announcing so today, said that the verdict probably would not be made public until tomorrow. Only three witnesses, Mr. Smith continued, were to face the grand jury today, with the possible exception of Mrs. Carman herself.

Whether the jurors would permit her to make a statement was a point which had not been determined this forenoon.

NO LETUP IN FIGHT TO CONFIRM JONES

Letter Indorsing Him Is Sent From Chicago Men.

Washington, July 15.—There was no letup today in President Wilson's fight for the confirmation of Thomas D. Jones of Chicago for the Federal reserve board.

Intimations that the nomination might be withdrawn from the senate were vigorously denied by the White House officials, who believed the administration supporters had increased in numbers over night. Opponents of the confirmation were confident they could beat it; the administration still was hopeful of victory, though by a slender majority.

A letter indorsing Mr. Jones, signed by twenty-two large business concerns in Chicago, was made public today at the White House.

CORPSE IN CHICAGO MARKED WITH SKULL

Chicago, July 15.—The body of a man, with rope-bound hands and feet and a handkerchief bearing a crude drawing of a skull and crossbones in the mouth, was found today on the lake shore at the foot of Thirteenth street.

Death apparently was caused by suffocation from the handkerchief gag. The pockets of the victim, who was dressed like a laborer, had been turned inside out.

The victim is believed by the police to have been A. Dabone. The pictured skull and crossbones led the police to believe the crime was committed for revenge.

WASHINGTON SENDS MEXICANS MESSAGE

First Move Toward Establishing Firm Government Made By Huerta's Successor.

Villa's Attitude Is Only Cloud on Outlook—He May Turn on the "First Chief."

CARRANZA SILENT

Monterey, Mex., July 15.—Via Laredo, Tex., July 15.—When informed of Huerta's resignation tonight, Gen. Carranza made no comment, but a high official said he believed the Constitutional army would proceed to capture Mexico City, unless there was unconditional surrender of the Mexican forces under the new provisional president.

Washington, July 16.—The United States today instructed John R. Silliman, American consul at Saltillo, to inform Gen. Carranza that if he arrives at a peaceful agreement with Carbajal for the transfer of power at Mexico City, recognition will be extended to the resultant administration.

Should Carranza refuse to complete the settlement of the internal conflict by diplomatic means, and insist on a forcible entrance into Mexico City, recognition will be deferred until there is a legal election.

American forces, according to present plans, will not be withdrawn from Vera Cruz until a government is recognized.

This determination was reached by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan after the viewpoint of the South American mediators was laid before them.

SEE TRIUMPH FOR WILSON

London Papers Comment on Affairs in Mexico.

London, July 15.—Gen. Huerta's resignation of the provisional presidency of Mexico is regarded as a victory for President Wilson's policy and is welcomed by the British public and in official circles here as a possible solution of the Mexican problem. A peaceful end to the complex situation is greatly desired here on account of the large British financial interests in the country. Most of the London newspapers, however, express doubt as to whether conditions will be better under Venustiano Carranza than when Gen. Huerta was in power.

The Fall Mail Gazette points out that if Francisco Carbajal, the new provisional president, surrenders to Gen. Carranza, as he is expected to do, "it may soon be possible to exact reparation from Gen. Villa for the murder at Juarez of William S. Benton."

Diplomatic Victory.

The Evening Standard says: "The Washington administration has won a diplomatic victory. President Wilson has been persistent and patient in his policy of non-recognition of Gen. Huerta, but it is likely enough he will be met now by other obstacles just as hard to surmount as was Gen. Huerta's obstinacy."

The Globe takes much the same view, saying: "The elimination of Gen. Huerta is a triumph of sorts for President Wilson, but it may be assumed that his difficulties and anxieties are by no means over. There is no reason to suppose that the real opinions of the Mexican people will have more opportunity to assert themselves under Gen. Carranza than they had under Gen. Huerta. The United States, however, has been warned by experience not to inquire too closely nor to expect too much."

HONOR POCAHONTAS IN ENGLISH CHURCH

Gravesend, Eng., July 15.—The unveiling and dedication of two memorial windows to Pocahontas, presented to St. George's church here by the Dames of Virginia, was made the occasion today of a general holiday in this little town on the banks of the Thames, and its public buildings and private residences were all brightly decorated. The registers of the church bore the name of the Indian princess.

The officers and crews of the American battleships Missouri and Illinois, and the Annapolis naval cadets on board for their annual practice cruise, took a prominent part in the ceremony. Carrish is said to have been coming out of a store on the corner accompanied by his wife when Mrs. Rodovich began calling his wife names. Carrish is then said to have struck her several times with his fists as well as to have kicked her into insensibility. The woman was taken to the Duluth hospital in a serious condition. ## NOT "BREAKING WELL"

Climax of Hard Luck Story Is Arrest for Vagrancy.

Things haven't been "breaking any too well for Louis Weddell, 19 years old, and the climax came last night when he was arrested on a charge of vagrancy upon being found sleeping in a wagon box on the hillside. The boy told the police this morning that both his father and mother had died in the last year, leaving him without a home. He has been shifting as best he knew how to make both ends meet.

The young man's appearance was very much in his favor. Although he has not been in funds he has managed to keep himself neatly dressed and he has not lost the acquaintance of soap and water. When arraigned in police court he pleaded guilty to the "vagrancy" charge, admitting that he had no visible means of support. He stated that he has been seeking work and yesterday received the promise of a job with a dairyman a short distance from the city limits and was released on parole for six months, with instructions to report to Probation Officer Frank Hicks.

Four others were arrested last night on vagrancy charges. They gave their names as John K. Simons, Viktor Lautamaki, Charles Powell and George West. They were found sleeping in a barn. They denied that they are vagrants and their cases were continued until this afternoon for disposition.

GETS ANOTHER CHANCE TO LEAVE THE CITY.

Peter Erickson, 42 years old, lost no time in getting out of Duluth this morning. Erickson was first arrested Tuesday evening on a charge of being drunk. Yesterday morning he pleaded guilty to the charge and Judge Lannan suspended sentence on condition that he would get out of the city at once. After being released Erickson apparently forgot the part about leaving the corporate limits of the city and last evening was again picked up in a drunken stupor by the police. This morning he tendered the same plea of guilty and said he would immediately get out if given the chance. Judge Lannan gave him the option of ten days at the work farm or getting out of the city at once. Erickson chose the latter. When Erickson was last seen he was walking as rapidly as possible towards the western limits of the city.

VICTORY ON FEDS' FLAG

Pitcher Johnson's Case Decided in Outlaws' Favor By Appellate Court.

Chicago, July 16.—The Federal league scored its first big legal victory in its war on organized baseball when the appellate court held today the ten days' clause in the ball players' contract void. The ruling was given in a court action which reversed a superior court of Illinois, which had held that Johnson, the Winnebago Indian, from playing with the Kansas City Federal. The injunction issued by Judge Foell in the superior court and served on Johnson, which was a parting shot in a game here, was granted at the request of the Cincinnati Nationals, whose ranks Johnson left to join the outlawed Federal league. Johnson, before he signed with his new association, gave the Cincinnati club the same notice of his leaving which he had given with regard to the club to give. Ten days after he had given the notice he joined the Federal league.

Federal league officials here were pleased with the decision and declared it would result in the addition to their playing corps of dozens of stars. At first said to be the ruling, the ruling gives ball players a great leverage in making demands from the clubs. The ruling from the appellate court was signed by Justices Edward O. Johnston and McCurdy. The opinion will be filed later and none of the justices will discuss any of the findings.

Counsel for the Cincinnati club said that Judge Foell's injunction still technically stands. They have ten days to file a petition for a writ of rehearing in the appellate court and meanwhile Johnson cannot play with the Cincinnati Nationals. The decision of Judge Foell may yet be sustained, according to counsel. Among many cases likely to be influenced by the appellate court's opinion is that of Hal Chase, who after giving the Chicago Americans ten days notice of his quitting them, was enjoined in a Buffalo court from playing with the Federalists of that city.

Kansas City, Mo., July 16.—"It is a great victory for the Federal league," declared C. C. Maddison, president of the Kansas City baseball club today when informed of the Johnson decision. "This is the first decision of the appellate court and means not only that Johnson may play with us, but that suits seeking to keep Hal Chase and Player Marston from the Federal league probably will be decided in the Federal's favor."

Johnson has been on the bench since the decision against him was rendered by Judge Foell. Mr. Maddison said he probably would get into the game tomorrow.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 16.—President August Herrmann of the Cincinnati baseball club with which Johnson was connected before joining the Kansas City Federal league team, said the decision of the appellate court was naturally surprising to him.

"Of course, we will appeal to the higher courts immediately," said Mr. Herrmann.

SEATS FOR FIGHT ARE PRICELESS

London, July 16.—There was a great influx of sportsmen from France and other continental countries today to attend the twenty-round fight between "Cunboat" Smith, the American heavyweight champion, and Georges Carpentier, the European heavyweight champion, for the decision tonight in the arena at Olympia. Many thousands of people were on the event as no central place for making bets exists in London, but it was known that practically every one in the leading clubs and hotels had some money at stake. The promoters of this contest apparently will make a considerable profit on their enterprise and will be compensated, it is believed, for the deficit on the recent fight for the lightweight championship of the world between Fred Welsh and Willie Ritchie.

SCHOOL BOARD CANDIDATES AND WHAT THEY STAND FOR

Eleven Men and One Woman Are Seeking Election.

Interviewed By Herald on Their Attitude Toward School Problems.

Saturday will be school election day, and the polls in the forty-three voting precincts will be open from 6 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock in the evening to receive the votes of the men and women who take interest enough in the election to use their rights.

There are four offices to be filled, three for the directorship for three years and one for one year. The directors whose terms expire are E. R. Cobb, who is up for re-election for three years; Andrew Nelson and W. L. Mager, the latter two having declined not to run; and Dr. D. E. Seashore, appointed to succeed Dr. S. H. Boyer, who resigned several months ago. Dr. Seashore is a candidate for the one-year term to succeed himself.

There are twelve candidates for the three-year term and two for the one-year term. The only other one for the one-year term is Mrs. Selma Hendrickson.

The Herald during the last two days has sounded all of the candidates who could be reached on such matters of school board policy or legislation as may come up during the coming year. The purpose was to give the voters some unprejudiced information about the candidates.

John Alvin Johnson, Nicholas Visti and John Hendrickson could not be reached, but it is understood that they are put forth by the Socialist party as candidates for the three-year term, while the other two parties, the working men and the Socialists. Both parties have put forward candidates, but with no connection with the Socialist party.

Bond Issue. In addition to the election of members of the school board, another and an important matter to be voted on will be the issuing of bonds to the amount of $200,000, which will be needed for building new schools during the coming year and for the providing of junior high school facilities for the West end at the Lincoln school.

The Candidates. Almost all of the candidates are well known. E. R. Cobb, who is the only candidate for the three-year term to succeed himself, has been a member of the board for fifteen years and for most of that time has been its treasurer. He has been prominent in labor circles, and for a long time was secretary of the Builders' Exchange, severing his connection with the organization only a short time ago and is now in the county treasurer's office.

Dr. D. E. Seashore, who is a candidate to succeed himself, on the one-year term, was a member of the board for several years and for a long time was secretary of the Builders' Exchange, severing his connection with the organization only a short time ago and is now in the county treasurer's office.

ELEVATOR BOYS IN TIGHTS AND CABARETS FOR THE PASSENGERS

Several Members Discuss Plans to Popularize the Elevators in the Large Skyscrapers—Meeting Not on Program Schedule.

Although not scheduled on the regular program of the Building Managers' convention, several members held an impromptu meeting in the lobby of the Spaulding hotel this morning to discuss ways and means to make elevators more popular, especially in the large skyscraper buildings, where passengers travel forty to fifty stories.

Those at the meeting were D. B. Harper of Indianapolis, Guy Wright of St. Louis, William F. Benson of Chicago, associate editor of "Buildings and Building Management," and John R. Sloane, Jr. of New Haven, Conn. Herald reporter received special permission to attend the meeting.

Mr. Harper presided and it was his suggestion that to make the elevators really enjoyable, when they travel from ten to forty stories in the air, the boys should be dressed in pink tights, with green trimmings on the suits and brass buttons, pink tights and lavender bathing suits were among the suggestions made.

That an elevator starter in pink tights or one wearing a ballet skirt would not be enough, was the consensus of opinion. Something else must be introduced, Mr. Benson said. And it was then that Mr. Sloane of New Haven, with the Conn. suggested the cabaret entertainment.

"Good idea," said Mr. Harper. "Are there any further suggestions?" The reporter was also eligible to come in on the discussion.

Well," said the reporter, "suppose you serve punch, lemonade and ice cream in the elevators. It would be a good plan to serve one of these in each elevator and have a program or menu of the dainties published in the foyer of the building, so that a passenger could choose his or her elevator." "Great," said Harper. "And I move that the reporter be chosen a life member of this special committee."

That action was taken immediately. "That idea about the punch and ice cream," said Mr. Wright, "is a very good one. And I would add that cabaret entertainment should be given at the same time. A song or two and several dances would make a trip so enjoyable. Many people object to elevators in skyscrapers, because the ride is so long, that innovations like these would aid us wonderfully."

Well," added Mr. Benson, "I would suggest that in hiring elevator boys, we all ask how proficient they are in tango and the hoochie." "Come over here and join in the discussion," said Mr. Horton of Seattle, who passed by. Mr. Horton is manager of the new L. C. Smith building.

"Can't," he said, "I'm going to buy a cigar. Are you coming boys? I've been here three days and haven't had a chance to treat yet."

The meeting adjourned," said Chairman Harper. And forthwith the special committee dropped all discussions on the advisability of making skyscraper elevators more popular, and adjourning, went in a body with Mr. Horton.

Oh, yes. The reporter went. He is a member of the committee.

JUST TOURISTS ON A LARK

"Votes for Women" Parade Was Not an Invasion of the Militant Suffragists.

A few Duluthians firmly believed that the city was being invaded by a band of militant suffragists after viewing a parade up and down the principal streets of the city yesterday afternoon. Several young women headed by a man dressed in a Prince Albert coat carrying a black and yellow banner with the legend, "Votes for Women," paraded up and down and visited a number of the principal business houses.

While the actions may have been taken by some as being somewhat militant, the parade was given to a group who were let in on the game, that the parade was only a "joke," and but a part of a scheme for passing a day in Duluth. The young women wore sailor straw hats of an antique type, had their hair done up in the tight knob style at the back of the head that was in vogue years ago and altogether presented the appearance of "spinners" of the old-fashioned type. Heading the party was M. J. Bigelow, vice president of the Kalamazoo National bank and a prominent supporter of women's banner was E. H. Bowen, manager for Lee & Cady, wholesale grocers of Kalamazoo. The "militants" were Miss Ada Aldrich of Grand Lodge, Mich., Miss Mahalia Kauninger and Mrs. Kaud of Utica, Mich., Miss Florence Shierberger of Lansing, Mich., and Miss Grace and Adria Bowen of Kalamazoo.

The party arrived in the city yesterday morning on the steamer Lakeland, and according to Mr. Bowen, they have had a grand old time.

A feature of the trip up the lake was a "mock wedding" in which the steward of the boat was forcibly "married" to one of the girls. Mr. Bowen, acting as the officiating clergyman, having borrowed a coat from a minister to look the part. He is still wearing the coat.

One of the girls, who was working in the Illinois "dry" campaign. Several weeks later he was found after having been imprisoned many days in a cell. He went to Detroit for a rest and shortly afterward disappeared again as mysteriously as before.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "Ready Money." "Bright Eyes."

Amusement Notes

The Lyceum had "two away" audiences yesterday afternoon and last evening. The regular Wednesday matinee attracted a large crowd. Several hundred people were unable to gain admission. In the evening the building managers and their wives were the guests of the local managers at a theater party, and the theater was again filled with a very merry and enthusiastic audience. The Baldwin Players never had a more responsive audience, and they seemed to enjoy the evening as much as the visitors.

The second bill of the Boyle Woolfolk Musical Comedy Players, who delighted Empress patrons with their beautiful rendition of "The Winning Miss" will be "Bright Eyes." This piece will open with the matinee today and continue for three days only.

FLOAN & LEVEROOS

225 and 227 WEST SUPERIOR STREET

Thursday, Friday and Saturday. "Bright Eyes" promises to be one of the most important plays to be presented by the Boyle Woolfolk players. This musical comedy which has enjoyed long runs in New York, Boston and Chicago, has been heralded by many critics as the cleverest yet produced in America. It is an American story and is the work of American authors, the same who wrote "The Three Twins." It is produced by an American manager and with its company composed entirely of Americans.

The story tells of a young actor who has written a play and by his troubles getting it produced, troubles increased by the actions of his wife, who is anxious to secure an angel for the production. It is brimful of bright, clean American humor without a shadow of coarseness or vulgarity and for real laugh-compelling fun has seldom been equaled on the stage.

Guy Voyer will again be seen in the leading role, while dainty Grace Monaghan and Eddie Ray, Grace Leconover, Helen Brandon, and the Hudson Sisters will all have principal parts.

The production will be under the personal direction of Al Laughlin, the general stage director for all of Boyle Woolfolk's attractions.

TELLS GRAND JURY ABOUT "BLACKMAIL"

Chicago, July 16.—State Representative J. J. McLaughlin, a contractor, appeared before a Federal grand jury today to give evidence on charges that certain business agents of labor unions have used their positions to blackmail contractors.

McLaughlin issued a sensational statement June 24, alleging that he and other contractors had been systematically held up under threat of strikes and mulcted of thousands of dollars by business agents of unions. The statement was widely publicized. George Hammond, agent for the excavators' union, was shot and killed by Patrick Dignan, a contractor.

Charges by McLaughlin that interstate shipments of stone and gravel had been unlawfully held up got the case before the Federal authorities. The grand jury opened its inquiry yesterday, when McLaughlin began his testimony.

Madison, Wis., July 16.—The danger of a dirty milk supply provided the principal topic of discussion before the second biennial conference of health officers of Wisconsin, which opened in the assembly chamber this forenoon.

Dr. W. Henika of Madison, deputy state health officer for Southern Wisconsin, in a paper on "A Clean Milk Supply," declared that contaminated milk often plays an important part as a carrier in the spread of communicable diseases. The most important are typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria and the common cholera.

He showed that out of 179 typhoid epidemics reported as spread by milk, 137 occurred in Wisconsin. Sixty of fifty-one scarlet fever epidemics reported as spread by milk, 45 occurred in the United States, and out of twenty-three diphtheria epidemics spread from the same cause, fifteen occurred in the United States.

He said that numerous epidemics of sore throat could often be traced to milk, and he pointed to a recent epidemic at Chicago.

"Inspection and regulation of production, handling and sale of milk will lessen the number of epidemics," declared Dr. Henika.

He then reviewed the necessity for good milk ordinances and told of some provisions that should be incorporated. He advocated a small license fee, and favored publicity for the vendor of dirty milk.

He favored the tuberculosis test of each member of a herd at least once a year.

Minot, N. D., July 16.—Mrs. Caroline Solomon pounded M. F. Balch with a stove poker when it is alleged, the man insulted her in her home at Foxholm.

Balch is in the county jail charged with attempted assault.

He had been beaten almost unconsciously by a woman, the marshal arrived and rescued him.

Mandan, N. D., July 16.—Charged with an attempt to bribe Postoffice Inspector Edge of Fargo, Paul Meler was bound over to the grand jury.

Meler was seeking the postmaster's ship at Bismarck, N. D., and it is charged that he wrote a letter to "Bright Eyes" in the latter's influence in his favor, and promising money.

ROOSEVELT TURNS GUNS ON WHITMAN

Says He Is Either "Weakling" or Tool of Barnes.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 15.—District Attorney Charles S. Whitman of New York was characterized last night by ex-President Roosevelt as "either a hopelessly timid weakling or else as being in league with William Barnes, Jr., Republican state chairman, whom the former president styled "Boss Barnes."

The controversy grew out of what Col. Roosevelt said was an attempt by men representing themselves as acting in Mr. Whitman's interests to obtain for the district attorney's candidacy for the governorship the support of the former president. Negotiations were carried on for several weeks. Col. Roosevelt declared, principally through Charles H. Duell, Jr., of New York, organizer of the non-partisan Whitman league. They fell through, according to Col. Roosevelt, largely because Mr. Whitman failed to declare his opposition to Mr. Barnes, as it had been reported, the Colonel said, he would do. These negotiations, Col. Roosevelt said, reached the point where Mr. Duell submitted to him the rough draft of a letter, which, according to Mr. Duell, Mr. Whitman had promised to make public in case Col. Roosevelt would support him or at least refrain from assailing him. Mr. Whitman denied Tuesday that he had ever written such a letter. Col. Roosevelt, in the course of a statement last night, included a letter of that description, signed with the initials of the district attorney's name. It was explained that the initials were not in Mr. Whitman's handwriting, having been affixed by some other person.

SEARCHING FOR WEST END MAN

Left Home Tuesday Morning and Bride Is Worried.

The police have been requested to find Charles Luthold, 23 years old, 120 North Twentieth avenue west, who is said to have disappeared Tuesday morning. The request was made by his bride of a month who is much worried by his absence. Luthold is described as being 6 feet tall, of slender build, smooth shaven, has blue eyes, dark hair and having no front teeth. He was last employed at the Bethel.

He is said to have left home Tuesday morning for the purpose of securing employment at the Duluth Street Railway company. Since then he has not been seen. ## CLUB FAVORS CITY BOND ISSUE

Sum of $25,000 Would Go for Addition to Merritt School.

At the meeting of the Oneota and Hazelwood Improvement club at the Merritt school last night the club went on record as favoring the city bond issue. Each member of the club proposed to assist in getting out the voters of the district on Saturday and advocate the bond issue.

A sum of $25,000 of this amount is to be used for the purpose of constructing a six-room addition to the Merritt school. This improvement has been advocated and agitated by the club for the last two years on account of reported crowding of the school.

The club proposes to review thoroughly the building code for the purpose of suggesting improvements in it to the commissioner and a committee for this purpose was appointed. The members of the committee are O. M. Holmes, Victor Johnson and Gust Silverness.

The club members also discussed proposed sewer improvements for the district.

PETITIONERS NOT WELL INFORMED

Request for School Already Granted—Action Hinges on Bond Issue.

The zealous citizens of the West end appear to have overlooked the fact that the Duluth school directors have already made provision for the erection of a junior high school building for that end of the city and are now circulating petitions to be presented to the board asking for the building of such a school. Several news items have appeared recently directing attention to the fact that a part of the bond issue will go for that purpose, but still the petition is in circulation according to residents of this end of the city.

The junior high school will be erected next year adjoining the Lincoln school at a cost of $40,000, providing the bond issue carries, according to statements issued by members of the school board. The building will be thoroughly modern and in its provisions will be made for the upper grade children and up to the second year in high school.

It is probable, say some of the residents who have discussed the matter, that the junior high school may be only the first step in providing ultimately a full-course high school for the West end. The new building will be a well-known West end business man. "The residents want the junior high school and the board will be unable to have it built unless the money is provided. The program outlined by the board, according to the statement given in The Herald last evening by Director Colman, is to be commended and should have the united support of all of the people."

It is proposed to take the matter up at the meeting of the West End Commercial club tonight in order that its members may work for the issue of the bonds.

Lundstrom Funeral:
The funeral services for Gust Lundstrom, 74 years old, 2431 West First street, who died suddenly Tuesday night, will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the undertaking rooms in the West end. ## MAJORITY OF JUDGES AT SCHOOL ELECTION WILL BE WOMEN

After considerable difficulty, the full quota of election judges and clerks has been filled out by C. A. Bronson, secretary of the board of education for Saturday's school election. The polls will open at 8 o'clock in the morning and will not close until 7 in the evening after which the votes will be counted. It was chiefly because of the long hours that Mr. Bronson had difficulty in getting people to serve. Many of the boards are composed entirely of women, for while an attempt is made to have at least one man on each board, the men as a rule, are hard to get.

The election officials of the various districts in the city, together with the location of the polling places, follow: First, Central high school; Second, Charles R. Oaten, Mrs. J. H. Hardy and Mrs. E. Norris; Third, Gorton and Mrs. Harold Ferguson; Fourth, Lakeside school; Fifth, Gorton and Mrs. Harold Ferguson; Sixth, Salter school; Seventh, F. L. Magie, Mrs. J. R. Rankin and Mrs. Young.

Fourth, Webster school; Fifth, Taylor and Mrs. W. McKay; Sixth, Jennie Nichols and Mrs. Nichols; Seventh, Whittier school; Eighth, Julia E. Maynard, Elizabeth Lester and George M. Paulus; Ninth, A. McLennan and Anna Weber; Tenth, William Beatty, Ella F. Gearhart and Charlotte Crowley; Eleventh, Nettleton school; Twelfth, Dolly Crowley and Dolly C. Burnett; Thirteenth, Nettleton school; Fourteenth, Nettleton school; Fifteenth, Nettleton school; Sixteenth, Nettleton school; Seventeenth, Nettleton school; Eighteenth, Nettleton school; Nineteenth, Nettleton school.

WHAT A TEN-BILLION CROP MEANS.

The latest and best estimates of the value of the crops now maturing in this country is ten billions of dollars.

This is new wealth, virgin wealth, wealth never spent before, wealth untainted and unspoiled. It means that this country will be ten billions richer than it was last spring.

But what does ten billions mean? Does it mean anything to you? Does your mind expand any wider to take in the concept of ten billions than it does to take in the concept of ten millions?

Yet ten millions is only the thousandth part of ten billions!

The New York World has been trying to convey an idea of what it means by comparisons. Some of them follow:

Ten billions would buy all the real estate in New York and Chicago at assessed valuations, and leave a princely fortune over.

Ten billions would pay every penny of the tremendous war debts of France and Germany.

Ten billions would pay off our own national debt nearly ten times over; it would pay its interest charges 435 times.

If next year's crops are four hundred millions less than this year's, the 1914 and 1915 products of the soil would buy every railroad in the country at the 1911 capitalized valuation.

"Our iron yield," says the World, "is incomparably the greatest of the nations; the industries it feeds are called basic. Yet our iron product is only about one-twenty-third part of that of the Germans."

This year's field products will be worth fourteen times the value of the annual coal output at the mines, seventy times the value of a year's yield of petroleum.

Twenty-five times as much as the latest reported annual product of gold and silver combined. It is greater than the entire world's stock of coined gold and silver. IT IS MORE THAN TWO-THIRDS OF ALL GOLD DUG, COINED AND CONSUMED IN THE ARTS IN ALL THE WORLD SINCE COLUMBUS DISCOVERED AMERICA.

Do these comparisons of the World begin to give you an idea of what ten billions of dollars means? Try some of our own, that bring it down to matters closer at home for most of us:

The average wage in this country is about five hundred dollars a year. The yield of this year's crops would pay the wages of twenty millions of men. The mere annual income from this year's crop yields at five per cent would pay the wages of a million men.

Ten billion dollars would build five million miles of road at two thousand dollars a mile—enough to go around the earth two hundred times.

Ten billion dollars would build a million schoolhouses at ten thousand dollars each.

It would build two million comfortable homes at five thousand each. A sum that would do these things ought to help cheer up business, oughtn't it?

Any more comments on watchful waiting?

WHY A LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR?

The situation as to the governorship in this state is anomalous. The governor is away, and there being nobody to act in his place, business cannot be transacted.

The attorney general has held that if the governor specifically declares the need of it, the lieutenant-governor can take his place in his absence. It requires no very strained reading of the law to set up the belief that in the absence of the governor from the state the lieutenant-governor becomes acting governor automatically.

Surely the law never intended that the state should go for weeks at a time without any governor at all.

If the law is not now clear, it ought to be made clear at the next session of the legislature. Why is a lieutenant-governor elected, if not to act in the governor's place if he leaves the state?

Now, right off the reel—who was the Republican candidate for vice president in 1912?

EXIT HUERTA.

What the policy of watchful waiting aimed to achieve it has achieved. Huerta knows, for he was its victim; and he gives emphatic testimony to its efficiency in his farewell address.

Huerta is no longer president of Mexico, provisional or otherwise. Carranza is provisional president on a title acquired from Huerta, which does not give it high rank in the market.

Meanwhile, the armies of Oregon, Villa and Aguilar are about to concentrate upon Mexico City—if there is any need of their going there. Unless the standpatters of Mexico are foolish, there will be no such need.

Carranza will hold office only long enough to turn the reins over to Carranza; and the future depends on the good sense of Carranza and his followers. If they are wise enough to adopt a policy of forgetfulness of their enemies, and yet not sacrifice the fruits of their victory by giving in to the demands of the Old Guard of privilege, peace will descend upon Mexico like a blessed balm.

The sole interest of the outside world, now, is that the new order shall come in with no further bloodshed; that the victorious Constitutionalists shall not turn the place of victory into a shambles; that the victors proceed in good faith to inaugurate the economic reforms on which they made their fight; that the sword may be laid aside and Mexican and Gringo may go ahead with the avocations of peace.

Much may still lie between now and that condition. But the passing of Huerta and the approaching dominance of those who stand for the right things in Mexico are splendid triumphs for the Wilson policy, truly, though so much derided by political faultfinders.

The English are said to be pessimistic over their chances to lift the American cup. Let's see—Isn't that the way they talked before the polo game?

A REAL BASEBALL TEAM.

We were about to throw up our hat and give three cheers for the Duluth baseball team, when our attention was distracted by a faint clatter from somewhere on East Superior street, which upon examination proved to be the News Tribune, giving three cheers for the Duluth baseball team.

So all we can do is to join in on the wind-up and call for a tiger.

Duluth has a real baseball team, and it is playing real baseball. It is playing it, too, every minute of the game. It is striking nothing, dodging nothing, refusing no chances. It is distinctly there in every position and at every juncture of the game.

That's mighty good to see. It's good to see even if a team loses; it is winning. That, of course, makes it a lot better.

Congratulations to Darby and the boys, and more power to them!

Can it be that the old phrase is to be readjusted in the future to read "When Ireland was two nations?"

MINNESOTA A LEADER IN THE FIGHT AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS.

The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis has issued a bulletin on the progress of state legislation for the control of consumption.

It is heartening to find that the Minnesota Public Health association is able to draw from this report the reflection that Minnesota is leading all the states in this fight. Minnesota is listed in every line, including state tuberculosis sanatoria, county sanatoria, reporting and registration of living cases, power to remove dangerously infected persons, subsidies to those cared for in hospitals, and anti-spitting ordinances.

No other state has acted on all these lines. New York comes next, having acted on all but one.

According to the bulletin, legislation dealing with tuberculosis has been enacted in forty-eight states and territories, and only Arizona, Idaho, Nevada, Wyoming and Alaska have failed to act at all.

State tuberculosis sanatoria to the number of forty-two have been established in thirty-three different states. Special laws providing for local sanatoria by municipalities or counties have been passed by fourteen states.

Laws requiring the reporting and registration of living cases have been passed in thirty-four states. In four states, Minnesota, New York, New Jersey and Wisconsin, laws have been passed empowering state and local health authorities to remove and detain tubercular persons who menace their families or associates. Six states, including Minnesota, have laws giving the people the privilege of voting for the establishment of county or municipal sanatoria. Five states, including Minnesota, grant subsidies of three to five dollars a week for patients in local hospitals.

Twenty states have laws against spitting in public places—also including Minnesota.

This is good progress, and it is good to know that it is best in Minnesota.

Tuberculosis can be and will be beaten in this country. How soon is merely a matter of how fast the fight is carried on.

The building men enjoy one advantage—there need not be a stand for a bunch of interviews on the eugenic marriage law.

VOTE "YES" ON THE SCHOOL BONDS.

In response to the timely questions of a citizen whose letter was printed in these columns, the school board through C. Francis Colman, chairman of its committee on administration and finance, last night published through The Herald a complete and illuminating explanation of the financial policies of the board and of the proposed issue of two hundred thousand dollars in bonds for new school buildings.

It is to be hoped that every citizen read Mr. Colman's letter. The school board collects annually from the taxpayers two-thirds as much as the city does, and how it spends this large amount is a matter of importance to every taxpayer. Moreover, the information contained in that letter is important to every citizen ought to insist upon getting before he votes for any bond issue.

Those who have read and digested this information will, we believe, vote "Yes" on the bond issue at Saturday's election. That the money is needed is abundantly shown. Such questions as whether the one-million levy for a sinking fund is large enough are aside from the present issue, and should be considered separately. Duluth has immediate need of more school buildings, and they cannot be had unless bonds are voted.

Besides the question of the bond issue, four school directors are to be elected—three for three-year terms and one for a one-year term. In many respects this election is as important as any city election, and every man and woman who is eligible should vote Saturday.

How could he run for governor of New York without somebody to play the Dear Will to his Dear Theodore?

Cleveland Chief Dealer: Henry Ford of Detroit has not been generally considered a practitioner of "mushy amiability." He would not be likely to mistake a real condition for one merely "psychological." And this is what Mr. Ford says of business conditions:

"I do not see any depression that is marked. Such as there is some business, and I do not think it amounts to more than 3 per cent of the total volume of business in the country."

And this is what the Iron Age says of the situation in its field, which is considered a kind of barometer of conditions in a large field of industrial activities:

"Indications of improvement in the steel trade are as there is some business, and I do not think it amounts to more than 3 per cent of the total volume of business in the country."

According to news received in this city a couple of days ago and printed in the Plain Dealer, the Pennsylvania railroad has ordered back to work thousands of shop men laid off a few months ago. This report from Philadelphia is believed fairly to reflect upward trending conditions among all the more important lines.

As Mr. Ford said to the correspondents at Washington, "Cheer up."

A Dakota Wheat Field. Like liquid gold the wheat field lies, A marvel of yellow and russet and green, That ripples and runs, that floats and flies.

With subtle shadows the change, the sheen, That plays in the golden hair of a girl—A ripple of amber—a flare Of light sweeping after—a curl.

In the hollows like swirling feet Of fairy waltzers, the colors run To the western sun, and the rippling wheat.

From as the flockless, soaring sky, Mysterious, fair as the mood-led sea, The vast plain flares on the dazzled eye.

Under the fierce sun's alchemy, The slow hawk stoops To his prey in the deeps; The sunflower loops To the lazy wave; the wind sweeps, Then all in dazzling links and loops, A riot of shadow and shine.

A glory of olive and amber and wine, To the western sun the colors run Through the deeps of the rippling wheat.

O glorious land! My western land, Outspread beneath the setting sun! Once more amid your swells I stand, And cross your sun lands, dry and dun, I hear the bound calls of men Who sweep amid the ripened grain With swift, stern reapers, once again. The evening splendor floods the plain.

The cricket's chime Makes pauseless rhyme, And toward the sun The splendid colors ramp and run Before the wind's feet In the wheat.

—Hamilin Garland.

Not Enough. Boston Transcript: "If I were you I wouldn't attempt to build a $10,000 house," declared the architect.

"Why not?" "Well, you say you only have $10,000."

Are They Coming Back?

Editorial of the Chicago Tribune.

Collier's Weekly quotes Congressman Augustus C. Parker of Massachusetts: "Two-thirds of our trouble lies in the fact that the people think that the Republican party is in bad hands. Every time we nominate a discredited leader we postpone the day of recovery."

Collier's comment is: "As, for example, the nomination of Penrose in Pennsylvania, or the nomination of the continued dominance of Barnes in New York, and the naming of Jim Watson of Indiana as a candidate for vice president by a Republican gathering in Missouri. The Republican party is in bad hands, and there is no way of changing it."

On the last point there can be two opinions. There is a way of changing it, although Collier's, in referring to the fact that the national committee is the product of the unscrupulous 1912 convention and that this national committee will retain control until after the next convention, has a warrant for saying that for the time being there is no way of changing it.

Undoubtedly the once repudiated Republican party is now in a new confidence and are animated by revived hope. They believe that there is to be a reaction against Democratic administration, and that this reaction will be impatient, unreasoning and probably violent.

They are impatient in that the impulse will be to attack upon all social reform theories, and thus also unreasoning. It may be that public opinion, provoked and exasperated, will not discriminate, but will turn toward the old masters of political affairs as to men who did not disturb business, and who, whatever else they might do, did not interrupt the orderly march of the nation's affairs.

Generally after a tariff revision such a reaction is expected, and the old line Republicans are expected to inquire for the result of the revision. There is unquestionably a danger that for the time being there will be a loss of ground to a number of highly important political movements which have little or nothing to do with the responsibility of the Democratic administration.

There is, also, danger that the reaction will be unreasoning. The mood of the country may be one of impatience, and if so, the old discredited leaders of the Republican party may find sympathy and support in their attempts to react to the new situation.

Cannon, Penrose, McKinley, Barnes, etc., are confident that this reaction will be to their benefit, and they are astute observers; therefore becomes more important than ever that there should be renewed opposition to them and their ideas.

A business man in Devils Lake Journal: He comes to me. If I turn him when I see the door open ever so little. I wait. First a bit of a cap, then he looks slowly at me. He says: "I bid him good afternoon and our visit begins."

Of course, we exchange smiles before we talk. He has the brightest, friendliest smile I have ever seen in a man. He says: "I bid him good world. At that his eyes twinkle, blue eyes that might have come from Erin, but really were in Denmark a general."

He has a few little puckers and wrinkles begin to come at the corners of his eyes. His mouth begins to tremble. He says: "I bid him good world. At that his eyes twinkle, blue eyes that might have come from Erin, but really were in Denmark a general."

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, July 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Caraway of Arkansas once bought himself a second-hand automobile. When the proposition was up recently to sell a couple of battleships to Greece, Caraway blurted out and made comment as follows:

"If I were a country I don't know whether I'd want to get a second-hand battleship or not. Before I'd pay over my money I'd have some good mechanic go all over 'er thoroughly and make sure 'er'd run."

Representative Frank T. O'Hair, a year or so before he beat Joe Cannon for congress, made a leisurely trip abroad. While crossing the English channel on his way from Paris to London he overheard an Irishman talking about a man named Frank O'Hair who lived near Belfast. Just for the sentiment of the thing, O'Hair made up his mind to go there in the course of his travels and get acquainted with the other Frank O'Hair. He made inquiry at Belfast and found that the home of Frank O'Hair was within walking distance. So on foot and without guide, Frank O'Hair went along the Irish highway seeking Frank O'Hair. All along the road were beautiful big estates with macadam drives, sunken gardens and things.

"Oh ho," reflected O'Hair, "I'll get acquainted with my cousin Frank and we'll sit on a terrace and smoke and talk and look at his swans in an Italian pool."

With these thoughts to spur him on he quickened his pace and inquired of the next man he met how much further it was to the home of Frank O'Hair. The man told him it was just over the next hill.

Now at the top of the next hill the big estates ceased as suddenly as if they had been barred by law over a certain line. From there on instead of costly villas were pathetic little shanties. Frank O'Hair stopped at the smallest of these and inquired for the place of Frank O'Hair. A comely little girl came to the door. She said she was Mrs. Frank O'Hair and that her husband had gone to market to sell his calf. Learning that her caller was Frank O'Hair, the pretty young housewife inquired:

"Which branch of the family do you belong to?"

"I really don't know," replied O'Hair. "In fact, I don't even know there were two branches."

"Yes, yes," said the young woman earnestly. "One branch has money and the other hasn't."

"Then," said the visiting O'Hair, "we're even more closely related than I thought."

Being an aid to one president after another is a peculiar job. It used to be said of the late Archibald Butt, who served as aid to both Roosevelt and Taft, that he was equally loyal to both men, and this was true even after the break came between T. R. and Taft. Butt was appointed aid to Taft and the two became extremely intimate. Then Taft went out of office and Rhodes stayed on as aid to Wilson. Regardless of the great intimacy that had grown up between Taft and Rhodes, they did not exchange letters or even visit.

Rhodes' job was such that it did not seem the thing to do. It was a head slowly and slowly, and keeping in friendly correspondence with her former husband.

Senator John W. Kern found himself at a Washington hotel table the other day with a couple of women who were newcomers at the nation's capital. They all fell into conversation and the talk turned to politics.

"You're in congress?" asked one of the women.

"Yes," confessed the senator, and in reply to further questioning he told them his name was Kern.

"We've probably heard of you before," said one of the women politely. "Are you a Republican or Democrat?"

"Democrat," owned up Kern.

"Have you always voted for Bryan?" still further inquired one woman, who seemed to have a great interest in politics.

Kern couldn't wriggle out of it, so he voted for Bryan.

"Oh now, why are you a Bryan man?" asked the woman. "My husband's a Democrat, but he never voted for Bryan."

"Well," spurred Kern, "the first time Bryan ran I had to vote for him because I was on the ticket with him, and after that I suppose I just had the habit."

"What office did you run on the ticket for?" asked the woman eagerly.

"Now Kern didn't pursue to let her know that he was on the ticket as a candidate for vice president. He felt that inasmuch as she was almost an entire stranger he had laid bare his soul enough already. So he replied: "I was on the ticket for minor capacity."

And let it go at that.

News for Calamity Shorters. Senator James E. Marlowe of New Jersey, in my own state, which is a great manufacturing community, is the city of Elizabeth, is a great plant, known as the Singer sewing machine plant, employing 10,000 hands. We put their product on the free list. We were told on all sides in Elizabeth that we were inviting calamity and were inviting our own defeat to advocate putting sewing machines on the free list; but what has been the result? It has been the annual custom, at this time of the year, of the Singer Sewing Machine company, during every year that I have had any knowledge of it—and they have been there twenty years or more—to close down for one month, as they said, for repairs and for other purposes. I learn from the Elizabeth Journal, the property and voice in days past of the distinguished and honorable John Keen, my predecessor, a protectionist and a Republican, that the situation has entirely changed, and instead of closing down the plant for four weeks this year they notified their workmen on Monday last that no such shutdown would take place; that a week would be as long as they could afford to have the plant idle this year, that they had sold out their stock of sewing machines and that their orders were such that they kept the Singer sewing machine busy and humming for the rest of the year.

Warranted to Kill. Lippincott's: The poor tramp and the young cook form a combination that has afforded material for joke-writers the world over for generations. Here's one that is like all the others, and yet just a different. Judge Smith was born in 1827, when his father was past 60 years.

If you reckon it out, you will see that the Judge came out right. Judge Smith will be 77 years old on the 15th of this month.

"No, mum," mournfully responded the tramp. "th' doctor says I'll never be th' same man again!"

Governorship Talk

What the State Press Thinks

Only Conditionally for Lee. Hibbing Mesaba Ore: "Eberhart is for Lee," says a newspaper headline. Mr. Eberhart is for Eberhart, all the time, and if he can use Lee to that end it will be done.

If They Have to Wait for Lee, Their Jobs Are Long. Battle Lake Review: Here are a few of the luxurious gentlemen who will feel the great broad toe of Bill Lee's cowhide boots, when the Long Prairie Progressive assumes the governor's chair next year:

Charles E. Vazaly, Democrat, chairman state board of control; J. G. Armstrong, Democrat, chairman state tax commission; J. G. Winkler, state dairy and food commissioner; Charles E. Collier, state fire marshal; Alexander Crozier, hotel inspector; Guy A. Eaton, oil inspector; J. A. O. Freus, insurance commissioner; W. K. Houk, labor commissioner, and several hundred more lesser lights, who have been rolling in clover during Eberhart's reign. Look over carefully. They're all going to feel it really glorious to bid them farewell! And they're going for the good of the state, remember that.

Banquet to Lee's Macbeth. Le Sueur News: Lee will find that some things he said in the primary election battle will act as ghosts and haunt him until November. He made a bitter, vicious and dirty night. No man ever made more than temporary gain by it. He is already engaged, according to reports, in a parceling out of the appointive office, to be vacated in January, 1914, and it is said despite his anti-saloon attitude that he has made peace with the liquor element, for they have given out he is satisfactory to them.

Results Not Hard to Guess. Grand Rapids Herald: Review: That Daniel W. Lawler of St. Paul has a tremendous personal following in the state of Minnesota was evidenced by the result of the primary. He came within less than a thousand votes of capturing the nomination against one of the strongest candidates ever placed before the people, and a man that can do this is far from being a dead one.

We believe that the result is most satisfactory as it stands, but a feeling of cock-sureness among the adherents of the party came near defeating the popular choice. The total vote received by the two candidates shows that the Democracy is alive to its opportunities in the state this year and when the election comes on November 3, it will be in November, the result is not hard to guess.

It Probably Will Be. Anoka Union: Will it be a repetition of the Dunn-Johnson campaign? It may be. Time will tell.

The Time for Disappearing. Albert Lea Tribune: Just got this fact down: Lee carried Governor Eberhart's own county by 341 majority. No wonder the governor got out of Minnesota!

How Democrats Voted. Laverne Journal: The Democrats voted for Lee, say the Laverne Journal, in irreconcilable, in order to nominate the weakest Republican and make it easy for their man, Hammond. That is a yarn that can be given the lie direct. Take the men here in Laverne who are Democrats—if they are anything in a party they're really independents—who voted for Lee. Everyone of them voted for Lee, The Man; Lee the candidate whose record of state affairs should be almost as good as any man's in the state.

On the other hand there were avowed Democrats right here in Rock county who voted for Eberhart because

GUILL MAKES HIS GETAWAY

Harry W. Guill, self-confessed forger, who escaped from Sheriff Meinings' office on Monday afternoon, July 6, while a deputy, who was watching him, dozed, is still operating at his old game. Reports of his activities are constantly being received by the local police.

A report of Guill's robbery in Eau Claire, Wis., after he had made his escape from Duluth and of his forgerie in the Wisconsin state, was received by Chief Troyer early this week. An item published in an Eau Claire newspaper of Tuesday states that Guill passed forged checks in Milwaukee and in Madison after operating in Eau Claire.

The dispatch from Eau Claire follows: "At Duluth the fellow operated under the name of Harry W. Guill. He evidently came to Eau Claire, where he succeeded in passing one check after another. The pictures, when passed at Madison, one at the Wisconsin State bank in the sum of $16.50. In Milwaukee, one of the checks was for $100.00 and one for $75.00. In other $50.00 Sheriff Henry Neher was in Milwaukee Sunday in hopes of catching the forger who was just as smooth enough to slip away four hours ahead of the Eau Claire county sheriff.

"The sheriff has a card showing two views of the much sought forger who is under the aliases of A. H. Stewart, F. W. Cameron and Alfred Stewart. The fellow is known as the perfect check writer and it appears that the authorities in several states are after him. The pictures, when shown to Mr. Crane of the Galloway house were positively identified as likeness of the man who stopped at the local hostelry last week and registered under the name of R. F. Smith.

"The authorities at Duluth, have caused to be circulated two likenesses of the forger and fugitive, described as being about 5 feet 6 inches in height, smooth face and with dark eyes. He is wearing a gray suit of clothes, but Sheriff Neher learned that in Madison and Milwaukee he wore a different suit of clothes."

GOODRICH IS SUMMONED

"Charley" Goodrich is dead.

That announcement was received by scores of people in Duluth with a feeling of genuine sorrow, for Mr. Goodrich, up to the time he left Duluth, a little over five years ago, was one of the best known and most popular men in the city.

Mr. Goodrich died at 2:40 this morning in Pasadena, Cal., to which place he went immediately upon leaving Duluth. Tuberculosis, the contraction of which while in the city, was the cause of his death.

Longer than those who saw him depart expected that he would, for when he left here he was in very bad health. The news came this morning to the Duluth community.

Mr. Goodrich was one of the main positions in a telegram sent by Johnson L. McNeil, presumably a close friend, it said:

"Charles Goodrich passed away peacefully at his home in Pasadena, Cal., at 2:40 this morning. He was 42 years old."

Mr. Goodrich was with the big store at the corner of Third avenue west and Superior street and under two signs. He entered the employ of M. S. Burrows when the latter was operating the store, many years ago, when Charley was little more than a boy; and that store he grew up becoming Mr. Burrows' right-hand man. When the Columbia people took over the business they were glad to have the services of Mr. Goodrich transferred with the store, for to him it was admitted, was due a large part of the store's popularity.

He remained with the Columbia until his sickness became such that he could no longer attend to business matters, in 1908. As that year advanced he grew worse and finally determined to go to the Southwest in a last attempt to prolong his life. Attempts were made to dissuade him, for he appeared to be almost at the last stages, but he was determined and the trip was taken. Quite a crowd of friends—chiefly Masons and Elks, of which two orders he was a member—accompanied him to the train on that day five years ago last October, and the belief was generally expressed that Mr. Goodrich would not last the trip out. He did, however, and three of his friends, who accompanied him, preceded him to the train—Will A. Eden, Byron G. Segog and Fred

Mr. Goodrich was 35 years of age, and is survived by his widow and three children. He was formerly of 1720 East Third street, Duluth. Mr. Goodrich was a past exalted ruler of the local lodge of the Elks, and his marriage he was a member of the noted Algonquin club, a group of sportsmen who met at the bachelor quarters at 130 West Third street for a number of years, most of whom still remain in the city.

Nothing has yet been learned regarding the cause of his death, but the remains, but word is expected momentarily.

COMMISSIONERS TAKE "JOY RIDE"

Duluth was without the majority of the commission yesterday.

Early yesterday morning Commissioners R. Murchison and W. A. Hicken and Mayor Prince accompanied Joseph J. Poole, Jr., secretary of the state auto company, on a "joy ride" to Lincoln, Neb., for the purpose of the trip was to see a demonstration of the automobile sprinkling and flushing machine.

The triumvirate of the local administration expressed much interest in the performance of the Kiesel machine. It is not known whether the machine may be bought by the city for use in Duluth next season.

The officials visited several other range towns. They commented very favorably upon the condition of the roads and pavements and said that they had had a most enjoyable trip.

WANTED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Police are today securing the city for John Babich, former saloon keeper at 414 North Central avenue, who is wanted on a charge of embezzling $2,700. A warrant for his arrest was issued by the county attorney on the complaint of Lazo Muevich, who alleges that Babich had stolen $2,700 from him.

George Muevich was killed in a fight with a man named Babich, who was in the employ of the Chicago, St. Paul & Minneapolis Railway company. Babich was arrested and secured a power of attorney from relatives residing in Montana and Superior, and fled to Duluth.

According to the story told the authorities by Lazo Muevich, a brother of the dead man, Babich only saw $200 across the water to the parents in Montana, and he fled to Duluth. The country about three months ago he became apprised of the fact that the figure of $200 was only a small part of $3,000 instead of $300 and started an investigation which resulted in a criminal proceeding against Babich.

MAKE PLANS FOR CONCRETING ROAD

The city engineering department has started to get out detailed plans and specifications for the concreting of the road from the city incinerator to the city hall.

Commissioner R. Murchison, head of the works division, said that the improvement would be completed as rapidly as possible in order that it may be finished at the earliest date.

The commissioner stated that a model of the road with Herbert Warren, manager of the street railway company, within a few days, probably tomorrow or Saturday, when the plans will be laid with reference to street lighting and other matters.

It will be laid this year. One plan is to construct the eighteen-foot wide concrete road, leaving ample space for the street car rails on the side, where they would not interfere with the pavement.

The paving was ordered by the council last week, according to a report for the middle section, including Third and Fourth streets, and the line from the city incinerator to the city hall.

FOUR SEEK NEXT MEET

Fargo, Minot, Jamestown and Williston After 1915 Retailers' Gathering.

Frank Gravel of Duluth Is Toastmaster at Banquet at Grand Forks.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—About the most important matter coming before the North Dakota Retail Merchants convention here today will be the selection of the place for next year's meeting. The honor is sought by Minot, Jamestown, Williston and Fargo, and the fight has been conducted along vigorous lines. With the split in support of the Northwestern cities, Minot and Williston gaining their strength from the same section of the state, Fargo and Jamestown seem to have the best chance.

Justice A. A. Bruce of the state supreme court, made a big hit when he addressed the convention with reference to the terms of state officials. Judge Bruce maintains that the terms of the governor and other officials are too short in order to accomplish anything.

The governor is elected for a two-year period," said Justice Bruce. "He spends his first year settling acquaintances with his job, and the second year in an endeavor to obtain re-election. Justice Bruce also favored longer terms for members of the legislature, maintaining that greater knowledge of state affairs would prevail if the legislators were elected for four or six-year terms.

Bangs Haps Laxness.

Last night the visiting merchants were entertained at an elaborate banquet with Frank Gravel of Duluth, as toastmaster. The principal address was delivered by Tracy R. Bangs of Grand Forks, who spoke on "The Retention of Lax Business Methods."

Mr. Bangs contended that, in many cases, the laxness of merchants in the conduct of their business makes necessary the securing of greater returns than would otherwise be the case. He urged the merchants to do their share in reducing the cost of living, by conducting their business on such a basis as will permit of satisfactory profits on a more narrow margin than they must now work on.

J. T. Nelson of Glen Ullien, former president of the association, declared the merchants should realize their duty to the community in which they live, and he also said they should give attention to good roads.

J. C. Hart of Grand Forks maintained that the grocery business was

FARMERS' SONS TO JUDGE LIVESTOCK

Novel Feature Proposed for North Dakota Fair at Fargo.

Fargo, N. D., July 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the big features of the North Dakota state fair to be held here July 29-31, is the stock judging contest open to sons of actual farmers. The entrants must be from 16 to 21 years of age and there must be teams of four from the counties. The stock judging will include horses, cattle, hogs and sheep and the general average of the score will be based on the work on all animals. Many valuable prizes have been hung up.

Jean Duluth Exhibit.

Minnesota will be largely represented at the fair. Western Minnesota entries in the stock show, which will be a feature of the fair this year, are exceptionally large. E. C. Schroeder, the Moorhead stock fancier, has thirty-five Holsteins entered, among which are three world's champion cows. George T. Slade, vice president of the Northern Pacific, who has a fine stock farm just out of St. Paul, has nine Jersey and Guernsey cattle, and the Jean Duluth farms of Duluth, which have a fine herd of Shorthorn Polled and eighteen Guernsey cattle. The pick of the cattle from Illinois, Wisconsin, Montana, Minnesota and North Dakota will be at the fair. Nearly 600 head are entered.

Two hundred sheep, 250 swine, fifty ponies, and an exceptionally large number of horses will be additional features at the greatest stock show ever held in the Northwest. Thomas Berri-son, of Moorhead, has six Shorthorn ponies entered. The machinery show will be the largest in the history of the fair.

In order to care for the large number of visitors expected, railroads will maintain extra car service from Western Minnesota stations to Fargo throughout the week.

In the harness racing events, in which more than ninety horses will compete, and in which $750 has been hung up in prizes, Minnesota entries will be prominent. Dan Patch, owner of Dan Patch, has six fast horses entered. There will be racing every day.

KILLED AT NEGAUNEE.

Brother of Mesaba Range Man Loses Life in Mine.

Negaunee, Mich., July 16.—An inquest will be held Friday into the death of Erick Methala, aged 37, who was killed by a fall of ground in the Breiten Homestead mine Monday. His remains were taken to Dave's undertaking parlors, where they will remain until the funeral, which will be held Friday afternoon from the Finnish Lutheran church, Rev. Kava officiating.

Mr. Methala had made Negaunee his home of the last seventeen years. He was unmarried and lived at the Buffalo location. He had planned a trip to his native land, Finland, next week, and was working his last shift when the accident occurred.

LIKES CURRENCY BILL.

President of American Bankers' Association Lauds New Measure.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 16.—The new currency law was styled the most constructive piece of recently passed legislation by both Arthur Reynolds of Des Moines, president of the American Bankers' association, and H. A. Moehlenpach, president of the state association here.

"We know," said Mr. Moehlenpach, "that the new Federal reserve act has taken the banking business of the country out of uncertainty and has put it on a firm basis. The fear of panic has been allayed. An ample currency supply is assured. The mobilization of bank reserves is a needed relief."

Mr. Moehlenpach also spoke glowingly of crop prospects.

FAIR AT CROOKSTON OPENS AUSPICIOUSLY

Livestock and Other Exhibits Are Better Than Ever.

Crookston, Minn., July 16.—The sixth annual fair of the Northwestern Minnesota Agricultural association opened yesterday morning with a good attendance and an exhibition which outclassed anything ever before presented by the association. The new fair grounds proved a happy surprise to the throng, over $20,000 having been expended on the seven new stock stables, grandstand, etc.

With seventy-six head of horses on the grounds, including George Gano, 2:02, Don Denmore, 2:04, and many other fast ones, the racing during the balance of the week will be a great attraction.

Big Livestock Exhibit.

Over 500 head of livestock has been entered from all parts of Minnesota, North Dakota, Iowa and Wisconsin, and the showing is by far the best ever seen in that line. Friday afternoon one of the big features will be a million-dollar stock parade.

The vegetable, grain and grain showing is excellent, and corn, alfalfa and clover form a big feature. If the weather remains favorable the attendance this year promises to be four times the largest attendance in the history of the association.

Thiel River Falls, Minn., July 16.—Ed Hayes, who has charge of a crew of cement workers on the Soo line, is in the city making preparation for the rebuilding of the Soo railway bridge over the Thiel river at Thiel Falls. The top part of the bridge will remain the same as it is at present but the old wooden piers will be put in their place. The abutment at each end of the bridge will also be of concrete. How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health for 14 Years.

Shippensburg, Pa.—"It was several years ago that I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I then suffered terribly every month. My husband bought me a bottle of it and it helped me right away. Then after my second child was born I had a female trouble very badly and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in a short time was cured and have been in excellent health since. I always praise the Compound whenever I have an opportunity as I know it helped me and will help others. I have given the Compound to my daughter and I wish all suffering women would take it and be convinced of its worth."

—Mrs. JAMES A. BEIDEL, 113 N. Penn Street, Shippensburg, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

WILL SPLIT BIG PURSE

Stakes of $40,000 to Be Divided in Carpenter-Smith Fight.

Of the Two Boxers, Frenchman Offers the More Interesting Personality.

New York, July 16.—Unusual interest is evinced both in America and Europe in the 20-round boxing bout between George Carpenter and Gunboat Smith to be held in London this afternoon. Because of the ring prominence and nationality of the contestants the match has assumed international importance. Carpenter is the first of the French pugilistic school to gain worldwide recognition while Smith is one of the leading boxers of the so-called "white hope" class which sprang up following the defeat of Jim Jeffries by Jack Johnson in 1910.

According to the announcement of the management of Olympia, where the match will be staged, the contest will be for the white heavyweight championship of the world with stakes of more than $40,000 to be divided between the two opponents.

Of the two boxers Carpenter offers the more interesting personality. Born at Lyons, France, on January 2, 1894, he is in his twenty-first year. Although he did not begin to box until he was 12 his rise has been both rapid and spectacular. Beginning as a bantam he worked through the ranks after class until today he is considered by many experts as the best light-heavyweight in the world. Weighing in the neighborhood of 170 pounds he has a 35-inch reach, 41-inch chest and is 6 feet 10 inches in height. He is very muscular and a terrific hitter, boxing with a slight crouch and with style that resembles in many ways the best American pugilists. His ability to withstand hard punishment is one of his strong points and he has never shown any disposition to avoid hard mixups.

Edward (Gunboat) Smith is an Irish-American, born in Philadelphia, Pa., May 8, 1888. He began fighting in the West six years ago but did not become prominent among the white heavyweights pugilists until he came to New York. With the exception of a decision given in favor of Jim Stewart in 1912, Smith has a clear record, never having lost a battle since that time. He is of a lanky build, like Bob Fitzsimmons, with a powerful pair of arms and shoulders and possesses a punching power unlooked for from a player of his size. Among his most effective blows are an overhand right swing and a right-hand uppercut, which he has used to great advantage in a vulnerable spot, is a fight finisher.

Carpenter's ring record dates back to 1907, but it was not until 1912 that he began to gain fame. His record for 1912—Knockouts—Lacroix, 4 rounds; Jim Sullivan, 2; Hubert Roe, 5. Won—George Gunther, 20; Willie Lewis, 20; Lost—Frank Klaus, foul, 19; Billy Papst, 15.

1913—Knockouts—Mareau, 8; Bandman Rice, 3; Cyclone Smith, 3; Bombarrier Wells, 1. Won—George Gunther, 16; Jeff Smith, 20. 1914—Knockouts—O'Brien, 2; George Mitchell, 1. Lost—Joe Jeannette, 20.

Smith's record since 1912 follows: 1912—Knockouts—Battling Brooks, 3 rounds; Jack McFar, 2; George McGinn, 2; Andy Morris, 2; George Godfrey, 2; Jim Savage, 2; Jim Stewart, 2; Morrie Morris, 2; 20. No decision—Sailor White, 10; national Porky, 10; Tom McKeon, 10; Kubiak, 6; Jack (Twin) Sullivan, 10; Jim Stewart, 10.

1913—Knockouts—Bombarrier Wells, 2; Fred McKay, 2; Charley Miller, 3; Jim Stewart, 3; Jess Willard, 20; George Rodol, 5; Jim Flynn, 5; Tony Ross, 10; Sam Langford, 12; Carl Morris, 10; foul. No decision—George Rodol, 10.

1914—Knockouts—Arthur Polky, 15. The sale of seats at prices ranging from approximately $1 to $50 has been extremely heavy. The cheaper sections having been sold out early in the month. A large delegation of French boxing enthusiasts are expected to follow Carpenter's fortunes into England, so great is the faith of France in her popular boxer.

The English sportsman, basing his belief of a furious battle on the records of the two boxers against Bombarrier Wells, has ordered reservations in quantities which indicate that the 15,000 capacity of Olympia will be taxed to the utmost.

ONE MINNESOTAN IN TENNIS PLAY

Clay Court Tourney Contestants Trying to Enter Semi-Finals.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 16.—Four Californians, three Ohioans and one Minnesotan will contest today in the fifth annual national clay court championship tourney for the honor of entering the semi-finals in the men's singles.

Nat Browne of Los Angeles, who will play R. A. Holden of Cincinnati; Elgie Pettrell of San Francisco will battle with Clifford Lockburn of Cincinnati; Clarence Griffin of San Francisco, will meet H. T. Emerson of Cincinnati, while Claude Waino of Los Angeles, will meet the Minnesota champion, J. J. Armstrong of St. Paul.

Play in the men's double, which started yesterday, with the elimination of quite a number of local pairs, will be continued today with several out of town players in action. The women's singles are also expected to reach the semi-finals today.

WOLFE FAILS TO SWIM THE CHANNEL

Boulogne, July 16.—James Wolfe, English amateur long distance swimmer, was forced by a rising wind and sea to abandon his attempt to swim across the English channel yesterday.

Wolfe started on his tenth attempt to swim across the channel at 4 o'clock this morning at Cape Gris Nez, and had reached midchannel—five minutes past ten. A caribee pigeon sent up by his companions brought the information that Wolfe was then swimming strongly.

The only two swimmers who have ever crossed the channel were Capt. Matthew Webb in 1875 and William T. Burgess in 1911.

POSTPONEMENT LIKELY.

Heavy Fog at Newport May Prevent Yacht Race.

Newport, R. I., July 16.—A wet fog came in blankets from the east early today and settled so thick over the Newport yacht racing course that a postponement of the contest of the three American cup yachts seemed certain.

The Vanitie is to undergo changes to her spars that will lighten her top-hammer over 70 pounds and increase her speed several seconds a mile. An aluminum gaff and club will be swung on the Cochran sloop today. These two metal spars were rushed here by fast express last night from Boston. These spars are expected by Capt. Harry Haft to increase the yacht's stability in heavy winds.

Motorcycle Championship.

St. Louis, Mo., July 16.—The first of a series of races to decide the championship of the United States and regional business will take up the second day of the convention of the Federation of American Motorcyclists in session here for three days. The races will be run on the one-mile dirt track at Maxwellton in St. Louis county and an unusually large number of riders have entered.

SNEERS FROM G. O. P. ORATOR

"Schoolmaster" in White House Denounced at Des Moines.

State Convention Adopts Platform With Twenty-One Planks.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 16.—"There sits today in the White House a splendid, but utterly impractical man; a schoolmaster and not a statesman, and with him a congress, which, however much it may crumble and chafe under dictation, will yet do his autocratic bidding."

This was the manner in which Paul E. Stillman, temporary chairman, characterized President Wilson and congress in his speech of acceptance before the Republican state convention here yesterday. He said President Wilson's characterization of the business planks which has for the last year been spreading over the centers of industry as "psychological depression," might be a true one, but "does not satisfy the longing of the laborer who has lost his job by reason of these policies."

The chairman declared that "today's call for service in the Republican party is to change the current of men's thoughts from a negative to a positive direction and to restore a vanishing confidence."

William E. Johnson of Ida county was chosen permanent chairman at the opening of the afternoon session. The remainder of the temporary organization was made permanent.

Drya Lose Battle.
Prohibition forces lost their battle for the insertion of a plank favoring the re-submission of the Prohibition question to a vote of the people. The convention did not adopt a plank endorsing the present liquor laws, and compelling their enforcement.

The "dry" were defeated after a long battle in the resolutions committee, which finally voted to oppose against putting such a plank in the platform. There was no opposition in the convention, and the committee report went through without a hitch. No attempt was made to revive the question on the floor of the convention.

The principal feature of the convention was nomination of the third ballot by a vote of 738 1-5, more than 200 above the number needed to assure his success. His nomination was then made unanimous.

Indorse Suffrage.
Twenty-one planks were carried in the platform presented by the committee. Among the more prominent ones were indorsements of woman suffrage, the equalization of tax burdens, the repeal of the non-partisan judiciary law, and the shortening of the present state election ballot. Some of the other recommendations made by the committee and approved by the convention were:

Opposition to child labor; indorsement of the protective tariff; reform in the methods of handling the national convention; trust control by commission; shorter hours for women workers; the establishment of custodial farms; constructive school legislation; indorsement of the initiative and referendum; preservation of the Iowa lakes; issuance of bonds for road building; farm loan banks; changes in the election laws; indorsement of the Republican office holders; opposition to contract labor in the prisons, and denunciation of the Democratic administration.

MORE MONEY FOR HARRY K. THAW

Income From Father's Estate Is Awarded to Him.

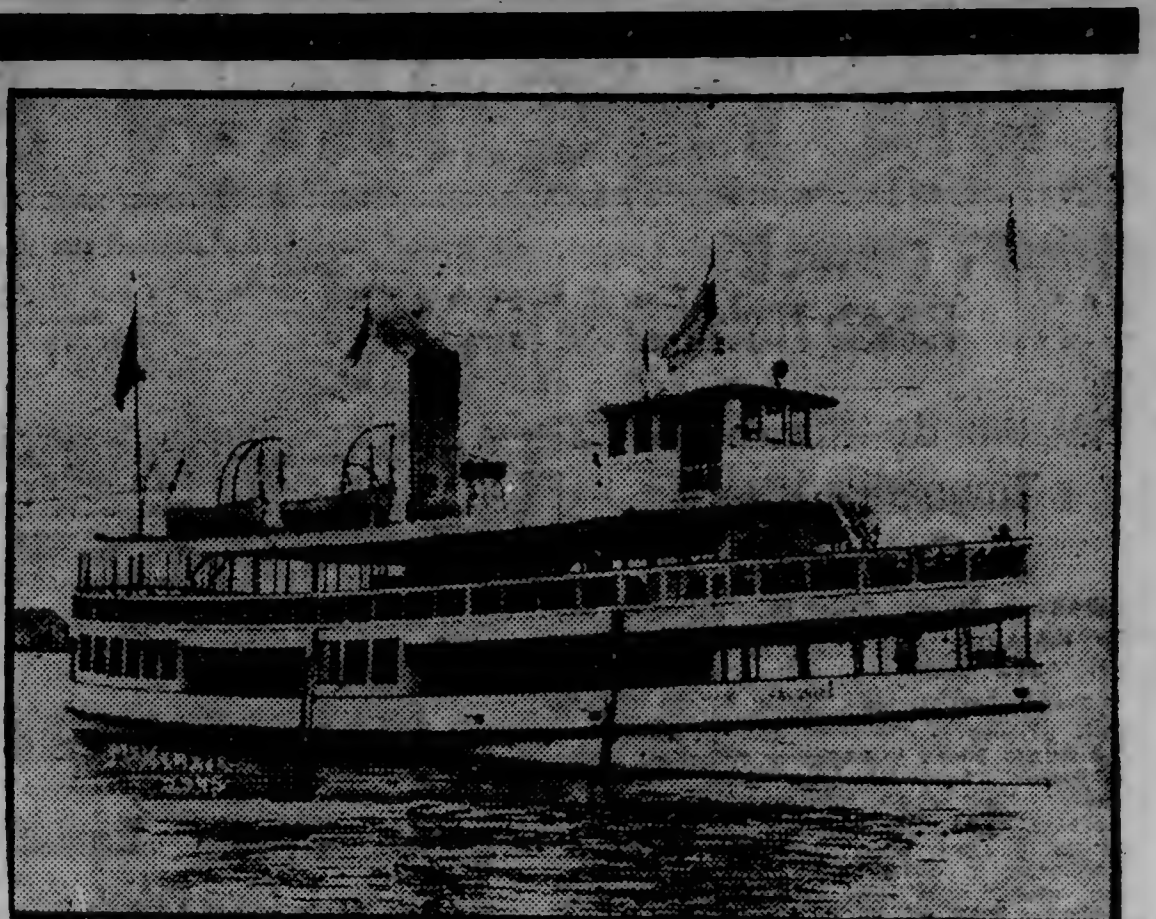

Pittsburg, Pa., July 16.—After six months' legal battle, Harry K. Thaw, in a decision handed down by Judge James W. Over in the orphan court, is awarded the income from his father's estate which has been denied him by the trustees since he was adjudged insane for the slaying of Stanford White. By the decision Thaw gets $160,773.

Judge Over says Thaw is entitled to the money despite the fact that alienists declare Thaw is suffering from an exaggerated sense of self which would make it unwise to commit any large sum of money into his personal charge.

The fight for the income began last January when Thaw filed a petition asking for $30,000 to defray legal expenses. The Fidelity Title & Trust company of Pittsburg, the trustees, took exception. The court allowed the petition, but the trustees refused to submit to an examination Thaw, claiming he was insane. Thaw refused to submit to an examination, it is said. The trust company then refused to submit to the examination, filed by Thaw's attorneys, was sustained in Judge Over's decision yesterday.

ON THE ROAD RANGES

PROMPT WORK BY ROAD BUILDERS

That Will Be Rule of Stuntz Township Board Hereafter.

Hibbing, Minn., July 16.—(Special to The Herald).—Contractors whose bids have been accepted by the Stuntz township board will have to do their work promptly or face the possibility of having their contracts revoked and the work given to the next lowest bidder. The road foremen are complaining that the failure of the contractor to get the work completed is delaying them in the road work and last night asked the board to take steps to hasten the construction. The contractor claims that he has been held up because of the delay in getting material and promises to start work on the Day lake and Dupont bridges.

The Day lake bridge is, in the opinion of the board, highly dangerous and will be so labeled until the work is started.

Motor Races on Roads.
The Hibbing Automobile club was granted permission to use the roads in the "loop" running around the Mahoning through the town of Alice for their races on Aug. 12, 14, 15 and 16 and the road foremen employed by the township will be on hand to see that the stretch is in as good condition as possible for the big event.

MERCHANTS MAY BRING ACTIONS

May Sue Hibbing for Destruction of Property By Storm.

Hibbing, Minn., July 16.—(Special to The Herald).—The possibility of securing damages from the village is being discussed by local merchants whose basements were flooded by the storm last Saturday night. It is their claim that the sewer was not large enough to take care of the water and that the damage was caused by backwater from the pipes. It is understood that the village can claim that the storm was such that could not be figured on and that no village could prepare for such an emergency. No formal action has yet been brought, but it is understood that attorneys are being consulted.

HUERTA DEFIANTLY HALTS FOR THE NIGHT IN MIDST OF REBELS

Wife Is Worried at His Delay in Reaching Coast.

United States Continues Efforts to End Mexican Trouble.

Carranza Declares Huerta Debts Invalid—Amnesty Not Agreed On.

Puerto Mexico, July 17.—Gen. Huerta stopped on his leisurely journey from Mexico City to this port and passed the night at Tierra Blanca, in the state of Vera Cruz, the center of a district overrun by small bands of revolutionaries who have uttered the boast that they will never let the departing former dictator reach the coast. Under the best conditions, Huerta could not arrive here before noon, and it was thought unlikely by his waiting family that he would be in Puerto Mexico before late in the afternoon. It was 6 o'clock this morning when Huerta departed from Tierra Blanca, his train being preceded and followed by troop trains.

Gen. Huerta's failure to hasten his exit from the country was the cause of some worry to his wife, while Senora Blanquet, whose husband, former minister of war, is with his old chief, was frightened into a state of hysterics by the delay.

Reports from various points along the line gave no reason to believe that any unpleasant incident had occurred.

SAYS HUERTA WILL BE PEOPLE'S IDOL

Moheno Gives New Government Ninety Days to Live.

Havana, July 17.—The former Mexican minister of commerce, Querido Moheno, prior to his departure here yesterday for New York via Key West, said Huerta's resignation was no surprise to him and expressed the belief that a Constitutional government would be short lived. "Within ninety days," he added, "the people who are now shouting approval will cry death to the revolution. In six months Huerta will be the most popular man in Mexico because the Latin race always plucks the fallen and opposes the powerful."

The American customs inspectors refused to allow Senora Moheno to take aboard the ship with her, but because such plumeage is forbidden entry into the United States, they sent them back with a friend to Mexico and Senor Moheno, learning of the prohibition, exclaimed:

"This could be expected only from an American."

THREE SIDES IN ONE FIGHT

Huerta, Zapata and Carranza Forces Clash at Acapulco.

Federal Evacuation of City of Guaymas Is Complete.

On Board U. S. S. California, La Paz, July 16, via Wireless to San Diego, July 17.—Heavy fighting is reported today at Acapulco, where three factions of the Mexican forces—Constitutionalists, Federalists and Zapatistas—have become embroiled over possession of the seaport.

Foreign property and shipping is reported to be in danger and Rear Admiral Howard, commanding the Pacific fleet, has dispatched the cruiser Chatahoga to the scene to aid the cruiser Cleveland in protecting foreign interests.

The Federal evacuation of Guaymas is complete. The last of the garrison, long hemmed in by the Constitutional forces of Gen. Obregon, embarked southward tonight with their horses and accoutrements in six steamers and four towing schooners. A provisional government has been established and order prevails throughout the city.

Guaymas People Disarmed. In accordance with the armistice arranged several days ago the citizens of Guaymas were disarmed today. The Federal mines planted at strategic points on the city were exploded, with Constitutional officers as witnesses.

The first act of the new administration was to relieve the starving population by the distribution of foodstuffs. The peaceful exchange of government authority was facilitated by Capt. Magruder of the U. S. S. Raleigh. Arrangements also were completed today for the formal occupation of Guaymas by Constitutionalists on July 18.

The Federal steamers will stop at Mazatlan, Manzanillo and San Cruz. The collier Nero arrived here today with mails for the Pacific coast fleet, the German and Japanese cruisers as well as for Mexican towns. The California will sail tomorrow for Mazatlan.

New York, July 17.—Norman Mack of Buffalo and his wife sailed for Europe today. Before going, Mr. Mack announced that he was not a candidate for the senate from New York at the coming election. He endorsed Governor Glynn for re-election and expressed the belief that the Pittsburg speech of Roosevelt had split the Republican party hopelessly.

CHICAGO SLEUTHS SHOOT EACH OTHER IN NIGHT RAID

One Officer Killed in Fight in the Vice District.

Three Others Wounded By Bullets—Inquiry Is Begun.

Chicago, July 17.—With one detective dead and three wounded as a result of a revolver battle in Chicago's vice district, officially reported closed, police chiefs labored today to untangle the accounts of the fatal affray between members of the department.

Six high school principals will be chosen to sit on the coroner's jury, which will investigate the death of Rines, Coroner Peter Hoffman said today.

I intend to make a thorough investigation into the affair and I am selecting high school principals to have intelligent men on the jury," said Hoffman.

It appears to me that the two batches of detectives did not recognize each other and the confusion led to the shooting. Apparently it is dangerous for two different squads to make raids in the same district and the jury probably will make certain recommendations calculated to guard against such clashes in the future.

The dead detective, Stanley J. Rines, was a member of the regular plain clothes force. John C. Sloop, Rines' partner, was shot through the thigh. Joseph Merrill and Fred Amant, detectives of the morals squad, were wounded less seriously. James C. Carroll, a member of the vice squad, was also wounded. He was in the crowd and said he was an investigator and a railway fireman.

Blame Levee Characters. In the investigation by Chief of Police Gleason two facts appeared to stand out—that the killing and wounding of the policemen was precipitated by a gang of levee characters, and that many of the volley of shots fired came from weapons in the hands of gangsters. It was believed that several of (Continued on page 4, first column.)

WESTERN RAILWAYS INVOKE MEDIATION BY THE GOVERNMENT

File Formal Application and Deny Charges Made By Men.

Demand Specific Instances When Awards Were Not Obedied.

Chicago, July 17.—Federal mediation of the wage differences between the engineers and firemen and the management of ninety-eight Western railroads was asked today by the railroad managers' conference committee. Formal notification of the appeal to the Federal board of mediation and conciliation was given to the heads of the engineers' and firemen's unions in a letter from the managers' committee. The employees, through their heads, already have declared they will refuse Federal arbitration on the contention that the railroad companies have not carried out the awards made by the Federal board in other instances. The statement that the unions would decline to enter into arbitration came last Tuesday when the result of the strike vote became known.

Deny Men's Charges. Denial that the railroads had not carried out arbitration awards was made by the railroad committee in its communication today to the employees' representatives. "The formal refusal of the unions to join in asking Federal aid to adjust the difference was considered by the railway managers before the present communication was sent."

The letter of the managers denying the charge that they had failed to observe the terms of awards in Federal arbitration cases, said:

"Speaking for the roads, parties to these negotiations, which we represent, we deny for them and for each of them that they have either refused or failed to put into effect any arbitration award to which they and your organization or other organizations have been parties, and we respectfully request you to cite specific instances in support of your charge."

We have on this date filed with the United States board of mediation and conciliation a request invoking the services of the board in accordance with the act congress approved July 15, 1913, in bringing about an adjustment of our differences.

The letter was signed by A. W. Trench, chairman of the conference committee of managers.

HEAT KILLS IN NEW YORK

Several Prostrations Are Reported—Two Die in Kansas City.

Kansas Reports Death By Storm and Many Heat Victims.

New York, July 17.—One death and several prostrations from the heat wave were reported in New York at noon today. At that hour the temperature was 83 degs. and rising. More oppressive than the heat was the humidity, which hovered between 75 and 85 per cent. Thunderstorms were forecast for the afternoon.

Two Dead in Kansas City. Kansas City, Mo., July 17.—Two deaths from heat occurred here last night. Eugene D. Clark, 55 years old, an engineer, was overcome while at work in an engine room and died after being removed to his home. Ridge Q. Hyde, 30 years old, a stenographer, also was a heat victim, dying at a hotel. The mercury here reached 102.

Thunderstorms came on the heels of the hottest day of the year in Kansas and Western Missouri and most places in this section reported relief from the hot wave last night.

One man is dead, killed by lightning, and several prostrations from heat occurred in Kansas. In several cities new heat marks for the season were recorded. Salina, Cruz, the highest temperature in the state, 105 degs., while Topeka with 103 and Leavenworth and Emporia, each with 102, were among those setting new season records.

LIVE SEVEN MONTHS IN ARKANSAS CAVE

Aged Man and Three Little Girls Live Ten Days on Bark.

Benvenue, Ark., July 17.—After existing seven months in a cave with almost nothing to eat, William Ewing, an aged man, and his three little girls were rescued today.

Two years ago Ewing was a prosperous farmer near here. Misfortunes piled up on him. His wife, son and daughter died. Floods destroyed his crops, his cattle perished and his home was burned.

We have had nothing to eat but the bark from trees for ten days," one of the girls told their rescuers.

GOVERNMENT SUIT TO DISSOLVE NEW HAVEN SEEMS TO BE SURE

GIRL BRIDE FOR R BOY HUSBAND

MRS. JOHN HASEROT.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 17.—This bride has been robbed of her 17-year-old husband. She was Edythe Jones, 18 years old, the child of poor but respectable parents, as the story books say. And quite in the fashion of the story books, she eloped with Johnnie Haserot, the 17-year-old son of J. H. Haserot, former president of the school board of Cleveland. They were married in London, Ont., July 2. Then they wired for money, for they had started in life with $100 between them. The mother of the bride, who entirely approved the adventure, sent them $10. But the wealthy Mr. Haserot went to Canada, lured them back to Cleveland with kind words and then rushed Johnnie to the Boys Industrial school. Mrs. Haserot says she will wait four years for his return.

RINES GETS RECOUNT

Must File $5,000 Bond to Cover Referees' Pay.

Actual Counting May Begin in St. Louis County.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Recount of the votes for the Republican nomination for the state auditorship has been granted by District Judge John H. Steele.

Henry Rines, contestant, and Jacob A. O. Preus, contestee, are each to name a referee, these two to name a third. Compensation for the referees was placed at $15 a day for each.

Rines was directed to file a bond for $5,000 to assure payment of the referees. Should the recount expenses exceed $5,000 the court said he would demand a larger bond.

Judge J. F. McGee, attorney for Preus, argued a motion to have the allegations of fraud and illegal voting contained in Rines' petition made more specific. This motion was granted and Rines given five days in which to amend his petition. Preus will then have six days in which to make answer, and the recount will be on.

May Start in St. Louis County. S. R. Child, of counsel for Rines, indicated that the recount might be started in St. Louis county. The general allegations in the petition declare that persons not citizens voted, intoxicated persons cast ballots, minors and non-residents voted, and that these and other frauds occurred in practically every voting district.

As there are more than 2,900 voting precincts in the state, the court decided that the alleged frauds, complained of should be set out with more particularity as to place.

NEW PIG IRON RATES EFFECTIVE ON OCT. 1.

Washington, July 17.—The effective date of the interstate commerce commission's order reducing rates on pig iron, Birmingham, Ala., to Ohio river crossings and points in the middle Atlantic and New England states was today extended from Aug. 15 to Oct. 1.

Only two of the dead were identified. They were Samuel K. Curthrell, and Miss Annie Meehan of Norfolk.

The electric train, loaded with men and women, left Ocean View at midnight, and would have arrived in Norfolk at 12:45 o'clock. At the Virginia railway crossing, trainmen say, the safety gates were down and a coal train en route to Roanoke was passing. The electric train crashed through the gates and into the freight train.

Coaches Crumpled Up. The electric train, made up of two wooden coaches, crumpled up after the collision. The passengers were released only after rescuers cut away the broken seats and timbers that held them prisoners.

Many of them had broken legs and arms and their heads were bleeding. The groans of women could be heard for blocks and scores of persons residing nearby went to the scene with bandages and water.

Ambulances were sent to the scene and scores of doctors hurried there in automobiles.

Negotiations Appear to Have Failed to Forestall It.

Minority Stockholders File Action to Recover $306,000,000.

Directors Refuse to Sell B. & M. Stock as Ordered.

Washington, July 17.—After two hours' conference today between Attorney General McReynolds and T. W. Gregory, special assistant in charge of the New Haven case, it seemed practically certain the negotiations had failed and that the department of justice would begin its Sherman law suit to dissolve the New Haven system within the next few days.

The attorney general and Mr. Gregory had before them official notice from the New Haven board of directors that it cannot accept the terms imposed by Massachusetts on the sale of the Boston & Maine railroad stock. Department officials said now to consider a Sherman law suit their only course.

Move By Minority. Boston, July 17.—The appointment of a receiver, special master or other official to prosecute claims aggregating $306,000,000 against defendant directors and estates of directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, is asked in a suit filed in the superior court today. The action is brought by Whipple, Sears & Ogden, representing minority stockholders of the company.

The suit in which the attorneys recently demanded that the directors join, is designed to force restitution from those responsible for the alleged to have been illegally expended in building up the New Haven system.

Judge Brady issued an order of notice returnable next Friday to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed and why an injunction against the disposition of the defendant's stock should not be issued.

Directors Stand Pat. New York, July 17.—By a unanimous vote, the directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company, at a special meeting yesterday, decided to stand by their decision not to sell to the state of Massachusetts the holding of the directors of the railroad stock under the terms imposed by the official statement, "the directors have neither receded from their position nor the door to further negotiations."

CHARGE MRS. CARMAN WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Minneapolis, N. Y., July 17.—Mrs. Florence Carman was arraigned in the supreme court here today before Justice Van Sicken on a charge of manslaughter in the first degree for having caused the death of her husband, Bailey, a patient of the defendant's husband.

It was reported today that the prosecuting authorities hoped that a stronger superceding indictment might be returned later on the basis of new evidence. This evidence, it was said, was discovered yesterday, about the time the manslaughter charge was decided upon.

SIX KILLED IN TRAIN CRASH

Electric Excursion Train Hits Freight Near Norfolk, Va.

Nineteen Others Are Injured in the Collision.

Norfolk, Va., July 17.—Six men were killed and nineteen were injured early today when an electric excursion train crashed into a Virginian railway freight train at a grade crossing near this city. Four men and two women, all of Norfolk, were killed. Dennis P. Lyons of Baltimore, among the injured, is in a critical condition. Men on the freight said the crossing gates were down.

Only two of the dead were identified. They were Samuel K. Curthrell, and Miss Annie Meehan of Norfolk.

The electric train, loaded with men and women, left Ocean View at midnight, and would have arrived in Norfolk at 12:45 o'clock. ## JURORS HAVE AN EASY JOB

Fifty-Five Men Impaneled, But Have No Work to Do.

Sandstone Man Arraigned on a White Slave Charge.

Although a petit jury of fifty-five members was impaneled for the regular July calendar of Federal court, which opened Tuesday morning, not a single case was tried by them all week and this morning the jury was discharged by Judge Morris.

This morning Burton Mount of Sandstone was arraigned before Judge Morris on a second indictment charging him with violation of the Mann white slave act. The first indictment was returned against him by the grand jury last Tuesday afternoon and following his arraignment Wednesday morning a second indictment was entered. As this trial was set for this morning he was not arraigned on the second indictment until today. He pleaded not guilty and his hearing was set for Monday.

Of the ten law cases set for this calendar, but one remains for hearing and it is expected that Judge Morris will take it up next week. It is that of Joseph McGiligan against the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific railroad for alleged damages.

Tomorrow morning Judge Morris will hear demurrers in the cases of the Poor Hand Mails of Jesus Christ against the Duluth Lumber company, and Oliver J. Lunn against the Great Northern Railway company. The court will also hear a motion to amend the answer in the case of Challenger company against the Diamond Calk Horse shoe company.

WILL IMPROVE ENTRY LIGHTS

Putnam's Report Confirms the Promise of Congressman Miller.

The letter received last Saturday from Congressman Miller by Fred B. Spelman, chairman of the harbors and waterways committee of the Commercial club, and reproduced in The Herald of that date, in which Duluth was assured that the lighthouse board would install in the south pier of the Duluth entry an electric lighting system and an electrically operated fog horn, to be controlled from the shore in case of storm, has just been confirmed by further word from Mr. Miller.

Commissioner G. R. Putnam of the bureau of lighthouses has made such recommendation. The commissioner has been investigating the loss of the steamer Benjamin Noble on the night of April 28, and while he believes that she was not lost because of the lack of a light at the Duluth canal, he believes the lighting improvement is really necessary. In part, Commissioner Putnam's report follows:

"The light was extinguished in accordance with usual practice on the morning of April 28 at 5:30 o'clock by the keeper at which time he went ashore. It was impossible for him, owing to the severity of the storm, to again reach the light that night, the tunnel through the pier being useless on account of leakage, so that station was not reached until 10:30 a. m. on April 29.

"The light on the north pier and the rear range light were both in commission. It appears that the steamer Benjamin Noble was in the lake together with the steamers D. J. Morrell and Norwalk, and it was stated by the captain of the Morrell that the Noble disappeared on April 27, while they were near Knife Island, some twenty miles down the lake on the north shore.

"The steamer Morrell passed through the Duluth piers at 3 a. m. and the Norwalk at 4 a. m. on April 28, while the Duluth range front light was in commission. It has been stated that the captain of the life saving station on April 30 found some wreckage of the Noble about nine miles down from the piers, which would be about half the distance from Duluth to Knife Island. This tends to verify the statement of the captain of the Morrell relative to the disappearance of the Noble.

It also appears that there was no fog at this locality on April 28 until 2:15 p. m. or about twelve hours after the Noble disappeared off Knife Island, which would further indicate that she foundered at this locality. From the foregoing statements it does not appear that the loss of this vessel was due to the light on the south pier being out of commission.

SHIPYARD BUSY WITH REPAIRS

Hartnell Leaves Dock and Steamer Brown Takes Her Place.

The barge George H. Hartnell, which was damaged in a collision with the steamer H. H. Brown, which was trying to take the Hartnell into port during the lesser part of the storm of June 27, left the dry dock yesterday and work on her will be finished outside. There was considerable work to do on her for besides the damage she received from the bump with the Brown, her bottom was considerably injured when she beached just south of Michigan street on Minnesota point. As soon as the Hartnell came out the dock and repairs to her will be completed. The damage to the two vessels is estimated to be in the neighborhood of $25,000. Damaged by bumping against the piers of the Superior entry during the storm, the barge will be able to leave the shipyard Sunday, as repairs to her will be completed by the time the barge is moved into the dry dock will be the C. F. Moll, which will have three planks replaced.

A good deal of work is being done at the shipyards, many vessels being sent there for minor repairs and overhauling during the present dull season.

LUMBER STEAMER IN DANGER ON REEF.

Port Hope, Mich., July 17.—The wooden steamer Mary H. Boyce, laden with lumber and lath from Duluth to Cleveland, ran onto a reef off this port in Lake Huron yesterday. A heavy fog prevailed when the accident occurred. The steamer was carried over the reef and her stern stuck on the rocks, two feet out of water.

The Boyce is in a dangerous position in case of storm and the Port Aux Barques life-saving crew is standing by to render assistance if necessary. Tugs and a lighter have been summoned from Port Huron.

Ashtabula Harbor Lights.

The Lake Carriers' association reports: Lighthouse weekly notice to mariners No. 25, July 19, notes changes in lights in Ashtabula harbor. These changes have been made and colors of lights in east and west piers have been reversed.

JULY SALES

There has come a radical change in the volume of July and August business as compared with former times. Then there was little business in these months; now they are active. Now customers seem to want two things: First—They want to find complete assortments of all necessary articles so that they may have their wants supplied promptly. In fact, they seem to want them supplied more promptly, if anything, than at other times of the year. Second—There is a constant demand for strictly summer goods, and if they can be bought at large concessions in price so much the better.

Both these demands we are prepared to meet this month as never before.

We meet this second demand in two ways: First—by sharp mark downs of broken assortments from our own goods; and second—by constant purchases of goods at sharp reductions in prices from importers and manufacturers of grades that are just what our customers want.

Because goods are offered at less than their usual price does not alter the fact that we stand behind them just as we would if you paid regular prices.

THE HORSE IS STILL KING.
Washington Post: "When it became a recognized fact that the automobile was a practical thing, the prediction was freely made that the horse would pass away, but we find today that there are more horses in the United States than ever before," remarked Alfred Watkins, an old sea captain of Norfolk, at the Raleigh.

"It is true, we rarely see horses on the streets of our big cities, but there are plenty of them in the country, and the farmer thinks just as much of a good horse now as he did in the old days. So, too, I have observed that our men of wealth, who for a time took to the motor car, are coming back to the fast trotter and roadster. There is nothing like real life when it comes to sport, and an automobile is an inani- mate thing."

AN INCH OF RAINFALL.
Farm and Fireside: An inch of rain- fall is equivalent to 603 barrels of forty-five gallons each to the acre. This amount of water weighs over 113 tons. Think of hauling it to the farms in wagons holding a ton each! That seemingly light air and clouds are ca- pable of handling this enormous amount of water is one of the marvels of meteorology. One inch of rain is not such a heavy rainfall, either.

MEAT COSTS ARE SOARING

Beef Prices Up Again and Still Higher Market Is Predicted.

Fruits and Vegetables Are Selling Cheaper Through the List.

Meat prices are up again today, and the end of the upward movement is by no means in sight yet, in the opinion of the houses on Michigan street. The situation in the meat trade is regarded as almost alarming by some of the leading dealers. In a wire received from Chicago by a Duluth house today, the total receipts of cattle at the six largest markets in the country during the past week were placed at 60,000 head, or 20,000 less than during the preceding week. It was further commented upon in the dispatch that the available supply was perhaps never so light as at present in the history of the American trade. The wholesalers are not quoting 14 1/2 to 15 cents a pound for steers, and 12 1/2 to 13 cents a pound for hogs. While the market in veal, lamb, mutton and pork is also firm, no advances were reported today. Receipts of live and dressed poultry have shown improvement during the last few days and consequently quotations on live hens and chickens are off a cent all round.

Egg Prices Advance.
Eggs have advanced a cent to 21 to 22 cents a dozen. This is due to the usual falling off in receipts during the hot weather period, while the demand is extra heavy, largely on account of the high price of meats. Current receipts from over this district are, however, sufficient to cover the consumption at the head of the Lakes and to leave a small surplus still available for Eastern shipment.

While the tendency in the butter market is stronger at New York, the same as a week ago at 27 1/2 cents a pound. The make of butter in this territory is said to be well maintained and the Northwest are availing themselves more generally of the refrigerator service established on the packers freight steamers plying between Duluth and Buffalo. Attributable to that service a steady gain in their shipments of butter, eggs and poultry is reported by the Bridgman & Russell company and the Victor Produce company.

Vegetables Are Cheaper.
The bulk of green vegetables offering on the market are now home-grown and prices through the list are substantially lower. With an average brand of weather during the next few weeks it is thought that figures in greenstuffs will rule low on the average this season. Old potatoes are up again to $1.40 a bushel, but it is thought the market in them is about due for a slump as new potatoes from the southern sections of the state are now to be had at $1.20 per bushel. Receipts of all kinds of Minnesota and Wisconsin berries and currants

HEALTH TALKS

William Brady, M.D.

Look Pleasant

A GREAT many neuroathetic women, aided and abetted by their uncouthly healthy husbands, acquire the bad habit of feeling sorry for themselves. Now a young mother tied down by heavy responsibility—responsibility weighing from ten to fourteen pounds and the very picture of his dad—have a right to indulge in this delightful pastime occasionally. It makes life worth living. But all other half-time invalids must and shall look pleasant at least half of their time.

The Expression and the Mind.
Facial expression not only reflects, but in a good measure controls one's state of mind. If you pull down the corners of your mouth and elevate the inner ends of your brows and frown just a wee bit, you will presently begin to feel melancholic and depressed and envious of other people's happiness. If you keep your mouth bowed upward and try to show your dimples if you have any, or if not your crow's feet, you hypnotize yourself into a state of gentle hilarity in keeping with the expression. The stimulating influence of comedy and music and good humor is largely attributable to the unconscious mimicry of the audience. When you get a smile out of a wheeze, hold it—just as you try to do in the photographers' gallery when he commands you to look pleasant, if possible. You may never realize how care distorts the features till you sit for a picture. Then you discover how difficult it is to look pleasant for a moment, and you see that the photographer is in dead earnest when he advances "Look pleasant, if possible." He fears you've forgotten how.

Relation to Health.
Facial expression affects not only your own health but your friends' as well. For instance, by raising the upper lip enough to slightly expose the fang of your canine tooth, as a terror does when he meets an antagonist, and uttering some sarcastic, biting comment to your neighbor, you'll soon have him threatening to report you to the board of health for keeping chickens. By going around with such an expression on your face you earn the reputation of being a grouch. It is easy to play the role when you look the part. But remember, the sole reason for a snarl is to intimidate an adversary.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through this column; if not it will be answered personally if stated, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnosis.

are liberal, according to the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company, and the Culbertson Bros. company. Prices are regarded as reasonable. California fruits are now featuring and slight price declines have come about in most items. Canteleupes are higher on account of the fruit now coming from Arizona being of a superior quality. Oranges and lemons are also both higher, due to the increased consumption throughout the country. New apples from Southern Minnesota and Wisconsin are beginning to come on this market. It is said that the yield of home-grown raspberries is likely to be the heaviest in several years and relatively higher prices are looked for.

The death rate of the United Kingdom has fallen, since 1901, from 4 per cent to less than 3.

THREATENED BY AMBROSIA

Trifida and Artemisiaefella Menace Duluth's Greatest Asset.

Ragweed and Pigweed
Drive Away Hay Fever Patients.

Duluth should take prompt steps to rid itself of the ambrosia trifida and the ambrosia artemisiaefella.

They threaten to completely overrun the city, causing the loss of thousands of dollars, increasing discomfort and injuring the city's reputation as a summer resort.

Wherefore ambrosia trifida and ambrosia artemisiaefella are probably as bad as their names appear. In every day language they are the ragweed or pigweed, the chief enemy of hay fever sufferers.

Dr. John M. Robinson wrote Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, this morning calling his attention to the fact that the welfare of the city requires that these obnoxious weeds be exterminated.

Dr. Webster answered that while he recognizes that this should be done the funds of the health department are insufficient to enable it to undertake the work. He said that during the last summer showed that only very few small areas of the city are free of the weed and that to kill it would call for a heavier expense than the funds of the department could stand. He stated that in his opinion the only remedy would be to compel the property owner to take care of his own lot and surroundings. He added that if any practical way is suggested which would not be too great a strain upon the department's finances he would be glad to consider it.

to seed unmolested and in succeeding years we shall have more ragweed and fewer of the afflicted visitors will remain with us for relief.

A POETICAL CRUISE ON RIVER OF DOUBT

Here Y're, T. R.; and Gov.
Ammons Blames It All on Monkey Diet!

Denver Dispatch in the New York World: Governor Elias H. Ammons has written the following poem as his contribution to the literature on Roosevelt:

Teddy's River of Doubt.
He scoffs at the college professor;
Declares that his strength's on the wane;
Denounces the grape juice of Bryan;
Insists that it's not even sane;
He dreams all his friends back in office,
And all of his enemies out.

As he dines on a morsel of monkey,
And sails up the River of Doubt.
He revises the Ten Commandments,
And brings them all quite up to date;
Denies the mistakes of old Moses,
And sighs at poor Lincoln's slow gait.

While Washington's blundering tactics
Produce a most terrible rout,
As he swallows a wee bit of monkey,
And sails up the River of Doubt.

In dreams he enraptured the people,
And all of creation subdued;
To the furthest side of this planet
There's against him not even a feud.
While the world's population will honor,
And angels will bow round about.

As he dines on a morsel of monkey,
And sails up the River of Doubt.
If ever the Colonel awakens
From delight of his beautiful dream;
If ever in strenuous fashion
He pledges he tries to redeem—
Perhaps he'll discover his error;
And, surely, he'll not take the gout,
If he sticks to a diet of monkey,
And sails up the River of Doubt.

Indianapolis News: There is a demand in France for a minister of hygiene. The principal advocates of the establishment of a new department says that the proper work of a hygiene minister is now scattered over five departments, and what, he asks, would become of the national defense if military and naval affairs were administered piecemeal?

Pensions and Injury Compensation Near, Says
Frank T. Rogers.

National Association Chief Is Honor Guest of Local Men.

That the bills now before congress providing for compensation of government employees injured in the discharge of their duties and for pensions to those who have rendered long service in the employ of Uncle Sam, will become laws in a very short time, was the prophecy made last evening by Frank T. Rogers, president of the United National Association of Postoffice Clerks, who was the guest of honor at a banquet given by the Duluth branch at the Commercial club last evening.

Mr. Rogers was a guest of the Duluth branch of the national organization all day yesterday, his visit in the city ending with the banquet in his honor last evening. This morning he left for Brainerd, where he will attend the annual convention of the State Association of Postoffice Clerks. He was accompanied by Nelson Kieler of Minneapolis, state president, who was at the banquet last evening.

The president of the national organization explained the two bills now before congress and urged the local clerks to stand together in their support.

The dinner was served at 7:30 o'clock to about 100 clerks, their wives and many letter carriers, who had been invited to attend. B. E. Erickson, president of the Duluth branch, acted as toastmaster during the evening.

Postmaster McEwen, who was one of the honor guests of the evening, was the first speaker called upon and he urged the clerks to co-operate with him in making improvements and reforms in the department. He was given a warm greeting by those present. Mr. Kieler also responded with a few words, as did Charles Mitchell, of this city.

FORTY DAYS OF SUNSHINE DUE

If legends come true, Duluth is booked for forty days of sunshine and fair weather. For yesterday was St. Swithin's day. Old Sol smiled one of his most winning smiles and the breezes were gentle and balmy. Says the legend: "St. Swithin's day, if thou dost rain for forty days it will remain; St. Swithin's day, if thou be fair, for forty days 'twill rain nae mair."

St. Swithin was the bishop of Winchester some 1,100 years ago. When he died his body was buried outside the church, where people walked over it and the rain from the eaves dripped on his grave. A century later, when his name had grown, the bones were disinterred and buried in the great cathedral with much pomp. According to the story a heavy rain storm broke the day of the ceremony and continued for forty days, out of which grew the weather legend.

UNION PACIFIC PAYMENT ORDERED

New York, July 17.—Justice Page of the state supreme court has rendered a decision in favor of the Union Pacific Railroad company in a suit brought by the so-called McCaddon preferred stockholders, who sought the railroad company from paying $80,000,000 as an extra dividend only to common shareholders. A similar decision in an action brought against the company for the same purpose by the Equitable Life Assurance society was recently rendered by the state court of appeals. The Union Pacific executive committee yesterday ordered payment of the extra dividend on the common stock on July 20. The dividend consists of $12 par value Baltimore & Ohio preferred stock, $25.50 Baltimore & Ohio common and $35 each.

Payment of this extra dividend was ordered in January, but was held up by the litigation.

HAITIEN REBELS WIN A VICTORY.

Washington, July 17.—Haitien rebels were victors Wednesday in a battle on the road from Cape Haitien to Milot, according to dispatches from Capt. Russell on board the South Carolina. A general attack was planned for yesterday to drive the rebels from the plains.

Unrest in San Domingo continues with exchanges of shots to the south of the besieged city. In the west there is comparatively no fighting.

ATLANTA TO HAVE METHODIST COLLEGE.

Atlanta, Ga., July 17.—A university which it is said will represent an outlay of $5,000,000, will be built in Atlanta by the Methodist Episcopal church, South. This announcement is made by a commission appointed by the last general conference to choose a site for a university on the Mississippi river.

Assa G. Candler of this city has given $1,000,000 to the new university.

STATE ASSOCIATION

Is Launched By North Dakota Commercial Insurance Men.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Secretaries and field agents of commercial mutual insurance companies yesterday, launched a state association, and they probably will affiliate with the North Dakota Farmers' Mutual Insurance association, which is also meeting here, ending its convention today.

The secretaries elected the following officers: President, W. W. King, Fargo; vice president, D. W. Clark, Valley City; secretary-treasurer, F. H. Wilder, Fargo.

In the county mutual association sessions, the address of A. H. Runge, state fire marshal, has been the feature. He discussed fire prevention measures, giving especial attention to conditions on the farms.

GRAIN STORAGE ACT IS DECLARED FAULTY

North Dakota Co-operative Elevator Men Do Not Like Idea.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota grain storage act which compels elevator owners to accept for storage all grain offered, acts in such manner as to place the elevator managers in the position of speculators, according to resolutions passed by the North Dakota Association of Co-operative Elevator Managers, at the annual meeting here.

The association resolutions set forth the fact that in order to accommodate the storage of grain, it is often necessary to sell part of the grain, and should a raise in the price take place, the elevator manager must make up the difference in price between the time he sold and when the farmer actually makes his sale.

Reject Accounting System. The association refused to accept the system of elevator accounting proposed by the North Dakota board of railroad commissioners.

The next place of meeting was not chosen, but the following officers were elected: President, J. H. S. Thomson, Valley City; vice president, A. A. Lane, Sherwood; secretary, N. E. Tackland, Drayton; assistant secretary, August Everett, Hillsboro; directors, C. Gibson, Yankton; C. B. Fritchard, Gardiner; John Ruttle, McHenry; J. S. Broberg, Adams; Martin Moe, Adams; A. K. Moehn, Regent; J. A. Stockstad, Minn.

Brainerd Fans Going.

Brainerd, Minn., July 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—About fifty fans expect to take the sleeper tonight for International Falls to attend the Sunday game. Joe Graves, noted recruit of Connie Mack, will pitch for the Brainerd nine. A record-breaking crowd is expected.

Congregational Meet.

Baudette, Minn., July 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—A convention of the Congregational association of this district will be held here on Aug. 1, 2 and 3. Noted speakers from the state will be here and address the delegates. On the third day a trip over the lake of the Woods to Kenora will conclude the meeting.

BADGER REPORTS STORIES UNFOUNDED

Inquiries Disprove Story Sent Out By Boat.

Washington, July 17.—Rear Admiral Balger reported that the sensational news dispatches sent from Vera Cruz by Fred L. Boalt, an American writer, charging that "the law of flight" had been applied to Mexican prisoners by American naval officers, had been found without foundation by a court of inquiry.

BIG CRIMES AND LITTLE.

It should be just as grave a crime to plunder stockholders or the public through a railroad corporation as it is to personally rob an individual—interstate commerce commission's report on the New Haven.

Not "should be," but IS. Perhaps not legally; but if not, then the law has slept.

Where is the moral difference between a thiefing clerk who runs his fingers into his employer's till to take a few dollars, and a set of directors who use the power given them by a railroad corporation to plunder both stockholders and public? If there is a difference, it is the difference between big thieves and little. The advantage, if there is any advantage, is all in favor of the little thieves.

The New Haven directors did not, of course, deliberately rifle the New Haven's treasury for money which they put into their own pockets. That's crude.

But they did, according to the interstate commerce commission, use the New Haven railroad as a pawn in a big banker's game; and the stockholders suffered just as grievously as though the game had been played more crudely.

Bigness does not make a crime respectable.

Subtle methods give no moral advantage over coarse methods.

The director of a corporation who betrays his employers, the stockholders, and sacrifices their interests to his own personal gain, is a crook and deserves punishment as such, no matter what methods he uses.

If the New Haven incident makes such things hereafter impossible; if it revolutionizes the railroad business so that railroads will be run by railroad men instead of by financiers who are really great buccaners; if railroad business is hereafter conducted by the Elliots instead of by the Mellens and Morgans; then the New Haven atrocity will be worth every cent it has cost, and the New Haven stockholders will have suffered for the common good.

Milwaukee men told the vice hunters that the city is getting good. Is it going to make an effort to get famous on its own account?

ONE SOURCE OF CALAMITY.

HOWLING.
One source of the "hard times" talk that has been afloat of late, or was until the great crop prospects and the storm of indications of good business drowned it out, is made very clear by a "special dispatch" dated Chicago which appears in the Detroit Free Press, the Portland Oregonian and other Bourbon Old Guard Republican newspapers.

It is a column and a half of pessimism and political press dope of the old type which has been turned out by the yard by the fellows who used to write the "full dinner pail" stuff in McKinley's time, and it starts out this familiar way:

Judging by what one hears on the street, in the hotels, on trains and other places where men assemble, the majority of people in the Middle West welcome the opportunity to change the administration in Washington.

With this as its keynote, the article proceeds to draw a distressing picture of business conditions and an optimistic picture of Republican prospects.

"Many factories have curtailed their forces and reduced their working time," it says, "so that the great army of idle men has been increased."

"Railroads have been hit hard."

"The wage demands by the railway labor unions have steadily increased. Aided by legislation the unions have also forced much additional expense upon the roads in the way of extra employees, shorter hours and similar concessions that add greatly to the expense burden but do not improve the service." A great tenderness for railroads in this Republican "dope," and mighty little solicitude for the welfare of railway workers.

Much is made of this: "Secretary of Labor Wilson, in a recent statement, announced that the national administration was extremely friendly to union labor, so the railroad men understand that they would get no sympathy or assistance in the event of a strike that would paralyze the entire West."

Passing from this tear-shedding for the railroads over the wrongs done them by lawmakers and unions, the Republican press agent gloats hopelessly over the dwindled Bull Moose vote in the primaries in many states, which he construes to be a sign that the Bull Moosers are flocking back into the Republican ranks—ready, presumably, to swallow any poison the Old Guard may see fit to offer them.

The defeat of Senator Gray, a progressive Republican, by Congressman Burke, a standpatter, is also looked upon as a wholesome sign.

Returning for a wind-up to the havoc done by the Democratic ticket, the Republican press agent closes thus: "The tariff has borne down heavily upon many Wisconsin industries which flourished under the protective system, but now are on the verge of ruin."

This association of calamity talk with Old Guard Republican "dope" shows the source of a good deal of such rot.

Moreover, it shows that if there is any doubt about which element controls the remnants of the Republican party, progressive or standpater, there is no doubt whatever about which element controls the party press agent. It is the same element that supports Barnes in New York, Penrose in Pennsylvania, Smoot in Utah and Cannon in Illinois.

The pessimist says Huerta will resign during Bernhard's last tour.

MINNESOTA'S FIRST CITIZEN.

Minnesota does not forget that it was John Lind who was the president's personal representative in Mexico, that it was John Lind whose investigation of Mexican conditions and whose reports to the president formed the basis of the successful and humane policy that has worked out practically without bloodshed the achievement for humanity and peace which was President Wilson's aim.

And it is John Lind who puts in a phrase the character of the Huerta absolutism which has finally broken down under the pressure of American displeasure, when he calls it truly "a regime of privilege, loot and murder."

To destroy such a regime without a war, against the pressure and abuse of a bitter opposition of privilege and partisanship at home, is a great achievement; and much of the credit is shared with President Wilson by Minnesota's first citizen, John Lind.

And be careful not to confuse the two expressions, "administration anti-trust program" and "anti-administration trust program."

PASS THE SMELLING SALTS!

The ostensible objection to having Messrs. Jones and Warburg on the Federal reserve board is that they are associated with Big Business.

Among those who are classified as opposing these men are the following: Senator Brandegee of Connecticut; Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire; Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania; Senator Root of New York; Senator Lodge of Massachusetts; Senator Smoot of Utah; And more of the same brand.

The Republican Old Guard, mind you, opposing President Wilson's nominees on the ground that they are associated with Big Business!

Hypocrisy, thou art king in politics!

Unless the pronunciation-sharps come quickly to the rescue, there is likely to be more or less dissatisfaction over Carbajal's occupation of the Mexican presidency.

SUPPORT FOR SUGAR.

The Bull Moose forces are professing to be jubilant over news from Louisiana that the "Democrats" of that state are turning Bull Moose, and that they are going to try to send some "Progressive" congressman to Washington this fall in place of Democrats.

Democrats are presumed to be melancholy over this news, but it's silly of them if they are.

The trouble, of course, is being sugar. The duty on sugar is being removed, twenty-five per cent at a lick until it will all be gone; and Louisiana is a sugar-producing state. Hence the threatened defection.

Hence the threatened defection. "If any senator and congressman from Sugar" should leave the party, the party would no longer have to explain such facts as that sugar Democrats voted with Aldrich regularly on the Payne-Aldrich bill.

Of course a Democrat who is for low tariffs or free trade on everything except the particular thing his district produces, and who is willing to vote for protection on pretty nearly everything in the hope of getting protection for his particular industry by trading, is no Democrat at all.

It is not at all improbable that he is a Bull Moose; and if he is, that's the party he ought to join.

And now a Frenchman can claim the honor of having won a fight by holding his head in his hands.

Some Results of the New Tariff

From the New York Journal of Commerce.

The new tariff has not been long enough in operation thoroughly to test its results, but its effects are already becoming more apparent. Practical operation of the new law, in official circles, was doubtless a surprise many persons, and none more than those who have predicted disaster and ruin from its enactment. The truth is that, as in most instances, the tariff has done what it was intended to do.

First, it has protected the tariff revenue. The tariff revenue has been maintained at a level which is a good deal higher than it was before the tariff was enacted. The tariff revenue has been maintained at a level which is a good deal higher than it was before the tariff was enacted.

A Democratic Kingdom

Editorial by Boston Globe.

King Olaf, when King Harold, my father, went westward to England the Englishmen in Norway followed him. He was so popular that such men have not since been found in the country. But what was nearly 1,000 years ago, and things have changed considerably since the days of those husky old pirates and freebooters, who helped to lay the foundations of civilization in England.

The early kings of the kingdom of Norway gave the pictures of Norwegian life and character in Viking times. They describe a monarchial republic in which the king was sort of traveling hostler, with little direct authority, boarding around on the farms of his subjects in rotation. He called it "going into guest-quarters." In a poor country, with a scattered population, that was the only way in which he could collect his taxes.

They were excellent persons, those Norsemen—honest, straightforward, sincere and wise in speech, prompt in action, and not a bit afraid of death. They were excellent persons, those Norsemen—honest, straightforward, sincere and wise in speech, prompt in action, and not a bit afraid of death.

But if the early sagas are sanguine about the Norsemen, the sagas are also full of tales of their adventures and exploits. They were excellent persons, those Norsemen—honest, straightforward, sincere and wise in speech, prompt in action, and not a bit afraid of death.

King Olaf was quite a different person. He was a different person, those Norsemen—honest, straightforward, sincere and wise in speech, prompt in action, and not a bit afraid of death.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, July 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman of Illinois inclines toward the unconventional. He does not fret himself over such minor issues as money and power. He is not a politician in the ordinary sense of the word. He is a man of letters, a man of letters, a man of letters.

When Sherman was practicing law in Macomb, he lived for a time at a hotel there that was endeavoring to maintain certain standards of class and tone. Summer came with its open-work shirtwaists, humidity, resort folders and sleeping-under-blanket liars. The dining room in the hotel got the noonday sun and Sherman's table was in a particularly hot part of the room. He found himself thoroughly uncomfortable with his coat on. And so he removed his coat one noon and he was back of the back of his chair. The shirt he then exposed may have been as natty as those shown on young men who ride in motor boats in the shirt and collar advertisements.

But it was clean and the colors were conservative. Within a moment or two after Sherman's arrival, the proprietor of the hotel went to Sherman and told him in a low tone that eating one's victuals in shirt sleeves was contrary to the hotel's dignity and the establishment.

Sherman glared at him and stated that men in shirt sleeves are for the most part the tollers and represent the bulk of this great nation.

To this the proprietor merely smiled tentatively and declared that while all that Sherman said might be true, yet he believed that the hotel was in the dining room of this hotel.

Then Sherman issued an ultimatum. He said he would finish his meal in his shirt sleeves unless stopped by the police and that in future if the objection continued he would eat at another hotel or on a street corner—that in any event he would not wear a coat again at meal time until Sept. 15.

And as soon as he had finished his dinner he made up his mind that he would give the proprietor no cause for regret. He resolved to make himself just as neat and attractive as possible. So he went straightway to a notion store and bought himself the finest pair of nickel-plated collar wire neckholders that was in stock.

Francis Shelley White, the new senator from Alabama, became known to the state as a lawyer, a lawyer, a lawyer. He does not belong to the noisy school of lawyers who upset the courtroom with their bluffs and bluster, but while quiet and inoffensive, White never lacks for a word.

When he first moved to Alabama he was introduced to an old lawyer in a case that was full of difficult angles. Along toward the middle of the afternoon on the day of the trial the older lawyer leaned over and whispered to White, with his hand up to his mouth, that one of them would have to make a long speech in order to make the case last another day.

The idea was that if they could just get the trial to hold over the next day, they would have all night to think up schemes with which to baffle the other side.

"Well, you'd better do the talking," suggested White. "You're more experienced than I am. Go ahead and make a speech."

"Oh, you're the one to make the speech," insisted White's associate. "There's a reason that I'll explain to you later why you'd better do the talking. This sort of speechmaking that I am."

That rather flattered White. It appeared that there was a certain kind of speech for which his talents were especially adapted and he had been overlooking an opportunity. So he got up and talked for about two hours and a half, and then he was back of the case at issue and numerous ramifications of the law. The court interrupted him to say that the hour of adjournment had arrived and that if the attorney had much more to say they would have to wait until the morning.

After adjournment White took his associate to one side to learn why it was that he had been selected to make the speech.

"Well, the fact is," the older lawyer told him, "I can't talk for two hours without saying anything. And today it wouldn't have done to say anything. You got along fine."

Speaker Clark taught a country school one year that started off at the beginning of the term with nineteen pupils. They were mostly boys and nearly all were unruly boys. Some of them brought cartridges to school and displayed them prominently on their desks.

At the end of two months only forty-eight pupils remained out of the original ninety-seven. Champ Clark had killed the rest down just that much.

Baltimore Star: The New York Times yesterday printed two pages of comment on the business situation from business men in all sections of the country. Speaking generally, this direct testimony bears out the implications of the clearing house figures, to which we have several times called attention. It shows that, at this time, there has been a pronounced depression in certain lines—in railroads and the steel and iron industry, principally.

—this depression has not been general, but has been confined to certain sections of the country and to certain lines of goods. In many sections trade for the last six months has been good as in 1913 or has exceeded that mark. Automobile dealers are almost a unit in reporting business as good as or better than last year, and automobiles, one might expect, would not sell in huge quantities unless the people generally were prosperous.

But whatever their reports as to business thus far this year, the men quoted are absolutely a unit in predicting good times ahead. "There is no doubt," says the Times, "running through the entire mass of reports a feeling of confidence in the immediate future. This is not a mere perfunctory optimism that is easily tapped, but rings true and is supported by conditions cited in the now published figures."

Many of the writers instinctively turn to the delay of the interstate commerce commission in handing down its decision in the rate case as the greatest single deterrent to a greatly stimulated trade. But their combined voices seem not to carry as far as Washington.

SINGING IN THE CITY'S PARKS.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Kindly tell us, through the Open Court, if boys are allowed to sing in the parks after 9 o'clock. The park cup voiced his objections with a "Go somewhere else and yell," but really, we don't yell, and we can't sing on the streets or in a hall, and as long as the people don't object, why should the park cup?

G. C.

C. J.
Duluth, July 16.

There is no specific ordinance against singing, only the general one against disorderly conduct. Maybe the "park cup" has no ear for music, and maybe some of the "people" do object to him. There is also the question of how long after 9 o'clock you sang, and what would be the result if every citizen who visited the park burst into song. Then the class of songs has some bearing on the question. On the whole, it is a complicated question of citizens' rights, and The Editor would have to hear your voices before deciding whether the "park cup" was right or wrong.—The Editor.

"PROHIBITION IN HISTORY."

To the Editor of The Herald:
In the July 8 issue of your paper appeared an article entitled "Prohibition in History" and labeled "advertisement." "Ancient Temperance Sentiment" would be a better title for the article.

The heart of the argument in the article referred to is that prohibition will prove to be an evil by driving wine and beer from the market and people will turn from these "harmless" drinks to distilled, which—this article infers—are much more harmful. Let us turn the searchlight of modern inquiry on the wine and beer question. Listen to this present kaiser as he speaks to his naval cadets:

"I know very well that the love of drink is an old heritage of the Germans. Formerly it was considered extremely smart and dashing for young people to take and carry a great quantity of drink. These are old views, suited for the Thirty Years' war but not for today. The next war, the next naval encounter, will require of you sound nerves. These are undermined by alcohol, endangered from youth up, by its use."

Hear also Judge Lang of Zurich, Switzerland:

"Before all, we must fight beer. Brandy makes a man sick, beer makes him stupid. Nowhere does the thick-skinned Philistine flourish as around a beer table. But the coming race must be fine feeling, with nerves to the finger tips."

Also Dr. Dulbreck, before the Bremen anti-alcohol congress:

"Anti-alcoholists must fight beer far more intensely than spirits. In comparing the alcoholism of various lands we see that the beer and wine lands are the most alcohol drenched (France, Belgium, Bavaria) and that the 'schnapps' lands (Sweden and Norway) the least so. The beer danger is for the future far greater than the spirits danger."

These are big thinking men of the twentieth century.

Now we come to the fear expressed in the "Ancient History" advertisement that the government would fail in enforcing the prohibition law against the distilleries and thus give them a monopoly to the lasting injury of the people. This can best be answered by a statement from a recent liquor publication:

"It is mere play," says the writer, "to argue that prohibition does not prohibit. It is folly for us to hope that the American people will fail in enforcing any legislation they deem essential to their welfare. We must find other argument if the liquor business is to continue."

COUNTY WILL REDEEM BONDS

Missabe Railroad Aid Issue

of 1893 Will Be Retired.

Formal notice of the intention of St. Louis county to redeem the $250,000 Missabe railroad aid bonds issue of 1893 on Oct. 1 was given yesterday to the Plummer Loan & Trust company of New York city, which represents the owners. The notice was given by Neil McInnis, chairman of the county board, and Odie Halden, county auditor. The bonds were issued for thirty years with the right reserved to the county to retire them at any time after twenty years by giving sixty days' notice. The bonds draw 5 per cent interest annually. When the bonds are redeemed the county will have paid $262,500 interest. By redeeming the bonds at the end of the 20-year period instead of waiting until the expiration of thirty years, the county will save $25,000 in interest alone.

IONIC'S OUTING

ON WEDNESDAY

Several Hundred Masons

Will Hold Picnic at Cloquet.

A special train, which will leave the Union station at 12:45 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon, will carry more than 300 Masons and their wives or sweethearts to Cloquet, where the annual picnic of Ionic lodge, No. 184, A. F. & A. M. of this city will be held. All arrangements for the affair have been completed and it is expected that the occasion will be attended by fair weather. At least H. W. Richardson, the weather forecaster, has promised a bright summer day and Mr. Richardson, a picnic master of Ionic lodge, will be among the pickers, he says.

The picnic at Cloquet will be the second annual outdoor reunion of Ionic lodge. The affair last year was held at Chambers Grove, Fond du Lac, in spite of frequent showers proved to be such a success that it was decided to repeat it on a larger scale this year.

The usual game of picnic sports will be carried out. The program will be featured by a five-inning baseball game between the members of Ionic lodge and a team organized from the membership of Duluth lodge, No. 181 of Cloquet. There will be other sports, races and contests for men, women and children.

After the program of sports there will be dancing at the pavilion in the park where the picnic will be held. Music will be furnished from 5 to 7 and during that time picnic lunches will be disposed of. The special train will return to Duluth leaving Cloquet about 8 o'clock in the evening.

Ionic lodge has extended an invitation to all Masons and their families to attend. This not only includes the members of the local lodges but all sojourning members of the fraternity who may be in the city at the time.

Excursion tickets may be purchased from anyone of the following: W. D. Underhill, 205 Exchange building; Edward Armstrong, Herald office; Joseph Vanderyacht, Board of Trade; Ray Pennington, 244 Fourth avenue; or Carl E. Longren, 124 West Superior street.

SECRETARY BRYAN SAYS HE IS IN FAVOR OF GIVING THE WOMEN THE RIGHT TO VOTE

Answers Some Objections and Discusses Points for Suffrage.

"Best Argument" Mother's Claim of Right to Protect Children.

Extended Statement Is Given Out Anent Nebraska Campaign.

Washington, July 17.—Secretary Bryan, in a formal statement issued last night, came out for woman suffrage. He declared he would ask no political right for himself that he was not willing to grant his wife, and announced his intention of supporting the proposed state constitutional amendment extending the franchise to women to be voted upon in Nebraska next November.

Woman, Mr. Bryan said, had proved herself equal to every responsibility imposed upon her, and would not fail society in this emergency. Above all other arguments in favor of giving her the ballot, he placed the right of the mother to a voice in the molding of the environment of her children.

"The mother," the secretary said, "can justly claim the right to employ every weapon which can be made effective for the protection of those whose interests she guards, and the ballot will put within her reach all the instrumentalities of government, including the police power."

The statement follows in full: "The voters of Nebraska will at the election next November adopt or reject a proposed amendment extending suffrage to women on equal terms with men. As a citizen of that state it will be my duty to support the decision to be rendered at the polls. I have delayed expressing an opinion on this subject, partly because I have been seeking information and partly because my time has been occupied with national questions upon which the entire country was acting; but now that the issue is before my state, I take my position. I shall support the amendment. I shall ask no political rights for myself that I am not willing to grant to my wife."

"As man and woman are co-tenants of the earth and must work out their destiny together, the presumption is on the side of equal treatment in all that pertains to their joint life and its opportunities. The burden of proof is on those who claim for one an advantage in the exercise of the franchise which the other is denied. The conditions under which both shall live. This claim has not been established in the matter of suffrage. On the contrary, the objection raised to woman suffrage appears more to be a prejudice than a principle. The arguments advanced in support of the proposition are, in my judgment, convincing."

"The first objection which I remember to have heard was that, as woman cannot bear arms, she should not have a voice in deciding questions that might lead to war, or the laws that might require an army for their enforcement. This argument is self-evidently based on the theory that as civilization advances laws are obeyed by the force of public opinion, not merely because they have power and lead behind them. And as we look back on the past we wonder whether the peace movement would not have grown more rapidly than it has, had women who suffer more than man from the results of war, been consulted before hostilities began."

"Second, it is urged by some that woman's life is burdened by the care, and that the addition of suffrage would either overburden her or turn her attention away from the duties of the home. The answer made to this is that the exercise of the franchise might result in a change of thought and occupation that would relieve the woman's weary hand and give her a restful variety to her activities, and surely the home will not suffer if the mother's life is made more restful. She is able to discuss intelligently with her family the science of government and the art of successfully administering it." work a harm to woman by lessening the respect in which she is held. This argument would have more weight had it not been employed against every proposition advanced in favor of the enlargement of woman's sphere. This objection was once raised to the higher education of woman, but is no longer heard. The same objection was offered each time a woman was asked to share the burden of suffering degradation, has risen.

These objections, however, honestly advanced, have proved impotent to retard woman's progress. May not the fears sincerely entertained by the opponents of woman suffrage be founded as groundless as those that once forced the widow in Eastern India to ascend the funeral pyre, or at those that exclude Mohammedan women from the social benefits and responsibilities which the women of the Christian world share?

These objections above stated, refuted, to some extent at least, by the fact that in the states which have adopted woman suffrage (and in the other nations that have adopted it) there is no evidence of any serious social or political disaster. Organization is an evidence of earnestness, as well as of a comprehension of the situation. It is not to be associated with a desire to secure a given end until they have secured a definite conclusion in regard to its desirability and feel that its accomplishment is worth the sacrifice. It is quite evident that those who disinterestedly desire woman suffrage are not making any sacrifice to secure it. It is quite evident that those who disinterestedly oppose woman suffrage are not making any sacrifice to prevent it.

The strongest argument, "As I myself am not in doubt as to my duty, it is not my purpose to discuss the subject of woman suffrage at this time, but to present the argument to which I give the greatest weight."

"Without minimizing other arguments advanced in support of the extension of suffrage to woman, I place the emphasis upon the mother's right to a voice in the environment in which she operates powerfully in determining whether her offspring will grow her later years with joy or bring down her gray hairs in sorrow to the grave."

"The Creator has placed upon the mother a burden which she could not shake if she desired. She has been given her the disposition to bear it. Her life trembles in the balance. Her children's birth, her active years are given to the care and nurture of her children; her nerve forces and vital energy are expended in their behalf; her exhaustless love is poured out upon them. Because the wealth of her existence is bestowed upon them, they are a part of her treasure. Here will your heart be also."

When one considers the cost to parents, especially to the mother, of bringing a child into the world, it seems impossible that any one would attempt to lead a child into the world without the protection of the mother's right to a voice in the environment in which she operates powerfully in determining whether her offspring will grow her later years with joy or bring down her gray hairs in sorrow to the grave."

"The mother can justly claim the right to employ every weapon which can be made effective for the protection of those whose interests she guards, and the ballot will put within her reach all the instrumentalities of government, including the police power."

"If she is a widow, there is no one who is in a position to speak for her in this matter of supreme importance; if her husband is living, she can supplement his influence if they are of one mind; if they are not, she should be consulted."

"As to leaving it to women. One who is impressed by the suggestion that the question should be left to the women to decide, may be left to determine whether the franchise should be extended to women, but I find myself less and less disposed to endorse this test. Samuel Johnson once said: 'What is a man's conscience can tell him the right of another man.'"

"Responsibility for the child's welfare rests primarily upon the parent; the parent receives in largest measure the blessings that flow from the child's life, if that life is no longer played, and upon the parent falls the blow with severest force if the child's life is misspent. Therefore, the use of the franchise to safeguard the welfare of her child merely because another mother may not view her daughter in the same light."

"Politics will not suffer by woman's entrance into the political world. It has been a pure in spite of the evil influences that operated to debauch it, it will not be polluted by the presence and participation of woman. Neither should we doubt that woman can be trusted with the ballot. She has proved herself equal to every responsibility imposed upon her; she will not fail society in this emergency. Let her vote, and may that discernment which she has throughout the ages enable her to quickly grasp great truths—made her the last at the cross and the first at the sepulchre—so direct her in the discharge of her political duties as to add new glories to her high and still further blessed society."

Farmers Will Take Possession of the Armory Saturday, July 25.

The public market at the Armory is expected to open a week from tomorrow, Saturday, July 25.

K. D. Van Wagenen, agricultural agent for St. Louis county, has written Mayor Feltner that the farmers tributary to the city will probably be ready to offer their products for sale by that time.

The entire basement floor of the Armory, Second street east and First street, will be turned over to the farmers for market purposes. The works division is rapidly marking out six avenues east and Superior street and equipment which has been kept in the Armory.

Mayor Prince states that the farmers will be given every advantage which the city can afford them. The basement will be thoroughly renovated, benches and tables will be provided and a rest room installed for the farmers. The city will lend every aid to make the market a success.

"I trust that the farmers will be patronized," said the mayor this morning. "A successful market will be a benefit to the city as well as to the farmers. It will further the development of the rich farming tributary to Duluth and will be a factor in reducing the high cost of living."

RECEIVED $3,000; HEIRS GOT $300.
John Babich, ex-saloon keeper, arrested on a charge of withholding $2,700 from the estate of George Musavich, who was killed three years ago on the Omaha road, asked for an examination when retained in police court yesterday afternoon on a charge of grand larceny. The hearing was set for Monday afternoon.

Babich is alleged to have obtained power of attorney from relatives of the deceased and to have effected a settlement when retained in police court yesterday afternoon on a charge of grand larceny. He is asserted that he sent but $300 to heirs in the old country.

Lois Musavich came to this country several months ago and began to croak. She was taken to the hospital and died. Her estate was valued at $3,000 in settlement of the claim. The arrest of Babich followed.

Babich was the West Duluth saloon keeper who started out for a ride on the Omaha and was killed. He was stopped it, had to keep going until the gasoline was consumed.

PRESIDENT CANCELS CABINET MEETING.
Has Been Suffering From the Heat—Mrs. Wilson Also Ill.

Washington, July 17.—President Wilson had practically recovered from his attack of indigestion today, but it was decided that he had best remain quiet and the cabinet meeting and other engagements were canceled. The president spent a quiet night and felt much better. He expects to go to his office Monday.

The president's illness was complicated by a cold in the stomach. He has been greatly annoyed by the heat recently, but refuses to leave Washington as long as Congress is at work. He declared that the disease was carried by water, contact and carriers. Quoting statistics, he said that from 4 to 6 per cent of typhoid patients become carriers.

BRITONS PUT BLAME ON BRITISH VESSEL.
Incenore Is Blamed for Collision With German Boat.

London, July 17.—The admiralty court today found the British steamer Incenore responsible for the collision on June 17 with the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II, just after that liner had left Southampton for Cherbourg and New York.

Sir Bargarve Deane, the judge, in giving his decision said he found the Incenore had made a mistake in giving a signal that she stopped when as a matter of fact she had not done so. This, he said, had misled those on board the Kaiser Wilhelm II, and had caused a collision in a thick fog which resulted in considerable damage to the German vessel.

HEALTH DATA HAVE VALUE

Their Importance Is Urged Upon Wisconsin Officials.

Typhoid Fever Is a Disgrace, Says Eau Claire Man.

Madison, Wis., July 17.—The necessity of a complete record of communicable diseases was advocated before the state health conference in session here today by L. W. Hutchcroft, statistician for the state board of health.

Under a state law, health officers must make a survey of the health conditions of their localities at least once a year.

The accurate gathering of statistics of communicable diseases is primarily the most important duty which the health officer has to perform, declared Mr. Hutchcroft. He declared that a survey of health conditions includes the gathering of vital statistics and complete data on communicable diseases, sewer disposal, water supplies, garbage disposal, nuisances, the condition of public buildings, dairy and milk inspection, and an inspection of bakeries and slaughter houses.

"The milk supply of a community is of first importance," said Mr. Hutchcroft. "Many infants and young children have no other food supply; therefore, it is of vital importance to their welfare that pure, wholesome milk be provided."

Typical "A. Diagnosis."
"We must quit talking about a residual typhoid death rate and reduce it to naught. Remember that it is a disgrace to any place to have typhoid as it is a disease of filth. Now it is a disgrace to any place to have typhoid in riding the state of this disease."

This was the admonition of Dr. F. M. Johnson of Eau Claire in his address on "Typhoid Infection." Dr. Johnson said that the death rate in European countries in 1910 from typhoid per 100,000 population was 6.5, compared with a rate of 25 per cent in fifty American cities having 100,000 or over inhabitants. He said that the excess of deaths from typhoid in the United States was 18.5 per cent. He declared that the disease was carried by water, contact and carriers. Quoting statistics, he said that from 4 to 6 per cent of typhoid patients become carriers.

"Bright Eyes" will be remembered by many as the play in which Cecil Leach and Florence Holbrook starred here several years ago. The local players present much of the same production and include in addition several new songs and scenic numbers. The chorus is exceptionally well trained, while the scenic arrangements are all worthy of special mention.

One of the hits of the show is the role of Tom, the actor, scored a hit at the opening performance yesterday. Mr. Boyle Woolfolk players, who are at the Empress for four weeks, is even better than "The Winning Miss," which was presented the first half of this week.

HEALTH DATA HAVE VALUE

Their Importance Is Urged Upon Wisconsin Officials.

Typhoid Fever Is a Disgrace, Says Eau Claire Man.

Madison, Wis., July 17.—The necessity of a complete record of communicable diseases was advocated before the state health conference in session here today by L. W. Hutchcroft, statistician for the state board of health.

Under a state law, health officers must make a survey of the health conditions of their localities at least once a year.

The accurate gathering of statistics of communicable diseases is "primarily the most important duty which the health officer has to perform," declared Mr. Hutchcroft. He declared that a survey of health conditions included the gathering of vital statistics and complete data on conditions of diseases, sewage disposal, water supplies, garbage disposal, nuisances, and public buildings and dairies.

FORMER TREASURER IS FULLY PARDONED.

Bismarck, N. D., July 17.—The pardon for C. L. Hickford, former state treasurer, operated when he was released from the state penitentiary after being brought here Wednesday afternoon from his home at Bowbells by Sheriff Simon of McLean county.

Hickford was convicted over two years ago in district court after his case had taken a change of venue from Burleigh county to McLean. He was convicted on a charge of embezzling public funds while in office.

STEEL PLANT SUBURBS

NEW SCHOOLS FOR SUBURBS

Building at Morgan Park Will Accommodate
1,000 Children.

Twelve-Room Building for Gary and New Duluth.

A sum estimated at $200,000 will be spent in the suburbs during the next year for school purposes according to announcements made by members of the Duluth school board. The spending of this money depends greatly on whether the bonds will be authorized by the citizens of Duluth at the school election tomorrow.

The greater item will be for the construction of the school building at Morgan park. A building of twenty-four rooms planned to care for more than 1,000 children will be erected at this place. Plans for the building will be made as soon as it is ascertained that the bonds have carried.

The school building at Morgan park of this size will be an absolute necessity next year. It is stated on good authority that before March 1, 1915 everyone of the 175 buildings now constructed or under construction will be occupied by families of employees of the steel plant and that probably 200 other families will reside within walking distance of the institution.

The plant is expected to begin operation about April 1, next year and the families of the majority of the employees will have moved to the city by that time. The Morgan park school will cost about $140,000.

The other $60,000 will be spent this fall and winter for the construction of a school building that will be located midway between New Duluth and Gary. A twelve-room building is being planned and these plans will be submitted at the meeting of the board to be held on the first Friday in August.

GOOD PROGRESS ON STREET WORK

Fourth Street Paving May Be Completed Next Month.

Street construction work is being rapidly pushed at Morgan park. A crew of men started the paving of Fourth street this week and will complete that thoroughfare before the end of next month if the weather is favorable.

Third street is already nearly finished. The streets are being paved with concrete and concrete sidewalks. The work has been held up during the last two months owing to heavy rains but contractors in charge say they are now looking for a continuation of good weather.

Fourth street will be the principal thoroughfare in the small city. On this street will be located all of the business houses, office buildings and the street car line. The new street car line will be laid in the street along with the paving. This thoroughfare will be extended to the intersection of Zimmerman avenue and the present county road. The roadway from Morgan park to the intersection will probably not be completed until next year owing to trouble met in making fills on the highway.

EAGLES TEAM WILL PLAY NEW DULUTH.

The Eagles' baseball team of Duluth will play the New Duluth team at the latter's grounds Sunday afternoon. Arrangements for the game were completed yesterday by Manager Frank Wach of the New Duluths and Manager Donah of the Eagles.

E. church, was tendered a reception by members of his former flock at the church last evening. The reception was in the nature of a farewell, owing to the termination of Rev. ### HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM LIGHTNING.

The narrow escape of the family of her uncle from being killed in a thunder storm Wednesday night is told by Miss Myrtle Maghan, 1815 Piedmont avenue, who returned last evening from a two weeks' visit with her uncle, A. J. Maghan, at Bay Lake, Minn. Lightning struck the home shortly after midnight Wednesday, wrecked the house, although there were fifteen persons in the building; only one was injured.

The sliding from more than half of the building was torn off. Plaster in the walls and ceiling was knocked off the walls and many of the rooms completely wrecked. Alfred Maghan, the cousin, was stunned by the light, but recovered shortly afterwards.

Birthday Surprise.

Mrs. J. J. Smith, 1817 Piedmont avenue, was pleasantly surprised at her birthday anniversary last evening by a number of her friends in honor of her birthday. Music and refreshments featured the afternoon's program. Mrs. Smith was presented with a number of handsome gifts by her friends. There were twenty guests present.

QUAKER GASKINS ANSWERS A FEW QUESTIONS

Telling You What the Quaker Herb Remedies Will Cure, and Why They Are the Best Spring, Summer, Fall or Winter Medicines in the World

People ask: Will Quaker Herb Extract build up and strengthen the blood? Yes, nothing better. Will Quaker Herb Extract cure rheumatism? Yes, with the assistance of the Oil of Balm. Will Quaker Herb Extract cure catarrh? Yes, it is a blood germ disease of the mucous lining of the inner system, and through the use of Quaker Herb Extract it can be cured because it cleanses the slimy and poisonous mucus from the linings, heals it and expels it through the action of the bowels.

Will Quaker Herb Extract cure indigestion? Yes, it will cure, because indigestion is generally caused from the gas rising from the lower bowels, the digestive forces are not sufficient to cause the digestive organs to act properly, and Quaker Herb Extract will strengthen and build them up. Will Quaker Herb Extract cure constipation, dyspepsia and biliousness? Yes, for the same reason it cures indigestion.

Will Quaker Herb Extract cure liver and kidney troubles? Yes, for it renovates the liver and kidneys, taking the liver out of that torpid condition, taking the inflammation out of the kidneys and bladder and putting those organs to work and expel the uric acid from the system. Will Quaker Herb Extract cure malaria, chills and fever? Yes, for it builds up the blood and expels all fever germs from the system.

Will Quaker Herb Extract expel worms? Yes, it matters not what kind they be, for there is a vermifuge in Quaker Herb Extract that will expel all worm germs from the system.

Will Quaker Herb Extract build up weak, run-down men or women? Yes, it builds up the blood; and every organ, nerve and muscle in the body depends on the condition of the blood. Will Quaker Herb Extract cure that belching, bloating palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, dizziness and headache? Yes, for it cleanses that slimy and mucous from the intestines, stomach and expels it through the regular action of the bowels, leaving the membrane in a clean, healthy condition.

Of course, everybody knows that every one should take some kind of a blood purifier, at least once a year. Why not take one that is composed of Nature's own remedies. It has been handed down from our forefathers, and the friends of the Quakers, who are noted for their long life and good health, and when you take the Quaker Herb Extract and use the Oil of Balm you are using the same remedies that those people used one hundred years ago and it has been proven beyond a doubt there never was a more healthy, robust class of people on earth than the Indians, and the Quakers, our forefathers, and history will bear us out in this assertion, and all they ever knew was to go out in the woods and gather roots, herbs, barks, berries, leaves and blossoms and from these they obtained the extract of which they used generously for their ills, and were made well. Now this is the kind of medicine Gaskins, the Quaker Health Teacher, is introducing at the Orpheum Pharmacy, 201 East Superior street, Duluth, Minn. Are you surprised at the thousands of people that are being cured? Call. Have a talk with the Quaker Health Teacher. It costs you nothing. He is at the Drug Store, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., daily. Gaskins proves what he says.—Advertisement.

FONDLES WRONG SNAKE.

Red Wing Snake Handler Bitten By Rattler and May Die.

Red Wing, Minn., July 17.—Bitten by a monster rattlesnake, David Nord is in a hospital in serious condition. Mr. Nord, who makes a profession of catching snakes for the market, was demonstrating to a number of friends at his store, where he has a number of snakes on exhibition, how easy it was to pick up reptiles. He had picked up the largest snake in the box a number of times, when it suddenly struck him, burying its fangs deep into the middle finger of his left hand.

He hurried to a doctor's office to have the wound treated. The doctor excised the cut portion of the bite and thoroughly cauterized the wound. His arm is badly swollen up to his shoulder and shows discolorations.

HER KIND OFFER.

Lippincott's: James K. Hackett tells the story of a merchant who had been traveling some months, and upon his return was informed of the death of a valued friend.

A few days later he called on the bereaved widow to offer his expressions of sympathy. During the visit he remarked:

"I was a good friend of your late husband. Is there not something of which I could have as a memento of him?"

She raised her velvet brown eyes to his, which a few moments before were moist with tears, and said:

"How would I do?"

CHURCH VOTES TO JOIN THE BRETHREN

Methodist Protestants Favor Merger of Organizations.

Columbus, Ohio, July 17.—Delegates to the general conference of the Methodist Protestant Church of America, at their closing session here last night, accepted the report of a special committee recommending a merger with the United Brethren Church of America. The ratification of the report would affect about 500,000 persons. The United Protestant church is the name which has been selected for the new organization.

Before the union is effected, the consent of the members of the United Brethren church must be obtained. A referendum vote on the proposal is being taken by this denomination, and church officials said the proposal undoubtedly would be approved.

The Methodist conference appointed a commission headed by Dr. L. E. Davis of Pittsburg, president of the conference, to meet a United Brethren commission and complete the details of the consolidation. A meeting will be called as soon as the United Brethren commission is ready to report.

BRIDE IS MURDERED; COUSIN IS SOUGHT.

Dubuque, Iowa, July 17.—Mrs. Allen, 17 years old and seven days a bride, was murdered Wednesday night. The police and relatives of the young woman are searching for George Delain to question him concerning the case. Delain is a cousin of the murdered woman and is said to have paid her attentions before her marriage. Allen and his wife had been to Hopkinton, Iowa, Wednesday afternoon to buy furniture for their new home. On their way back, about a mile out of Hopkinton, they were accosted by a man who stepped from the side of the road.

"Is that you, Eva?" said a voice. "Yes," replied Mrs. Allen. A shot was then fired by the man. The bullet struck Mrs. Allen in the abdomen.

Mrs. Allen, before becoming unconscious, is reported to have said she recognized the voice as that of her cousin, George Delain.

FORMER CHICAGO BOARD HEAD DIES

WALTER FITCH.

Eau Claire, Wis., July 17.—Walter Fitch, former president of the Chicago Board of Trade and head of the firm of Walter Fitch & Co., died suddenly yesterday at his summer home near here.

Mr. Fitch arrived in the city Monday intending to spend the remainder of the summer here. His wife did not come with him but was expected to arrive in a few days. It is not known at just what hour he died. The fact was discovered by his niece, Mrs. Louis Basting of Minneapolis, who went to his room to call him about 10 o'clock.

Mr. Fitch had been in rather poor health for several years, but when here a few weeks ago he informed his friends that he was feeling unusually well.

Mr. Fitch was years ago a resident of Eau Claire, leaving here about twenty-five years ago for Ashland, where he was in the grain business, going from there to Milwaukee for a short time, then to Chicago. He was a prominent clubman and at one time was president of the South Shore Country club and also held that office in the Chicago Athletic club. Mr. Fitch held a membership in the New York Stock exchange and was affiliated with other principal exchanges.

Walter Fitch was born at Fox Lake, Wis., Dec. 16, 1861. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Maude Harper, a native of Chatham, New Brunswick, Can., a sister, Sarah, Dr. D. W. Ashum of this city, a brother-in-law, Mrs. Louis O. Basting, a niece, and John H. Ashum, a nephew, the latter being a member of the firm of Walker Fitch & Co., of Chicago.

RESERVE BANK WORK GOES ON

Rapid Progress Made in Forming Boards of Directors.

Names of Assured Officials Are Told at Washington.

Washington, July 17.—Rapid progress in the organization of the boards of directors of the twelve Federal reserve banks in the nation's new currency system, is indicated in the announcement by the organization committee of names of several candidates whose elections have been assured.

District No. 6, with headquarters at Richmond, Va., has elected three Class A, and three Class B, directors, and all that remain to complete the board in that district is the naming by the Federal reserve board of the three Class C directors.

Districts 4 at Cleveland, 6 at Atlanta, and 12 at San Francisco are the only ones in which one or more directors have not been chosen.

Those directors whose elections are assured are:

District 1 (Boston), Class A, Thomas P. Beall, Boston; Class B, Charles J. Rhodes, Philadelphia; Class C, William Woodward, New York.

District 2 (Philadelphia), Class A, Charles J. Rhodes, Philadelphia; Class B, Alva B. Johnson, Philadelphia; Class C, Walter Newcomer, Baltimore; John F. Bruton, Wilson, N. C., and Edward W. Blair, Baltimore.

District 3 (Chicago), Class A, George M. Reynolds, Chicago; Class B, Walker Hill, St. Louis; Class C, Murray B. Carleton, St. Louis.

District 5 (Minneapolis), Class A, E. W. Dicker, Minneapolis; Class B, F. R. Bigelow, St. Paul.

District 10 (Kansas City), Class A, Gordon Jones, Denver; Class B, M. L. McClure, Kansas City.

District 11 (Dallas), Class A, Oscar Wells, Houston; Class B, Marion Ocasome, Fort Worth, Texas.

Under the provision of the Federal reserve act, the electors of the various groups in the twelve districts vote their first, second and third choices for the directors. The list announced by the organization committee comprises citizens who have received the first choice votes of more than a majority of the member banks in their respective groups.

Take Oath Monday. The oath of office as members of the Federal reserve board will be taken Monday by Charles S. Hamlin, W. H. G. Harding and Adolph C. Miller, the members nominated by President Wilson, who have been confirmed by the senate.

of corn was picked which measured 7 feet and 1 inch in height. A specimen of wheat straw was also located that measured 5 feet 8 inches in height. Farmers are generally optimistic, and conditions in general at this time were never better.

Wadena county—Potato crop is large in acreage and looks very fine. Corn is looking fine for this time of the year. All kinds of small grains are growing nicely and a good average crop is in prospect. The clover and timothy crop is very good, and farmers are now busy cutting this for hay.

Yellow Medicine county—Crop conditions for this county look very encouraging. Wheat looks very good and with favorable weather conditions should yield not less than 20 to 25 bushels per acre. Oats should be a bumper crop. Barley is looking well. Prospects for a good crop of flax were never better. Corn is a little backward, but with favorable conditions it will grow very rapidly. The acreage is very large and the stand almost perfect and if this weather continues we will harvest one of the best corn crops ever harvested in the vicinity. One of the best hay crops that we have ever had is now being harvested. A large acreage of alfalfa has been sown. The agriculture instructor of the Canby school has alone sold to the farmers of this vicinity over 5,000 pounds of the best seed obtainable. This, together with a large amount sold by other parties, all of which being sown under the most favorable weather and other conditions, is making a very rapid growth.

MOOSE LAKE "DRY" AGAIN

Saloons Must Close Under the Latest Supreme Court Decision.

Moose Lake villagers are "dry" again. The supreme court in a decision handed down at St. Paul today reversed a decision rendered a short time ago by District Judge Bert Fes-ler in which the lower court held that the saloons of the village of Moose Lake might be operated without violation of the state law which prohibits the sale of intoxicants within a half mile of "dry" territory.
The higher court today held that "a sale of intoxicating liquor by one licensed by the common council of the village during the period of his license, but after the town in which the village was located has voted "no license" is unlawful where there has been no statutory separation of the village and town and both participate in the election.

The point was raised in habeas corpus proceedings instituted by H. K.
Lower and Joseph King, who were arrested for selling liquor unlawfully after the town of Moose Lake had voted "dry." The village had previously voted "wet" but the villagers participated in the town election and the supreme court finds that the whole question hinges on this point. Both cases were Carlton county cases in which County Attorney H. S. Lord appeared for the county and George H. Spear of Fryberg, Fulton & Spear of this city appeared for the saloon men.

The supreme court held recently in a Martin county case that the operation of saloons in a village or city does not contravene the state law which prohibits the sale of intoxicants within a half mile of "dry" territory, but the high tribunal holds that in the Carlton county case that it does contravene that law when the village or city and the "dry" territory are in the same election district.

OVER 200 RESORTS NOW IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Wis., July 17.—Heated arguments between members of the commission, police department officials and citizens occupied the forenoon session of the vice commission today.

Records of the commission were produced to show that between 200 and 300 resorts were being conducted in the vicinity of the business section of the city. Police officials informed the commission that they arrested the keepers of such places whenever sufficient evidence was produced.

Detective Louis Harman testified there was more street soliciting done by immoral women now than when the regular vice district was operating.

Causes of Delinquency.
Inspector Laubheimer expressed the belief that the laws are enforced regarding disorderly houses, but said that it was absolutely impossible to cope with all violations. As to the greatest cause of the delinquency of young girls, he asserted that the lack of real home life, coupled with palm gardens, automobiles and dance halls, were the largest contributing forces.

Chairman Teasdale charged Police Captain John T. Sullivan with having interfered with witnesses on the way to the vice commission's hearing last night as having been sworn to by such witnesses, and a heated argument amounting almost to a fight ensued.
Detective Stout testified that he had made forty-eight arrests of disorderly houses in the last fifteen months with 112 inmates.

HICKEN AFTER WHOLESALE

Employee of Carlson Bros.
Held for Selling Quart of Whisky.

Commissioner Will Protect Retailer Paying $1,000
License Fee.

Safety Commissioner William A.
Hicken wasn't just talking when he declared that the wholesale liquor dealers would not be allowed to compete with retailers who pay $1,000 for their privileges, by selling in quantities less than five gallons.

This morning Walfrid Erickson, an employee of Carlson Bros., wholesale liquor dealers on West Fifth street, was arrested on a charge of selling a quart of whisky to Axel Johnson without having first secured a retail license from the clerk. Erickson pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for next Monday afternoon.

This is the first arrest of a wholesale liquor employee or dealer on that charge. Reports reached the safety commissioner that all of the liquor dealers were complying with their instructions not to sell in quantities less than five gallons and a policeman in plain clothes was sent out to ascertain whether or not the rumors were correct. Patrolman Johnson bought a quart of whisky at Carlson Bros. and a warrant for the arrest of the man who made the sale was issued at the direction of the safety commissioner.

The amendment to the blind pig ordinance, intended to require the wholesale dealers to pay the city $1,000 for a retail license, is still pending before the council. It has had three readings and can be brought up for passage at any time. It has been postponed from meeting to meeting and is scheduled to come up again next Monday. Asked this morning if the amendment being voted upon at the Monday meeting, Commissioner Hicken said that he didn't think so. It will probably be again postponed, pending a possible agreement between the liquor dealers and the safety division.

HARD HANDS SAVE ELEVEN "VAGS"

Eleven horny-handed sons of toil were nabbed by the police in two raids last night. They were sleeping on a private dock near the foot of Sixth avenue west, and were booked on charges of trespass. Judge Windom looked at the hands of each of them.
Every palm bore out the owners' claims that they work for a living and are merely "up against it" because they have been unable to get jobs.

Each of them was given a suspended sentence.

OWNER OF "SNOW" IS OUT ON PAROLE.

John Walter Roberts, the elevator boy who was arrested several days ago on a charge of having cocaine in his possession, is out on parole with orders to report to Probation Officer
Frank Hicks.

Roberts' explanation of the bottle of "snow" found in his pocket was that a friend had advised him to snuff it when he had a cold last winter. He claimed that it worked a remarkably quick cure and he was keeping it for future use should occasion arise.
Roberts is 19 years old and denied that he has used the dope except to cure his cold.

LAUD SCHOOLS OF BELTRAMI

State and County School Officials Speak Well of Results.

State Supt. Schulz Is Especially Pleased With Work.

Belvidere, Minn., July 17.—(Special to The Herald).—In the presence of 125 school directors and officers of the schools of Beltrami county, State Superintendent C. G. Schulz, Dr. W. A. Shoemaker of St. Cloud, T. A. Erickson, rural school specialist of St. Paul, and many others interested in the development of the public school, County Superintendent W. B. Stewart in an interesting talk told of the rapid growth in the school population in Beltrami county.

"The total enrollment in the schools of Beltrami county this year," said Mr. Stewart, "was 4,950, an increase of 575 pupils over 1913. The increase in 1913 over 1912 was only 253. At the same rate of growth, in nine years, the school population of this county will reach approximately 10,000. There are 127 schools in actual operation, with two associated schools, making 129 in all, which is an increase of 7 for the year; $32,591.74 was received in the way of apportionment and $8,461.78 was lost by pupils not attending forty days during the year. The amount of school aid estimated for this year will be $26,725, or an increase over last year of approximately $5,750. Seventy-five schools share in this special aid as against only 59 last year."

A. B. Page, of Belvidere, the absence of Charles S. Carter, who was on the program and unable to be present, gave an interesting impromptu talk on the work done in his district, where they now have a four-room consolidated school, costing the district $8,000. This school received $2,350 in special aid this year. Mr. Page told of an Iowa man, who visited that section, this spring, and expressed much surprise at the roads that vicinity, where $1,000 has been spent recently in their improvement.

Mr. W. A. Shoemaker, president of the St. Cloud normal school, spoke in a general way the sacrifices that are being made all around us, as noble as any in song or story, in order that the children may be given better educational advantages than their loving parents could have.

Dr. C. G. Schulz, state superintendent of education, said in part:

"This is a regular annual gathering of school people, school officers of Beltrami county, also a regular annual gathering of teachers of Beltrami county, but you are not all officers and teachers. You have a group of boys and girls who are in the corn-growing contest and in the bread-baking contest. It shows we are growing, my friends. It shows that, after all, we are not giving our entire attention to the automobile and the moving picture show. Down in Mr. Shoemaker's town they have overdone that business, and his criticism of these side issues is entirely appropriate. He is a man of simple ways and plain habits and likes plain folks. That's one reason why he comes to Bemidji so often. That's why all plain, honest folk like to come here. I learned of a settlement of German farmers near New Ulm, about a dozen families, who sold their farms there at $100 an acre and came up here to buy land at $10, $15 and $20 an acre, and who said that, after they had seen the land, the lakes and the neighborhood and the growing crops, inside of ten years their lands in Beltrami county would be worth $100 an acre also, but whether they were or not, they could make just as good a living on 160 acres in Beltrami county, where the investment was not more than $20 an acre, as they could in Brown county, where the investment, when they sold it, brought $100 an acre. This shows that they have faith in Beltrami county and Northern Minnesota."

"You are going to make good up here. You are doing that every day. Why, that means progress. That means prosperity, better things; that you have faith in the country and that you have come here to stay."

INJURED BY DIVE: HAWKEYE IS DEAD

Cedar Rapids Man Hurt at Round Lake, Minn., While Bathing.

Aitkin, Minn., July 17.—Ivan Whitman of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, slipped and fell off the end of the dock at Round Lake Sunday afternoon and died the following day from injuries sustained. The young man came to the lake with his family and was seen by a chauffeur for John Nye of Cedar Rapids. He had donned a bathing suit and gone to the water. Mr. Nye saw him disappear, but supposed he was diving. When he failed to appear Mr. Nye ran to his assistance and found him lying in two feet of water, helpless. He was carried to consciousness, but was paralyzed. It is thought he struck on the back of his neck. Medical assistance was secured, but he lived only twenty-four hours.

The remains were taken to Cedar Rapids for burial. The young man leaves a widowed mother and a sister.

VICE INCREASES RENT.

According to Evidence Taken By Vice Commission in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 17.—Property values have dropped from one-half to three-quarters their former worth and rents have increased in proportion throughout the former segregated vice district of Milwaukee, since the restricted actions were wiped out through the efforts of former district Attorney Zabel, according to the testimony of owners of property in that section, given before the vice commission yesterday.

The witnesses, owners and lessees of a number of hotel, business and rooming house properties testified that their properties were now either vacant or rented for legitimate purposes at rentals that hardly more than paid the taxes. Witnesses said that the former vice district had been a cesspool of crime and that they could not live in a section of such reputation.

Only a few of those questioned admitted knowledge of former use of the section for immoral purposes, the majority contending that they could not make an independent investigation.

UTILIZING WASTE SPACE

Gardens and Playgrounds for the Roofs of Skyscrapers.

Beautifying of Court Area Makes Interior Offices More Desirable.

The hanging gardens of Babylon, which were one of the seven wonders of the world, are destined to have a present-day significance through aerial landscape gardening on the modern skyscraper, according to William Frederick Bensing, associate editor of Building and Building Management. Mr. Bensing has an eye to the artistic and does not approve of the tall, barren walls and sand-covered roof of a building costing millions of dollars. It may be a thing of beauty and direct the attention of art lovers just as much as a flower conservatory or a picture gallery.

Today Mr. Bensing discussed with a representative of The Herald the utilization of the waste areas of modern skyscrapers, and his ideas should be of interest to the people of every large city.

Gardening on the Roof.

"Why not cultivate the waste spaces of the skyscraper," said the editor. "The roof areas offer wonderful opportunities. The spectacle of the owners of big buildings hoeing, raking and otherwise encouraging plant and other forms of vegetable life, while being novel, is none the less interesting. Up on the roof of the elevator pent house a patch of potatoes would give an urban touch. The growing of small fruit trees, tomato plants and other vegetables would drive away the humdrum of the street life and the incessant monotony of stone and brick surroundings.

"These suggestions, while being slightly exaggerated," he says, "are indicative of what may be done by the artistic building owner. The roof and light court spaces of very few office buildings are utilized. Light courts remind one of huge waste paper baskets which do not serve any purpose except for the one which they were originally intended to keep a man busy cleaning them. And the roofs—if your office happens to be on one of the upper floors of the building, no further explanation will work a wonderful transformation in a few well regulated buildings, they resemble a junk yard.

Puts Money in Pocket. "Would you beautify the roof, and court spaces of your building if this could be accomplished without any great expenditure and you were assured that office space would be more desirable and rentable?"

"Office space fronting a light court is not always in demand. To create interest in this space, your rates must be considerably lower than for outside offices, and then sometimes it takes a long time to dispose of them. Has it ever occurred to the building owners that the court offices might be more habitable by the beautification of the area at the bottom of the court? A few plants and flower boxes will work a wonderful transformation in an ordinary light court. A view like that is far more inviting than the regular gravel or composition roofing.

Revenue From Skyscrapers. "Many experienced men made in the utilization of roof area space. The principal source of revenue from this space so far has been the sight-see. Some buildings find this quite profitable. However, most cities have only one or a few buildings which enjoy this patronage.

"In connection with the roof garden, however, the observatory is a more dependable source of revenue inasmuch as the roof garden attracts visitors. Some building managers have found that by issuing passes to the tenants, it helps keep them satisfied.

"Roof playgrounds grow in popularity each year. Patrons know that they can leave their children with attendants while shopping in the store; that the children will enjoy themselves and best of all will be there when the parents return."

nine members during the last year; E. H. Doyle of Detroit, chairman of the committee on plumbing; John C. Knight, chairman of the committee on government buildings; and Mr. Knight and H. G. Ferring, who were delegates of the association to the convention of the National Fire Protective association at Chicago last spring, and T. B. Bainbridge of Chicago, chairman of the committee on advancement of local organizations.

When the convention assembled last Tuesday it was decided to call a special conference of the officers of local associations represented at the gathering. This meeting was held Wednesday afternoon and a report was made this morning by E. T. Bradley of Seattle. Closer relationship between local organizations was urged by the conference.

REPORTS ARE ENCOURAGING

Committees and Officers Heard By Building Owners and Managers.

More Than $1,500,000,000 Represented—Duluth Branch Grows.

Reports made this morning by the various committees of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, and the officers showed that the organization is in a flourishing condition, and that it has played a prominent part in the making of legislation throughout the country, through the influence of its members.

C. A. Patterson of Chicago, secretary of the association, in making his annual report, said that the regular members at the present time represent a total capital of $1,500,000,000. Since The Herald's statement calling it the "billion dollar convention," Mr. Patterson said, he made a further investigation and, obtaining the reports from many members who had failed to give their total holdings, found that $1,500,000,000 will come nearer the amount.

There are at present 272 members in the association, Mr. Patterson said, including the thirty-nine members taken in during the last year. One of the largest gains was made by the Duluth association, he said. There are seventy-five cities represented in the national body.

John C. Knight of New York, chairman of the committee on publicity, reported that it would not be advisable for the association to have an official publication at this time. The matter was taken up at the convention last year, and upon Mr. Knight's recommendation this morning, the matter was dropped for the present.

Other reports were made by W. M. Ellis of Chicago, chairman of the membership committee, who told of the growth of the organization throughout the country and of the gain of thirty-

DELEGATES ON RIVER TRIP

Building Managers See the Docks, Steel Plant and Model City.

Women Members of Party Are Taken to Fond du Lac.

The building owners and managers, 250 strong, having closed their sessions of speechmaking, yesterday noon, turned away from their steady grind of work and took the steamer Columbia for a ride round the harbor. The women also visited Fond du Lac while the men went through the new steel plant.

The party assembled at the Spaulding lobby at 1:30 o'clock, took the steamer Columbia at 1:50 o'clock. As the visitors were out to see the sights about the head of the Lakes the local committee made out a thorough schedule. The ore docks, coal docks, grain elevators, the $25,000,000 steel plant and the Model City adjoining were inspected, and the representatives of wealth from all parts of the United States were amazed at the wonderful enterprises seen on their trip.

The men and women of the party remained together until the women reached Spirit Lake. There the men disembarked while the women were taken to as far as Fond du Lac. The men then took in the sights at the steel plant and returned later to Spirit Lake. There the men and women were reunited and all had lunch together and after steaming about the harbor for a time returned to the Spaulding hotel.

During the evening the delegates made up their own entertainment slate. Some went to the theater, while others formed little cabaret parties. Lively repartee, songs, story telling and various other forms of social intercourse made the evening an enjoyable one.

MANY DELEGATES LEAVE FOR HOME

But Special Trip to Ranges Will Be Well Patronized.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the delegates and their wives were taken on a boulevard drive. This entertainment feature practically completing the program for the convention.

Those remaining over for the range trip tomorrow morning will leave at 7:30 o'clock on a special train that has been arranged for the occasion. The train will go first to Virginia, where a dinner will be given the delegates and their wives by the Commercial club, and from there to Hibbing, at which place the special train will drive into the Hull-Rust mine. The delegates will be in Hibbing about one hour, returning to Duluth about 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

KEPT HIS EYE ON MAIN CHANCE

Prisoner Fined for Hitting Business Rival, Cavanaugh Courtroom.

Al Honeysett didn't lose sight of the main chance when he was arrested this morning on a charge of having assaulted R. B. Boyle in the barber shop at 123 West First street. Between the time he pleaded guilty in police court and paid a fine of $5, he was busy boosting his business.

Honeysett and Boyle are business rivals, which was the immediate cause of the trouble. Honeysett is interested in the Duluth Linen Supply company and Boyle runs the Linen exchange. It appears that they met in the barber shop last Monday while out drumming up business. One word led to another and the climax was reached when Honeysett struck Boyle. The tonsorial artists interfered before either was hurt much.

When Honeysett was arraigned in court this morning he told his story. He pulled one of his cards from his pocket to show to Judge Windom. As he drew the card he had asserted himself. He drew a handful of his cards and passed them about the court room. "I might be able to work up enough business here to make up for that fine," he informed the court. He admitted that he had struck Boyle and when told that it would cost him a "V" he added that he thought he got his money's worth.

IRONWOOD MAN IS BOUND OVER

Held in $1,000 Bonds for Causing His Brother's Death.

Ironwood, Mich., July 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Andrew Mraz had a hearing yesterday afternoon before Judge Shea on the charge of giving his brother, Stephen Mraz, the blow Monday during an altercation that, it claimed, caused the latter's death. The court held the accused to the circuit court in $1,000 bonds. The bonds were promptly furnished.

Westcott, who in the role of peace-maker attempted to pull the brothers apart as they fought on the street, did not disappear after the trouble, as erroneously stated in The Herald, but remained there all the time, and his friends claim that he can easily disprove the charge he caused his brother's death when the case is tried in court. Meanwhile officers are trying to locate Westcott.

GEORGIA PEACHES AND ORATORY CAUSE STAMPEDE

Atlanta Gets Next Convention of Building Managers and Owners.

All of the 1914 Officers Are Re-Elected Without a Contest.

Georgia peaches and oratory won the 1915 convention of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, for Atlanta, at the closing session of the convention at the Spaulding hotel this forenoon. All of the 1914 staff of executive officers of the association were chosen unanimously to succeed themselves, thus setting a new precedent for elections in the organization.

The election of officers passed off without a ripple. The report of the nominating committee being passed by an oral vote, but the choosing of the convention city brought out great enthusiasm, and Omaha, St. Louis and Atlanta all made a good fight. The campaign work of the Georgia delegates, who passed out a half carload of peaches during the convention, and the whirlwind of Southern oratory by a half-dozen campaigners clinched the election on the first ballot, Atlanta securing 49 votes, St. Louis 26 and Omaha 16.

In making a report for the nominating committee, John C. Knight of New York, one of the former presidents of the association and manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance building, made an eloquent speech in behalf of the work of the present officers, and urged that their term of office be continued for the next year. He was heartily cheered upon taking his seat, and the vote was unanimous for the slate prepared by the committee.

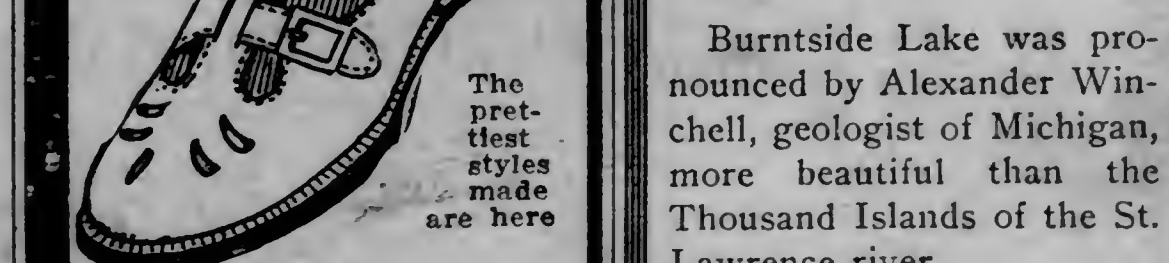

The executive committee for 1915 will be appointed by the president in the near future. The present executive committee is composed of the following: Whitney Wall, Duluth; Howard G. Loomis, Omaha; Hughes Bryant, Kansas City; Frank P. Sidway, Buffalo.

TWO PEOPLE KILLED BY KENTUCKY STORM

Illinois and Iowa Get Severe Touches of Weather.

Henderson, Ky., July 17.—Two persons were killed, several others injured and scores of buildings damaged when a tornado struck this city late yesterday. It is estimated that the damage will reach $150,000. The municipal electric light plant was partly destroyed and the city left in darkness. Fires started in two sections after the tornado had passed, but were quickly extinguished.

The dead are Mrs. William Zwell and her 3-year-old nephew, Bonnie Fryer. Both were crushed when a three-story brick building was blown on their home. The tornado started at the south edge of the city and swept a path four blocks wide and twelve blocks long through the main business district.

Storm in Chicago. Chicago, July 17.—Thunder storms were general yesterday in Iowa and Illinois, according to the reports of the weather bureau here. The heaviest precipitation was in Chicago, where 1.80 inches of rain fell in less than an hour and a half. This rainfall covered only a small area.

There were a number of welcome showers in Southern Indiana and Ohio and Northern Kentucky, where rain was needed. Temperatures were not excessive in the Middle West. Two deaths from outside the city were reported from the storm. Nelson Peterson was struck by lightning on his farm near Pawpaw, Ill., and Joe Gerhart was blown from the roof of his house at Dixon.

Samuel Desharto was electrocuted when he tried to repair an electric light which had been put out by the storm.

ALIMONY WILL NOT BE REDUCED

No reduction will be made for the present in the alimony which John W. Lundgren has been ordered to pay his divorced wife, Ella H. Lundgren, who resides at 28 South Forty-sixth avenue west. Lundgren recently made application to the court to have the monthly allowance of his wife cut down from $27.50 to $15, but Judge Dancer denied the motion.

Mr. Lundgren was granted a divorce from his wife during the month of May. Judgment was rendered on the grounds of cruelty which were counterbalanced by him in a cross bill filed with his answer to her suit for divorce on the grounds of desertion. Mrs. Lundgren is 54 years of age. The cruelty complained of by Mr. Lundgren consisted of false accusations of immoral practices and alleged slander in the presence of others.

BARBERS WILL MEET ON DIAMOND.

A baseball game between the barbers of Duluth and those of Superior will be played Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock on the Fifty-second avenue grounds. Considerable interest is being aroused over the contest because the winning side will be invited to a banquet to the losers. The banquet will be held about Aug. 1.

WEST DULUTHIANS WANT OIL ON STREETS.

West Duluthians are of the opinion that this end of the city is being neglected when it comes to the laying of oil on the streets. A merchant this morning wanted to know why it was that oil was being laid on the streets in other parts of the city and none had been tried out on the West Duluth thoroughfares. "I have noticed that oil seems to have been used on the streets east of the ore dock," said the merchant. "Why eliminate West Duluth from the benefits?" We will not doubt pay for what it costs and if it is better than water why not? He suggested that the Fifty-seventh avenue above Grand avenue west of Sixtieth, Central avenue south of Roosevelt, Raleigh street, and several other thoroughfares that have heavy traffic, should be oiled with the oil. It is intended to take the matter up with the department of public works.

CLUB WILL WORK FOR ELECTION OF SEASHORE.

The West Duluth Commercial club will hold its regular meeting this evening at the club rooms on Central avenue. It is probable that a motion picture will be shown and many votes as possible tomorrow to the school election. The club has endorsed the candidacy of Dr. D. E. Seashore for re-election. Dr. Seashore is running on a shoestring and has the opposition of only one other candidate.

No services will be held in the church during the day. During the forenoon services will be held by the pastor, Rev. C. V. S. Engstrom, at the church and will be continued until all trees of the suburb have been trimmed of their objectionable branches.

Trimming Low Branches.

Following complaints regarding low branches hanging over the sidewalks of the West Duluth district, the city has had a number of men at work during the last two days trimming the trees. The improvement has made a marked change in some of the streets. The work will be continued until all trees of the suburb have been trimmed of their objectionable branches.

The affair occurred at the saloon at night when the two were passing the saloon. Helton is alleged to have started to "clean the place of loafers" and he carried his shooting out of doors. One of the men struck McMahon in the hip but was flattened by a knife carried in the hip pocket. The other bullet struck Finlayson in the chest and he was arraigned in police court late yesterday and bound over for a week. Bail was set at $1,000.

The report of the appraisers was filed today with the district court. The site selected for the new armory is located at Thirtieth avenue east and London road.

CONVICTION IS SUSTAINED

Mary Nonnenmacher, who was convicted in municipal court on Jan. 4, 1912 of the crime of having on Dec. 31, 1912 conducted the Joliet hotel at 712 West Superior street as a house of ill fame, was obliged to serve sixty days in the county jail as punishment for the crime.

In district court today, an order signed by the four local judges was a reversal of the conviction which the Nonnenmacher woman through her attorney, E. M. Gubbers, took from the decision of the municipal court. The district court after a review of the case has affirmed the judgment and sentence of the municipal court.

The order of the district court, however, is appealable.

Judge Windom Puts Harold Harris on Parole for Assault.

Declares Woman Must Supervise Larder to Cook Good Meals.

One secret of attaining domestic bliss and happiness is to allow the wife to be the high supreme commander of the household supplies, particularly the larder.

That was the nub of the advice which Judge Windom brought into police court this morning. The court declared woman is often blamed for wrecking the matrimonial sea because she failed to properly provide for the inner man, but that an analysis would frequently show that man was the real cause in that he insisted upon running the whole ship himself.

Harry was arrested July 2 on a warrant sworn out by his wife charging him with having assaulted her. He was adjudged guilty and given a sentence of sixty days on the work farm. This morning he was brought into court again, having served fifteen days. After giving him a verbal prescription which he said would effect a cure, Judge Windom placed him upon parole for one year, with orders to report to Probation Officer Frank Hicks.

The court told Harry that he had trouble with his wife because he would not allow her to take care of the grocery and meat wants. He said that Harry couldn't expect his wife to prepare satisfactory meals under his system. It appears that Harry brought home what he thought would be needed for the table, refusing to allow his wife to do any of the ordering. The judge informed him that that would never work out satisfactorily, as his wife would know better than he what would be needed. He declared that if he would turn over that branch of the house to her they would both be happier and healthier.

EXEMPT FROM ASSESSMENT

Zenith Telephone Company Need Not Pay for Pavement.

The Zenith Telephone company, which maintains a branch exchange in the West end, will pay no share of the cost of grading, paving and other wise improving Twenty-third avenue west, between Michigan street and Piedmont avenue.

An appeal of the telephone company from the assessment levied by the city against a fifty-foot frontage owned by the company on Twenty-third avenue west was disposed of yesterday by stipulation which was entered into between the city attorney and counsel for the company.

The telephone company pays a gross earnings tax to the state which under the law exempts it from the payment of assessments for local improvements.

The stipulation which was entered into today states that the levying of an assessment against the property was a "mistake" and that it was done through "inadvertence."

Pursuant to the stipulation, Judge Cant ordered the appeal dismissed.

Armour's Means Assurance of Quality

"The Ham What Am"

The goodness of Armour's Star Ham goes right down clear to the bone and that makes a delicious soup. The last bite is as good as the first slice. There aren't many Hams that measure up to the Armour quality standard.

Kentucky Baked Ham

Select a medium sized Star Ham, scrub thoroughly, place in baking pan. Mix the seasoning—half a teaspoon each of cloves, cinnamon, dry mustard, celery seed and pepper. Rub this into the surface of the ham and cover with a very thick layer of onion, chopped fine. Cover the whole with a layer of paste made by mixing smoothly a cup of flour with half a cup of water. Roll this paste thin and wrap closely about ham. Fill the pan with boiled cider and place in the oven to bake slowly and steadily for five hours basting frequently with the cider. Serve it with candied sweet potato and spinach with apple sauce for relish.

The mild distinctive cure gives to each Star Ham a uniform delicate piquancy of flavor that you'll recognize as being distinctively different.

A Star Ham is just the thing with which to tempt the jaded appetite of your family and add a zest to your menu, which is so difficult of selection at this season of the year.

A Summer Snack

For a picnic or a little piquant snack upon the veranda Armour's Star Summer Sausage opens a field of delicious possibilities.

Next time you're serving sandwiches use the delicately spiced Armour's Summer Sausage or the Star German Sausage which is a bit snappier.

Be sure it's Armour's Star and then you'll have perfect quality and flavor.

MARKET IS STILL STRONG

Wheat Again Sells Higher on More Black Rust Reports.

Flaxseed Bulges Sharply, With Good Crushers' and Speculative Demand.

Duluth Board of Trade, July 17.—The market was strong up to the close. July wheat closed  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up; September  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up; and December  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up. Barley closed  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up and September  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up.

Oats closed  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ off at 34¢. Rye closed unchanged at 57¢ for the track, or 56¢ for the elevator. Barley closed unchanged at 35¢ to 45¢.

At Winnipeg July oats closed at 35¢ and October at 36¢. Barley closed at 35¢ and September at 36¢.

Cool weather in the Northwest offset the higher local prices, and the wheat market became easy around the opening this morning. Later, more reports of the appearance of black rust in a few districts in North Dakota and in the southern tier of Minnesota counties came to hand, and the market took an upward turn in all options. Good Eastern demand and the working of a fair amount of export business was also reported.

Traders look for a nervous market during the next two or three weeks, or until such time as the crop in the Northwest is deemed to be finally assured. The general consensus of opinion now is that Minnesota and North Dakota will have far better than an average yield, but what promised to be a bumper harvest in South Dakota has been cut down to just a fair one in the estimation of experts owing to the wheat having ripened before maturity over some large areas through the excessively high temperatures that have prevailed during the last ten days. On the general roundup, therefore, a firm market is predicted for a time at least. In the face of the pressure of winter wheat marketings.

Supplies of spring wheat in Duluth elevators are estimated to show a decrease of 850,000 bu. this week. The July today showed a decline of 750,000 bu. in the houses, from which is to be deducted 425,000 bu. since loaded out but not yet reported. The market in Liverpool closed higher today in sympathy with the advance in the American markets yesterday, good speculative demand and unfavorable Russian crop reports. It was reported from Montreal that 100,000, or about 2,000,000 bushels of new spring wheat had been chartered there during the last few days.

July wheat opened  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ off at 90¢ and gained  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up to the final hour. September opened  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up at 91¢ and closed  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up at 92¢. The December option opened  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ off at 92¢ and closed  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up at 93¢. The market there was strong, with closing prices showing advances of  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ in the day.

The foreign market was also strong. Buenos Aires closing  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up; London,  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up, and Antwerp unchanged. July flax closed  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up at \$1.65; September opened unchanged at \$1.67, and closed  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up at \$1.68. The November option opened  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ off at \$1.67, and closed  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up at \$1.68.

At Winnipeg, July flax closed at $1.44, and October at $1.48, bid.

Wheat Opens Lower and Further Decline Develops.
Chicago, July 17.—Sudden changes to cooler weather and a heavy rain promising to retard the development of the wheat crop have caused an offset in wheat today for the bullish effect of higher cables. Advices that contrary to hopes, the black rust was developing fast in North Dakota brought about a subsequent advance, and the market was also pessimistic. The close was firm at  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ to  $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ above last night.

ONE MORE ATTEMPT AT DISSOLUTION OF NEW HAVEN PLANNED

President Hustis Wires McReynolds Asking for Conference.

Directors Will Visit Department of Justice on Monday.

Second Suit for Accounting Is Filed in New York.

Washington, July 18.—Final effort to bring about a dissolution of the New Haven railroad system without suit in court will be made at a conference at the department of justice on Monday, between a committee of New Haven directors, Attorney General McReynolds and T. W. Gregory, special assistant in charge of the case.

The conference was requested by President Hustis of the New Haven road, who telegraphed Attorney General McReynolds asking if a committee of New Haven directors would be received.

Disagreed Over Conditions. The disagreement between the department of justice and the New Haven board is over conditions imposed by the state of Massachusetts on the sale of the Boston & Maine stock owned by it.

Department officials did not understand what plans the New Haven directors might have, but it was generally believed that unless the conference developed a way out of the difficulty acceptable to the government, an anti-trust suit to dissolve the New Haven would be filed in the United States district court for the Southern district of New York by the middle of the week.

State May Intervene. The New Haven railroad case assumed a new aspect today when it became known here that the state of Massachusetts may seek to intervene after the government's Sherman law suit to dissolve the system is brought, and ask the courts to force the New Haven to make a conditional sale of (Continued on page 4, fifth column.)

MAY NOT OPEN THE BIG DITCH AS YET

Latest Word From Goethals Fails to Set Date.

Washington, July 18.—The last advice from Governor Goethals on the prospective opening of the Panama canal to traffic were dated July 1 and said it was impossible to name any definite date for the opening. It is regarded at the naval office here as improbable that the waterway can be thrown open this month.

NEAR TERMS ON IRISH BILL

King George Stays in London to Help at Finish.

Government Is Said to Have Made Some Concessions.

London, July 18.—King George, who has been making great efforts to bring about a settlement of the Irish home rule crisis, decided this morning to postpone until later in the day his proposed visit to the great British fleet now lying at Spithead. This he did that he might be on hand in London to receive early reports of developments in the conference going on between the various party leaders. It is understood that when the opportune moment arrives his majesty will throw his great influence toward the side looking for an amicable settlement.

Settlement Seems Near. The belief prevails that such a settlement is not far off, and the Liverpool Post, one of the best-informed newspapers on the government side, hopes so far as to say:

"There is really an arranged settlement of the Irish question. Details have yet to be adjusted, but the broad facts can be regarded as fixed."

Other authorities do not go quite so far, but satisfy themselves with the statement, "there is a near approach to a settlement."

The government is believed to have offered the Unionists, in case they agree to abandon their demand for a "clean cut" of the province, the option of the country of Tyrone, which has a great Catholic majority, should vote as a single entity on the question of exclusion from the home rule government.

Content Over Tyrone. The Unionists demand that Tyrone shall be included in this arrangement, and this has been the cause of the deadlock. Premier Asquith and Augustine Birrell, secretary for Ireland, who are carrying on the negotiations on behalf of the cabinet, have remained in town had another audience with the king. The rest of the cabinet ministers scattered over the country for their weekly holiday.

DELEGATES ARRIVING FOR STATE'S GREATEST UNION LABOR MEETING

Nearly 300 Delegates Have Already Sent in Their Credentials.

Matters of Great Importance to Labor Movement on Program.

Five Other States Will Send Fraternal Delegates to Convention.

The advance contingents of the army of delegates who will attend the annual convention of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor which will convene in this city for three days beginning Monday, began to arrive today. President E. G. Hall of Minneapolis of the state federation was one of the first to arrive, and predicted the largest and best labor convention ever held in the state.

"All sessions of the convention will be open to the public," said President Hall. "We have nothing that we wish to keep from the public, and all our proceedings will be made public. All our plans and aims are for the betterment of conditions, and for that reason we shall take the public into our confidence."

Mr. Hall said today that 278 delegates had already sent in their credentials, and a great many more are expected to do so by tomorrow. Many will bring their families, and at least 500 visitors will make their headquarters at the St. Louis hotel.

Representatives from five states and eighteen cities will be present, and the president of each of these state federations will be present and make an address. The addresses will cover practically every labor topic now under discussion in the state, and proposed (Continued on page 4, second column.)

Brewers Avoid Paying Tax When State Goes Dry.

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 18.—To avoid paying the Federal tax, a local brewing company has had R. E. Fallen Dictator's Temper Is Testy Owing to Slight Illness.

Washington Redoubles Efforts to Secure Peace in Mexico.

Villa Promises Protection to Americans and Other Aliens.

Puerto Mexico, July 18.—It was announced today that Gen. Huerta had decided to depart from this port on board the German cruiser Dresden, Gen. Blanquet alone accompanying him. It is understood that the Dresden will proceed to Jamaica, but this has not been officially announced.

None of the refugees will be accommodated on board the German cruiser Bristol, which has been utilized as a refuge by many of the fugitives here. Owing to their unsuccessful efforts to charter the steamer City of Mexico for the voyage to Jamaica, and to their unwillingness to accept the Mexican gunboat Irujo, about twenty of the fugitives, mostly women, will proceed on the City of Mexico as ordinary passengers to Galveston by way of Vera Cruz.

Can Use Bravo. It is thought probable that the gunboat Bravo may eventually be used to carry still others of the fugitives away from Mexico. A message was (Continued on page 4, second column.)

PRESIDENT IS ABLE TO TAKE SHORT WALK

He Appears to Be Over His Attack of Indigestion.

Washington, July 18.—President Wilson took a short walk through the business section of the city today, and attended to some business at his bank. His appearance following his recent slight illness attracted much notice. He gave up his usual Saturday morning ride late. Apparently he had entirely recovered from his indigestion. He planned to see no callers.

NO CAUCUS OVER JONES

Opposition Causes Senate Leaders to Drop the Idea.

General Discussion on Nomination Is Expected Next Week.

Practical Agreement Is Reached By Senate Committee.

Would Put Question Up to Commission, Subject to Review.

Washington, July 18.—Work of perfecting anti-trust legislation was going forward by the senate judiciary and interstate commerce committees today. While progress was being made, much yet remains to be done. Indications today were that several days more would be necessary to complete the measures.

The practical agreement reached by the interstate commerce committee to amend that section of the interstate trade commission bill, now before the senate, which would make unlawful "unfair competition," it was believed today would expedite passage of the measure. That provision of the bill has met with considerable criticism by Republican and Democratic senators because of its vagueness, the contention being that it is too general in its terms and that it would result in endless court action for interpretation.

Proposed Amendment. The proposed amendment would authorize the trade commission to determine what constitutes unfair competition with authority to stop it. The commission's decisions, however, would be subject to court review as to facts and law.

The committee was today considering the question whether the interstate commerce commission should be empowered under the railway security bill to determine to what use funds realized by common carriers for the issue of securities had been used. The judiciary committee was finishing a proposed amendment to the section of the Clayton anti-trust bill relating to holding companies. It would make the provision stronger.

SEND ARMED MEN TO STRIKE RIOT SCENE

Several Guards at Arkansas Workings Are Missing.

Port Smith, Ark., July 18.—Preparations were made today to send additional forces of armed men to the Prairie Creek mines of the Mammoth Vein Coal company, the scene of a fight yesterday between several hundred striking miners and sympathizers and mine guards which terminated in the rout of the guards and the destruction of mine property valued at approximately $200,000. Parties also were organized to search for several missing guards.

Reports from Prairie Creek and nearby settlements indicated that the strikers dispersed, temporarily at least, early last night.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.
A statue of Governor Glick of Kansas was unveiled in Statuary hall.
Committee continued work upon the trust bills.
Proposals for a Democratic conference to consider the nomination of Thomas D. Jones to the Federal reserve board aroused opposition in the Democratic ranks.
A $75,000 appropriation for a monument to Francis Pickens Key was passed.
Fort McHenry was inserted in the deficiency bill.
The general deficiency bill was passed.

HOUSE.
Debate was resumed on the general deficiency bill.

Senators Hollis, Shafroth, Lee and Pomerene, who voted to recommend Mr. Jones' confirmation, sent the telegram and forwarded a copy of the majority report, though it has not been released by the senate. In the meantime the minority report will be delayed, and this will postpone any action by the senate on the nomination. It is believed, however, that general discussion on the nomination will begin early next week.

Administration senators continued their efforts to change the minds of some of their colleagues who have expressed opposition to Mr. Jones. It was reported that their efforts thus far had not met with much success.

The banking committee has heard nothing from Paul M. Warburg of New York, whose nomination still rests in a committee pigeon hole waiting for Mr. Warburg to appear for examination as to his financial affiliations.

—From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

NO HOPE OF EXTENSION

New Duluth Car Line Will Not Be Laid This Year.

Franchise Suit and Condition of Road Are Chief Obstacles.

The extension of the street car line to New Duluth will not be built this year, judging from present indications. No encouragement has been received from Herbert Warren, general manager of the street railway company, by the city officials who have asked him about the much-desired improvement.

The principal obstacle still appears to be the city's suit against the company, in which the validity of the company's franchise is attacked. The company won out in the action in the district court, Judge Cant handing down a decision upholding the validity of the franchise. But the city is appealing from his decision to the state supreme court. The attorneys for the city declare that the city has an excellent chance of securing a reversal of the lower court.

The contention of the company is that so long as the franchise is under fire its bonds cannot be sold, making it impossible to raise money to do the work. It is also asserted that the road is still in unsuitable condition for the construction and operation of a street car line.

The engineering department is getting plans and specifications for what part of the road which will be completed this year. A petition has been received for paying Zimmerman avenue from Ninety-third to the west to Commonwealth avenue and Commonwealth avenue from Zimmerman avenue to the main line of the Spirit Lake Transfer company, a distance of about two miles. The cost will be assessed to the property owners, except the city's share for intersections. The estimated cost is $12,240.

It was hoped that street car tracks would be laid this fall but the best that the officials now look for is to get the extension next season. The pavement will likely be laid off center, leaving room for the tracks to the side, where the pavement will not be interfered with.

SEEK "MAN IN GRAY" IN CHICAGO SHOOTING

Chicago, July 18.—Search for a mysterious "man in gray" accused of firing the first shot in the revolver battle in the Chicago vice district Thursday night in which one detective was killed and three others wounded, was prosecuted by the police department today.

The battle was started by a mob of levee hangers-on in an effort to kill some of the detectives of the moral squad who had been raiding resorts, was indicated from the evidence given yesterday at the inquest.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS SEE MOTOR TRUCK, DESIGNED FOR ROAD CONSTRUCTION, IN ACTION

GOOD ROADS TRUCK AT WORK ON COUNTY HIGHWAY.

A demonstration of the claim that a motor truck, designed especially for road construction, will do the work of ten to twenty teams a day and at a saving of at least 30 per cent in the cost of building highways was made today for the benefit of St. Louis county officials.

Odin Halden, county auditor, and County Commissioners Alex. Fraser, Thomas H. Little, Walter A. Swanstrom and Charles Kauppi comprised the party of officials which witnessed what J. E. Allen, demonstrator for the White County of Chicago, could do with the White Good Roads truck in the way of building roads. Fred E. Meyers, Elvabik banker, also accompanied Mr. Allen and the officials.

The demonstration was made on the Swan Lake and Pike Lake extension roads, the party leaving the courthouse at 10 o'clock this morning. The good roads truck pulling graders, drags and levelers was taken out on the road earlier in the day and was on the scene of action when Mr. Allen and his party arrived in automobiles.

The good roads truck, it is claimed, can be operated at an expense of $12 a day. It has a pulling power greater than a dozen good teams and besides hauling, rolls and spreads material. Without a load its average speed is from eight to ten miles an hour. Mr. Allen and Mr. Meyers came to Duluth from the range yesterday in seven and one-half hours.

In speaking of the advantages of the truck, Mr. Meyers of Elvabik said: "Three townships of St. Louis county have already purchased trucks, Elvabik, White and Balkan. I can say that in Elvabik township we find that we can save $50 a day in the cost of road construction by the use of the truck instead of teams."

"It hauls material at one-half the cost of any other method and has smooth wheels which do not tear up roads which are already in good condition. Without a load it weighs six and one-half tons and its capacity is six yards of gravel or about five tons to the load."

"It is equipped with a power dumping steel body which the driver can operate without any assistance. It can be elevated to an angle of 47 degrees in thirty seconds and can be held at any intermediate angle so that it may automatically spread material as desired. It is lighter and decidedly more flexible than a tractor and its capabilities are not limited to tractor purposes only. The truck is equipped with a six-cylinder engine."

Mr. Meyers also expressed the opinion that St. Louis county might save considerable money in road building by purchasing trucks and discarding teams.

over Stanley J. Birns, the slain plain clothes man.

Detectives Merrill and Amort of the moral squad, who shot down Birns and Detective Sloop, Birns' partner, without knowing they were also policemen, declared that the first shots came from the crowd.

Another witness said that eighteen men were shot down before they began shooting. Political and police affiliations in the vice district problem were in process of being sifted today in an endeavor to place the responsibility. That the fatal affray will raise public opinion to force the effectual stamping out of the whole segregated district is the prediction of many of the officials.

Ironwood School election. Ironwood, Mich., July 18.—(Special to

A GOOD SAFE INVESTMENT!

AN OPPORTUNITY TO GET IN ON THE GROUND FLOOR

THE GRAND MARAIS & NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY IS OFFERING 750 SHARES OF ITS CAPITAL STOCK FOR SALE AT PAR VALUE, $100 PER SHARE.

This is a Minnesota corporation, and as such, the price of its stock is fixed by the laws of our state. The same laws protect the investor from any danger of the stock being watered.

Section 2911 of the Statute says: "No stock shall be issued or pledged until the same has been paid in full with money, labor or property to the par value thereof actually received and applied to the purpose for which the corporation was organized. Every person violating this is guilty of a felony."

Those in position to pass judgment claim this company has a very bright future and in the course of a few years the stock will be worth $300 to $500 a share.

There is untold wealth in the territory through which this road is building. Sufficient business is in sight for the first year's operation to warrant the belief of a dividend. Each succeeding year ought to show a substantial increase in volume of business and profits. Contract has been let for the construction of the line and work is under way.

Cook county has donated $100,000.00 thirty-year 5% bonds in aid of this railway company. Bonds are issued under date of July 1, 1913, and are held by the First National Bank of Duluth, Minn. Each share issued out of the total of 8,000 in the company will have an equity in this bond issue and each share holder will have a voice in the management of the road.

We invite investigation and support. Stock is being sold on easy terms of five instalments, 20% of purchase price at time of subscription, balance in four monthly payments. For further information, call or write the

DULUTH YOUNG WOMAN SHOCKED WHILE INSANE

Fannie Mendelson Jumps
From Window of Fergus Falls Hospital.

Expresses, in Letters, Wish to Die—Malady Starts With Eye Trouble.

Miss Fannie Mendelson, aged 27, formerly teacher at the Ely school here for five years and residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mendelson, 418 East First street, met her death late yesterday afternoon by jumping from the third story window of the hospital for the insane at Fergus Falls, where she has been a patient for several weeks.

Her body was discovered shortly after her fatal jump, by attendants at the asylum. Her mother believed her family to have been caused by hard study which caused weakness of the eyes. An operation in Chicago for this defect about a year ago is said to have brought her illness to an acute stage.

Information regarding her death was given to her brother, John Mendelson of this city, last night but the telegram was not received by him until today. His first intimation of his sister's death was received this forenoon when The Herald, having received the news, telephoned him for information. The news was a severe shock to him and he has been unable to get over it.

MISS FANNIE MENDELSON.

This, it is said, brought her illness to an acute stage and she was sent to a sanitarium in St. Paul last September. After being there a few weeks she returned home and was then taken to Fergus Falls.

Recently she has written several letters to her mother, stating that she was discouraged and wanted to die. The sad details of her daughter's death had been kept from her mother up to noon today as it was feared that the shock might prove too serious for her.

The body will be brought from Fergus Falls to Duluth today and the funeral will be held from the residence at 2 p. m. tomorrow. Dr. Maurice Lefkowitz, rabbi of Temple Emanuel, will have charge of the service.

Miss Mendelson was widely known in school circles in Duluth, having been a member of the Duluth high school in 1906 and having taught in the Ely school five years. She also had been a member of the Y. W. C. A. in Duluth.

SEWERS ARE TOO SMALL

The large number of complaints being received of the backing of sewers into basements indicate a serious condition, according to Commissioner Roderick Murchison.

He says the reports of sewage backing into basements are coming from all parts of the city. The principal reason is that the sewers are too small to meet the demands made upon them during rain storms.

Mrs. Richard A. Swain, of Minneapolis, formerly of Duluth, was severely injured yesterday morning at 10 o'clock when an automobile driven by her plunged over a 200-foot bluff at Indian Mounds park, St. Paul.

Mr. Swain, who was in Duluth at the time, was notified of the accident in time to catch the next train to Minneapolis. In a telephone message to Duluth friends at 3:30 o'clock last night Mr. Swain said that although a physician had been with Mrs. Swain since the time of the accident he was unable to determine if she had sustained internal injuries. She was badly cut on the face and head.

In the car with Mrs. Swain were Misses Vessberg, librarian at the summer branch library, extent of injuries unknown, and Miss G. Vessberg, Countyman, librarian of Minneapolis public library, chest bruised and spine injured.

Mrs. Manley L. Fosness, wife of Senator Fosness, head bruised and cut and spine injured. Miss Grace E. Gerrish, cut, bruised and spine injured.

The five injured women are members of the Women's Welfare league of Minneapolis and were on their way to a summer camp at Prescott. The injured women were not able to talk of the affair but according to the other women Mrs. Swain lost control of her car rounding a curve on the steep driveway. The car turned over three or four times in its fall.

The police ambulance hurried to the scene and the women were given emergency treatment by the police surgeon before they were taken to the Mount Park sanitarium. Later by account of the very serious condition of Miss Vessberg it was decided to be unsafe to move her but the other women were taken to their homes.

DULUTH CATTLE WIN PRIZES AT THE WINNIPEG FAIR

MAY ROSE STARLIGHT.

Herds from the Jean Duluth farms carried off more than their share of prizes at the Winnipeg fair this week. Three herds were shown from here, including Red Polls and Guernseys, and there were also five Shetland ponies in the exhibit sent up.

The championship in that class was carried off by the Jean Duluth farms Red Poll herd and the grand championship in bulls was awarded to Proctor Knott. That animal is now recognized as America's Red Poll champion animal.

In Guernseys the herd from the farms won several first prizes, including the first prize for the young herd headed by May Rose-Starlight.

Prof. George P. Groat, superintendent of the Jean Duluth farms, returned from Winnipeg this morning. He said that the exhibits at the fair there were large in all classes and that from every point of view it was the most successful one ever held at the 'Peg.

The local herds have been shipped to Fargo, N. D., where the fair will be opened next Tuesday. The exhibits in animals there promise to be large. Ten ears of cattle have been shipped from Duluth over the Northern Pacific alone and other exhibits are still to go forward. Several of the Winnipeg exhibitors are sending their animals down to Fargo, Prof. Groat said.

labor legislation will be thoroughly thrashed out and whittled into form ready for presentation before the next legislature. Matters of great importance for discussion are convict labor, working men's compensation, the minimum wage and other topics.

The Speakers.

Among the prominent speakers will be Charles E. Vassaly, editor of the Little Falls Herald and chairman of the state board of control and E. Dana Durand, statistician of the state efficiency and economy commission. Mr. Vassaly's address will be on convict labor, a subject of which he has much first-hand knowledge.

The state federation at its last meeting appointed a committee of ten with Gust Elmqvist of St. Paul, chairman, to investigate this subject, and it is expected that this committee will condemn the contract system and recommend the use of convict labor on the highways and clearing state lands. The whole convention will discuss the subject and define action taken for reform.

An educational campaign will be launched for the referendum and recall and for increasing the number of justices in the state supreme court from five to seven.

The fraternal delegates who will attend the convention are J. H. Walker of Springfield, Ill., president of the Illinois federation; J. H. Strief of Sioux City, Iowa, president of the Iowa federation; R. H. Wood of Springfield, Mo., president of the Federation in that state; C. O. Taylor of Grand Rapids, Mich., and H. F. Waterman of Kalamazoo, Mich., respectively president and secretary of the Federation of Michigan. Wisconsin also will send fraternal delegates to the Duluth meeting.

This coming of these fraternal delegates is expected to have an important effect on the labor movement in this state, as there will be a general comparing of notes with the aim of securing uniformity of effort and laws. The state also is expected to work in accord and suggest the needs of various districts of the state. Large numbers are expected from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Winona, Red Wing, Faribault, St. Cloud, Moorhead, Grand Forks, Crookston, Mankato, Rochester, and Duluth. Superior will send fraternal delegates.

The Program.

The program will fill out every minute of the three days either with business or pleasure. The session Monday morning will begin at 10 o'clock at the New St. Louis hotel, at which nearly 300 delegates are expected to be present. The program for Tuesday morning the delegates and their families will go up the river by steamer to Fond du Lac and the delegates will record their business upon their return to the city.

The Labor Parade.

The biggest feature of the convention will be the parade, which will start at 6:30 o'clock at the corner of Fifth avenue west and First street. About sixty musicians will form a band to head the march and all the locals in the city will be in line. It is expected to be the largest parade ever seen in Duluth.

Wednesday's program has not been fully outlined but reports from the local committees have indicated that the meetings tomorrow of several organizations representing individual trades. These meetings are entirely independent of the federation convention, but are being held at the same time and place as the state convention. The Minnesota State Typographical Association will meet in Kalamazoo hall; the Northwestern Blue Label society, which is the cigar makers' organization, will gather at Oviatt hall and the State Police Association will meet at the State Police building.

The following local committees have arrived in charge: Convention—Harry A. Groat, Fred Bernard, A. G. Catlin, William J. Murphy and W. E. McEwen.

Reception—Fred Bernard, D. W. Murray, L. M. Johnson, W. J. Finn, F. G. Groat, George W. Harris, Harry Slik, John Shaffer, A. Jappe, P. Schaefer, Robert McLarnum, J. Deshane, C. G. Johnson, G. H. Frazer, J. Coole, A. Miller and J. E. Jensen.

sent late last night to the new government asking for permission to use the gunboat and an affirmative reply arrived this morning.

Gen. Huerta and Gen. Blanquet rose at 6 o'clock, in spite of the fact that they had kept them up until after midnight. The former provisional president had not left the railroad car since his arrival here.

During the latter part of the night, Gen. Huerta suffered a slight attack of indigestion and those about him were worried to find him in an unamiable mood.

Food Problem Serious.

The food problem for the refugees was not an easy one. The stock of foodstuffs on board the sleeping cars had become exhausted and it was found necessary to bring meals from the train from a restaurant in the vicinity.

Neither Senora Huerta nor Senora Huerta's husband had been up to 7 o'clock this morning, but plans were then being made for an interchange of calls before the departure of Gen. Huerta and his former minister of war.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

FAIR

In part the weather man was right in his prediction for last night and today. He said fair weather; it was partly so. But last night it got pretty warm and there was an early morning rain today. Fair and warmer weather is promised for tonight and tomorrow, however, which helps some.

Today is partly cloudy and none too warm.

A year ago today was warm. The sun rose this morning at 4:31 and will set this evening at 7:57, giving fifteen hours and twenty-six minutes of sunshine.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Temperatures of 90 deg. and higher prevailed Friday in the St. Lawrence valley, Atlantic states and throughout the South and Southwest. Light showers fell during Friday or last night over Manitoba, Eastern Ontario, the St. Lawrence valley, and over the greater portion of the South and Southwest."

General Forecasts.

ANDERSON HEADS ORPHEUS SOCIETY

Meeting Called to Arrange Plans for a New Clubhouse.

William A. Anderson was re-elected musical director of the Orpheus Singing society at its annual election of officers held last evening at the Woodmen hall. Twenty-first avenue west and First street. Mr. Anderson has been director of the society for two years.

The other officers elected were: Daniel Myhrman, president; R. Berg, vice president; Henning N. Oufalt, secretary and Carl Johnson, treasurer. The directors chosen are: Emil Melander, David Nelson, Otto Holmstrom, Carl Johnson and O. G. Olson. George Wolean and C. W. Lindstrom were appointed.

Arrangements were made for a special meeting of the society to be held next week at which its members will discuss ways and means for the erection of its clubhouse at Twenty-sixth avenue west and Third street. The plans for the building have been adopted but up to this time no attempt has been made to raise funds for its construction.

The building will be two stories, with a full basement. The basement will be exceptionally large and will be arranged for the main auditorium, club rooms and lodge hall. The first floor will be flush with Third street and be used for store purposes while the second floor will be arranged for flats. It is estimated that the building will cost about $20,000. Most of this sum will have to be raised before start will be made on the construction. The society recently incorporated and it is probable that its members will decide to sell stock in it in order to raise the required sum.

The lots owned by the society lie on the lower side of Third street and east of Twenty-sixth avenue. This property is valued by the society at about $5,000.

PROHIBITION IN HISTORY

Under this caption M. H. Walker writes the following in the New York Sun of May 22:

"Thomas Jefferson (see his works by Taylor & Maury, Vol. III, page 505) wrote December 13, 1818, to M. de Neuville, rejoicing as a moralist at the prospect of a reduction of the duties on wine. 'No nation,' he said, 'is drunken where wine is cheap, and none sober where the dearthness of wine substitutes ardent spirits as the common beverage.' Alexander Hamilton in his report of January 14, 1790, advocating an increase of specific duties on wines, spirituous liquors, tea and coffee, wrote: 'Should the increase of duties tend to a decrease of consumption of these articles, the effect would be in every way desirable as far as this decrease might be applicable to distilled spirits; it would encourage the substitution of cider and malt liquors, benefit agriculture and open a new and productive source of revenue.'

"Dr. Benjamin Rush, of Philadelphia, the real father of the temperance movement, in his 'Account of the Manners of the German Inhabitants of Pennsylvania' dwelt with particular emphasis upon the probity, frugality, economy, love of liberty and country of these people, and as if to furnish a key to all these traits, he said: 'Very few of them ever use distilled spirits in their families, their common drink being beer, wine and cider.' He made this fact one of the principal arguments in favor of his famous temperance movement. But it did not progress very much, because in those days beer and wine were expensive, and whisky very cheap. Among the mass of Americans the predilection for spirits was made universal by the general practice of rural distilling in all grain producing states, and especially in states in which the trade with the West Indies made molasses a common article of barter.

"In Georgia, as early as 1738, Governor Oglethorpe realized that in order to banish strong drink you must give the people a substitute. To make his 'Act to prevent the importation and use of rum and brandies in the province of Georgia, and any kind of spirits or strong water whatsoever,' effective (see his letter to the trustees dated Frederica, October 7, 1738) he urgently requested that fifty or sixty tuns of beer from the brewery of Hicks at Southwark be sent him. He said 'cheap beer is the only means to keep rum out.'

"If those who advocate national prohibition have their way, all the progress toward temperance in drinking will be checked, and we shall again approach the times of former rural distillation. The brewer, whom Andre D. White (Autobiography Vol. I, page 519) classes with the wine growers as 'the best temperance worker among us,' will disappear. No one has as yet been able to run a moonshine brewery. But moonshine stills, which even now are being operated at great risks in order to save the revenue tax, will flourish in greater number when the big legal distilleries must close down. For then the incentive to operate the stills will be much greater, as they will be the only agencies to supply the demand for alcoholic drinks. Then will many of the millions deprived of their mild fermented beverage return to the use of distilled spirits. Instead of banishing distilled liquor, national prohibition would give it the monopoly of supplying the demand for alcoholic drink."—Fitzer Brewing Co., Duluth, Minn.

Milwaukee's Prosecuting Attorney Gives Views on Conditions.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 18.—The cause of the downfall of girls was the general subject of investigation at Friday afternoon's session of the Wisconsin vice commission, together with the statistics showing from what occupations most of the fallen women come.

According to the testimony of Former District Attorney Zabel, under whose administration Milwaukee's vice district was wiped out, about 75 per cent of the girls brought before him for immoral practices came from the domestic servant class. Most of the others were in factory, store and office employments.

He expressed himself as decidedly against the employment of girls in breweries and against their employment as entertainers in palm gardens and cafes.

BLIND-PIGGER IS FINED AT CARLTON.

Carlton, Minn., July 18.—(Special to

No Dean Chosen.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The University of North Dakota board of regents did not make a selection yesterday of a dean for the college of law to succeed Dean Robert F. Henry, who resigned recently.

The question was placed in the hands of a committee consisting of President N. C. Young of the board, W. H. Hutchinson of the board, and President F. L. McVey of the university.

Aged Farmer Ill.

Fosston, Minn., July 18.—S. C. Bagley, the veteran lumberman and farmer, is reported to be seriously ill at his home south of Fosston. Mr. Bagley is 84 years old and at his advanced age his present sickness is considered alarming.

INFANT DAMNATION.

I wonder what is the matter with the baby? He seems feverish and is so restless. He was all right yesterday—as cute and happy as could be. I hope he hasn't caught some dreadful deadly disease. It makes my heart ache to even think of it. Where did I take him? I had him down town with me, of course. The day was muggy and the air was a little close in some of the stores, but I guess it was worse in the "movie" we went to. It happened to be one of those unventilated ones, and I confess I had a headache myself when we came out. If baby only gets well, I promise never to go into an unventilated theater again.

MAN'S BODY FOUND; YOUNG WOMAN GONE.

St. Joseph, Mich., July 18.—The body of a man identified from articles found in his clothing as that of Olaf Johnson, an engineer of Chicago, was found on the shore of Lake Michigan three miles from this city yesterday. Last Sunday a man believed to have been Johnson, accompanied by a young woman, came to St. Joseph on an excursion steamer from Chicago. They at once obtained a row boat and started out on the lake. The next day the boat, overturned, with a hole in its bottom was found drifting in the lake. Near it was a man's hat.

A Prominent Editor Says:

"In regard to the saving of money there is no better course than the systematic putting away every week of the amount that has been fixed upon, whether it be cents or dollars. This soon becomes an established custom that its moral effect is as gratifying as the gradual growth of the fund that is one day to mean so much."

It is exactly that idea which is fostered by this bank in its "WEEKLY SAVERS" plan. Fix in your own mind a sum which you can save and deposit week by week. Then DECIDE to do it and stick to your decision. You will get a threefold reward—a growing reserve fund, compound interest and a permanent habit of saving.

CROPS BETTER IN TEN YEARS

Practically All Crops in This State Better Except Potatoes.

Rains Cause Some Loss—General Conditions Fine, Says Agent.

K. D. Van Wageningen, agricultural agent for St. Louis county, who is beginning a weekly series of articles on agricultural topics, gives some reports this week on crop conditions that should be of great encouragement to Minnesota and the country as a whole. Mr. Van Wageningen writes as follows: "A recent government report says that crop conditions the country over on June 1 were about 2.2 per cent above those of the average of ten years previous. It further states the crop conditions of Minnesota on that date as follows: Oats, 3 per cent better; barley, 2 per cent better; hay, 5 per cent better; clover, 4 per cent better; potatoes, not given. In this county, these crops, except potatoes, are in excellent shape. Potatoes have suffered quite generally from the excessive rain, causing perhaps 5 per cent shortage. Garden truck is all backward, but it is very likely to pick up by the end of the season. Haying is well started now and the indications are that it will be an excellent crop, both as to quantity and quality.

Care Potatoes. "Now is the time for farmers to ward off potato diseases. Why not get a good sprayer and spray for potato bugs and diseases at the same time? This can be done, and a great deal of loss avoided. Remember, a wet season is very favorable for the development of blight and rot. Frequent sprayings with Bordeaux mixture will hold this in check, and perhaps 50 per cent of the value of your crop. Write your county agent for information if you do not know about this. "Land that is provided with good surface drainage is the land that has been least affected by the wet this year. Ridged potatoes are doing well, and all cultivated crops can be easily handled. But if corn is not already well ridged it should not be done now because roots will be cut off. When corn gets six inches high, the roots spread sideways, and close to the surface, and consequently it must be cultivated very shallow.

"Cut your clover and alfalfa in the beginning to turn brown. If allowed to stand longer, the leaves and stems come tough and woody, and the hay will not be so palatable and digestible. Furthermore, the leaves will drop off when dried, and be lost in handling."

Alfalfa Does Well. "Inoculated alfalfa on proper soil is doing well this year. Alfalfa hay is worth as much as bran feed, and you get four times as much per acre. It is not too late to sow some, and if you have a few acres of land, correspond with your county agent about securing good seed and directions for planting. "Make use of the county agent. His business is to assist the farmer in every way possible. If he cannot give you the information you desire, he can secure it for you. Visit his demonstrations are a part of his work, and it is all free for the asking."

Grain Broker Who Died Thursday Had Lived at Head of Lakes.

Walter Fitch, former president of the Chicago Board of Trade, and head of the firm of Walter Fitch & Co., who died at his summer home near Eau Claire, Wis., Thursday, was once a resident of Duluth and later lived in Superior. He resided in Duluth about twenty years and was employed as city solicitor for Armour & Co. for about nine months. He then went to Superior and was city assessor two years.

According to Samuel D. Fisher, manager for Armour & Co. here, who was a friend of Mr. Fitch, the deceased was a man of remarkably fine character and very popular with his friends. His business career was an active one and his rise was remarkably fast bringing him to the top of the business ladder.

After Mr. Fitch's residence at the Head of the Lakes he went to Eau Claire, later to Ashland, Milwaukee and Chicago. He returned to Eau Claire only a few days before his death, being in ill health and hoping to recuperate during the summer. His wife had not arrived yet but was expected to join him in a few days.

While in Chicago Mr. Fitch was a prominent club man and was at one time president of the South Shore Country club and also head of the Chicago Athletic club. He was a member of the New York Stock exchange and affiliated with other principal exchanges.

Mr. Fitch was born at Fox Lake, Wis., Dec. 18, 1861. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Maude Harper, a native of Chatham, New Brunswick, Can., a sister, Sarah, Dr. D. W. Ashburn of this city, a brother-in-law, Mrs.

"MAKE MARRIAGES DEPEND ON HEALTH"

Sex Hygiene Instruction Is Also Urged By Neurologists.

Chicago, July 18.—Healthy marriages and instruction in sex hygiene in public schools were advocated in resolutions adopted at the closing session of the conference of alienists and neurologists from thirty-seven states.

"Applicants for marriage should be required to furnish health certificates," said the report of resolutions committee, which was headed by Dr. W. A. Evans, of Chicago.

"Sex hygiene should be taught in the public schools above the grammar grade, to the sexes separately. Health departments—municipal and state—and hospitals for the insane should be equipped to make laboratory examinations for venereal diseases. Hospitals and dispensaries for the treatment of venereal diseases should be provided. Physicians should be compelled to report these diseases as is done in other countries.

Resolutions declaring for the state control of the sale of alcohol and narcotics, and for state inspection of labor conditions, were adopted. The resolutions recited that the major causes of physical conditions accompanied by mental derangements and deficiencies were alcoholism, the use of habit-producing drugs, insubstantial and unhygienic working conditions, including the immigration of the physically and mentally unfit.

A second conference will be held in Chicago next summer.

MAN'S BODY FOUND; YOUNG WOMAN GONE.

St. Joseph, Mich., July 18.—The body of a man identified from articles found in his clothing as that of Olaf Johnson, an engineer of Chicago, was found on the shore of Lake Michigan three miles from this city yesterday. Last Sunday a man believed to have been Johnson, accompanied by a young woman, came to St. Joseph on an excursion steamer from Chicago. They at once obtained a row boat and started out in the lake. The next day the boat, overturned, with a hole in its bottom was found drifting in the lake. Near it was a man's hat.

WITHERS FLINGS A NO-HIT GAME AGAINST ORE MEN

Virginia Fails to Get Even a Scratch, and Is Beaten, 9 to 0.

Bond Leads Dooks at Bat With Two Singles, Double and Homer.

BY BRUCE.

After waxing fat upon the baseball carcass of Winnipeg during the first part of the week the White Sox turned yesterday to the ravenous consumption of another victim. We met Virginia and at the conclusion of the game the enemy was ours by the convincing count of 9 to 0. The fact that James C. Withers heaved a prodigious no-hit no-run game should by all means be crowded into the first sentence of the achievement.

In the season that have been rolled into the scroll of time James was with right center. But in the life of the majority of young men some dark blotch appears as a rule somewhere along the pathway of life. In the case of the prodigious achievement of yesterday it is reasonably certain that the fans will overlook the fact that Withers once lived and labored in Superior. In the assortment of mound goods shown yesterday by the latest acquisition to the hurling staff of the Sox were some, well known to the fans. Before the delivery of James Calhoun Withers such well-known hitters as Freddy Giesch, Brokaw and Jack Agnew were helpless. During the afternoon four hits were lifted out of the infield. But one lovely gem smote the ball on the bat. Henry Brackett took good care of that offering.

Handsome Harold Bond, county superintendent of Billings county, Mont., led the bludgeon assault of the Dooks. All Harold did during the afternoon was to hit two singles, one double and one home run. Bond only came to bat four times—otherwise he might have added more to the sweet record of the day.

Faeth Is Generous.

Tony Faeth, the pool and billiard player of the Northern league, was the mound superintendent of the Ore Diggers. He was a good, old-fashioned, easy-going boss. We collected ten blows during the afternoon. All of the hits were of the vigorous and healthy variety. Messrs. Collins, O'Brien and Sweetley were the only ones of our side to go hitless. There was no need to put Henry Clay Blanche in as a pinch hitter.

Right away we started the procession to the plate. Croake was the first. Brackett's demise in the first, awed second and scored on Bond's single past first base. In the third Withers walked and was forced at second by Brackett. That second base was a fiddious way to second and counted on the rousing double of Bud Croake to right center. Bond singles No. 2 down past third and Croake went to third and then dashed for home, counting when Agnew dropped the throw from Giesch to the plate. Brackett started the fifth by hitting home. Croake sacrificed and then Bond came through with hit No. 3, a two-bagger to deep left center, and a home run to center and two more runs were over. It was a great afternoon. Sweetley walked in the sixth and Withers singled over the head of Brother Campbell. Brackett sacrificed both men alone. Sweetley came in on a past ball and Withers crossed the batter's box. Sweetley's single was the cause of higher thought. It is said that the feat is to be inscribed on a tablet and placed in a conspicuous place on college day.

Having secured enough runs to place the game beyond the realm of doubt, the Dooks laid off for the day. The laborers of the sweat brigade are expected to resume the good work today.

The Feat of Withers.

Swinging back the line of march to the rhythm of Withers, it might be mentioned that his performance stands boldly forth as one of the most meritorious of the season. Not only was the former unfortunate Superiorite opposed by one of the real hitting clubs of the league, but the game he twirled bore all of the marks of a thoroughly workmanlike job. Luck played but small part in the royal blue banner of success. Withers worked the batter all the way through and held the swat delivering brigade of the opposition in the hollow of his hand throughout.

BRITONS HAVE CHANGED VIEWS

No Longer Adhere to Opinion That Americans Are Not True Sportsmen, Says London Writer.

London, July 18.—The London Truth, discussing international sports, declares that while for years it has been an article of faith with the British that Americans are not sportsmen, one thing after another lately has gone to disprove this charge. The writer reviews many instances of friendly competition, including the recent polo matches when the Americans "acted from a spirit of sportsmanship which was ideal," in insisting upon the postponement of the first match because Capt. Cheape had been injured in practice.

In the line of athletics he recalled the traces of prejudice that were seen at the last Olympic games, and added:

"Boasters in sport there must be on both sides of the water. But taken all around the average American athlete is a better class man than his English antagonist."

He continues:

"I am so sick when advocating rational improvement in athletics of hearing the twaddle about specialization, especially as practised by the Americans, that I want to point out that without specialization and organization that (polo) cup would never have been won."

He pointed to the success which Guy Nickalls, the past-president of the Oxford University Boat Club had in reorganizing rowing at Yale along English lines.

J. Alex Sloan, the Case Team Magnate, Visits Duluth.

J. Alex Sloan, manager of one of the largest automobile racing teams in the world and of the real live sport promoters of the United States, was in Duluth yesterday. The manager of Duluth Disabow and the famous Case racing team dropped off here for a few hours visit, leaving for Winnipeg on the evening train.

Formerly sporting editor of one of the St. Paul papers, Sloan leaped into the sporting limelight as the manager of Barney Oldfield, when that driver was in the very heyday of his brilliant career. The suspension of Oldfield came as a result of the automobile contest with Jack Johnson, and J. Alex went back to the newspaper field, taking a position with the Los Angeles Times. Sloan became one of the best known writers of boxing on the Pacific coast.

The restless spirit of promotion and the insatiable Sloan and obeying his beck and call he organized the Case team, signed some of the best drivers in the world, and today has the largest and most expensive combination of drivers that had ever been gathered under one management. And Sloan is only a young fellow, at that.

"Active man," Sloan is getting better every year," said Sloan yesterday at the Holland hotel. "This year is a great fighter. When I was writing in the history of sport and all lines of public amusement, there is no real underlying foundation for the lack of interest—but it is here."

"Say," the white man who beats Jack Johnson will make $1,000,000 cold. That is the kind of money that is made in an overhyped imagination—it is true. After the victory the white smoke will also be the popular topic of the sporting world."

PUPIL OF LESCHETIZKY PLAYS FOR GUESTS AT INFORMAL MUSICALE

MARIE HOOVER-ELLIS.

THE people of Duluth are charmingly hospitable and I feel that I have known them a long time," said Mrs. Marie Hoover-Ellis, in whose honor Mrs. John A. Stephenson, president of the Matinee Musicale, entertained at an informal musicale Tuesday evening. Although Mrs. Ellis is on a vacation, attending the national convention of Building Owners and Managers with her husband, William M. Ellis of Chicago, she kindly consented to play several Chopin numbers for Mrs. Stephenson's guests, showing decided poetry and beautiful tone production in her interpretations.

Mrs. Ellis has just returned from Vienna, where she has studied with Leschetizky since 1909. Study with Leschetizky means hard work, for if he is interested in a lesson the old master is liable to make it a most strenuous two-hour affair. As Mrs. Ellis said, "he is 83 years old and easily becomes impatient if one is unable to grasp his ideas readily."

Mrs. Ellis made her European debut in London in November, 1912, concertizing later in the principal capitals of Europe, where she was received enthusiastically by both public and press. She will make an extensive tour of the country during the coming season, playing in orchestral and recital engagements. Her opening engagement will be in Chicago on Oct. 15 in a recital given under the auspices of the Amateur Musical club of that city.

During their stay in Duluth Mr. and Mrs. Ellis were entertained at numerous social functions. They will leave tonight with a party of friends for a two days' stay in Minneapolis before returning to their home in Chicago.

N. McDonald and family of Virginia, Minn., are now occupying a cottage on the Isle of Pines.

O. J. Salma of St. Paul, Minn., has engaged a cottage on the Isle of Pines. A. Olmstead, Western manager of the Westinghouse Air Brake company with headquarters in Chicago, E. B. Palmer, Northwestern manager of the Westinghouse company with headquarters in St. Paul, and J. A. O'Malley, mechanical expert of the same company with headquarters in St. Paul, passed Thursday fishing on Lake Vermilion and report a large catch of pike and bass.

H. W. Gibson, accompanied by his wife and three sons of Muskego, Okla., are spending the summer at Godwin's resort on Lake Vermilion.

H. F. Gray, president of the Gray-Worth company, left this afternoon for a party of three, who will leave over some summer resort property at Daisley island on Lake Vermilion.

Men and women who wish information regarding College day are asked to write to Dr. G. Herbert Jones, Mrs. G. Herbert Jones or Ray Higgins, sending their letters to the "Boat Club" at Duluth. The letters will be received more systematic attention than has been given to telephonic calls.

The Boat club is making extensive preparations for the buffet luncheon that will be served at Oatka branch, that on account of the enormous number of persons who will attend the affair it is suggested that families provide themselves with lunches.

FIVE NOTED DULUTH WOMEN

"Woman's Who's Who" Honors Local Women—New Books of Interest to Women at Public Library.

Five Duluth women are included among the notables mentioned in the "Woman's Who's Who in America," which is now available at the public library. Several other books of general interest to women have just been received.

The names of five Duluth women are contained in the 1914-1915 "Woman's Who's Who in America." They are Mrs. F. L. Barrows, Mrs. Irene Buell, who moved to St. Paul recently, Mrs. Charles K. Dickerman, Mrs. W. Kline and Mrs. John Richmond.

Mrs. George R. Dean may be claimed by Duluth, temporarily at least, as she is spending the summer here and was here last summer.

This first volume of the "Woman's Who's Who in America" represents a two years' work and contains brief sketches of 644 women, representing every state of the United States and every province of Canada. The list includes the names of all the important lines of work in which women engage, the arts, sciences, professions, religion, philanthropy, business, official life, club life and many other activities.

The women listed in "Who's Who" were asked by the editor to state their views on the suffrage question. Although many expressed themselves as for or against suffrage, some ignored the question and several asked that nothing be said about their suffrage views for personal or business reasons. In tabulating the results nothing was taken into consideration except the record as given in the volume. Those recorded in favor of suffrage either made statements to the editor to that effect or mentioned their membership in purely suffrage organizations or stated in the Progressive or Prohibition parties was not taken as an evidence of favoring suffrage for women, as a few members of those parties have declared themselves opposed or neutral. Socialists were also those who believe in restricted suffrage for men and women alike. Those who declared themselves against woman suffrage were members of anti-suffrage organizations or those who proposed to confine the franchise to school or municipal elections or to tax-paying women were counted in opposition to woman suffrage. For or against equal suffrage, eliminating sex as a discriminating factor, were those for suffrage number 4,737, opposed 712, and those who gave no opinion and the few who were neutral, 4,084. Count it up—it comes out right. Not more than 100 names are included in the book for their prominence as either suffragists or anti.

"Modern Dancing" by Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle, dedicated to "those who have danced, to those who do dance, to those who are to dance, to the patronesses of Castle house," contains a large number of illustrations of the dances, showing steps of the most popular up-to-the-minute dances. The book includes descriptions of the one-step, lame duck, Cortez, maxie, scissors and other steps, a description of the proper dancing costumes for women and directions for giving a dance.

"Recipes from the East and West" is compiled by Euterpe Crites of culinary successes of many countries. Most of the recipes are intended for households with few servants. Russia, Greece, Sweden, Turkey, Italy, Scotland, Holland, Arabia, Spain and America have contributed recipes for the soups, vegetables, sauces, fish, bread, cake, preserves and other delicacies contained in this little book.

Thomas Dixon's new book, "The Victim," with the secondary title, "A Romance of the Real Jefferson Davis," is told in the same manner as his history, "The Southerner." Through it runs a thread of romance in the heroine, the best work of the author. In the foreword Mr. Dixon says: "In the historical romance I have woven of the dramatic events of the life of Jefferson Davis I have drawn his real character unobscured by passion or prejudice. Forced by his people to lead a life of suffering, he created an engine of war so terrible in its power that through it five million slaves, without money, without a market, without credit, without food for four years the shock of twenty million men of their own blood and equal daring, backed by boundless resources.

"The scenes have all been drawn from authentic records in my possession, have not at any point taken a liberty with an essential detail of history."

"The Mixing," by Bouck White, is a sort of sequel to "The Call of the Century" that was in great demand. It describes the way a young minister and several energetic women woke up a country town, called "The Rip Van Winkle of the South," and made it a model village with neat, white houses and a friendly population. It is a better text of romance for a "city beautiful" campaign than a novel.

Among the recent additions to the library are "Near East," by Robert Hichers, illustrated by Jude Guerin; "Wild Life Across the World," written and illustrated by Charles K. Johnson; "Introduction by Theodore Roosevelt; 'In the Vanguard,' by Katrina Trask, the winner this year of the gold medal of the American School Peace league; two copies of "The Wanderer's Neck- lace," by H. Rider Haggard.

ST. ELMO

Lyceum

The Baldwin Players will close the most successful week of their engagement with a matinee today and tonight, the last two performances of the great laugh provoker "Ready Money."

All next week commencing tomorrow matinee with usual week day matinee, Wednesday and Saturday. Manager Baldwin promises a perfect dramatization of Augusta Evans Wilson's romance of the old south, the most widely read and popular novel "St. Elmo." All readers of the powerful story will remember the startling and absorbing narration told by that popular author. This is the book play that every one has been asking for and as presented by the Baldwin Players. Manager Baldwin promises that nothing quite so interesting, unique or unusual has ever been produced in this city complete in every detail. "If you have read the book, you should see the play," he says. "If you have not read the book—do not miss the play. It is great."

In dramatic form it deals with the redemption of St. Elmo Murray through the patient example of a young girl. St. Elmo was a man of intellect, education and refinement, who was the soul of generosity, truth and goodness; through the deception and baseness of a trusted friend it led him to an act which destroys all but the brute in his nature. Until he is 25 years of age he dwells all virtues in evil dissipation and vice.

A young girl, Edna Earl, comes into his home through the charity of his mother, and by her examples and patient forbearance he is led back to his better self.

There are many incidents in the play to interest; a delightful vein of comedy and stirring dramatic story. There is a touch of rural life most pleasing, scenes range from picturesque sunsets in the Lookout mountains to society's faddish homes.

For the eleventh week of the Baldwin Players' highly successful engagement they will present, by special arrangement with Conan and Harris, an elaborate production of the great melodramatic farce comedy "Officer 666."

AT EMPRESS

Among the list of notable attractions to be presented by the Boyle Woolfolk musical comedy players there is none perhaps that will attract more interest than "Johnny Wise," which is scheduled for production at the Empress for four days commencing with the matinee Sunday, July 19. "Johnny Wise" is a musical comedy farce which last season scored what was unquestionably the biggest success of all the tabloid productions. Last year "Johnny Wise" was played in only a few of the larger towns of the Empress circuit and comes back for a return engagement as a vehicle for the Boyle Woolfolk players and again Sam Mylie will be the star of the production.

"Johnny Wise" is from the pen of Hal Stevens and Harry B. Linton, it being a musical version of their farce, "My Wife's Family." All Laughlin, the general stage director for all of the Woolfolk tabloids, will personally produce "Johnny Wise." The music for this piece is said to be one of the most attractive features. There are over fifteen numbers, a few of the hits being "The Silent Rag," "Punny Hazy," "He's a Devil," "Dinah" and "Oyster Crackers."

The production is promised to be on the scale of magnificence seldom seen outside the larger cities. It requires a full length baggage car for the transportation of the scenery and effects. The Boyle Woolfolk players number thirty-two people, including a chorus of twenty and a cast of exceptional excellence. Aside from its scenic investment, "Johnny Wise" is claimed to be one of the most superbly gowned shows in the country, dresses for chorus and principals representing an investment of $5,000. As no musical comedy of the current season excels in beauty or has made such an impression as did "Johnny Wise," it is reasonable to expect that the Empress theater will be crowded on the occasion of its presentation opening, Sunday afternoon.

Others in the cast with Sam Mylie are Guy Voyer, Grace Manlove, Helen Brandon, Eddie Ray, the Vance brothers, Mabel Lecocquer, Roy Elinder, Lillian Foulz and others.

For the last half of the week commencing with the matinee Thursday this same company will offer the musical comedy mix-up, "Lovers and Lunatics."

alical comedy mix-up, "Lovers and Lunatics."

One of the members of the Boyle Woolfolk Musical Comedy Players, who are presenting "Johnny Wise" at the Empress for the last time today will spend next summer in Europe at the expense of the other members of the company. They have formed an organization which is called the Woolfolk European Touring Club and each member contributes to the general fund the sum of $1 each week. There being thirty-two members in the company this means $32.00 is added to the fund every week and at the end of a forty-week season the fund will amount to $1,280.

This fund is to be used by the girl or boy who is finally selected, to pay the expenses of a trip to Europe during the summer months when usually performers are not working. The rules under which the fund is to be awarded are very strict. In the first place, before the end of the season forfeits all right to participate in the benefits of the club. When the season closes every member who has stayed with the company throughout the season stands a chance to win. Then comes an even harder condition. The final award is to depend on the black marks made against the member by the stage manager. An elaborate schedule of demerits has been worked out. For every fine of a dollar that has been placed against a member ten black marks are recorded. Demerits increase as the fines increase, a $2.00 fine calling for 200 demerits, a $5.00 fine for 1,000 and a $10.00 fine for 2,000 black marks. What are technically known as "call demerits" where a person is simply fined without a fine, is punished with a various number of demerits according to the severity of the demerit. When Boyle Woolfolk, the producer, heard of this club and its plan, he agreed to add the steamer fare to Europe and return to the fund, thus leaving the lucky member who at the end of the season has the fewest number of black marks, the entire $1,280. If there is a tie at the end of the season the lucky person will be chosen by lot. The members of the company have been authorized to keep the fund, retaining the assessment out of each member's salary. So keen is the interest in the contest that not one fine has been assessed on anybody since the tour of the company began.

AT THE REX

"The House of the Dead," a two-act drama with Bob Leonard in the leading male role, takes up the world old question "can a girl be happy with a husband twice her age?" will be seen at the Rex Sunday. Two or three good sparkling comedies complete the program.

A landmark in baseball history is the world tour of the Sox to be shown at the Rex Monday and Tuesday. The tour has been watched by the entire American sports loving people including the president and his cabinet. A special exhibition was given using exactly the same picture as mentioned above, for the president and before both houses at Washington, and the exhibition hall rang with the applause as the members viewed the tour unfolding step by step before them. Fine close up views are given of such scenes as all along the record cattle horse; cowboys stampede showing the grand, new and a new style in routing. The Empress of Japan, bearing the big league players and the worst storms the Pacific has ever known, were encountered and a big feature are the wave pictures caught by Pathe's camera man, while the storm was at its worst, and waves sixty feet high breaking over the ship. Many of the wives and children of the players took this opportunity to circle the globe. It will be seen Monday and Tuesday at the Rex.

Wednesday will be the King's Daughters day at the entire theater will be managed by the young women. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the Famous Players are the feature at the Rex in "The Little Gray Lady." So daily life in Washington is the main theme of this play, and to bring out the different elements that make up the story, no better hands than Daniel Frohman's, could be wished for, as the drama abounds with heart interest and strength.

Echo

Musical comedy is delighting the patrons of the Echo and Manager Mistachkin has received more praise this week on the program now being presented than in all the six former weeks put together. The bill is entitled "Triflers" and it is all that the name implies. Many new members have been added to the stock company, each one adding a little to the program. Miss Marie Russell still holds the most important part on each bill as prima donna, having made many friends in this city during the last six weeks. Miss Blanche Carr, soubrette, leads a pretty number, as well as taking part in the play as Mrs. Schmalz. Miss Flo Beatty, or Tough Alley, is making a big hit as the wife of Clotz. Mr. Cullen is starring as the rival; Leo Hoyt as one of the husbands; while the producer, Chas. Le Roy is seen as Schmalz. Little Eva Kennison is a hit in a sweet little number assisted by the beauty chorus. The program now being presented will be seen today for the last three performances. The bill for tomorrow will be changed. Three shows are given daily, and four on Sunday.

AT THE SUNBEAM

One of the best programs that has been shown at the Sunbeam theater for several months will be accorded the patrons of that showhouse tomorrow. The special feature for this splendid program in an Essene feature entitled "When the Lightning Struck," with Francis X. Bushman playing the leading role. As many of the moving picture enthusiasts are aware, Mr. Bushman was the winner of the Hero contest conducted by the Ladies' World Magazine for the most popular actor appearing in the movies, and he led his other competitors by many thousands of votes.

This picture has to deal with an insanely jealous young man who planned to blow up his rival, and the girl, but is caught himself. The general motive of the piece is one of romance, but the plot is so ingenious that it holds the

HOW THE DREAM OF FIVE IOWA BOYS PRODUCED THE WORLD'S BIGGEST CIRCUS

Part of childhood's joy was playing circus. Under the cherry tree in the back yard, don't you remember, where we made our ring and cut capers on a frail, tattered just as we had seen those in spangles and silks in the tent on the town lot down by the railroad tracks? And somehow these boyish pranks created a microbe that became most active every spring and summer, which any first-class diagnosis labels as red wagon fever. All of us have had it and with most of us it is chronic and incurably beneficial in that it makes of the men of real blood, Peter Pans—the boys who never grow old. Sometimes fact entwines itself with the romance of boyish days. Off-times childish games have started the endeavor that made one a winner in the big business game of later days. Few boys, however, have seen their play structures grow into granite and steel structured realities or dreams of the circus become a canvas city.

Five boys stood on the banks of the Mississippi river at McGregor, Iowa, one morning, and with gleaming eyes watched a plodding old stern-wheeler work its way up the river. Their hearts beat faster when they saw the bow headed for the landing. It came closer, and as the black smoke cleared the stack the morning sunlight fell upon a banner, and on it was the legend:

"Obadiah Green's Floating Allied Circuses and Monster Marine Museum of World Wide Wonders"

And it was coming. The bills tucked up at the village store and on the hitching barn had told the truth. It was here and it was their first circus. The gang plunk was cast off as a sickly, bad-eyed horse leaned over the rail, sighing as it glanced across to the clover-scented pastures beyond. A big man, tanned by many a sun and seared by many a storm, came ashore carrying a bridle. Approaching the boys he said: "Say, sonny, where can I find Green who spoke, and the boy nearest to him was paralyzed with awe. The others trembled and dug their toes into the mud. Finally the oldest of the five ventured the information and took the showman to a harness shop. The bridle was mended and the circus proprietor handed over a quarter for the work.

Then the strange assortment was unloaded while performers and workmen alike dug the ring's banks, put up the tents and placed the seat boards. The boys sat by in wide-eyed and open-mouthed wonder. The crude performance and then the circus went away. Five tired boys went to sleep in the trundle bed and their dreams were dreams of spangles and sawdust under a canopy of canvas.

Several years later the family moved fast and it was time for parental planning for the future. The boys were also planning. The dream inspired by Obadiah Green's show was taking place. It kept on growing and five years later the brothers, with planks borrowed from a home lumber yard and under a home-made tent, gave their first performance. It was the first Ringling Brothers' show.

In a little while the company went on tour, growing each day more like a circus. As money was taken in new features were added and the tour extended. By 1883 it was grown to the proportions of a wagon show and the name was beginning to be heard of in the world of amusements. Performers were hired and the brothers became agents and managers. In 1888 it became a railroad show and has since grown bigger with each succeeding season.

Through all the years of the Ringling circus the brothers have stood together, working harmoniously, always conferring one with the other. The old home has been maintained. Hundreds of acres are covered by the buildings of their winter quarters, their stables, menageries and practice barns and shops.

INDUSTRIAL WARFARE.

The railroads have invoked Federal mediation, the Federal board has tendered its services, and the men have accepted them.

That's splendid news. A great railroad strike is the last thing that this country wants at this time—or at any other, for that matter.

The railroads and their men are to be congratulated for taking this civilized way of determining their dispute.

If the western railroads and their engineers should fail to reach an agreement on wages and working conditions there will be a strike.

The men will leave their engines, trains will cease running, traffic will be paralyzed and commerce will be prostrated.

The earnings of the railroads will cease. That will be bad for the railroads.

The wages of the men, not only of the strikers but of the conductors and brakemen and switchmen and others, will also cease. That will be bad for the men—worse for their families.

Business will be halted, crops will cease to move, food will cease to reach the markets, perishable produce will go to waste—a wide-spread affliction will hit the country with crushing force just as a wave of new prosperity is bringing new courage and new hope to the land.

And that will be bad for the public, which will suffer more than either the railroads or their employees.

Who wants a strike?
The railroads don't, of course, because it will cost them a great deal of money.

The employees don't, of course, because it will cost them a great deal of money, too.

And certainly the public doesn't want a strike, because it will be the chief sufferer.

What does a strike prove, anyway? It doesn't prove who is right, because it is a test of endurance, not of right or wrong. The strongest, not the most just, wins a strike.

Such causes ought always to be arbitrated.

President Wilson, say the Associated Press dispatches, has been suffering considerably from the heat. Another reason for establishing the summer capital at Duluth.

A NEGLECTED DUTY OF THE HOME.

When the subject of teaching sex hygiene in the public schools was being discussed before at the federation of women's clubs at its recent meetings, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of Chicago's schools, said that they preferred to call it "personal hygiene," and then went on to add: "I was reluctant to undertake the responsibility. I went to Dean Sumner and told him it was the duty of the church. We argued it long and often, but finally ten thousand dollars was appropriated by the city to get the lecturers, and I had to do it."

The New York World rebukes both Dean Sumner and Mrs. Young. "Why," it asks, "should church and school assume to divide between them sole supervision and responsibility for all forms of education and conduct? It appears to have occurred to neither that the subject might be taught best and most effectively in the home. Just why there should be public teaching of what cannot be publicly named is not apparent to those who believe that the home is still an American institution and that fathers and mothers have a duty to teach something to their own children."

All of which goes to prove that sex teaching still waits where it has waited all these years—in the ante-room, neglected.

The schools say the church should teach it.
The church says the schools ought to teach it.

A certain type of thinker says the parents ought to teach it and therefore that the church and school should keep hands off.

Those who say parents should teach it are right enough; but they don't and won't. False modesty, ridiculous in the extreme but very prevalent, prevents most. And, for that matter, very few parents know how to go about it.

In the meantime boys and girls are left to find out about these vital facts of nature in the best way they can. They always find out; depend upon that. The age of "innocence"—meaning ignorance—grows less every year.

Some find out too late, when they are suffering the dreadful penalties of ignorance. Most of them learn from their more sophisticated companions, and in a form more deadly even than ignorance.

A GLITTERING OPPORTUNITY.

Louisville Courier-Journal: The way ahead is plain. We should take military possession of Mexico precisely as we took military possession of Cuba. We should from the City of Mexico prescribe absolutely the future government of the country and support it by force of arms until all danger is passed. We should arrange to take over Lower California, Sonora and so much of Northern Mexico as will insure good neighborhood upon the border. Meanwhile we should regard every Mexican politician the servant of some aggregation of organized capital, every military chieftain as a cut-throat and bandit. The work to be done may be rough, but it should be thorough, and if Mr. Wilson does not do it the country will get a president who will.

A great era in the history of this country ended when the tide of settlement broke upon the Rocky Mountains and fell back, the free land gone and the day ended when if a man did not like the price offered for his labor he could go out upon a piece of near-by land and live comfortably.

The era of free land and free opportunity was a golden age. Fortunes were to be had for the asking, and one man's chance was as good as another's. We had rich stores of coal and iron and gold and silver and timber; and almost any man could, if he were lucky, locate a mine or a rich quarter section of timber.

That day is done. The timber is mostly cut or burned, and what is left is in few hands. The minerals are pre-empted. Free land is scarce and hard to get at.

These "inexhaustible" riches having been exhausted or sealed up for privilege, and the day of free opportunity having passed, we are quarreling now over what most of us let get away from us and what a few gathered unto themselves. There was no fear of trusts, no regulation of enterprise, no check upon gigantic fortunes, when everybody had hope that he might yet be one of the lucky ones.

• • • • •
We could, if we would, bring back that day of free opportunity. We could restore our frontier. We could bring back the era of free land. We could renew the opportunity for cheaply acquired wealth.

Mexico has the free land, the timber, the minerals, the oil, the soil, the grazing lands that we no longer have. Because it is a backward country, inhabited by a backward people, it still has incalculable riches unexploited.

Col. Watterson suggests that we take over a good deal of Northern Mexico, so much "as will insure good neighborhood upon the border."

But if we pick up our border and move it south a few hundred miles, still we shall have bad neighbors unless we take it all. And if we take anything, we should take all. We may as well be hanged for a sheep as for a lamb.

It is a glittering opportunity to which the Colonel in his cunning directs our attention. We can turn back history a generation, and restore the golden age. We can open again the gates of opportunity, and make a few more multi-millionaires.

All we shall have to do is to conquer Mexico, subdue the Mexicans, and then make peace if we have to create a solitude to do it. It will be a solitude soon filled with our own people—favored children of fortune. It would be a little more trouble to annihilate the Mexican Indians than it has been to shoulder aside our own Indians; but it can be done. We have the men, and the government can get the money.

Yes, we could restore the golden age of fat pickings, we could turn back the page of history, we could postpone for another generation the reckoning between those who have too much and those despoiled and left too little, by seizing Mexico.

We could do this easily, and doubtless we would—if we were a nation of cut-throats and crooks and brigands.

Does Col. Watterson think we are such?

The schools say the church should teach it.
The church says the schools ought to teach it.

A certain type of thinker says the parents ought to teach it and therefore that the church and school should keep hands off.

Those who say parents should teach it are right enough; but they don't and won't. False modesty, ridiculous in the extreme but very prevalent, prevents most. And, for that matter, very few parents know how to go about it.

In the meantime boys and girls are left to find out about these vital facts of nature in the best way they can. They always find out; depend upon that. The age of "innocence"—meaning ignorance—grows less every year.

the propeller gives the same push with the same power whatever the elevation."

But two miles up there is a constant wind blowing in the general direction of Europe, at a velocity of twenty-five to fifty miles an hour. "Calculation shows that, taking all these circumstances into consideration, our best machines should be able to cross the Atlantic in thirteen hours." So concludes Dr. Alexander Graham Bell.

Just start at five o'clock in the morning, and you are there in time for a six o'clock dinner in the evening—maybe.

Only—for our part, somebody else can do it.

THE CURSE.
It's like old times—at least it's like old times in novels—to hear that brooding over the melancholy history of the Hapsburgs, which lately culminated in the assassination of his heir to the Austrian throne and his wife, is a woman's curse.

The curse used to be a frequently employed property of fiction, but it is used little nowadays. In fact it often was the plot. The hard-hearted old baron laughed contemptuously when the mother of his victim launched her curse upon his head; but the experienced reader of the fiction of that day was in a position to predict that he would yet laugh out of the other side of his head. And sure enough, he always did. Sooner or later that curse came home, whether it descended upon his first-born and best beloved or upon himself. Usually a horse ran away and killed him horribly.

But that type of fiction has gone out of fashion, so it is with the shock of interested surprise that one hears of the curse of the Hapsburgs. In the light of the cloud of tragedy that has hung over their house, filling half a century with a serial story of blood and tragedy and woe, it is not surprising that the story of the curse is heard with awe in Europe, the home of superstition. Of course there is no superstition in this country.

The story—and so far as these facts go it is true—goes back to the time when Francis Joseph, then a lad of eighteen, was forced to ascend the throne of Austria, deposing the weakling Ferdinand, whose vagaries threatened to cost the family the crown.

It was a troubled country over which the young man rose to rule, and no monarch ever faced a greater sea of trouble. The country always has been torn by conflicting racial and religious interests, and at that time it was lashed by revolutions and democratic uprisings that would have daunted the most courageous ruler.

The revolution in Hungary was the greatest trouble-breeder, and Russia's help was needed to crush it. It was only put down by the most violent and severe measures.

One of the victims of this severity was the only son of the house of Karolyi, a young man of brilliant personality and promise. When he was executed under painful circumstances, his mother forced her way into the presence of the emperor during a great ball, and in the presence of a horror-stricken court pronounced a terrible curse upon the emperor and his house.

The strange scene and the awful words of the grief-stricken mother made a deep impression; and the crowding tragedies of the half century since have only deepened that impression. Thus ran the curse:

May heaven and hell blast your happiness. May your family be exterminated. May you be smitten in the persons of those you best love. May your children be brought to ruin and may your life be wrecked, and yet MAY YOU LIVE ON IN LOVE, UNBROKEN AND HORRIBLE GRIEF TO REMEMBER WHEN YOU RECALL THE NAME OF KAROLYI!

With the last words she fell senseless, and later died in retirement.

And, as she said, Francis Joseph has been smitten in the persons of those he best loved; his children have been brought to ruin; his life has been wrecked, and he lives on "in lonely, unbroken and horrible grief." His words when the news of the latest tragedy was brought to him would have gladdened the bitter heart of that desolated mother: "Oh, why have they spared me?"

Harry Thaw's lawyers need expect no sympathy from the rest of the country on account of Harry's getting a new supply of ready money.

CLEVER RAILROADS, FOOLISH PEOPLE!
The greatest inland water highway in the world is the Great Lakes. Its natural advantages—enormously heightened by public expenditures, it pierces from the coast two thousand miles into the interior.

Potentially a marvelously cheap transportation route capable of producing a great saving to the people, it produces a great saving where competition is free, and produces practically none where competition has been artificially throttled.

You would suppose it fair enough, would you not, if the lake carriers were to be allowed rates that would provide a fair return on their investment? Wouldn't you suppose, in point of fact, that that is precisely the way it would be?

Well, it isn't that way at all. On grain, for instance, where competition is free, the Great Lakes have saved the people three hundred and fifty million dollars in freight rates. They have saved millions in ore freights, coal freights and lumber freights.

But on merchandise, in which most people are interested, if rates were permitted to seek their proper route the railroads in competition with the lake highway would get little through business during the navigation season, so they have arranged it so that lake rates are high enough to protect the railroads from this possible loss of business.

Is that what we put our money into developing this great free highway for?

Shall rates and routings be made in the interests of public service, with fair returns to the carriers; or shall they be made primarily for the benefit of the carriers, with only such incidental public benefits as the carriers choose to concede?

These questions are raised in an article in the July issue of the American Review of Reviews by Julius H. Barnes of Duluth—an article that ought to set the nation to thinking.

Mr. Barnes urges this principle in rate-making on water routes: "That the operators shall have the cost of conducting service plus a fair return on the equipment actually engaged in that service. Remember, no railroad invested a dollar in that right-of-way; no railroad spends a dollar in maintaining its lighthouses or its channels.

The value of the service on such a public highway belongs to the owners, the public, and should be reflected to them in the lowest possible carrying rates."

Yet on general merchandise the value of this highway is absorbed by the railroads, which to protect their more expensive highways have so contrived it that lake rates shall offer no serious competition to rail business; thus in effect capitalizing and charging interest upon public expenditures made for public benefit.

That's clever of the railroads. But isn't it monstrously stupid of the public to let them do it?

Mr. Barnes's illuminating article also discusses the evil of indirect routing—another cunning thing the people are stupidly letting the railroads do. His second proposition is that freight shall be moved between two points on the route which can transport it most cheaply and with a direct saving reflected in the rates. You'd think that would be axiomatic, wouldn't you? It isn't, in practice. Superior transportation advantages are not permitted to result in the low rates that should naturally flow from them. The railroad system of rate-making and routing, shrouded in a hocus-pocus of mysticism intended to let the railroad man's word be final, upsets natural advantages, repels natural laws of trade, and distorts and upsets natural trade tendencies for the benefit of the carriers at the needless and wasteful cost of their customers.

These things need study, and Mr. Barnes's article is a beacon that pierces a great deal of deliberately manufactured muck that was designed to befoul the people—and that has, so far, succeeded admirably in that design.

There is even some excuse for the man who thinks George W. Perkins is being groomed for second place on the ticket.

"BLUE SKY" LAWS.
Three Federal judges recently held the Iowa "blue sky" law to be unconstitutional.

Perhaps it is. We are not familiar with the provisions of that particular law, and wouldn't set our judgment of law up against that of three Federal judges if we were.

What interests us is whether or not this decision means, as it may, that the Federal courts are going to hold that the states cannot regulate the sale of stocks.

In other words, what is important is the question whether this law is defective because of its clumsy construction, or whether it is impossible to draw a state "blue sky" law that will hold water.

There can be no questioning the need of regulating stock sales. Lacking such regulation, a good deal of the business of selling stock is as reprehensible as the business of selling gold bricks and green goods.

"Stock is sold in oil 'prospects,' in mineral 'prospects' and the like that have no more prospect of profit than gilded bricks.

Poor men are robbed of their savings by a heinous appeal to their hope of independence and security in old age.

The small man's chance of fortune through investments in stocks is pitifully slim. Men who have good mining or oil locations usually have no difficulty in getting capital for development. Very few good things are thrown upon the open market at a few cents a share.

A "blue sky" law is simply a system under which those who propose to sell stocks are required to put their cards upon the table. They must go before some state authority and disclose all the facts. They must tell what properties they own, if they own anything except a pad of gilded stock certificates. They must tell the exact condition of their properties. They must disclose what every investor ought to know before he puts a penny into any investment.

And before they can be licensed to sell securities, they must satisfy the authorities that they have something more to sell than highly decorative stock certificates.

That's a wholesome law. It is a needed law. It is needed in every state in the Union, including Minnesota.

Iowa had such a law, and now it has it no longer because the courts have held it to be no good.

It is highly important that we should find out as soon as possible whether or not the states can perform this service for their people.

If they can, by enacting laws which avoid the defects on which the Iowa decision is based, every state should pass such a law.

If the states can't handle this business, then the Federal government should cover the field with a national blue sky law that will put every stock-selling sharper out of business.

What Really Passed Between Williams and the Boss.

Boss—Mr. Williams!
Williams—Yes, sir.
Boss—You have seemed lately to lack interest in your work.

W.—Why—er—no, sir, I'm interested in it.
Boss—You haven't been showing it lately, Mr. Williams. What's the trouble?

W.—Well, the truth is, I'm not very well.
Boss—Indeed! You look perfectly healthy. But in order to give you a chance to recover I'm going to give you two months off—without pay. Come back the first of August, and if you're ready to jump in and do your share of the work, then I'll take you back. What I'm doing is giving you another chance to make good when I really should fire you. But I think there's good stuff in you somewhere under your damned foolishness and maybe a couple of months knocking around will do you good. That's all.

As Williams Reported the Interview Later to a Friend.

Williams—Well, Fred, I've quit.
Fred—What! Chucked the job?
W.—Uh-huh. That is for a while at least. Teachin' the old man a lesson.

F.—Smatter?
W.—Asked for a raise. Old man stubborn. Finally forced him to admit I was underpaid. "Give me a raise, then," says I. "It's the dull season," says he. "Wait till November." I told him plainly there was nothing doing on the November thing. He thought a while and then he said: "I'll raise you the first of August." The first of August, then? I told him, "I'll come back to work." You order seen his face!

"Whadya mean by that?" he says. "Well," says I, "I don't want to take the high hand with you—but a man's gotta look out for his rights, and not another day do I work for what I'm gettin'—see?"

F.—What'd he say to that?
W.—You order seen him, Fred? He hemmed and hawed, but finally he says: "It's unusual, Williams, but I'll do it. I can't afford to lose you. Come back the first of August, ten a week advance."

F.—You really goin' back?
W.—I dunno, Fred. I got my eye on something better. But he's a pretty good old boy and I may give him another chance.

Good Times Ahead!

Springfield Republican: A notable survey of business conditions in all parts of the country, conducted in collaboration by the Philadelphia Public Ledger and the New York Times, leads to optimistic conclusions concerning the future. The first thing in the summary to impress one is the admission that during the past six months business has been better than the calamity howlers have represented. Some of the salient points are summarized as follows: (1) The depression is not as general as has been supposed and is confined to certain localities and lines of activity. (2) The business situation in the last six months has been as good as in the corresponding period of last year.

With a grain crop valued by the government at $4,125,000,000, and with cotton showing a record, the business men of the country, especially those in mercantile and manufacturing lines, foresee a bright future in the fall, which in some lines has already begun.

The general feeling of confidence is most marked among the business men, who will first feel the effects of these expenditures (by farmers and others). Second is the report that falling off in the business of this year from that of 1913, and in some cases that of 1912, is not so marked as was feared.

The automobile manufacturers report business booming for the coming season. Others are erecting new factory buildings. The introduction of lighter and less expensive cars has given the business an added stimulus.

THE TARIFF FIGURES VERY LITTLE IN THE REPORTS FROM INDUSTRIAL CENTERS. VIRTUALLY NO ONE COMPLAINS OF ITS EFFECTS SO FAR.

It needs to be said, as bearing on the statement concerning the tariff, that the tariff during the past six months has been a strong advocate of protective duties and has been a sharp critic of the Underwood-Simmons law.

Credo.
How easily my neighbor chants his creed.
Kneeling beside one in the house of God,
His "I believe," he chants, and "I believe,"

With cheerful iteration and consent—
Watching meantime the white, slow sunbeam move
Across the aisle, or listening to the bird
Whose free wild song sounds through the open door.
Thou God supreme—I, too, I, too, believe!

But oh forgive, if this one human word,
Ending the deep and breathless
And my own conscience with an iron band,
Stick in my throat, I cannot say it, thus—
This "I believe" that doth itself obscure.

This road to smite; this barrier; this blot
On thy most unimagined face
And soul of majesty.
"Thou not man's faith
In thee that he proclaims in echo
But faith in man; faith not in thine own Christ.
But in another man's dim thought of him.

Christ of Judea, look, then, in my heart!
Do I not love thee, look to thee, in thee
Alone have faith of all the sons of men—
Faith deepening with the weight and woe of years.
Pure soul and tenderest of all that came Into this world of sorrow, hear my prayer!

Lead me, yes, lead me deeper into life.
This suffering, human life wherein thou livest
And breathest still, and holdest thy way divine.
"Thou here, O pitying Christ! where thee I seek,
Here where the strife is fiercest, where the sun
Beats down upon the highway thronged with men.
And in the raging mart, Oh, deeper lead
My soul into the living world of souls
Where thou dost move.

But lead me, Man Divine!
Where'er thou wilt, only that I may find
At the journey's end thy image there,
And grow more like to it. For are not thou
The human shadow of the Infinite Love
That made and fills the endless universe?
The very Word of Him, the unseen, unknown,
Eternal God that rules the summer flowers
And all the worlds that people starry space!

FEATURES OF THE NEW CARS

Lower Prices and Better Finish for the 1915 Models.

Lower prices, more elegant finish and features without number are to be found in the offerings of the many successful builders of automobiles for the 1915 season.

Production has enabled the builders to place before the public machines which could not be bought for double the money two years ago. In reaching the prices which are being asked this year the manufacturers have not sacrificed the material, but strange as it may seem, they have put better and stronger material and more equipment in the new creations.

The first improvement that the interested party notices as he starts to inspect the 1915 automobiles is the exceptional finish on the majority of cars. The heads of the finishing departments have given to the public the best that they have in them, and as a result a glossy coat is seen on each and every machine inspected by the public. In fact, the cars displayed so far seem to have the power of drawing one to them and make one want to pet them.

Stream-line bodies have been put out by every manufacturer this year and it is doubtful whether one American builder will go against the demands of the public and bring out the old straight-line car. The long, tapering hoods and the bottle-like bodies make one anxious to get aboard and go into high and hit the country. Although most of the manufacturers have made a big play on the lines of the body and the salesmen talk the stream-line points a great deal, they have not forgotten the motorist's comfort. The upholstery in the majority of machines is thicker and deeper than ever and of various shades and colors to please the eyes of the ladies.

The manufacturers have not forgotten the motor and, in fact, the entire chassis in their desire to give to the public the prettiest and best machines ever placed on the market. The leaning seems to be toward light "sixes" this year, although the "fours" and big "eights" are still holding their own. The high-speed motor in many of the new cars has taken the place of former designs while many have succeeded in increasing the power of the motor.

Following are descriptions of some of the new 1915 models, as announced by the factory officials:

Although the Willys-Overland company, Toledo, Ohio, has been developing a six-cylinder car for some time in strict secrecy, it decided recently to let the public into its confidence. Dealers all over the country were informed by wire that the factory would have ready for delivery early in the fall a seven-passenger six-cylinder touring car.

Little of the actual constructional details of the new car are divulged at this time, however. The motor is rated at between forty-five and fifty horsepower, according to the standard formula. It already has undergone considerable preliminary tests and is pronounced by the engineers to be exceedingly silent and smooth running. The bore and stroke are withheld, but it is understood that it is of the long-stroke type.

With a reduction in price of $300, the new Hudson Six-40, with thirty-one new features, made its bow to the Seattle public last week.

The increase in the output of the Hudson factory has permitted of this greater quality car at a lesser price. Some of the features which the 1915 models possess are an artistic stream-line body, invisible hinges, improved "one man" top with quick-adjusting curtains, gasoline tank in dash, disappearing extra tonneau seats, a roomier, wider car, dimming searchlights and simplified Delco starting and lighting system.

The Haynes Automobile company, Kokomo, Ind., has announced the Light Six, held with an actual production of 5,000 cars for 1915.

Undoubtedly the advent of the Haynes into the "Light Six" field marks an epoch in the American automobile industry. The Haynes company have hereafter manufactured only six-cylinder cars, and have exclusively the "Light Six" was carefully designed with a view of eliminating all vibrations without sacrificing any of the fundamental features that make for power, endurance and general utility.

It is built with the same care that has always characterized the Haynes products, the low price having been made possible by the simplicity of the design, increased production, and improved manufacturing facilities. Absolutely nothing has been slighted either in the design or equipment of this car: an oil pump with a capacity of one-half gallon per minute for positively lubricating the motor parts, a large water pump and fan to insure effective cooling—a motor-driven tire pump—Firestone demountable rims—arch frame construction—these and many other distinctive features give the car an individuality which insures its popularity.

More attractive than ever, the Chalmers for 1915 has made its bow to the motor loving public. At first glance one forgets that it takes a motor to furnish power for an automobile, because of the classy lines and the superb finish which greets the eye as one enters the saloon. Although one hates to lift the hood until every part of the outside of the machine has been closely gone over, a still greater surprise is given by the interior. The first when the leaves of the hood have been thrown up and the motor and the engine are displayed to the prospective buyer.

Beautiful lines comprise a stream-line body which is being featured strong by the manufacturers. The tapering hood, the sleek lines of body design, are not only pleasing to the eye of the owner but to the pedestrian, who always wishes for a car even if he has little hope of owning one.

MINNESOTA HAS 60,000 AUTOMOBILES

Secretary of State Schmah last Saturday issued automobile tag No. 60,000. It went to D. M. Cobb of Elmore, Faribault county.

Minnesota is now ninth in point of automobile ownership in the United States. New York, with 147,000 automobiles, leads Minnesota, coming next to Massachusetts, which has 63,000 automobiles. It is a near neighbor to Michigan, which state manufactures more automobiles in any state in the Union. Minnesota is ahead of every Southern state and distances all Western states with the exception of California by nearly 20,000 machines.

Following is the comparative statement:

RECORD TOUR.

Auto Enthusiast Makes 546 Miles in One Day.

What is believed to be one of the most remarkable one-day touring car trips ever made was that recently taken by A. E. Gilman of Cumberland, Md. In consideration of the fact that the thermometer ranged as high as 92 degrees, that the Allegheny river was crossed several times and a total of 546 miles were covered in one day's trip, the record is nothing short of phenomenal. The car carried four people, and the route as selected led from Cumberland, via Bedford to Pittsburgh, thence to Baltimore by way of Everett and Hagerstown, returning by a different route from Baltimore to Cumberland. The schedule for the trip covered twenty-four hours, but the original schedule by a margin of five hours. To run the 546 miles in nine hours' driving time meant that an average speed of very nearly twenty-nine miles per hour must have been maintained. The remarkable character of such a record will be more easily understood when it is realized that no less than ten distinct mountains were crossed, several of them in both directions. The distances up these mountain ranges entailed climbs which varied from one and a half to five miles in length.

Not the least remarkable feature of this trip was that Mr. Gilman used the same Franklin Six-thirty touring car that he used in the national economy contest held by Franklin dealers all over the country on May 1. The car rolled up a record of 50.9 miles on a single gallon of gasoline. Further, the tires used had a total mileage of 3,000 miles. ## WILL ESTABLISH NEW LOCAL AGENCY.

A. W. Tynar of Minneapolis, sales manager for the Empire car, is in Duluth today for the purpose of establishing a local agency for the automobile.

Mr. Tynar and I. O. Pillsbury of Minneapolis, manager of the Pillsbury Manufacturing company, and J. J. Hentschell, automobile editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, arrived in Duluth yesterday afternoon, coming all the way from Minneapolis in the Empire car. They experienced no trouble during the trip, and report the roads in very good condition, with the exception of a small stretch south of Hinckley. They expect to return to Minneapolis this afternoon.

The Studebaker corporation has added to its string of Detroit plants the large structure formerly occupied by the American Harrow, this plant will be known as plant 2 and will be used as a part repository and a receiving station.

So serious a question has the license tag question become that the Society of Automobile Engineers will endeavor to fix upon a uniform style of tag which may be recommended as a standard for embodiment in state laws, and which will be subject to a uniform method of mounting.

The Denby Motor truck company has started business in Detroit with offices at 2936 Dime Bank building, and a factory at Dubois and Franklin streets. The factory has 20,000 square feet of floor space, which is to be doubled later, option having been taken on the additional room.

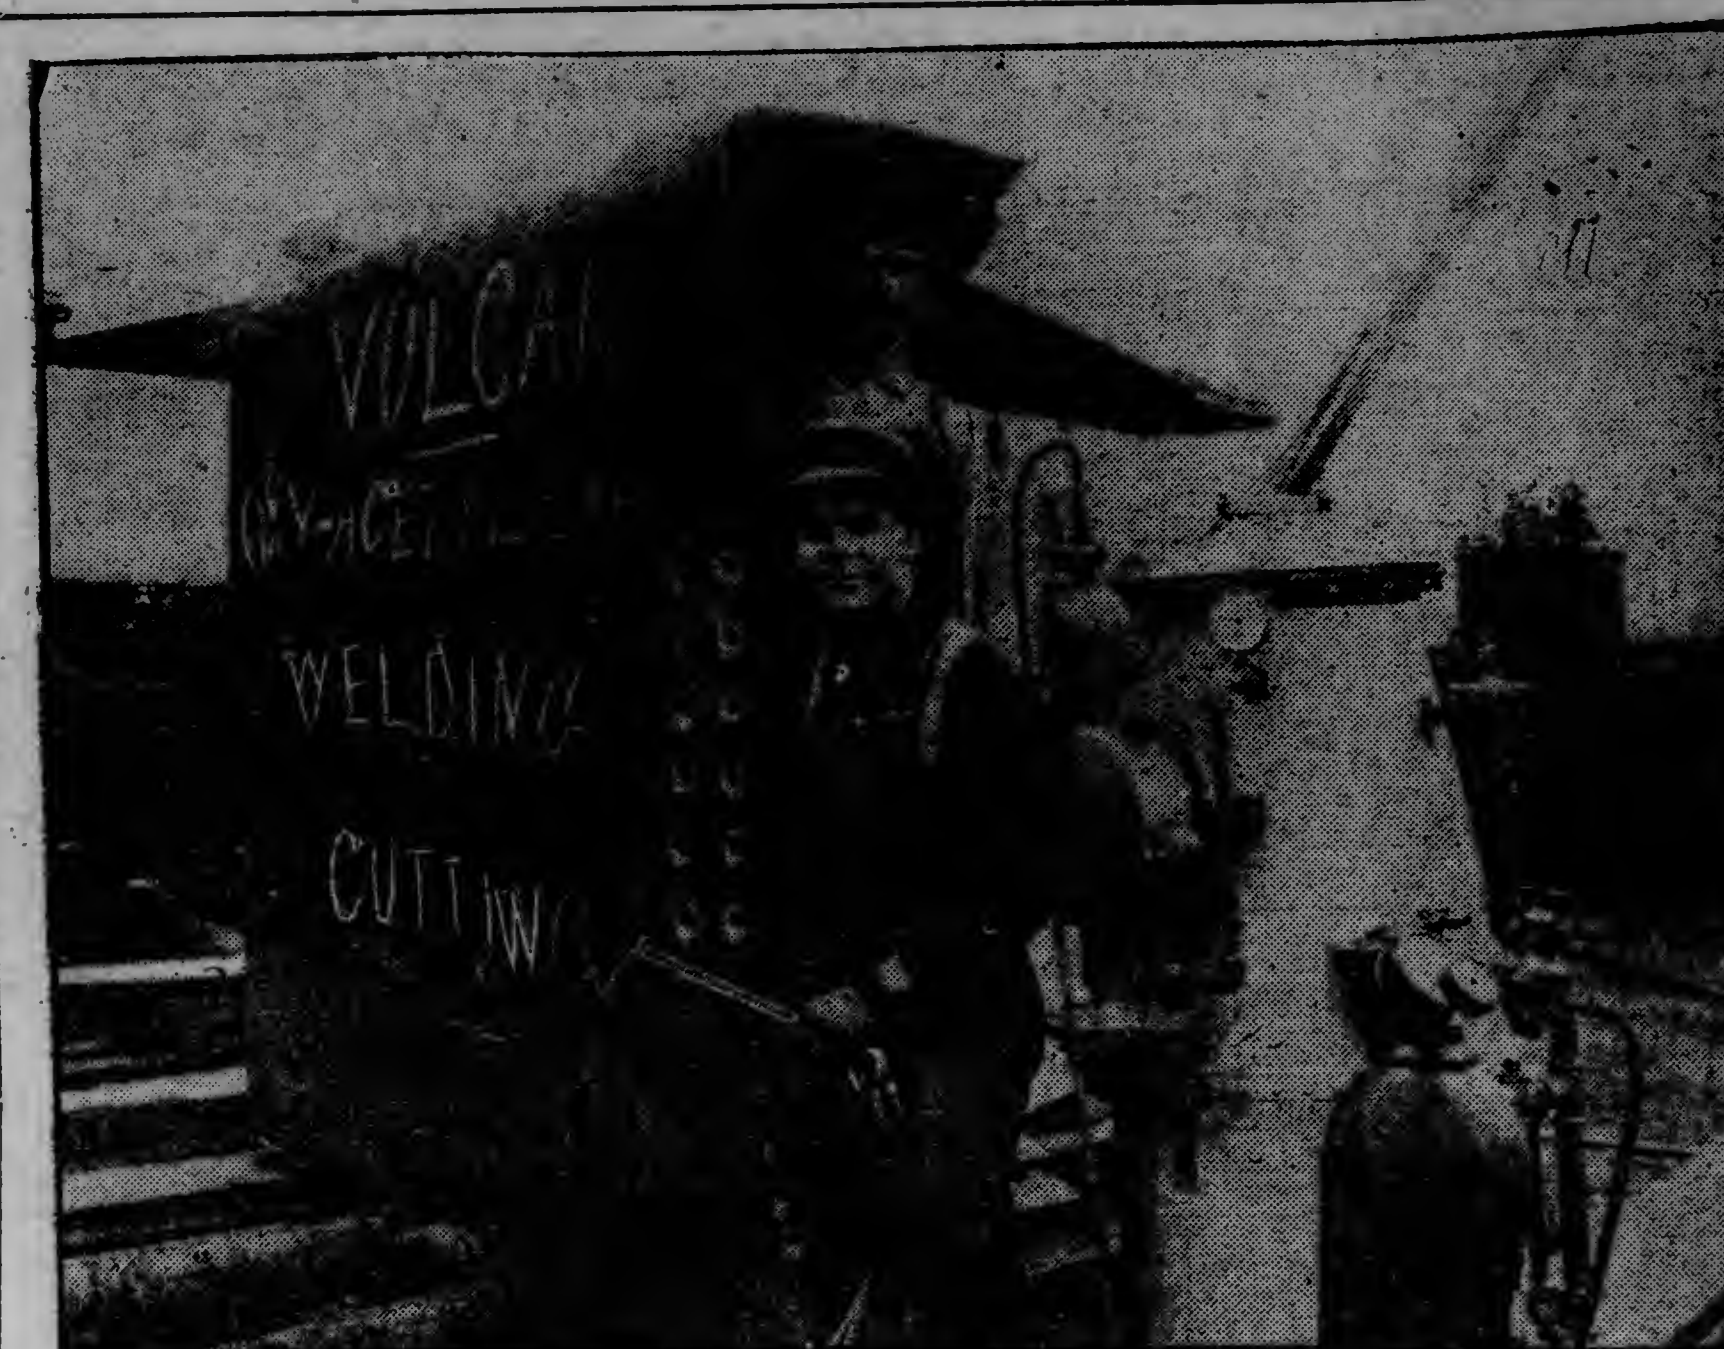

Some buyers asking us to estimate the life of a Kissel Kar," says J. T. Peachard, local agent for the Kissel Kar. "We reply that such an estimate is impossible for as far as we know, the first Kissel Kars ever built—in 1906—are still running. How capable and satisfactory these early models are today, depends very largely on how they have been treated. Some owners who would scorn the suggestion of running a horse without hay driving, the record is nothing short of phenomenal. The car carried four people, and the route as selected led from Cumberland, via Bedford to Pittsburgh, thence to Baltimore by way of Everett and Hagerstown, returning by a different route from Baltimore to Cumberland. The schedule for the trip covered twenty-four hours, but the original schedule by a margin of five hours. To run the 546 miles in nine hours' driving time meant that an average speed of very nearly twenty-nine miles per hour must have been maintained. The remarkable character of such a record will be more easily understood when it is realized that no less than ten distinct mountains were crossed, several of them in both directions. The distances up these mountain ranges entailed climbs which varied from one and a half to five miles in length.

DULUTH FIRM'S VULCAN PROCESS IS ONLY ONE WHICH CUTS MANGANESE STEEL

EXPERT WILLIAM SPEHN AT WORK ON "CLAM" DIPPER.

The "impossible" has been achieved in the matter of replying manganese steel, and has been brought about by a Duluth firm. This is the Duluth Gas & Welding company, which, with its new and remarkable process of cutting and welding has been causing a great deal of talk in iron and steel circles.

The above photograph was taken at the Clyde Iron works this week, and shows the result of the Vulcan process of oxy-acetylene cutting torch, operated by William M. Spehn of the Duluth Gas & Welding company. Mr. Spehn, at the time the picture was taken, had just been operating on the big six-ton "clam" from the Northwestern coal dock in Superior. The holes—twelve in number—were cut through two inches of solid manganese steel, which the flame would penetrate in less than a minute. It has always been regarded as impossible to cut manganese steel with any known tool. Attempts have been made to cut manganese steel with other processes of gas cutting, but all attempts have proven failures owing to the fact that the steel would crack before the flame could penetrate the metal.

The Duluth company seems to have solved the problem; and the resultant business is likely to be rather overwhelming.

News and Gossip of the Automobile World

The last week saw the installation of a complete tire repair outfit, with a first-class tire repair man in charge, at the service station of the Ford Motor company. This means that the Ford company is now prepared to do anything and everything needed on Ford cars. The body, top and paint departments have been turning out work for some time. The old method of doing repair work has been replaced by what the company is pleased to call a remanufacturing department in which the work is handled on a regular manufacturing system, which naturally helps cut repair bills, something that every car owner is vitally interested in.

Manager Rice estimates that it has cost the company $10,000 for the machinery necessary to get in a position to place the repair department on this basis.

MOTORCYCLE NOTES

"My trips on a motorcycle have been one long list of pleasures," says Miss Sadie Grimm of Winnipeg, Canada. "In the first place the motorcycle is a great teacher for the girl; it teaches her to be more dependent on herself, to know that with a twist of the wrist she can control the powerful little machine that will carry her swiftly and safely wherever she wants to go. I don't think anyone could recommend a better doctor than nature—plenty of fresh air and exercise is the greatest health-giver. And to the person who works in the city, the motorcycle offers one of the quickest, most economical and most pleasant ways of getting this exercise and fresh air. On the two-wheeler, one can take a spin into the country after working hours in the evening or early in the morning, and Sundays and holidays can be spent entirely out of doors."

Royalty has seen the pleasure and recreation in motorcycling. The first of the kings to become a motorcyclist is Albert I, king of Belgium. "His highness is enthusiastic over his motorcycle, and takes his constitutional in the saddle in the same way that his ancestors rode their horses. The prince of Wales is also said to be interested in the two-wheeler, and it is expected that he will soon become a rider."

The Quartermaster corps of the United States army, in Honolulu, recently purchased a two-speed motorcycle for experimental purposes. The two-wheeler will be used in connection with army maneuvers, and will probably be the forerunner of many other motorcycles for army use. Lieut. F. S. Beeson of the Quartermaster corps will have charge of the experiments made with the motorcycle.

The Rev. V. M. Wachs, a missionary in Korea, has found his motorcycle a valuable help to him in his work, both because of its low cost of operation, and the time it saves him in going from charge to charge. Mrs. Wachs, who is in Korea with her husband, also accompanies him on his trips.

A number of the inspectors for the New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals have been supplied with motorcycles.

A. S. Thersen, Bottineau, S. D., uses a motorcycle to help him clear his farm. To remove stumps and brush he simply loops a chain about the wood and attaches it to the motorcycle. The powerful two-wheeler soon yanks the brush to the pile for burning.

Seven additional motorcycles have been purchased for use of the signal

It is Just Natural to Admire Babies

Our altruistic nature impels love for the cooing infant. And at the same time the subject of motherhood is one before us. To know what to do that will add to the physical comfort of expectant motherhood is a subject that has interested most women of all times. One of abdominal application sold in most drug stores under the name of "Mother's Friend." We have known so many grandmothers, who in their younger days suffered severely, and who recommended it to their own daughters that it certainly must be what its name indicates. They have used it for its direct influence upon the muscles, cords, ligaments and tendons as it aims to afford relief from the strain and pain so often unnecessarily severe during the period of expectancy.

It was soon malmed by Bradford Replogle, D. O., 306 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., who refers to many things that women like to read about. It refers not only to the relief from muscle strain due to the expansion but also to nausea, morning sickness, caking of breasts and many other distresses.

Brakeman Found When He Recovered, It Was Longshoreman's Fist.

Owner of Fist Must Stand Trial for Unprovoked Assault.

William E. Welch, an Omaha brakeman, did not know what hit him when he was knocked senseless on Superior street between Fifth and Sixth avenues west, about 7:30 o'clock last night. His companions said that Fred J. Goodrow, a West Duluth longshoreman who is on parole from the western branch of the police court, and has been arrested seven times at West Duluth, struck him on the jaw without warning. Welch was badly bruised and lacerated. He was unconscious for several minutes.

Goodrow was arrested shortly afterwards by Patrolman L. Beau and taken to the police station. He was charged with assault on a person without weapon but a state's prison sentence. Although Goodrow is on parole, he was not in the police court today. He was held in the city jail.

The assault was without any provocation, according to the story told to the police by Welch and his companions. Welch said that when he and another brakeman, R. P. McCourtie, were on the street, Goodrow came up to them and pushed McCourtie. Welch and McCourtie were walking along the street, and Goodrow suddenly stepped up to Welch, slugging him in the face. Welch said that he had not said a word to Goodrow.

The offer of mediation by Mr. Chambers came as a result of the request by A. W. James J. Ryia, who recently recovered $460 from Charles and Sarah Atol, parents of his child-wife, for the alleged alienation of her husband, today appeared in court again today, this time not in the role of an injured husband but as an alimony defendant.

He appeared before the court on an order to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of an order of the court requiring him to pay alimony during the pendency of the divorce action.

According to the young wife, Ryia is $60 behind in his payments of alimony and still owes her attorney $15. The court's order was that he should pay $20 a month. Ryia told the court he had been out of work but had recently secured a position as tailor in the Oak Hall clothing store and would make payments on the back alimony next week.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS SHAM ROCK ON HER WAY

Lipton's Challenger Begins Voyage Across Atlantic for Cup Races.

Portsmouth, Eng., July 18.—Shamrock IV, Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger for the America's cup, sailed today on her voyage across the Atlantic.

The Shamrock IV has been rigged as a ketch for her voyage across the Atlantic and carries only half of her racing crew of thirty men. Charles E. Nicholson, the designer, and William P. Burton, who is her racing skipper during the voyage, are on board the yacht.

The remainder of the crew is Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht Erin, which will act as convoy and will in case of necessity, tow Shamrock IV.

The problem of getting the Shamrock across the Atlantic under her own sails is almost as great as that of racing her, and the ship's crew has been busy with preparations since the last trial sail.

The single mast which looks so large by contrast with the small hull, has been shortened by the removal of the topmast, and a second small mast erected far aft to carry a small mizzen sail. In the place of the mainmast, the ship has a small mizzen sail.

UNION LABOR FORCES OF STATE GATHER FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION

Credentials of 293 Delegates Presented at First Session.

Mayor Prince Welcomes Visitors and Congratulates Old Rival.

Official Reports Read and Committees Appointed By President.

Probably the largest list of delegates that ever attended the opening session of a convention of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor assembled at 10 o'clock this morning at the Armory, Second avenue east and First street. The credentials of 293 delegates were accepted and many delegates brought their families, there were a large number of women present.

The spirit of democracy reigned supreme in the convention hall. As the weather was not more than two-thirds of the delegates were in their shirt sleeves as well as the officers on the platform. American flags were to be seen everywhere about the platform and hall.

Chairman Percival of the local arrangements committee gave a short address of welcome in behalf of the Duluth unions and Mayor W. J. Prince welcomed the visitors in behalf of the city. The keynote of the mayor's speech was the benefits of brotherhood. He congratulated union labor for its accomplishments in bettering conditions in the city and he personally congratulated William E. McEwen, his rival in the mayoralty fight and the secretary-treasurer of the federation.

Rev. J. A. McGaughey, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, pronounced an invocation, expressing his sympathetic co-operation in the betterment of labor, even to the extent of Mrs. Dina F. Wolfe of Chicago, rep- (Continued on page 6, first column.)

KING MAY SETTLE HOME RULE TROUBLE

Proposal of Conference Gives Hope to All Parties.

London, July 20.—The news that King George had called a round table conference of the leaders of all the political parties in the United Kingdom to discuss the crisis in the province of Ulster, caused a pleasant surprise today in political circles here. It was felt that a conference under the direct auspices of the king would result in a settlement which even the extremists of both sides in Ireland would be compelled to accept.

Premier Asquith and the other political leaders returned to town today, but none of them discussed the latest developments of the Irish situation.

The king also curtailed his visit to Spithead and returned quickly to London after reviewing the fleet with the fleet commander at Portsmouth.

Automobile Kills Deer.—New York, July 20.—A deer was killed by an automobile on Broadway near 25th street. The deer is presumed to have been killed from the Zoological gardens in Bronx park and wandered through Van Cortlandt park to Broadway.

HINDUS OUST CANADIANS

Drive Off Officers Who Try to Board Japanese Steamer.

Vancouver, July 20.—Officials Await Cruiser Before Acting Again.

Vancouver, B. C., July 20.—No move will be made for a couple of days to send away the Komagata Maru and her Hindu passengers, who for weeks have been seeking admission to the Dominion of Canada. Such was the decision reached today. Officials await the arrival of the Canadian cruiser Rainbow from Esquimaut, where she has been repairing, for the purpose of conveying the Japanese vessel beyond the three-mile limit, if not further.

The Hindus on the Komagata Maru were in jubilant mood today, though relaxing none of their watchfulness. The tug Sea Lion circled around the big vessel, and relays of men stood guard to give the alarm for repelling boarders.

Of the men wounded yesterday morning when a pitched battle between police, immigration officers and Hindus ensued on board the Komagata only two remained in the hospital suffering from their injuries, and they, it is expected, will be out in a few days.

The orders of the Dominion government are to get the Komagata out of the harbor as quickly as possible.

Police Beaten Off.—Scores among a party of 175 policemen and constables were injured, several seriously, in Sunday's battle with (Continued on page 6, sixth column.)

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF EDITOR IN PARIS

MME. CALLIAUX.

BIG FRENCH TRIAL IS ON

Mme. Caillaux Faces the Charge of Murdering Calmette.

Figaro Makes Bitter Attack on Defense—Outbreak Feared.

Paris, July 20.—Proceedings opening the trial of Mme. Calliaux for the murder of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro, started at noon today in the palace of justice, with Judge Louis Albanel acting as president of the court.

The dramatic setting of the affair, involving political intrigues in which the prisoner's husband, a former French premier and minister of finance, was a prominent figure, has made the case a sensational one. Added to this was the rumored threat of royalist plots to create a disturbance during the trial and the extensive precautions taken by the government to prevent an outbreak.

Special Police on Hand.—Long before the opening of the trial, French justice, crowded with the drizzling rain, had assembled in the vicinity, and special forces of police were called out to keep them in order.

From an early hour long lines formed on the Place Dauphine and the Boulevard Du Palais, hoping to be lucky enough to secure the few places left for the general public in the courtroom, which had been for the most part allotted to press representatives and barristers.

A few homeless waifs had taken up their positions outside the building last night with the object of selling (Continued on page 6, fourth column.)

FRENCH MONK IS SPY FOR THE GERMANS

Abbot of Fontaine La Louvet Confesses When Arrested.

Bernay, France, July 20.—Abbot Huertebout, cure of Fontaine La Louvet, has been arrested on the charge of espionage and has confessed that he acted in the interests of Germany. A railroad agent from whom he sought information regarding mobilization acted as a go-between, bringing about the arrest. Photographs, plans and data in the possession of the abbot have been seized.

SPENCER REFUSED STAY OF EXECUTION

Illinois Supreme Court Will Not Reprive Murderer.

East St. Louis, Ill., July 20.—Henry Spencer sentenced to be hanged July 31, for the murder of Mrs. Mildred Allison-Rexroat, a Chicago tango teacher, was today refused a stay of execution by Justices Carter, Farmer, Dunne and Vickers of the supreme court of Illinois, meeting here.

BOSTON WOMEN WIN; NEED NOT SHOW HOSE.

Boston, July 20.—After July 1, 1915, displays of women's hosiery in Boston will be reduced to a minimum. For years the women of Boston have fought to have the high steps of street cars lowered.

Their efforts were successful when the public service commission ordered all steps on street cars to be higher than seventeen inches after the date mentioned.

CARBAJAL'S AGENTS ARE BELIEVED TO BE NEAR TO MONTEREY

Developments Point to Peaceful Solution in Mexico.

Huerta Will Sail Tuesday—Does Not Fear Attack.

Washington, July 20.—With developments in the Mexican situation apparently taking shape for a peaceful solution, administration officials looked forward today to the outcome of the meeting soon to take place at Monterey between Carranza and the three commissioners from Francisco Carbajal, Huerta's successor. It was believed they would reach Monterey today or early tomorrow. They were to discuss with the Constitutionalist leader conditions for the transfer of the Mexico City administration.

Apprehension over reports that the followers of Zapata, the Southern rebel, were dangerously near the capital, was somewhat relieved by dispatches from Mexico City declaring recent statements of the activities of the Zapatistas were exaggerated.

Huerta to Sail Tuesday.—Puerto Mexico, July 20.—According to the latest reports, ex-President Huerta and his party expect to leave here Tuesday. General Huerta and Blanquet, accompanied by three or four aides, will sail on the German cruiser Dresden. The others will go on the steamer Mexico of the Mexican Navigation company, which, it is said, has been chartered for this purpose.

Huerta's companions of the fugitive former dictator, however, did not display the same degree of confidence, and an extended line of outposts was maintained today which prevented the Constitutionalist from approaching nearer.

Stays in His Car.—Gen. Huerta continued to pass most of his time in the railroad car in which he arrived from Mexico City. Since his arrival here he has not taken an hour's exercise.

The women and children among them slept late today in an effort to kill the dreary period of waiting for the arrival of the vessel engaged to carry them away. The ship was expected to reach here late today, but it was thought unlikely any of the party would leave before tomorrow.

PROMISE QUICK WORK ON TRUST PROGRAM

Washington, July 20.—Senate leaders today informed President Wilson that as soon as the railroad securities bill is ready for presentation, quick action on the entire trust program will follow.

Mr. Wilson said today that most of the objections to the legislation were based on provisions of the Clayton bill as it passed the house, which have since been eliminated.

GOOD RIDDANCE.

WHERE THE WATER RUSHES TO JOIN OCEAN TO OCEAN

TELLS THE JUDGE SHE WOULD BLOW HIM UP

Annie Bell, Militant Suffragette, Makes Scene in Court.

London, July 20.—"The next bomb I explode will be in the police courts, and I hope it will be a one!"

This was the parting shot from Annie Bell, militant suffragette, to the magistrate at Westminster as he committed her for trial today on the double charge of attempting to destroy, on May 16, the Metropolitan tabernacle in South London, and on July 12 the old church of St. John the Evangelist.

Miss Bell enlivened the sitting of the court by singing the "Marseillaise" and shouting and struggling with the court attendants. She chafed the magistrate on the futility of sending her to prison, saying: "If I have been there ten times, I have never yet served my sentence."

Rebels Repulsed.—Cape Hatten, July 20.—An attack was made by the rebels on this city today, but the assaulting force was repulsed. A large number of both forces were killed or wounded while a number of rebels were taken prisoners.

RAILROAD MANAGERS CLAIM PROSPECTS FOR AVOIDING STRIKE ARE ENCOURAGING

Mediators Begin Their Task at Chicago Meeting.

Chambers, Knapp and Hanger Represent the Government.

Engine Men Leave Loophole to Refuse Arbitration.

Chicago, July 20.—Hopes for a satisfactory adjustment of the wage dispute between the engineers of the Western railroads and their employers took definite shape today with the assembly of the Federal board of mediation, whose good offices have been accepted by both sides.

William L. Chambers, chairman of the mediation board, Martin A. Knapp, Federal judge, and G. W. W. Hanger, assistant commissioner of labor, represent the government in the conference, in which the locomotive engineers have been represented by their grand chief, Warren S. Stone, and the firemen and hostlers by W. S. Carter, president of their brotherhood.

The managers' committee of the ninety-eight roads involved is headed by W. F. Franklyn of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad.

The men's demands are technical in form, and lengthy. The men's leaders have left the way open for a refusal to arbitrate, but the railroad operators declare they have strong hope that a strike may be averted.

The mediators heard first the side of the railroads which was presented by Mr. Franklyn and later were to take up the employees' case. The program calls for alternate meetings of the mediators with representatives of the roads and of the men.

MRS. CARMAN GOES ON LONG AUTO TOUR

Will Only Return in Time for Trial Next Fall.

Freeport, N. Y., July 20.—Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, under indictment for manslaughter in the first degree in connection with the killing of Mrs. Louis Bailey, left her home here Sunday and is not expected to return until late in the fall for her trial. Mrs. Carman was accompanied by her husband, Dr. Edwin Carman, in whose office Mrs. Bailey was shot on June 30, and their 2-year-old daughter, Elizabeth. They started on the trip in the doctor's automobile.

WILSON SUPPORTS THE DAM BILLS

Believes Them to Be According to Best Conservation Ideas.

Washington, July 20.—President Wilson today came out in support of the dam bills agreed upon at a series of White House conferences and now pending in congress. In answer to inquiries he said he believed them to be in accord with the best conservation ideas and in no sense party measures.

The president said he considered himself as much a conservationist as anyone else.

ASK TIME FOR B. & M. DEAL

New Haven Directors Talk With the Attorney General.

Suggest Some Future Legislation May Act on Sale.

Washington, July 20.—President Huette of the New Haven railroad, Moorhead Storey, general counsel for the system, President Hadley of Yale university, and T. Dewitt Cuyler, all directors of the road, conferred today with Attorney General McReynolds and Assistant Attorney General Gregory.

In the hope of reaching an agreement for the dissolution of the New Haven merger without an anti-trust suit.

The directors refused to make any statement when they went into conference.

Hour in Conference.—After an hour's conference the New Haven directors left the department to confer among themselves, while the attorney general took under advisement.

It was understood that the directors had not changed their opinion in regard to the disposition of Boston & Maine stock owned by the New Haven, which has proved a stumbling block to a settlement.

They were said to have suggested that the question of the Boston & Maine be held in abeyance for the time being, with the idea that the legislature of Massachusetts, which has imposed a condition on the sale of the stock, may remove the condition at some future session.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.—Committees continued work on the trust bills.

HOUSE.—Bills on the unanimous consent calendar were considered. Representative Lacey announced his intention of getting action before the judiciary committee on the lobby report this week.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS BIG LEAGUE PLAYERS THREATEN A WALK-OUT

New York, July 20.—Draconic action, possibly a strike or walk-out of baseball players in the American and National leagues, is contemplated by the Baseball Players' Fraternity, according to a statement by President Fultz in case the national commission refuses to accede to the terms of an ultimatum sent it by the fraternity in the case of Player Kraft of the New York International.

Mr. Fultz declined to make public the terms of the ultimatum, but said that it would be issued in the afternoon, if later in the day. It was reported that the commission had been given until July 22 to reply to the players' demands.

Sam Johnson, president of the American league, has called a meeting for tomorrow of all American league club owners. Mr. Johnson asserted this afternoon that if a strike order is obeyed by the players every American league ball park will close its gates, all players' salaries will be stopped and the striking players will be punished for their action.

The differences between the fraternity and the national commission, which the Kraft case arose from a recent ruling by the commission to the effect that Kraft belongs to the Nashville club of the Southern association. The fraternity claims that Kraft belongs to the Newark International and that he is entitled to the salary paid him by the Newark club which is higher than the amount he would receive from the Nashville club. Kraft has refused to report to the Nashville club, in taking this stand he acted on the advice of the fraternity.

"The American league is ready to meet this issue with a solid front," declared Mr. Johnson. "Our club owners are a unit for war. It's about time that this fraternity nonsense should end. We have been very patient with Mr. Fultz and his associates, but they have gone too far and we intend to call their bluff in a way that will force them to show their hand."

"You can say for me that if the American league players or a majority of them obey a strike order on Wednesday, every American league club will close its gates, salaries will be stopped and we will inflict heavy fines on the players who thereby violate the letter and spirit of their contracts."

"You can also say that this strike will be the last one conducted by Mr. Fultz and his associates, for we are prepared to keep our grounds closed for the rest of the season, no matter what it may cost us."

"Kraft belongs to the Nashville club and that club has a just claim on him."

There is no way out of the present tangle unless a major league club buys Kraft from the Nashville club. I understand that President Farrell of the New York Americans is ready to buy Kraft, but personally I hope that he does not close the deal until after Wednesday, so that the American league can call the fraternity's bluff."

DELEGATES CONTESTED

Only Active Workers Admitted to the Labor Convention.

The opening session of the convention of the Minnesota Federation of Labor was marked by a hot contest over the seating of two delegates sent by the Minneapolis Upholsterers' union, Tom Hamlin and R. D. V. Cramer. After a spirited debate the convention refused to accredit these delegates.

The contention against seating these men was based on the grounds that they were not active workers and were engaged at that trade and that seating them would set a bad precedent, making it possible to seat delegates in the future who might be enemies of the federation.

Hamlin is editor of the Labor Review of Minneapolis, a paper owned by union men, and proprietor of a theatrical booking agency. R. D. V. Cramer is the other delegate whom the union sent to the convention. He is associated with Hamlin in business.

The list of delegates seated was 232. The list of fraternal delegates include a number of prominent men as follows: R. T. Wood, president, Springfield, Mo.; Illinois State Federation of Labor—J. H. Walker, president, Springfield, Ill.

POLICE SPOIL JOY PARTIES

Are Uninvited Guests and Stop Flow of Champagne and Beer.

Three Girls Lectured and Taken Home in Police Auto.

The police were uninvited guests at two drinking bouts late Saturday night. One was a common ordinary beer party, but at the other champagne, the real genuine joywater, flowed freely.

The larger festival was in progress in a cottage near Fifteenth avenue east and Seventh street when the detail from headquarters put in its appearance. The bluecoats responded to a complaint registered by a neighbor about midnight. Several young men and two young women were having a high old time, with the foaming amber fluid as the principal inspiration. No arrests were made, but the young women were given a scolding lecture and taken to their homes in the police automobile.

The wine spree was in progress on East First street when the guardians of the peace and order were alerted. An officer patrolling the beat heard the sounds of merriment proceeding from the premises and reported to headquarters. Two men met him and an investigation disclosed three women in the rear of the house. They had a phonograph working overtime, but their voices almost drowned the hardworking machine. No arrests were made in this instance, either, but the bibulous feminine trio were warned to "cut it out." Empty bubble-water bottles were the most conspicuous decorations of the room.

"GUM-SHOE BURGLAR"

Duluth Has a Thief Who Works Silently and Efficiently.

Duluth has a gum-shoe burglar who has been successfully "working" all parts of the city for the last ten days. He has prowled a dozen or more residences and offices and in but one instance has he been heard while on the premises. He is slight-footed and moves like a shadow. In several instances he has taken valuables from bedchambers without disturbing the slumbers of the occupants.

The last time the burglar was reported to the police early Sunday morning, Ben Lukaszewski of West Ninth street said that two blue serge coats had been taken. John J. Cramer, 220 North Second street, reported the loss of a sum of money.

The police had no record of the gum-shoe burglar-artist effected an entrance and took his booty without being detected. Several members of the household after helping himself to the loot.

Friday night he went through the home of C. J. Anderson, 2006 West Seventh street, and Charles Gilbert, 2001 West Seventh street. At the former he secured a precious assortment of loot valued at $82, including $50 in cash, and at the latter he took $17 in money and other articles worth about $2. Again he made his getaway without being detected.

Tuesday night three New Duluth families suffered depredations. In each residence he gum-shoed through without disturbing the people sleeping in the rooms. The trousseau of Robert Bloyer, containing $115, were taken from a chest beside his bed, and also his watch. The soft-footed operator here had taken the precaution to cut the telephone wires.

Robert Cramer lost $8 in cash, a gold watch and a set of cut buttons. The trousseau of Mrs. Nellie Cramer were found in the back yard with the pockets turned out. The trousseau of G. W. Harrison were relieved of $250. These were also on a chair beside the bed. An overcoat and a pony coat were taken, the noiseless thief ransacking the house.

Monday night the gum-shoer met his single interruption. He was in the residence of J. H. Hall, 148 West Fifty-fifth avenue west. He had taken Nellie's trousseau, silver watch and $480 in cash when Mrs. Nellie awoke. But not from any disturbance of the prowler, but from the glare of intercept him but he dashed through the door and made his escape. Here also he cut the telephone wires.

A week ago last Friday night a watch valued as a hellion was taken from the residence of I. S. Mistachin, 411 First avenue west. The burglary of three dental offices has also been reported. Dr. Henry Johnston, 20 East Superior street, lost about $18 worth of tools and fillings, and Dr. W. S. Storor, 24 Superior street, lost a watch and a set of dentures.

The police have obtained no clew to the silent-footed burglar. He evidently has an abundance of confidence and nerve, and does not seem to be inexperienced.

ANOTHER MILLION TAKEN BY CALHOUN?

New Story of Treasury Looting Unearthed in San Francisco.

San Francisco, July 20.—In addition to the $1,096,000 diverted from the funds of the United States Railroad to the Solano Irrigated arms company by Patrick Calhoun, former president of the United Railroads of San Francisco, it developed today before the state railroad commission that between 1911 and 1913 more than $1,000,000 was withdrawn from the state treasury and, in the belief of Thornehill Mullally, assistant to Calhoun, went to Calhoun's personal account.

LIENS ARE FORECLOSED.

Action Against First Presbyterian Church and Contractor.

Mechanics liens aggregating $3,083.76 were foreclosed in district court this morning against the First Presbyterian church and Richard Hanson, general contractor, to whom the contract to build an annex to the church building was let last year. The lien case was heard before Judge Zane, who allowed the various claimants the amounts due for labor and material furnished and assessed $60 attorneys' fees. Those are: Otto H. Pearson, Lake Hardware company, $1,000; J. W. Wier, the city; Otto Graf Lumber company, and the O'Brien Varnish company.

LAUNDRY BILL WILL GROW

St. Paul Attorney Points Out Effect of Minimum Wage Law.

Price Agreement No Law Violation He Tells Launderers' Convention.

That the establishment of a minimum wage law in Minnesota will mean an increase in laundry prices, is the prediction made by A. L. H. Street, prominent St. Paul attorney in his address before the Northwestern Launderers' association this afternoon on "The Northwestern Launderer and the Law." Mr. Street also declared that the workmen's compensation act is advantageous and much better than the old system of bringing suits for damages.

Other addresses this afternoon were made by E. N. Fardon of St. Paul and Hugo V. Koch of the state labor department. An open discussion on the addresses was then held, after which the delegates and their wives were taken on the auto ride about the city.

Mr. Street's address follows in part: "Although the workmen's compensation law requires an employer to make compensation for injuries which would not be actionable at law, and on the other hand, compels an employer, injured in circumstances under which he would be entitled to large recovery in a suit for damages, to accept a considerably smaller amount in satisfaction of his claim, the sum of the advantages in law, to both employer and employee, is rapidly coming to be recognized as outweighing disadvantages to either."

Minimum Wages. "The enactment of the minimum wage law in Minnesota and its possible adoption in the Dakotas, presents an interesting question to the laundry. The questions arise, if such a law is valid and is so, how will it affect laundry charges cannot be questioned. This change will be necessary under the circumstances."

Mr. Street also discussed the legality of trade agreements to an extent, especially regarding the scale of prices that may be established in a community. Such an agreement, he said, is not in violation of the anti-trust law.

LONG WALK WITH ARM CUT OFF

His left arm cut off by an ore train outside of town early Saturday morning, Arthur Johnson, 23 years old, walked two and a half miles into that place, and there section hands placed him on a handcar and rushed him to Woodward, where he received medical attention. Later in the morning Johnson was brought to Duluth and placed in the hospital, where his condition is reported as much improved.

Johnson, who works for the Great Northern road, fell off an ore train about 3 o'clock Saturday morning. His left arm was cut off by one of the cars, and the injured man walked into the city, with his arm bleeding freely the entire way. At Gowen several section hands organized a crew, and they took the injured man to Woodward, where he was given medical attention by Dr. Mulhearn.

Mr. Street also discussed the legality of trade agreements to an extent, especially regarding the scale of prices that may be established in a community. Such an agreement, he said, is not in violation of the anti-trust law.

TEN-POUND PIKE IN CHUB LAKE

A wall-eyed pike that looked like a "whale" in size was taken by a fisherman in Chub lake, near Carlton, opposite Thompson's farm, Sunday evening by a fisherman. The fish was about 10 feet long and weighed about 10 pounds. It was taken by a fisherman who was out with a mouth as big as a small plate and a wooden minnow six inches long. It took six feet of line. The fish also had a fair-sized croppies in its mouth. Great excitement prevailed among the fishermen, and boats from all parts of the lake approached the vicinity of the fight between the fish and excited fishermen.

Where the taking of the fish was staged the lake is very deep, and several near-accidents occurred in the various rowboats. Pike, it was said, are taking deep-sunken frogs at this time.

CIRCUS WILL NOT GIVE A PARADE

There will be no circus parade Thursday, when the Ringling Bros. aggregation makes its annual visit to Duluth.

Harry Scott, advance representative for Ringling Bros., arrived in Duluth today, and he announced the sad news this morning. The large aggregation is showing at St. Paul Wednesday, and because of the fact that the company will not arrive in Duluth until late Thursday morning, a circus parade will be impossible.

Mr. Scott has nothing but praise for Duluth, and in discussing cities of the country, declared that Duluth is one of the best circus towns in America. The time is soon coming, he said, when Duluth will be a two-day stop for all large circuses, a sure sign of the value of a city to a circus.

The regular performances will be given at the circus grounds Thursday afternoon and evening, Mr. Scott said.

CALUMET MAN LOSES "ROLL" IN VIRGINIA

Virginia, Minn., July 20.—(Special to The Herald).—That he was robbed almost within the shadow of the headquarters police station of $730 late Saturday night by two negroes and two negro women was the story John Hamunen of Calumet, Mich., who recently arrived here to engage in the saloon business, told to the police.

Under arrest, charged with holding him up, are Tom Taylor, a negro laborer, James Jackson, porter in a Chestnut street barber shop, Lulu Jackson and Zof Edge, negro woman, who recently came from Minneapolis. Hamunen's bankroll has not been discovered.

Saturday night, it is alleged, Hamunen succumbed to the wiles of the dusky dames from the Mill city, and while strolling near the Lenox hospital he was followed by the two women and two men from behind while the women embraced and effectually gagged him when one of the party went through his pockets and took the money. There were bills of $50 and $20 and of smaller denominations.

The women had been rooming at 209 Poplar street and it was discovered that late Saturday night they had hastily packed their belongings and vacated their rooms. One of them was arrested at Eveleth and the other at Gilbert yesterday morning, while Taylor and Jackson were picked up in this city. The four allege their innocence and have retained attorneys to fight the case for them. Their hearings are set in municipal court at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

LAUNDERERS WANT HONEST LABELS ON ALL TEXTILES

National Legislation on "Pure" Materials Considered by Convention.

Northwestern Association Opens Three Days' Meeting in Duluth.

National legislation compelling the honest labeling of textiles by manufacturers, modeled after the pure food law, is to be one of the main issues that will be urged during the eighth annual convention of the Northwestern Launderers' association, which opened at the Spalding hotel at 10 o'clock this morning.

Two years ago Congressman Lindquist of Michigan introduced a bill in congress urging a national honest labeling law. This bill was prepared by the National Launderers' association, but no action has yet been taken by the legislative body at Washington, and it is to show the sentiment of the laundress in the West that the matter is to be brought up during this convention.

The convention was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning by President W. A. Collins of Grand Forks. Mayor Prince delivered the address of welcome, to which a response was made by J. Clair Stone of St. Paul. Following this routine business was taken up, several committees were afternoon the delegates will be taken on a boulevard drive and in the evening the annual banquet will be held at the Spalding hotel. County Attorney Warren E. Greene will act as toastmaster and the principal address will be made by John F. Armstrong of Duluth. Tomorrow afternoon the delegates will be taken on an excursion trip up the river and in the evening to the Lyceum theater.

President's Address.
In his annual address to the members President Collins suggested a change in the classification of laundry packages by the express companies of Minnesota and urged the members to request the state railroad and warehouse commission to place laundry from first into second class. This change, President Collins said, would reduce the price of laundry from 70 cents a 100 pounds to 35 cents. It would save the laundrymen thousands of dollars annually, as many of them use express delivery a great deal.

Mr. Collins also referred to the parcel post as a great medium for laundry delivery and declared that the laundrymen of the country are very well pleased with the innovation in the mailing system of the nation.

President Collins' address follows in part:

Minimum Wage.
"The past year has been an eventful one to most of the laundress of our association. During the early part of the past year two big subjects which were very important to laundress were brought up by the Minnesota legislature. The legislature discussed the compensation act at length and a law was enacted along the usual form. They also gave the subject of minimum wages their attention.

"The result of this is as follows: 'A commission was appointed to investigate and consider the subject and at their last meeting the commission was directed to make a report on the subject. The commission is required in favor of any recommendation for a definite minimum wage or against the general proposition. Such a result leaves the matter open to the individual employer.

"For over two years the interstate commerce commission has had the matter of express rates up for discussion and regulation. Late last fall they submitted their findings to the public and express companies. At first it was thought that the interstate rates suggested by the interstate commerce commission would not effect our industry very much but it was soon found that laundry shipments had been placed in the first instead of the second classification.

"At the North Dakota Launderers' convention a petition was signed and sent to the board of railroad commissioners of North Dakota asking that the classification on laundry shipments be changed from first to second class. If this change is made it will save the laundrymen of Minnesota thousands of dollars a year.

Laundry Business Good.
"Generally speaking, the laundry business has been good during the past year and there has been a tendency in some localities to advance prices on shirts and collar work as well as flat work.

"Improvements enable the laundress of today to make a reputation for quality as well as quantity.

"Our chosen industry is receiving more favorable comment and encouragement than ever before and I am sure that when I say that there was never a time when the laundryman was so well respected as now, my statement is not too far from the truth.

"The committee on resolutions appointed by the convention is now going over his address and is preparing a set of resolutions on the change in express rates, which will be brought before the convention and later taken up with the state railroad commission. The members of this committee are: J. Clair Stone, St. Paul; A. L. Johnson, Devils Lake; S. D. Hal Towler, Minneapolis; and James Nankivell, St. Paul, secretary-treasurer of the association.

At the banquet George E. Erickson of Spooner, editor of the Northern News, responded on behalf of the association. Among these was one urging the Minnesota & International Railway company to extend its Kellie line to the government; Judge Albert Johnson

KING GEORGE SEES BIG FLEET GO BY Over Four Hundred Vessels Pass in Annual Review.

Portsmouth, Eng., July 20.—The British home fleet, composed of over 200 fighting ships and an equal number of auxiliaries, including submarines, torpedo boat destroyers and sea planes, was led out to sea by King George this morning. His majesty was on board the royal yacht, accompanied by the prince of Wales, Winston Spencer Churchill, and the other lords of the admiralty.

At the entrance to the English channel the royal yacht dropped anchor and the ships, in line abreast, passed in review before his majesty while a fleet of sea planes from the Calshot airship station flew in pairs above the royal yacht and circled about the slowly moving ships. It took the great fleet two hours to pass before the king.

was that held at Manila in February, 1913, when the Philippine athletes under American tutelage won the greatest number of points. But the Chinese delegation was second, and there is seemingly a good chance for their winning first place this year. The Philippines, however, are to send a force of sixty-five athletes to Shanghai, and the Japanese, with their characteristic energy, are busy developing the picturesque Malay state of Siam is also to be represented with swimmers, tennis players and track men.

While the International Olympic games committee was inclined at first to view the Far Eastern Olympic organization, the Far Eastern association has since become affiliated with the International games committee and has asked China to send a representative to the next meeting of the committee at Berlin. A further bond has been established by the presentation on behalf of the Olympic games committee of a perpetual trophy to be held by the nation winning the greatest number of points in the Far Eastern championships.

DULUTH OARSMEN LEAVE FOR BIG REGATTA AT KENORA

The Local Club Will Have an Entry in Every Event.

Ten Eyck Expects His Men to Make a Grand Showing.

BY BRUCE.

The largest squad of oarsmen ever entered by one club in a regatta of the Northwestern International Rowing association will leave Duluth at 7:15 this evening for the Canadian Northern for Winnipeg. Tomorrow at Winnipeg the big party and the rowing shells will be transferred onto the Canadian Pacific and the gang will leave for Kenora, the beautiful little summer resort, where the big contests for the possession of the Sir Thomas Lipton 5,000 Challenge Cup will be rowed.

For the first time in the history of Northwestern rowing the Duluth Boat club will have an entry in every one of the events of the two-day program. Coach Ten Eyck gave out his entry list today. Young Hoover is entered in both the junior and senior singles eight oar and Walter Glass are entered to enter both the junior and senior doubles and Roy Kent and Dutch Bechenbosch the also entered in the junior and senior doubles.

There will be two fours entered in the bantam four event. There will be three fours entered in the junior four and the senior four.

There will be three fours also entered in the senior four event. The senior four, the holder of two of the national championship titles of the United States and Canada, and a possible future contender for the world's title at Honolulu, entered in this event, as well as the junior four and the fastest of the bantam crews. In the senior eight event there will be two crews, the junior and senior eights. In the junior eight event there will be the junior eight. In addition to that there will be two Duluth crews in the lapstroke events.

The Lipton Trophy. When Sir Thomas Lipton, perhaps the best known and most ardent sportsman in the world, became interested in the work of the Winnipeg Rowing club's crew and rowing in general in the Northwest. In his enthusiasm and interest Sir Thomas donated the Lipton cup, which will be competed for the first time at the regatta of next Friday and Saturday. Their Thomas Lipton 5,000 Challenge Cup of doing things on a very magnificent scale. The famous English tea merchant ably sustained this reputation in the donation of the Lipton cup.

This beautiful trophy was made in England, by one of the most famous jewelry houses in the world. It is said to be a masterpiece of work, showing in its beautiful outline and graceful lines the art of the jeweler and in its mounting the highest skill of the engraver. The trophy is valued at $5,000 and it is this cup that will valiantly attempt to lift from the clutches of the Canadian team and bring across the international boundary line.

It is because of the eager desire of Coach Jimmy Ten Eyck and the officers and members of the Duluth Boat club to bring the Lipton trophy home, to add its luster to the already large list in the trophy cabinet, that Ten Eyck had worked and schemed night and day and day and day to place an entry in every one of the many events of the regatta program.

Duluth Looks Strong.

This year will be the first time in many seasons that the Duluth club has been represented in the sculling events. It will also be the second time in a number of years that Duluth will be represented in the double scull events.

The month's preparation for the Lipton cup, as told previously in The Herald, is contained on the point basis. Points will be scored for first, second and third places, the senior points to be double the junior points. The junior points will be the junior and bantam points. On paper, Duluth should win the senior four and eight events and this expected result will give the local club an advantage.

Giving the local club the up and down of the Lipton cup, the Duluth coach is a conservative man, calm and sane in his rowing judgment, and therefore an optimistic outlook of James is an omen of success at Kenora.

Naturally we look better in the senior four and senior eight events than in the junior events of the program. Duluth has a senior four that made a record that surpassed all previous rowing records in forty years' standing. The same four took part in four events of the national rowing championship, and the members of the Duluth Boat club and the followers of rowing generally over the Northwest expect this four to win at Kenora.

This year's senior eight is compounded of the senior eight and junior eight men of last season. On paper it is the greatest eight ever developed by the local club. In the heat and fire of competition, the eight will be expected. Our bantams look fast. The senior eight is a scrappy crew in boats, but possessing real power and dash. The junior eight is a scrappy crew and also green and terribly inexperienced as a four. In the last days of the season, the senior eight has been better than at any time during the season. The lapstroke crews are expected to win.

In the party that leaves this evening for Kenora are thirty-eight men, including the Duluth boatmen and all the members of the party. Duluth water will be carried along with the team. The team will be watched closely by the eagle eye of James E. Ten Eyck, who will be in the rowing line Saturday afternoon. Children and the young men of Duluth should be grateful for this address. Mail will be forwarded promptly. Duluth can be entered after the final race.

Early today the bantams had their final race. The weather was not the best, but the four oars, also the single, doubles and eights. The remainder of the day will be laborious work in the loading of the boats on the train.

"BUT IT WAS A NOBLE VICTORY"

Real Pitcher With Eight Handicaps Defeats Herald Team.

After nine successive victories in as many years, The Herald baseball team lost yesterday morning to Bob Travis and his eight handicaps of the News Tribune. The final score was 16 to 2.

Despite the playing of the eight members of the team, Travis won a decided victory over The Herald. Travis, by way of explanation, pitched for the Owls and at one time played for the Owls and at one time played for the Owls. However, he worked on the morning sheet and the "national commission" could not rule out his playing yesterday morning, but it was not "clubby" to introduce a real ball player into such company.

Ten years ago The Herald and the morning paper decided to hold annual games of baseball to decide on the

Skin Diseases Often a Mystery

The Right Treatment Will Solve Worst Problem

The key to unlock the mysteries of eruptive skin afflictions is S. S. S. the famous blood purifier. It will write for a splendidly illustrated book "What the Mirror Tells" you will learn why it is carried through your body and how S. S. S. causes new skin and tissue to replace the afflicted spots. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today at any drug store and read the time with salves, ointments or lotions. Skin health comes from your blood. It comes from the network of tiny blood vessels that infiltrate all skin, legament and tissue. Now, when S. S. S. enters the blood it carries through your body and about three minutes and its most active work takes place in the skin. Here it puts into motion the process of preparing all impurities into a substance that is promptly excreted on the skin pores. This process goes on day and night, and the old skin disappears in the form of invisible vapor or perspiration. Don't fail to get a bottle of S. S. S. today and write for the valuable book "The Swift Specific Co., 103 Swift Building, Atlanta, Ga."

HUMOR AS A HEALTH TONIC

Dr. Hovis Advocates Habit of Cheerfulness as a Medicine.

Playing at Being Glad a Saving Grace for Body and Soul.

Dr. William Forney Hovis, pastor of the Epiphany M. E. church, preached yesterday morning on "Reasonable Psychotherapy," and took as his text, "A cheerful heart is a good medicine," from Proverbs xvii, 22. He said, in part:

"Psychotherapy" is defined as the treatment of disease by acting on the mind, as by suggestion; mind cure. When we qualify the term by the word "reasonable" we intend to imply that the field of mental healing has its limitations. That mind holds dominion over matter is an indisputable fact. The brain is the natural protector of the body. One's physical being is affected by his mental states as his facial features are fashioned by his thoughts.

"There is a very real sense in which it is true that as a man thinketh in his heart, so is he. Healthy thoughts are as essential to a healthy body as pure thoughts are to a healthy moral life. The mind controls in a marked degree the functional activity of the physical organs. Fear, anger, hatred and despair act directly on the nervous and muscular mechanism, affect the secretions and excretions, and stamp their imprint on the tissues. A fit of anger has often caused a spell of laundice, and because of the strange power that the mind has over the body that the personality of many physicians is more potent than their pills.

"Many of the ills of life have their base in imagination and not in fact. Half the people we meet with whom there is nothing seriously wrong, think that they are afflicted with something which will ultimately kill them and so they seem anxious that others should share with them the enjoyment of bad health. I would not minimize the woes of life or joke of their unreality. I know that there are pains which nothing but supernatural strength can bear.

"Cheerfulness is a habit. It is not necessarily found in prosperity. Cheerfulness is a habit of looking at the bright side of things which enables one to transmute misfortunes real or apparent into blessings in disguise. The care-free are not always the most cheerful. Blaise Pascal says that he often laughs to keep his heart from breaking. Someone has said that the spirit that could conjure up a Hamlet and a Lear would have broken if it could not also have had the humor to produce a Falstaff. The person who keeps in 'good spirits' has a great advantage over the chronic dyspeptic who grows at everything. "It is a blessed thing that there is wholesome humor in the world. "It is impossible to be either very bad or very good. This means that there are two things about which one should never fret—the things that he can't help and the things he can't—there would not seem such cause for worry. Then too we would be relieved of much anxiety if we only remembered that half the bridges we expect to have to cross, we never reach at all. "God is not glorified by our groans but by our thanksgiving. There is a difference between jaundice and religion, between piety and dyspepsia. All good thought and good action claim a natural alliance with good cheer. With cheerfulness there can be no heavy action, physical, mental, moral or religious for cheerfulness is the normal atmosphere of our being.

"It is reasonable to assume that many of the ills of life are ills of the mind. The trouble is in the mind, the remedy must be in the mind. There is nothing strange and nothing new about it. It is not the patent right of any cult. It is simply 'reasonable psychotherapy' and a realization that 'A cheerful heart is a good medicine.'

EVERY SOUL HAS SHRINE

And Each Man Prays to His Own Mental Image of God.

Emerson and His Religion Theme of Rev. George Gebauer's Sermon.

"Emerson, the Prophet of the Soul," was the subject of the last lecture given by Rev. George R. Gebauer in his series on "Modern Prophets" at the First Unitarian church yesterday.

His sermon in part follows:

"But the great question for the religious soul is: 'What is this universe, what is that power which we name God?' How does the prophet of Concord answer this? Emerson's God is not the God of the masses; for as his thought is higher than their thoughts, so is his God-thought higher than their God-thoughts. It is indeed somewhat misleading, when we say, we that after all we all pray to the same God. It would be more correct to say that there is one godhead worshipped, but various gods prayed to. It is not only in Catholic churches that there are shrines which hold the image of the deity. Every soul has its little shrine and each prays to its own image. And the image you worship in your heart may not call forth worship in me. The child has his God, the man has his. And the more thoughtful and intellectual a man is the more will his God-conception partake of a philosophical character.

Yes it may be said that the same God will in the same individual take different forms according to his special view. To an avian's reason the living generally will appear as the all-pervading power for good; to his understanding, as the common sense of the natural law of justice; to the heart of man, his religious sentiment, the ineffable one will appear in the form of personality. These three conceptions can indeed be reconciled and each expresses its own truth while complementing the other. But it is also true that the one or the other idea of God will become the leading one in a man's soul. Hence the God of the philosopher will generally be a vague and vast something, which the average mind cannot grasp and to whom it appears unreal. So it is with Emerson's God. To him God is impersonal. Not less than human indeed, but infinitely more, and therefore all together transcending personality as generally understood. Emerson's God is the spirit of life in the universe, the life and love and awe of being, who surrounds our soul as does the atmosphere of the earth. He is the great nature, in which we rest as the earth lies in the soft arms of the atmosphere; the unity that over-soul within which every man's particular being is contained.

Not God of Fear. "Within man is the soul of the whole, the eternal soul. Such a conception may not force man in abject fear upon his knees, but may it not give him the courage to stand? Not a few indeed have been quickened in their moral life by this God-conception of Emerson. And to him indeed religion properly understood is at one with the claims of the true man at every moment is conscious of his intimate relation to God. To Emerson God is the end of being, and character the key to heaven. Certainly there is nothing in his teaching which is not in accord with the spirit of the gospels in this respect, though it may not always agree with the letter. Indeed he is Christian or no, to the spiritual minded salvation is in love and in man's character is his heaven or hell. But where is his immortality? Emerson makes little of the problem of an other life, though he believes in it. He says on this point: 'We must not pick locks. We must check this too curiosity. An answer in words is deceptive. The description does not describe them, and tomorrow you arrive there and know them by inhabiting them.' 'To truth, love and justice the idea of immortality is essentially associated. Jesus living in these sentiments, never made the separation of the idea of duration from the essence of these attributes but uttered a syllable concerning the duration of the soul.

"Perhaps some of us may differ in this from Emerson, but we certainly do not differ in the child Jesus, the life means essentially the life hid in God, in the eternal goodness which is not the essential thought. And neither is there any arbitrary judgment of the sliver of the judgment of God, but as by the law of gravitation the stars proceed on their courses, so by the law of morality souls proceed upward and downward.

"This then, is Emerson's religion. One God, one law, one element and one end. The child Jesus, the life means essentially the life hid in God, in the eternal goodness which is not the essential thought. And neither is there any arbitrary judgment of the sliver of the judgment of God, but as by the law of gravitation the stars proceed on their courses, so by the law of morality souls proceed upward and downward.

is all about him. God, nature, man; these three are distinct, yet one at heart. When Emerson speaks of nature in his poems and essays he does so with bared head as a worshiper; when he uses the name of God, the ineffable one, we feel that he thinks of nature in terms of moral purpose, and when he considers man, there comes to his divine nature clear in the form of humanity, the Son of Man. The one aspect of the universe leads him into another; the one melts into the other, and before this holy trinity of God, humanity and nature he bows in reverence his head.

"All this may not be Christianity as conventionally understood, but whatever it be, it is the expression of a sincere and divine soul and mind. And to all such as see life supremely through the intellect and imagination, Emerson is the great prophet of the religion may appear a trifle chilly. And it will seem to me too that this lack of the emotional in Emerson's religion is rather serious lack. The emotions can not well be set aside; in the heart man realizes himself most deeply and truly.

"Yet, though he lacked warmth, may we not thank God for the gentle torchbearer from out of whose presence we have been brought to the light of the day? Surely there is born of American woman more greater than the prophet of Concord."

PLAN CREAMERY AT PROCTOR

Directors of the Proctor Potato company, which owns a large warehouse in Proctor, have promised the use of its building for the location of a creamery at a low rental. The scheme is to be taken up early in the fall if a sufficient number of dairy farmers will guarantee to bring their milk to that station.

A stock company will be organized and small blocks of stock will be disposed of among the rural residents. It is said that about $5,000 worth of stock would be sufficient to start the co-operative creamery. Those back of the venture are of the opinion that with the support of the farming community it will be a paying investment from the start and that the farmers will be given higher prices for milk and cream.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

RYE HARVEST IS STARTED

Larger Acreage Than Ever to Be Cut in North Dakota.

Annual Black Rust Scare Carries Little Weight
This Year.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The rye harvest in this state commenced today, and with two more weeks of favorable weather, the wheat harvest will be under way in the southwestern district, where conditions are from a week to ten days head of other sections.

The rye acreage is bigger than ever. Rye was planted more extensively by the farmers of Morton, Emmetsburg, Burleigh and adjoining counties than in other sections, and the general condition of the crop is good. Some hail damage was done in isolated districts, but the total of destruction from that cause is small, compared with the total acreage.

More Black Rust Reports.—Black rust reports will not come down in the state, especially in the Southern district, but it is a notable fact that North Dakotans are giving the "black rust scare" less attention than are outsiders. The general crop condition is so satisfactory that it requires more than the annual rust scare to frighten North Dakotans into a state of pessimism this season.

During the past week some hail damage was done in Morton, Foster and McKenzie counties. The storms are the first of any consequence in the state this year.

Losses to the farmers will not be as great as in other seasons, as hail insurance is more general than in other years.

The weather for the past week was not of the very best for corn, being rather cool. However, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with high temperatures, but the growers of corn are anxious for four or five weeks more of temperatures about 80 degrees. Corn is grown more extensively this year than before, and corn weather, as a result, is a more interesting subject.

They also favored the Hamill bill, specifying the hours of duty, favoring that seven hours at night be declared equal to eight hours of day work. The delegates expressed their satisfaction at the progress made with the parcel post and gave their unqualified support to Sunday closing. "Milwaukee," he added, "is the best city of its size in the world. The morals of the city are no better and no worse than those of any other city of its size."

There are sixty-two booths taken in the merchants' pavilion and all other exhibits are piled up to the usual standard. In the morning Dixon, old Chief Troyer said he had changed his mind. He stated that he had been despondent the night before because he had been unable to get a job but he thought that he would be

CITY PLANS TO CALL FOR BIDS

Will Concrete Section of the New Duluth Highway.

Bids for concreting the section of the New Duluth road which will be improved this season will probably be advertised for tomorrow, according to Commissioner Frederick Murchison, head of the works division. He said that the engineering department has practically completed the specifications.

The plan planned to be paved this year includes Zimmerman avenue from Ninety-third avenue west to Commonwealth street, and the section of Zimmerman avenue from Commonwealth street to the line of the city.

The estimated cost is $42,240. The work will be completed by August 1, after which the contract will be let immediately unless the city decides to postpone the work.

Murchison said that he would like to have the city handle the job but that it is rather improbable. One certain thing is that the city intends to have the work completed this fall and at the earliest possible time.

A petition asking the improvement has been filed and the cost will be assessed against the city's share for intersections. The roadway will be 15 feet wide.

Hears Argument in Saloon Case

on and Crouch, and W. H. Gurnee, assistant city attorney, will argue the case in the district court.

Mr. Gurnee claimed that the manner in which the Whalen saloon and Crouch clear store had been operated during the last three months was in violation of the ordinance, because the partitions around the cigar store cut off a view of the bar, and by reason of the fact that the rear of the saloon was broader than the entrance by about thirteen feet, the ordinance prohibiting the rear to be more than six feet broader than the entrance.

He also claimed that Crouch's being moved to run a cigar store in conjunction with a saloon in violation of the ordinance was a personal injury to the plaintiff, Moore, by diverting trade. He further contended that the license issued to the Whalen saloon was null and void as the license was issued to run a saloon in a place where sale of liquor was forbidden by law.

Has Left Rib Lake, Wis., for Some Untold Destination.

Rib Lake, Wis., July 20.—Rev. Louis R. Patmont, pastor of the St. Paul's R. C. church here, is missing.

Mr. Stone said that Patmont had money, was well dressed and was a short mustache.

His story of being pursued, hounded and his life threatened while in Detroit, according to Mr. Stone, is a fabrication.

The reward of $1,000 is claimed by the postmaster of Rib Lake, who is also a newspaper man, who claims to have identified the missing man.

"DULL" CHILDREN

Deafness, Adenoids, Tobacco, Tea and Coffee All Enter Into the Causes of Apparent Dullness.

(By Prof. M. V. O'Shea, Department of Education, University of Wisconsin.)

It has been found that a considerable proportion of "dull" pupils are dull because they have defective hearing. This may be due to accumulations in the external ear, or it may be due to congestion in the middle ear.

It is practically certain that any child whose head is "stuffed up" cannot hear with distinctness, and it would be safe bet that ninety-five out of 100 such children will be more or less dull, unresponsive and stupid.

Such children will be handicapped in this competitive world. The children who are normal in this respect.

Any parents or teachers who have a dull child on their hands ought certainly to make a test of the acuity of his hearing. Sometimes peculiar facial and bodily habits are due to inability to hear clearly in one ear, while the other may be normal. In such a case the child may unconsciously cock his head in such a way as to bring his good ear into line with the voice or sound he wishes to hear.

When any such idiosyncrasy is observed, the parents or the teacher ought not to delay a moment in making a test. It would be best, of course, if such a child could be taken to a competent physician who would examine his ears thoroughly and also his nasal condition, and who would test keenness of hearing.

But a test can easily be made in the home or in a quiet room, by putting the child in a quiet room, blindfolded, and noting at what distance he can hear the ticking of a watch first with one ear and then with the other. The position of the watch must be varied without the experimenter walking back and forth so that the child can hear the watch.

One of the important causes of dullness is the growth of superfluous tissue in the lower part of the breathing passages.

It is the growth of this superfluous tissue that causes a child to be afflicted with adenoids always, though in the features. The mouth never hangs open. There is an absence of expression in the face. At night the child struggles for breath and never has a quiet rest. Not once in a hundred cases does the child ever have a healthy sleep.

The only remedy is to have the adenoids removed by a competent physician. In some cities today, every child is examined for adenoids, and for enlarged tonsils, both of which interfere with perfect respiration, and so produce a low tone in mind and body. This trouble is very common among American children. In some families every child is afflicted with both adenoids and enlarged tonsils, and these, if removed, there will be dullness and even stupidity in every member of such a family.

Cigarette Smoking. Again, extensive investigations have shown that cigarette smoking among boys is a very frequent cause of dullness. In a number of places it has been shown that something like 50 per cent of the boys who cannot do school work are addicted to cigarette smoking.

It is really a deadly thing for a boy anywhere from 12 to 20 years of age to get into the habit of using tobacco in any form. It acts as a narcotic which depresses mind and body.

A wise parent will do everything he can to keep his boy away from the temptation to use tobacco. It won't do much good simply to command him not to use it, for the associates with those who do use it. More commands are for the most part useless. But if parents insist on practical ways of keeping their boys occupied and away from temptation, they would accomplish vastly more than to threaten boys if they smoke, or give them formal instruction in regard to the evil effects of smoking. Properly supervised playthings in cities are accomplishing a good deal in this direction.

The danger is very real in small towns, where there is nothing for boys to do but to loaf around the saloon, the railroad station, the livery stable, and the barber shop.

Tea and Coffee Drinking. There is another very prominent cause of dullness in boys and girls, and coffee drinking. Investigations have been made in some of our cities, and it has been found that children below the age of 17 or 18 drink tea and coffee their effects are more or less disastrous upon the action of the mind. Nature never intended that a child should use any kind of artificial stimulant; and tea and coffee are very active stimulants for most persons and for practically all children. Keep tea and coffee away from your children if you want them to develop mentally in the proper way. There is no excuse whatever for children indulging in stimulants.

WHOLE SHIPMENT OF MEDICINE DESTROYED

Washington, July 20.—The United States department of agriculture has issued a large number of notices of judgment involving shipments of drug products adulterated or misbranded in violation of the food and drugs act.

A shipment from the state of New York into the state of Minnesota, consisting of 533 boxes and 322 cartons of products adulterated or misbranded, was seized by the department.

The products were seized on the ground that statements appearing on the labels of the packages regarding the curative and therapeutic effect of the product were false and fraudulent.

This case was one of the first brought by the government under the Sherman amendment to the food and drugs act, passed Aug. 23, 1912. The purpose of this amendment is the more effective prevention of interstate traffic in that class of preparations or patent medicines purporting to be "cure-alls."

A circular accompanying the shipment represented the medicine as being a remedy for practically every ailment to which the human system is subject. In this case after a jury had found guilty of adulteration, the court ordered the goods destroyed by the United States marshal.

Seven hundred home gardens were started in Port Ewen, N. Y., this year under the direction of the school authorities.

ORGANIZED BALL IS ILLLEGAL MONOPOLY, IS COURT'S FINDING

Baseball "Trust" Loses Its Fight in the Chase Case.

"Ten-Day Clause" Is Held Void—Federalists Get Player.

Threatened Big League Strike Averted By Sale of Kraft.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 21.—Organized baseball suffered a legal defeat today when Justice Herbert F. Bissell granted the motion to vacate the injunction obtained by the Chicago American league baseball club, restraining Hal Chase from playing with the Buffalo Federal league club.

The lack of mutual obligation in the so-called ten-day clause of the contract under which Chase was playing with the Chicago team, whereby the club could terminate the contract on ten days' notice while the player was bound under several provisions of the "national agreement," formed the basis of the decision vacating the injunction.

Violates Common Law.
That organized baseball is a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law was denied by Justice Bissell, on the ground that he cannot agree that "the business of baseball for profit is interstate trade or commerce and therefore subject to the provisions of the Sherman act."

The court held, however, that it was a monopoly of the baseball business, in contravention of the common law.

Benched Since June 25.
Chase was benched since June 25, while he was playing with the Buffalo team at Federal park. He has been on the bench since in his affidavit upon which the motion to vacate the injunction was based, Chase alleged that he gave the Chicago club ten days' notice of his intention to leave, at the time of which time he signed the Buffalo contract.

Regarding the ten-day clause, Justice Bissell in holding that the injunction was unenforceable, said:
"The plaintiff can terminate the contract at any time on ten days' notice. The defendant is bound to many obligations under the contract, and the provisions of the national agreement. The player's contract, executed in accordance with its terms, binds him not only for the playing season of six months from April 1 to Oct. 14, but also for another season, if the plaintiff chooses to exercise its option, and if it insists upon the requirement of an option clause in each succeeding contract, the defendant can be held for term of years. His only alternative is to abandon his contract."

Mutual Duty Lacking.
"Can it fairly be claimed that there is a mutual duty in such a contract? The absolute lack of mutuality, both of obligation and of remedy, in this contract, would prevent such a claim from making it the basis of equitable relief by injunction or otherwise. The negative covenant, under such circumstances, is without a consideration to support it, and is unenforceable by injunction."

Justice Bissell declared organized baseball as a monopoly of the common law, he said, "in that it invades the right to contract as a citizen's right, and in that it is a combination to restrain and control the exercise of the common law."

The state petition asks that the license to do business in Oklahoma of the accused companies be cancelled, their property in the state forfeited and fines aggregating $4,000,000 be imposed.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sheriff Langum was asked today to investigate the sensational seizure of a 9-year-old boy from the yard of a summer cottage near Spring Park, Lake Minnetonka, last night. Three men in an automobile whisked up to the cottage, seized the lad, bundled him into the car in spite of his screams, and drove away at top speed.

The boy is the son of Prof. L. Skinner of Leland Stanford university, California. Prof. Skinner's wife, from whom he is separated, has been spending some time at Lake Minnetonka with her three children, the boy and two little girls.

A half dozen persons, including Mrs. Skinner, saw the car speed away. The machine was first started toward Minneapolis, but made a detour and went in the direction of Shakopee.

States could participate in the use of the funds by issuing 4 per cent bonds which, when deposited in the federal treasury, would be exchanged for cash. Exhibiting unusual nerve he stole silently into the room where five men were sleeping and snatched Anderson's coat and vest, which were hanging on a chair next to his bed. Awakened by the glare of his flashlight Anderson gave chase before the noiseless thief was able to secure the belongings of the other occupants of the quarters. A detail was immediately dispatched to the western suburb in the big police touring car. The hunt for the elusive and daring thief this forenoon without success. Warburg and O'Gorman
Are Said to Have Conferred.

Washington, July 21.—The fight over President Wilson's nominations to the Federal reserve board took on renewed activity today when Thomas D. Jones of Chicago replied to the adverse report of the senate banking committee on his nomination. The minority, which supports him, at once began working on its report. When it is presented to the senate later this week, a vote may be forced.

White House officials heard unofficial reports that Senator O'Gorman and Paul M. Warburg, another of the president's contested nominees, had a conference at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., to bridge over the difficulties between Mr. Warburg and the banking committee, before he has refused to appear. No word had been received from either Mr. Warburg or Senator O'Gorman.

No Increase Will Be Per-

Long Delayed Decision By Commerce Commission
Momentarily Expected.

Duluth Will Not Be Adversely Affected in Any Way.

Provided the long delayed decision of the interstate commerce commission on the increase in freight rates, is as forecasted, Duluth will not be adversely affected in any way by the outcome, and will reap whatever benefit may accrue indirectly by the greater prosperity of the railroads resulting from their increased revenues.

The Chicago Herald of Monday contains a forecast of the decision which is claimed to be authentic and from a source which is unquestionable.

The forecast follows:
"That the increased rates which will be applied will be upon freight moving in what is known as the central freight association territory. This territory comprises all that section lying between Chicago and St. Louis on the west and Buffalo and Pittsburgh on the east."

"That the commission will order a 5 per cent increase in class rates in this territory."
"That the commission also will order a 5 per cent increase in freight rates, including grain, and not coal and coke and one or two others."

"That no increase whatever will be granted by the commission in Trunk Line territory running from Buffalo and Pittsburgh to the Hudson river."

"That no increase whatever will be granted by the commission on freight rates from Central freight association territory to Trunk Line and New England territories."

SMITH FLAYS POWER BILL

Minnesota Congressman Offers Plan He Believes Better.

Says Committee Draft Is Only Make Believe Effort.

Washington, July 21.—The desirability of establishing a water power commission composed of the secretaries of war, interior and commerce was urged by Representative Smith of Minnesota in the house today. Several criticisms were directed at some of the provisions in the water power bill reported by the interstate commerce committee.

"The committee bill, whether intended or not," said Mr. Smith, "is nothing more or less than a make believe attempt to get away from the old doctrine so universally accepted in the past that restriction imposed on the right to make assault upon Nature's storehouses was an abridgment of human liberty, and therefore hostile to the principle of free government."

Regulation Mere Disguise.
"The committee bill is ingenious in this respect. It purports to supervise the development and use of hydro-electric power, whereas in truth it only permits private capital to make assault upon Nature's wealth under the guise of government regulation." In urging the necessity for having the secretaries of war, interior and commerce on his proposed water power commission, Mr. Smith referred to the reserves now being constructed in Minnesota at the headwaters of the Mississippi.

"Every one in our state, especially business men associated with flour and lumber manufacturing, are in sympathy with Mr. Smith. 'Knows that the greatest benefit derived for years has been from increased and improved water power. Join the secretaries of war, interior and commerce and you have a tripartite executive administration which fully meets all requirements from every legal and political and business point of view."

CLAIMS AGAINST SELLWOOD ESTATE

Largest Yet Filed Is Note for $4,864 Indorsed
By Leithhead.

Paper which the late Joseph Sellwood, Duluth millionaire banker and mining man, indorsed for his son-in-law, L. W. Leithhead, former president of the Leithhead Drug company, has been filed as a claim against the estate of the late Capt. Sellwood. Only a few claims have been filed against the estate to date. All must be presented before Dec. 31 according to the order which the probate court has made limiting the time.

The largest claim against the estate which has been filed is for $4,864. The note was for $4,864.24 less the amount of the final dividend from the Leithhead estate. The note was indorsed by the late Joseph Sellwood, which will not be disclosed for about three months.

Mr. Leithhead, it appears from a letter from Capt. Sellwood to the president of the Union National bank, which is attached to the claim which has been filed, had no authority to indorse the paper for his own benefit or for the benefit of the North Dakota Drug company. The letter from Capt. Sellwood says: "Mr. Leithhead married my daughter and on that account I want to help him out in this matter. You can hold this letter as my personal guarantee and I will see that you are paid in full."

There is the delicate light-colored nose which on the edge, the deeper shade as it is the swollen black in the immediate vicinity of the eye. In fact it is said to be the best of its kind that has been doled out in some time.

This is the way it came about: Several young people are camping near Fairmont park. One of the sports and the other a young woman, both of whom have been coming principally to sport the young men, but on the day that the "decorated" boxer returned, this young woman, who, by the way, is a college athlete of some ability, said she knew something about the art and asked to be allowed to put on the "decorated" boxer's gloves. The young man, who is also said to be somewhat handy with the gloves, told her to "go to it." The witness says that she "had it over" the artist in no time and as before she touched sent a straight swing to the eye, the young man, out of commission, the young man has not left camp since.

ROYALTY TO WATCH THE KENORA RACES.

Kenora, Ont., July 21.—Preparations for the regatta of the Northwestern International Rowing association, to be held here Friday and Saturday, are being completed rapidly and the greatest event in the history of rowing here is anticipated. The duke and duchess of Connaught, Princess Patricia and suite, will be guests of Hon. Robert Rogers, Canadian minister of public works, at his island home on the second day of the regatta, will be among the interested spectators, and in their honor the Lake of the Woods Motor Boat club has arranged a special party for a novel parade. As there are at present 600 motor boats on the Lake of the Woods this attraction will be one of the gala events of the day. Arrangements have been made with a company to have films taken for moving pictures to be exhibited throughout the Dominion.

DULUTH PLAYER LEFT IN SINGLES

Minneapolis, Minn., July 21.—Minneapolis men were again strongly in evidence in the second day's play in the Northwestern tennis tournament at Deephaven. Mac C. Burton easily defeated A. Ward Washburn of Duluth yesterday in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2. L. Kennedy is the only man from Duluth left in the men's singles. He defeated Paul Hathaway of Minnetonka, 6-3, 6-2.

A. P. Hubbell, Chicago, was beaten by E. B. Pierce, representing the University of Minnesota, 6-1, 6-2, and L. K. Adams of New York was disposed of by Frank Douglas of Minnetonka, 6-3, 6-2.

Playing in the women's singles started yesterday. Miss H. Adams of Montclair, N. J., lost to Miss H. Johnson of St. Paul, 6-3, 6-3.

Lauren Kennedy, Walter Kennedy, Mac Washburn, Walter Traker and Ray Bissonette are representing Duluth in the Northwestern tennis tournament.

Lauren Kennedy is expected to make a good showing in the tournament. As stated he is the only Duluth man left in the singles. Kennedy is looked upon as the best player at the Head of the Lakes and one of the stars of the state in the Northwestern tournament he will be opposed by some of the real stars of the entire Northwest.

DULUTH OAKSMEN OFF FOR KENORA REGATTA.

A large number of followers of the oarsmen of the Duluth Boat club gathered at the Omaha depot last night to see the men enter rowing cheer as the train pulled out. A large party of business men will leave here Wednesday night for Kenora and will take in the contests for the St. Thomas Cup. The squad that left last night was the largest ever entered in a Northwestern regatta.

PAYS HIS FINE.

Walter Erickson, an employee of Carlson Bros., West First street wholesale liquor dealers, pleaded guilty in police court yesterday afternoon to having sold liquor without a license. He paid a fine of $100. Erickson was accused of having sold a quart of whisky to Axel Johnson, a patrolman who was attired in plain clothes without first having secured a license from the city council.

The arrest resulted from the determination of Safety Commissioner W. A. Hicken to compel wholesalers to pay $1,000 for a retail license or stop selling in quantities of less than five gallons.

HARD FIGHT ON LIQUOR

Resolutions in Labor Convention Expected to Precipitate Fight.

Both Sides Primed With Arguments and Ready for Battle.

What may be termed a "bread and butter" resolution, one involving the position of the Minnesota Federation of Labor on national and state prohibition and county option versus local option—is expected to cause a real battle among the delegates of the state convention at the army when introduced this afternoon or evening. Some of the union members, however, declare that when prohibition comes in their occupation is gone.

An inkling of the fireworks that are apt to be fired when this question is broached, was in evidence when the Blue Label delegates in their conference Sunday presented a resolution strongly opposing national and state prohibition and favoring local option. The delegates at the conference are planning to place this whole resolution before the federation this afternoon or tonight with the recommendation that it be passed by the convention.

The wearers of the blue label say they are "loaded for war" and the temperance delegates are also well primed for a fight to the last ditch if the resolution comes up. The best speaker of both factions will present their cases and arguments of the philippic caliber are expected to shake the convention.

The resolution as passed by the blue label men makes no mention of the argument that prohibition would cut down the demand for labels, but it does declare that Minnesota prohibition workers are presenting unfair arguments. County option draws forth some scathing language in the resolution, which maintains that it is but an opening wedge for prohibition.

likely be the biggest parade ever held in its history.

This will come as a great demonstration of the strength of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor and every local union in the city and the outside regular and fraternal delegates will be in the line of march. The most notable feature of the parade will be the music. Fully sixty union musicians have been recruited to play the triumphal strains for labor's representatives.

The parade will gather at the corner of Fifth avenue west and Third street. The march will start at 6:30 and continue through the principal thoroughfares of the city.

Delegates to the convention and their families went up the river to Fond du Lac, by boat at 8 o'clock this morning. An early return was planned so that the work of the convention might be resumed. The session this afternoon will be confined to business matters and reports.

POLITICS IS LABOR TOPIC

J. E. Jensen and G. W. Lawson Slated to Fill McEwen's Shoes

H. Pereault May Succeed McDonald; Three Cities After Convention.

Politics is now the topic that is causing the Minnesota State Federation of Labor delegates to gather in little groups and engage in earnest conversation in an undertone. Factions are getting their heads together on certain candidates and the state for tomorrow's business session is about complete.

The highest plum on the political tree that is being sought after is "Bully" McEwen's job as secretary-treasurer. G. W. Lawson of St. Paul and J. E. Jensen of Duluth are strongly supported for this prize and one or the other seems quite certain of winning. Word that dark horses are being groomed for the race was heard today, but information is being withheld as to who they are.

Hall Has No Opposition.
President Hall, who hails from Minneapolis, is expecting no opposition for re-election. Mr. Hall was elected to the chief executive chair three years ago at the Mankato convention, and since that time has greatly strengthened and enlarged the state organization, and delegates say that there is no opposition to his ambitions for another term.

Only one other new official will probably be chosen. This is for the position of vice president for the eighth district which was held by S. S. McDonald of Duluth, who moved to Grand Forks some time ago. Henry Pereault of Duluth is slated to fill this gap.

Three Cities Want Convention.
Delegates from three cities are after the 1915 convention—Winona,ergus Falls and Red Wing. So far the contest seems to be an even break, but the front of things may undergo a lot of changes before the final vote tomorrow.

PROSPERITY IN PITTSBURG

Railroads and Builders Are Placing Big Orders There.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 21.—A wave of prosperity equal to any ever enjoyed by big and little interests in this territory is on the way, according to indications here, and the workingman will be the beneficiary, because wages are higher at the present time than ever before in this section.

One big order which will give work to several thousand men was received at the Pittsburg shops of the American Locomotive company. The contract comes from the Wabash Railroad company and calls for sixty modern locomotives.

The Pittsburg Iron & Steel company of Midland yesterday entered into an agreement with the United Engineering & Foundry company, whereby the latter company was authorized to manufacture adamant steel rails. This will mean not only extensive alterations to the Midland plant and the erection of several new open hearth furnaces, but will also insure the enlarging of the United Engineering & Foundry company's plant. Taken in all, the agreement means employment for 2,000 to 3,000 additional men and the investment of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Two Mammoth Orders.
The Homestead steel plant is now engaged on two of the largest orders for in this field. One order is for 85,000 tons of steel which the McIntire-Marshall Construction company will use in building the approaches to the two big four-track railroad bridges over the east river, New York.

A $6,000,000 contract calling for steel to be used in a new bridge over the St. Lawrence river at Quebec is another big order that will keep many thousands of men at work. This steel is being used to replace the bridge which collapsed there several years ago.

The merger of the Wheeling Sheet & Tin Plate company and the Wheeling Steel & Iron company was authorized at a meeting of the directors yesterday. The stock of the latter company was increased from $5,000,000 to $7,500,000. Part of this money will be utilized for extensive improvements and in expanding the plants of the new corporation.

INDUSTRIAL PROBE BEGINS IN CHICAGO

Chicago, July 21.—The United States commission on industrial relations began a five-days' session here today. The commission is conducting inquiries in different industrial centers to discover the fundamental causes of unrest in the relations between capital and labor.

All the members of the commission were present except Mrs. Jorden Harriman, who is travelling in Europe. Frank P. Walsh, Kansas City, is president of the body.

Twenty-nine witnesses have been summoned. They include a number of the largest employers of labor in this field, trades union leaders, open shop advocates and social workers.

Says He Will Appeal to People—Was Accused
By Mulhall.

Washington, July 21.—Representative James T. McDermott of Illinois, on the floor of the house, offered his resignation, to take effect immediately. McDermott is under charges in connection with the lobby investigation.

McDermott, a Democrat, representing a constituency which includes the stockyards district of Chicago, was one of the figures in the exposures of Martin M. Mulhall, star witness in the lobby investigation. A majority report of the investigating committee, now ready to come before the house, recommends that he be censured with officers of the National Association of Manufacturers; a minority report recommended that he be expelled.

His resignation came as a sensation today when, immediately after the house had assembled, he rose to a question of personal privilege and offered it from the floor, declaring he would "appeal his case to the people of the Fourth district of Illinois." He said he had already forwarded his resignation to Governor Dunne, and had announced himself as a candidate for re-election. He presented a letter to the speaker announcing his resignation.

Leaves Poor as When He Came.

I have been compelled to leave my service as a member of this house to borrow money from my friends. It so happened that after they became opponents of legislation which passed this house, they turned their backs as pawn brokers and as liquor dealers."

"It is true I have not had the educational training, and perhaps the social training, and advantages, that other members of this house may boast. I have been invited to many places in Chicago and elsewhere in that perhaps some may think above my social standing; but I have preferred to associate with the people who sent me to congress, and when I am at home in Chicago I am to be found with my accustomed haunts and among my old companions, associating with the

STRIKE DISTURBANCE IN RUSSIAN CAPITAL
St. Petersburg, July 21.—Serious strike disturbances broke out today in St. Petersburg, where 100,000 workers have laid down their tools as a protest against the drastic measures of the authorities at Baku and elsewhere against demonstrating strikers.

The Cossacks in the capital were mobilized in the Viborg quarter to disperse the strikers, who indulged in much stone throwing and also fired revolvers. The troops cleared the streets without resort to bullets. A couple of rounds of blank cartridges proved sufficient.

Several of the strikers were hurt during the disorder. Later the strikers made a raid on the street cars, driving out their occupants and overturning the vehicles.

Washington, July 21.—Representative James T. McDermott of Illinois, on the floor of the house, offered his resignation, to take effect immediately. McDermott is under charges in connection with the lobby investigation.

McDermott, a Democrat, representing a constituency which includes the stockyards district of Chicago, was one of the figures in the exposures of Martin M. Mulhall, star witness in the lobby investigation. A majority report of the investigating committee, now ready to come before the house, recommends that he be censured with officers of the National Association of Manufacturers; a minority report recommended that he be expelled.

His resignation came as a sensation today when, immediately after the house had assembled, he rose to a question of personal privilege and offered it from the floor, declaring he would "appeal his case to the people of the Fourth district of Illinois." He said he had already forwarded his resignation to Governor Dunne, and had announced himself as a candidate for re-election. He presented a letter to the speaker announcing his resignation.

Leaves Poor as When He Came.
"Unfortunately," he said, "I came to this house a poor man; fortunately for myself, however, taking into consideration the character of the charges made against me, I leave this house a poor man. I have been compelled to leave my service as a member of this house to borrow money from my friends. It so happened that after they became opponents of legislation which passed this house, they turned their backs as pawn brokers and as liquor dealers."

"It is true I have not had the educational training, and perhaps the social training, and advantages, that other members of this house may boast. I have been invited to many places in Chicago and elsewhere in that perhaps some may think above my social standing; but I have preferred to associate with the people who sent me to congress, and when I am at home in Chicago I am to be found with my accustomed haunts and among my old companions, associating with the

St. Petersburg, July 21.—Serious strike disturbances broke out today in St. Petersburg, where 100,000 workers have laid down their tools as a protest against the drastic measures of the authorities at Baku and elsewhere against demonstrating strikers.

The Cossacks in the capital were mobilized in the Viborg quarter to disperse the strikers, who indulged in much stone throwing and also fired revolvers. The troops cleared the streets without resort to bullets. A couple of rounds of blank cartridges proved sufficient.

Several of the strikers were hurt during the disorder. Later the strikers made a raid on the street cars, driving out their occupants and overturning the vehicles.

OHIO LEGISLATURE WORKS ELEVEN HOURS
Columbus, Ohio, July 21.—Completing the shortest legislative session in the history of Ohio, the eightieth general assembly, which was convened here at 9 o'clock yesterday morning at the call of Governor Cox, adjourned at 9 o'clock last night. The governor's chief object in calling the special session was to reduce the state debt.

national council, the royal princes, high state officials, foreign diplomatic representatives and their wives. The little shah, accompanied by the regent, Abul Kassim Khan Nasser el Mulk, drove to the palace of the national council in a glass coach drawn by eight white horses. Large bodies of police and troops were stationed in strategic positions along the route.

BACK OF THE CURTAINS IN THE BIG WHITE TOPS IS A WORLD LITTLE KNOWN TO CIRCUS PATRONS

Back Day in Ringling Bros.

A Sunny Spot

The busy old world in the hard and fast race for success in finance and commerce, will always pause when the hand begins to play. So will it also slacken its pace at the time of year when that malady contracted in childhood becomes acute in manhood, and which is always and unmistakably diagnosed as "red wagon fever." For all the world loves a circus, and is ever interested in the people of the canvas canopied arena.

There is an irresistible charm in the sawdust and spangles, and a hard-to-remember lingering fascination in the gold, gleam and glitter of the big tented enterprises. And yet the world does not know half as much about the circus fold as it thinks it does. Back of the curtain and the glamour and the hoop-la of the rings, there is another world—a world all its own, filled with the call of a world apart.

Nearly all performers, or at least 95 per cent of them, are born into the world preceded by generation after generation of ancestors who have been with the circus since it became mankind's never tiring amusement. The athletic essentials and the perfection of physical training made this a fact, and every star of the arena, every bareback rider, every daring aerial performer and nearly every clown, learned the rudiments of the work when they were children, and when their muscles were receptive to training by the supplest of youth. That foundation and long practice has made them perfect.

In the host of people who live under the canvas of the Ringling Brothers' circus coming to Duluth next Thursday, there are 400 performers who hail from every part of the universe. In all, there are nineteen languages or dialects spoken among the 1,350 people who travel in the four long trains of this, the largest show ever organized. Language is not necessary to the circus performer, for his work appeals altogether to the eye, which is its sole interpreter. Because of this, the daring and skill of all nations blend harmoniously in the arena of the "white tops."

Love Domesticity.
And just as harmoniously does the same quality enter into the daily life of these performers after the show work is over for the day, and the crowds have gone home. However, an anomaly it may seem, circus people, the greatest wanderers of all entertainers, love domesticity. One has but to take a peep at the tidy arrangements of the dressing tents, or catch a glimpse of the state rooms on the Ringling sleeping cars, to realize this fact. And more than that, circus people have sure enough homes, own them, and maintain the most wholesome of home life during that period when the big show hides itself away for the winter. They work hard, train with avidity, rest easy, enjoy their life, are thrifty, save their money and their physical being, and are never seen at play in the haunts of the great lights of the cosmopolitan thoroughfare, or the garish glare of the lobster palace. As one of the women bareback riders expresses it:

"I know nothing of the requirements for the care of a singer or an actress' accomplishments, but I do know that a woman who must always be at the height of physical perfection, strength and agility, and also possess youth, beauty and grace, cannot mix with late supper and all the alleged joys of the after-play parties. It is eternal practice with us."

The women of the circus are wonderful specimens of womanhood. They have developed the physical being to the highest state and achieved feats of great daring and marvelous skill. Yet they are just as feminine as their sisters of the every-day world whose applause is won by their ring and arena accomplishments.

The little woman, who, with a thrilling shriek, makes the perilous leap from a sixty-foot trapeze and is caught by her ankle, is an expert at needle work. Another, who rides and leaps over gay banners and is at perfect ease, while performing a toe dance from the back of a galloping horse, may be found on the greenward of the "lot" between performances teaching her little boy the mysteries of "twice one is two" and "cat spells cat." A performer, who, until this season, has appeared only in Europe, has a class of American girls teaching them French and in return is learning English. The strong woman who carries ten grown persons on her shoulders writes short stories for the magazines. Another is an adept at decorating fine china. Still another woman whose husband, a clown, owns real estate and business in Long Island, writes his letters on a typewriter perched on the top of a costume trunk, while he, often dressed in the garb of the ring, dictates his correspondence. Nearly all have cameras and make pictures of the points of interest in each town they visit. This is particularly true of the hundreds of ballet girls who dance in the spectacle of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. Their afternoon work is finished by 3 in the afternoon and it is no unusual thing to see an entire street car filled with these young ladies armed with kodaks, and bent upon "seeing the sights of the city" from the middle of the afternoon until dinner calls them back to the circus grounds.

Darning Socks.
And if you please, the darning of father's socks, or the patching of little Willie's pants is just as frequent in the "dressing top" as it is in any home. Take a peep into these surroundings and you will find out why the circus is grounds.

Supposed He Had It Fixed
He thought he knew something about ventilation. He had talked with one of those fellows that put in window fans. He put in one of those window fans that draw like "sixty" against nothing. This was in top part of upper seat. The lower wash was raised a bit to let in the fresh air. Once he had a most beautiful circle of moving air established that came in the lower part of the window and went out through the ventilator at the top. The balance of the room got in the benefit from the fan whatever. It remained as hot stuff and poisonous as before. How foolish!

the women of the circus are so respected, why the men are so gallant; for you will look upon a scene where the family ties are scarcely ever broken, where family scandal seldom stalks and where jealousy and gossip are unknown.

No story of the women of the Ringling Bros' circus would be complete without a mention of that one known to them all as "the little mother of the circus." She is Mrs. George Hartzell, and both her husband and her sons are clowns. She has charge of the costumes and all the sewing rooms and tailors and cleaners that keep them in condition. And there are over 6,200 costumes in Ringlingville. Always motherly, always tender, she is the first to rejoice with one of her girls over a new triumph, and the first to sympathize with them when a shadow comes.

STEEL PLANT SUBURBS

WANT LINE THIS YEAR

Suburban Commercial Clubs Will Unite to Request It.

New Duluth Alone Paying a Daily Tribute of $22.

Members of New Duluth Commercial club and the Gary Improvement club will unite in asking that the laying of street car lines to the suburbs be done this year. A joint meeting of the two clubs is being planned by the business men at which the subject will be taken up. The meeting will probably take place at the regular meeting of the New Duluth club to be held next Tuesday evening.

It is proposed to make the appeal through the city officials. "Every day that the extension is being delayed the people of New Duluth are paying out a large amount of money needlessly for extra railway fares," said a member of the New Duluth club yesterday. "Railway fares to West Duluth amount to 15 cents one way and that is 11 cents more than the street railway company would ask. When it can be safely said that 200 residents at least are being carried daily between the two points, New Duluth is paying a tribute every day amounting to $22 simply because we have not the extension. That is not considering the number of people who have tickets nor is it taking into consideration the employees of the steel plant."

It is proposed to ask the city officials to find some way to enable the Duluth Street Railway company to lay its rails to New Duluth at the same time that the work of paving the street is carried out. They are of the opinion that if an agreement between the city and street railway officials can be made, the line would be built this year.

They point out that the company could lay its rails at a less cost during the time the Pastore Construction company. Most of the ditch has been completed between the end of the line at New Duluth and the center of the Gary district. It is expected that before the middle of next month that the work will be entirely completed. The job is costing about $6,000.

CAMPERS CAUSE SOME UNEASINESS

New Duluth Residents Thought Them Tramps and Feared Depredations.

New Duluth police have been kept busy during the last few days investigating alleged depredations of "tramps," said to be making their headquarters along the river front. Gans of men are said to be lounging in shady nooks cooking stews at campfires and generally showing all indications of leading a life of ease, have been reported to the police by residents who fear such characters. Sergeant McDermott told a reporter yesterday that he had followed up several cases and investigated a number of alleged "gangs" of what appeared to be roughly dressed men and found that in place of being "tramps" that these were regular campers spending their vacation up the river. No thefts had been reported, said the sergeant, but the residents were on the anxious seat because of the general appearance of some of the campers. "I don't blame these campers for wearing their old clothes," said the sergeant. "That is the only way to enjoy the outing comfortably, but some of them certainly look tough. Talk about getting back to nature! Say, some of those campers appear to have got a whole lot of the nature as well as the soil stuck all over them."

"LITTLE LADY OF THE LONESOME TRAIL" DIES IN MINNEAPOLIS

Was First White Woman to Make Trip From Twin Cities to Duluth—Husband Organized First Church Here.

Mrs. Harriet E. Jones, 87 years old, known as "the little lady of the Lonesome Trail," the first white woman to come to Duluth from the Twin Cities, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Peet Jones of Minneapolis, where she had made her home for many years. She will be buried tomorrow.

When the Soo line ran its first train over the Twin City route on Aug. 1, 1912, the officials of the railroad company invited Mrs. Jones to make the first trip from Minneapolis to Duluth as their honor guest. It was fifty-six years from the time she made her first trip over "the lonesome trail" to Duluth. Mrs. Jones was born in 1826 in the town of Newburg, N. Y. MRS. HARRIET E. JONES, "The Little Lady of the Lonesome Trail."

said Mrs. Jones to a group of friends who had gathered at the Lenox hotel at the time, "as you perhaps know, I was very fond of frontier work and he accepted a call to come to the Head of the Lakes to preach. It was in the winter of '66, I remember, that I started out on Feb. 3, with Mr. Ely, a good, kind old soul, who wanted to make the trip. A guide was also along and we went by the way of the old St. Croix river, following an Indian trail for a considerable distance. The trip took nine days in addition to Sunday, on which we did not travel.

"It was very cold and there was no place to sleep except in the sleighs after the first two nights. We usually camped by a fire in the snow. Once we were upset, and I fell out, almost being crushed. It was necessary to cut a tree in order to get me out. We arrived here on Feb. 17 and immediately Mr. Peet went to Oneco, where he organized the first church. This church is now called the Merritt Memorial M. E. It had six charter members."

old-time May day revelries, a pageant school tomorrow evening promises to be one of the most interesting social events of the season. As a climax to the folk dancing that has been a regular feature of the school this summer, will be the Normandy wedding dance in honor of the "village bride."

NEWS FROM BIRDLAND
Purple Gackle, Common in Duluth This Year, Is a Lordly Rascal.

"Today in loose flocks foraging through the country go the crow blackbirds, unafraid of the evil eye which every farmer turns upon them," says the Chicago Post. "The crow blackbird is not a blackbird. More over, the crow blackbird ought not to be so called, for its plumage is bronze and its young are not black. It is a devilish bird. It will rob a robin's nest of its young or its eggs, and the night moves you to wrath if it not to murder. But when you see the marauder moving lordly across the lawn, with the sun full on its feathers, you forgive him because it is so fearfully handsome. The crow blackbird is no mere hopper; he stalks and holds his head high. He is a lordly rascal. He is the enemy of the farmer, but in the scale of intelligence, he is the enemy of the farmer, but in the scale of intelligence, he is the enemy of the farmer."

The purple gackle has been quite common in Duluth this year.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS
LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "St. Elmo."
EMPIRE—"Johnny Wise."

Amusement Notes.
The Baldwin Players are continuing to please large audiences by their clever rendition of a dramatization of the life of the famous and popular novel, "St. Elmo," at the Lyceum this week.

Thousands have read "The Great Gatsby" and those who have seen the play declare it to be a great play, as it is a book. The story is clean, wholesome and cleverly constructed, and as presented by this excellent company of players it is a most enjoyable evening for all lovers of a good play well acted.

Chief among the mourners was Sam Thall of the Western Vaudeville Managers' association office, whose good nature is proverbial. He made up for several years of tranquillity in one full swoop when he discovered his losses. Friends of Sam Thall—he still has one or two—are advising him to never come off.

Have you missed anything? If so, it will probably be found in the trunk that Sam Thall, who is appearing at the Empress theater in the musical comedy "Johnny Wise," brought with him from Chicago. That was not nailed down when the trunk was packed is apt to be in it. Boyle Woolfolk's beloved caddy, cherished for years, disappeared into its depths, followed by Dick Allard's choice overall, which have been in the family for centuries.

Of course every actor has a collection of hats that are the pride of his soul and the consolation of his declining years. How these hats did evaporate from various lockers. If all the excretions which have been washed upon the heads of the guilty parties could be carried out by a janitor, the world would be a much cleaner place. Dan's Inferno would go out of business as a poor record.

Next week Cohan and Harris's great melodramatic farce, "Officer 666," will be presented, cast to the full strength of the company, which will prove the comedy trend of the season so far. Seats now on sale at the Lyceum box office.

SAYS THE WORLD IS NOT GROWING BETTER

Last night at the Bible chautauque tent located on Second street near the Y. M. C. A. Evangelist Stemple White spoke on the subject, "Is the World Getting Better?"

"It is not optimism to close our eyes to real conditions, neither is it pessimism to declare truth and facts," said the speaker. "As the great Moody declared, 'This sin-sick world is doomed. Like a sinking ship, it is to go down, but let us warn the gospel light, and save those who can be saved.'"

"No, the world is not getting better," Mr. White said, "but the signs of our Lord's return to Earth."

BUSINESS SWINGS UPWARD, SAYS ERB

Minneapolis & St. Louis Head Optimistic Over Conditions.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 21.—"We are right on the edge of an upward mission swing," declared Norman, president of the Minneapolis & St. Louis road who returned Monday from the east, "if we can clear away uncertainty. The biggest thing to consider is the railroad situation. Why the interstate commission does not act on the long standing petition of the roads for a rate advance, I do not know. Three times in the past ten days the commission has reduced rates. Also the government has acted in the pending strike matter in Chicago. The engineers and trainmen want more money. There is no possibility that they can get it and that the railroads can still stand up financially under present conditions. And the railroads do not know what they can get. The commission will not tell them."

Warburg Is Right Man.
Mr. Erb was familiar with the fact that Minneapolis bankers had wired Washington asking the Minnesota congressional representatives to use their influence to secure the confirmation of the appointment of Mr. Warburg. "I know him intimately," Mr. Erb said, "there is not in the United States today a man better fitted by experience for the great responsibilities of the position and who has been so long in the country as to have a position to fill which the ablest man that the country can get is needed, because he is a banker, would be little less than a crime."

Mr. Erb said he was anxious to see the grain. "I have heard most excellent news of the condition of the crop," he said. "Along our lines we actually chorused the crowd, putting to heat the soft coal burners. Whereat the host smiled within himself. Then he smiled again, this time most gleefully, for he knew now that his men at least couldn't tell hay from hycants.

"Say, boys," finally chuckled Mr. Krusen, "do you know what you are really smoking?" "Yes, George," happily grinned the crowd, "we are smoking Roan de Havana. We threw away the cabbage you had cooked up for us and put these back into the box while you were out feeding the chickens."

HOUSEHOLD PEST.
Kansas City Star: The teacher had given the class a talk on household pests. "What, now, is the greatest foe the housewife has?" she asked. "Up went one little hand. 'A right, Mary, what is it?'" "A husband," was the quick reply.

BULL MOOSE LUCK.

Fortune—alias luck—is playing some interesting tricks with the Colonel's personally conducted party. First, the party found itself opposed to national honor and good faith in the matter of canal tolls exemptions—now a closed chapter and all but forgotten, though the stigma of wrong will cling to the skirts of those who, like the Bull Moose leaders, would have taxed all of us to pay subsidies to a trust, and would have violated a solemn treaty obligation to do it.

Next, the party found itself arrayed against so simple a matter of common honesty and decency as the treaty by which it is proposed to square things with Colombia, the little Central American republic which lost its richest possessions through a privilege-inspired "revolution" which, like the Bull Moose party, was personally conducted by Theodore Roosevelt.

Even the flag of the infant Panama republic was raised by an American officer in uniform—a man under the command of Col. Roosevelt, then commander-in-chief of the army and navy.

Next, a political revolt against free sugar in Louisiana seems likely to take out of the Democratic camp and into the Bull Moose camp that element in the Louisiana Democratic party which is for sugar first, for party second and for country last.

And now, to cap the climax of this series of tricky pranks which fortune is playing upon a young and innocent party—not to speak of the fact that it is being used obviously as a stepping stone to a Republican presidential nomination for Roosevelt in 1916—Hearst is flirting with Roosevelt and his party. Hearst, the Yellow Kid, the Jack Cade, the Harlequin of American politics!

Hearst has broken squarely with the Democratic party as it is constituted under Wilson. He finds in it no "spirit of patriotic loyalty, no hope of national prosperity." He has been conducting against Wilson much the same kind of a fight that he conducted against McKinley—the kind of fight that, according to the same Roosevelt Hearst is now flirting with, made Hearst the power behind Czolgosz and virtually the assassin of McKinley.

"If Mr. Roosevelt," says Hearst, "shall conscientiously support such men and such policies (as are satisfactory to Hearst) he will secure support from many unexpected quarters, from many Democrats who no longer find Jeffersonian Democracy or any spirit of patriotic loyalty or any hope of national prosperity in the Democratic party."

President Wilson having sinned beyond pardon by refusing to admit Hooligan to the cabinet, Hooligan is trying out Roosevelt.

And Roosevelt, when he heard that Hearst was supporting him in his campaign against the Colombia treaty, is reported to have said "Bully for Hearst!"

It will make a very interesting and affecting partnership, sure enough.

How many strikes would it take to put out a major league?

PLUCK THE PLUCKING BOARD.

The navy plucking board is an institution that was established in Mr. Roosevelt's time.

It meets every so often, and for reasons known only to itself it goes over the list of active navy officers and puts a lot of them on the retired list.

It has lately performed this operation, and there is a great outcry because among the officers plucked are a number who are at their highest stage of usefulness to the navy, and who are good for many years of active service. Because this plucking board is a Roosevelt creation, it is some satisfaction to note that Roosevelt himself is one of its strongest critics. He happens to be a critic because he knows personally an officer who has been plucked, and knows him to be too valuable a man for the country to lose.

Secretary Daniels says the plucking board ought to go. Secretary Daniels is right. There appears to be nothing on earth to prevent this board from retiring active navy officers for no better reason than that somebody on the plucking board has a grudge against them. Maybe that isn't how it happens; but a system which makes it possible for that thing to happen is dead wrong.

So is a system that automatically shoots from the active list to the retired list men who are capable of great usefulness for many more years. Pluck the plucking board!

And now, with Huerta out of the country, comes news of fighting around Xochimilco. Isn't there ever going to be any end to these names?

WELCOME, I. S. W. A. AND S. S. A.

Banded together for mutual aid and the cultivation of the spirit of human brotherhood, such organizations as those which are beginning their biennial gatherings here tomorrow perform a valuable service to society and to the country.

Though not among the better known organizations, the Independent Scandinavian Workingmen's association and its auxiliary the Scandinavian Sisterhood of America both have large memberships and do great good for their members.

Duluth welcomes them to its hospitality, and hopes they will have an unusually successful meeting which they will enjoy and profit from so much that when they leave it will be with a settled determination to come again.

It takes the rabid political partisan to take the cake for argument. When a bumper crop puts a crimp in the price of any commodity, the Republican leans to it to the Democratic administration.

OUR "OVERWORKED" CONGRESS.

Here and there you hear expressions of sympathy with our overworked congress.

Between regular sessions and special ones, it has been in session almost continuously for several years. Instead of being in session about ten months out of the twenty-four that constitute a house member's term, it has fallen into the habit of being in session about twenty months—only two months vacation a year!

For which its members get a paltry seventy-five hundred dollars a year and mileage—which is only a little more than the average congressional intelligence could hope to win at the law or in business.

So some people are pitying congress because it is overworked.

We guess these people needn't let their hearts bleed too excruciatingly over it. Most of the rest of us have to work at our jobs not ten months a year, but eleven and twelve months—if we have jobs. Some of us, owing to the shortsightedness of some employers, get no vacations at all; and those who do get vacations can count themselves more than ordinarily fortunate if they get as much as a month. A week or two or three is the usual thing.

By comparison with what it used to be, the present congressional service seems pretty tough. By comparison with what most of us have to go through to pay our way and to support congress and the government, it seems pretty soft.

There are things to be done by congress, so senators and congressmen have to be kept on the job, doing them. That they are done slowly and reluctantly is the fault of congress. That they are being done at all is not the fault of congress, but the president.

After all, why not begin your Christmas shopping now?

PORK BARREL BILLS.

The rivers and harbors bill, which assumed large proportions in the house and was increased in the senate, where a fight is being made upon it under the leadership of Senator Burton, formerly chairman of the house rivers and harbors committee, is said to be a "pork barrel" bill and the product of log-rolling. Therefore the Democrats are being criticized.

Doubtless it IS a pork barrel bill and was born of log-rolling. Doubtless it contains items utterly unjustified by any business reason. Doubtless, too, the Democrats deserve criticism for it.

But this criticism should not be bestowed on any assumption that this is the first rivers and harbors bill that was open to such criticism, or that the Democrats originated this system of treasury-raiding for political purposes.

The fact is that every rivers and harbors bill, and every public building bill, has been a pork barrel bill and the product of log-rolling.

It was so when the Republicans were in power. It is so now the Democrats are in power. It would be so again if the Republicans regained their lost power. It will continue to be so just so long as the present system of providing appropriations for such purposes is allowed to continue.

The congressional system of determining such expenditures puts a premium on log-rolling and pork barrel methods. It takes votes to pass such a bill, and so long as the game goes that way it will be necessary to concede appropriations over a wide area in order to get the votes needed to pass needed appropriations. It was always so, and it will always be so until the system is changed.

Senator Newlands proposes a national commission to control river and harbor expenditures. This commission would survey every project, and would pass upon every proposal with the best interests of the whole country in view. The Mississippi would be improved not to help the political prospects of congressmen whose districts border the Mississippi, but to promote cheap transportation facilities. The Tuskaloosa creek would be improved only if it were worth improving, and not to help the Tuskaloosa congressman get a reelection or to get his vote for the bill.

That would be more like business. It would save money and would enormously increase the efficiency of waterway appropriations.

But the determination of such expenditures by congress always has been on a log-rolling basis and always will be, no matter what party is in power.

John Lind might almost be said to have a claim against the state of Minnesota for advertising services.

Foley's Tribute to Norway.

Christiansburg, Norway.—In commemoration of the presentation here of a statue of Abraham Lincoln to the people of Norway by the people of the state of North Dakota, an original poem by James W. Foley of the latter state was read.

"ABRAHAM LINCOLN."

A man, rough-hewn, cast in heroic mold,
The sculptor chisels from enduring
With coarse carved lines and lineaments
Carved, and set upon a pedestal—alone.

Carved from the stone, a rock to raise
The right
Upon a lofty hill her edifice
Founded on him, and found in him the might

To close a chasm, bridge a precipice,
A rock the storm-lashed waves beat
On in vain
And smelt blood, assaulting, fruitless
The allied thunders of the mount and main

Reverberate, but shake not that Calm soul.
Mighty, a monarch, Nature wove his Crown,
And Justice framed his edicts, light
His throne;

Love shaped his heart and through
The ages down
He lives a deathless memory—in stone.

The storm breaks, the fire-freighted
lightnings play,
Forth to the storm his kingly mandates ring, Abashed, the unleashed furies sink away.

The waves roll back—surprise he stands—a king.
Unmoved, inflexible and stern as steel
The sudden tempest dies before his will.

His hands fall nerveless, dead, that holds the wheel,
The Captain stricken as the sea grows still.

An empty cleft beneath the honored sod,
A laurel wreath upon a slab of stone,
A God-like soul restored to God,
A figure on Fame's pedestal—alone.

Whetstone.

New York Sun: Soakiness in the heart of Kansas, in the geographical center of the United States, has arrived. The malady is caused by the wheat fields. Travelers on railway trains in Central and Western Kansas tell some weird tales about the state, how it is a land of wheat, five and six-foot stalks, can be seen as far as the eye can reach. And it is known far and wide that a wind more or less gentle blows most of the time in the Sunflower state. The wind, blowing against the thousands of acres of wheat, produces a billowy wave. A gentle wave is all there is to it, but persons have become violently ill because of the wheat.

A tale is told of one man who has been to Europe several times. Sitting in the Pullman on a through train, the traveler looked out to admire the luxurious wheat lands. As usual the wheat was waving. It caught the eye of the traveler. It worried him. He ceased looking at the wheat and decided to soothe his feelings with a cigar. He arose to enter the smoking compartment, and made his way there with some difficulty. In a short time he was seasick.

Doctors tried to diagnose the trouble, but failed. Finally one of them reached the conclusion that it was a new illness, whetstone. And later circumstances point out that it is true. Trainmen report daily that passengers have slight or serious attacks of whetstone.

Cruel and Unusual.

Life: All fair-minded people will protest against the excessive punishment imposed upon Lieut. Linderfeld by a court-martial in Colorado. The sentence was that he be reduced five files in rank. It is true that a man, a mere union leader. The Constitution says that no cruel and unusual punishment shall be inflicted. What could possibly justify our being so cruel and unusual as to reduce a lieutenant as many as five files?

Dangerous Doctrine.

Life: We hereby warn some of our more conservative contemporaries that they are going too far—much too far—in their radical utterances. We notice this particularly with respect to their comments upon the Colorado situation. The logical result of what they are advocating would be nothing short of a minority stockholder or a state government if it did own one. Can there be any doubt about the expediency of government?

Can People Be Too Happy?

Chicago News.

Does happiness lead to mediocrity? Do big achievements come only through travail of the soul? William Allen White has raised the question.

Eighteen years ago Mr. White won fame by asking: "What is the matter with Kansas?" If one reads him aright his answer to such a question is at the present time would be that Kansas is too happy. Writing in the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post the editorial editor devotes several closely printed pages to presenting a picture of a fat and merry commonwealth, in which most of the ills of life have been banished along with the liquor saloon. It is hard to conceive of the human family in a more healthy state than which Mr. White describes. Kansas is, it seems, a sort of made-to-order elysium. Its western disposition is education. Riches abound, but they are so evenly distributed that class lines are almost abolished. There is a question of the rich and fewer of the very poor. It is all very delightful.

But suddenly Mr. White turns upon the western disposition of peace and plenty and sternly muckrakes it. He complains that "this population, so abundantly happy, has produced one great poet, one great statesman, one great poet, novelist, artist, philosopher, leader whose name is known in the world." What, then, does its happiness amount to?

"That happiness and prosperity are worth anything at all," he asks, "is a question. When will the world's progress be considered? Are they an end in themselves? When will the world's progress be considered? Are they an end in themselves? When will the world's progress be considered? Are they an end in themselves?"

He concludes that Mr. White is not happy in his land of heart's desire. One feels in reading his conclusions that the writer is evidently not happy in his heart secretly is wishing for monsters to rear their heads and devour him. When will the world's progress be considered? Are they an end in themselves? When will the world's progress be considered? Are they an end in themselves?

But to get back to Gallivan and Winslow. They didn't see much of each other after the incident on the ball field until Gallivan was elected to the Massachusetts house of representatives, a few years later. Then they bumped into each other on a Boston street corner and exchanged gossip.

"What committee will you be on?" asked Winslow.

"I don't suppose I'll be able to get on any of much consequence," replied Gallivan. "I'm a Democrat, and the Republicans are in control of the house."

"Well, I'm a Republican myself. Maybe I can help you," offered Winslow. Whereupon he led him to a hotel and introduced him to George Von L. Meyer, afterward secretary of the navy under Taft, but then speaker of the Massachusetts house of representatives.

Winslow and Meyer had been college classmates and were great friends. "George," says Winslow, "there's a young man who used to win all the ball games for us at Harvard and so I thought I'd like to have him on our committee place even though he is a Democrat. If you don't give it to him, I'll simply have to get even with you somehow."

That being the case, Meyer put Gallivan on the committee and with the opportunity there afforded he made rather a name for himself.

Naturally enough, when Gallivan found Winslow in the house of representatives on his arrival in Washington, he said to him, "Gallivan, I'm almost as a hero worshipper, and ask for a few crumbs of inside information about the ball team."

Gallivan never failed to treat Astor with great kindness—almost as an equal.

No matter how hot and humid the day may be, or how many men go about among their fellows in cuts and neckties, the baseball news. He and Astor were classmates, the one without financial backing and struggling for an education; the other, heir to millions. Astor was a great baseball fan, though he didn't play himself. Every time Astor passed Gallivan, he would approach him humbly, almost as a hero worshipper, and ask for a few crumbs of inside information about the ball team.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, July 21.—(Special to The Herald).—When James A. Gallivan was sent to congress by the people of Boston at a special election a little while ago, the first thing he did was to hold a reunion in Washington with one Samuel Winslow, state manufacturer and member of congress from Worcester.

Every time Gallivan has crossed the path of Winslow it has augured for the good of Gallivan, and the slight of Winslow filled him with a great joy. Back in the 80s, when Gallivan's folks plucked him out to Cambridge to enter Harvard, he had ambitions as a baseball player. When the spring practice opened up he went out to try for the team. It was easy to see that he was a promising youngster on the baseball diamond, but two or three of the older players made a thorough investigation into Gallivan's ancestry. They found to their utter horror, not only that none of his folks had ever been prominent socially, but that none had ever possessed any vast sums of money.

But wait. Sam Winslow, a young man who had been captain of the team the year before and who was the idol of all the students, was back for a few weeks helping to coach the team. He missed Gallivan and asked what had become of him. They explained about Gallivan's folks never having been prominent socially or even wealthy.

"You put that boy back into the reserve squad," ordered Winslow, "or I'll have to know the reason why." So Gallivan became a member of the ball team and in due course he was their star ball player. He was so good that he had been elected to the big league teams at a salary that sent him bounding home to tell the good news to his folks.

"We didn't send you to college to make a ball player of you," was Gallivan's mother's comment. And the convention method. Politics is a game, and the players are very skillful. The people are always with the man who wins, no matter by what means.

Which translated means that the people are now with Lee, and that the nomination. Seems as if this was a poor complaint both to Mr. Lee and the people.

President Wilson Coming? St. Peter Tribune: President Wilson is expected to be drawn into the gubernatorial campaign in Minnesota this fall, and will make several speeches in the state for Hammond.

Things About Machines. Clayton Herald: And William E. Lee claims that should be our next governor, the state will not be machine controlled, but rather the people will rule. His claim is a wonderful scheme and he is getting away with it. There are hundreds of Lee supporters who in all sincerity actually believe that Lee will not be controlled by a machine, but at the same time they know full well that in each county and perhaps in every hamlet, Lee has appointed political henchmen who are ready to serve no matter what the machine may be.

Perhaps the chickens are now coming home to roost.

Christianity is a revelation of the love of God—a demand of our love by God based thereon. Christianity is a revelation of Divine forgiveness—a requirement thereupon that we should forgive each other.

Simpler manners, purer lives; more self-denial; more sympathy with the classes that lie below us; nothing short of that can lay the foundation of the Christianity which is to be hereafter, deep and broad.

Governorship Talk

What the State Press Thinks

Even Harmony Has Joined the Democrats. Green Record: Harmony in the Republican ranks of the state is anything but a fact, and if the Democrats do not elect their governor this fall, it will be proof that their ranks were as greatly disorganized as those of the Republicans. A good political organizer can do wonders in vote getting.

Tough on the Lily-Whites. Madison Independent-Press (Rep.): It would of course be a fine thing if Eberhart and his friends—"the bad element of the party"—would line up for Mr. Lee, but how in the world could the Lily-white element of the party endure the company of the bad ones?

An Important Straw, Too. Red Wing Eagle: Straws show which way the wind is blowing. The following, from the state press, but one of many indications how some of the Republican papers are viewing the gubernatorial situation in this state, and on which side their influence is apt to be wielded in the coming campaign.

"There's a Reason." Anoka Union (Rep.): Many an Eberhart voter is not so susceptible as to offer to support Lee. Our governor is of a forgiving nature.

They're Not With Him This Time. Preston Times (Rep.): The Buffalo Journal, with strong leanings towards Lee, in discussing the recent primary election says:

Politics can be played with the primary election as well as the convention method. Politics is a game, and the players are very skillful. The people are always with the man who wins, no matter by what means.

Which translated means that the people are now with Lee, and that the nomination. Seems as if this was a poor complaint both to Mr. Lee and the people.

President Wilson Coming? St. Peter Tribune: President Wilson is expected to be drawn into the gubernatorial campaign in Minnesota this fall, and will make several speeches in the state for Hammond.

The workmen were aboard the drill barge Terezo, which was wrecked and sank in the channel. JONES, Houghton, Mich.; MICHAEL KOENIG of Maryland was severely injured.

The Commerce Commission Makes Recommendation to Congress.

Washington, July 21.—Urging that the line of demarcation between great railroad interests and private business enterprises, particularly those relating to the coal industry, be drawn, the Interstate Commerce commission has recommended to congress that the commodities clause of the Hepburn rate law be extended to embrace all traffic. The clause now declares it unlawful for a railroad to transport any article, whether in bulk or coal in which it may have interest, except at a reasonable rate. The commission's report was based on its investigation of the transportation of coal and oil, ordered by congress nearly seven years ago.

GREEKS WANT HONOR PAID TO WILLIAMS.

Athens, July 21.—An influential committee of prominent Greeks has been formed to urge the burgomaster to confer the freedom of the city upon the former American minister, George Fred Williams, whose report on Albanian affairs recently led to his resignation. The committee also is desirous that other honors be bestowed upon Mr. Williams.

GEORGE FRED WILLIAMS, THE QUIXOTE

By SAVOYARD

Washington, July 21.—(Special to The Herald)—George Fred Williams is as "bumptious" as any Yankee that ever meddled with the affairs of other folks. He is now over 60 years of age, where he was the accredited American minister and has set about a reform of that part of the world after a personal inspection of matters and things in Albania. It rather recalls Lord Byron's disastrous expedition into that classic land. Let us hope that our George Fred may escape with his life.

Williams is a blue-blooded man, descended of a descendant of the Mayflower crew. He is tall, well made, rather distinguished in appearance, if some distance away from you, or was some twenty years ago when in congress, and he is of Democratic extraction, though he was a Republican until he was run down by the Democratic party in 1896. All things considered, that year brought to the Democratic party the greatest victory in its history. The Democratic majority in the house of representatives was more than twice the numerical strength of the Republican members, which was eighty-eight at the beginning, and I rather regret to say that "Silver Dick" was helped, than limbered up, to the decision of several contested seats.

For the first time since the birth of the Democratic party a majority of the Massachusetts delegation in the Fifty-second congress were Democrats. The division was seven Democrats and five Republicans, and George Fred Williams was one of the Democrats. He was bitterly disappointed when Crisp beat Mills for speaker and shed tears over the thing. Soon he was conspicuous in the debates, and there is no denying that he is a man of considerable force of intellect and individuality of character.

That congress was one of the last in which died 16 to 1 and George Fred helped to slay it. Mr. Crisp always opposed to 16 to 1 the lying garblings of his speeches to the contrary notwithstanding. Mr. Bland chairman of coinage, weights and measures, but he always loaded the committee down with "goldbugs," so that "Silver Dick" was helpless; then Crisp gave Bland a 16 to 1 committee, and two months later he reported the last of the Bland bills and it provided free and unlimited coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1.

The bill came up a nasty, mean, surly, sloppy, snowy, cold March day, 1892. For it was a great majority of the Democrats, all the Pops, and about a dozen Republicans. Against it were nearly all the Republicans and all but one of the Gold Democrats. It was about 9 p. m. when the first vote was taken on a motion of the goldbugs antagonistic to the measure, and the vote was a tie. Crisp was not pater in his coffin than when he rose to cast his vote in the negative, and that defeated the movement. The speaker was surprised and very angry.

Reed, Bourke Cockran and George Fred Williams led the goldbugs, Bland, Bryan, Springer, Hatch and others led the silver Democrats. Jerry Simpson led the Pops, though Tom Watson was the titular chief of the clan, but Tom Watson did not seem to care a deal about it. The silver Republicans were very unhappy when Tom Reed charged that their leader, Pickler, or one of the Dakotas, as "that damned wild ass's colt."

William C. P. Breckinridge was opposed to the bill, but voted for it to spite the goldbug Tammany crowd that had voted for Crisp for speaker. They had done so in the hope that it would add to any chance Dick B. Hill might have of winning the nomination for president in the approaching Democratic national convention.

vention. Hill was wabbling on the coinage question and never took an emphatic stand concerning it.

Long past midnight the final vote was had and the bill was killed. It was the spirit of Grover Cleveland that did it. A big majority of the Democrats were for him for president, and they knew that he would not accept the nomination on a silver platform. Subsequently, after Mr. Cleveland was nominated and elected, silver made another—and its last—stubborn fight in congress, when the bill to repeal the purchasing clause of the Sherman silver law came up before congress for action. It passed after a momentous struggle, and except the hypocritical movement for international agreement of the McKinley administration silver has been as dumb as a fish in congress ever since.

It is a curious fact that in 1896 both candidates for president were silver men, McKinley was, and had been, as strongly in favor of 16 to 1 as Bryan, and it was not till Oct. 18, 1896, that Mark Hanna succeeded in choking the word "gold" out of the Republican candidate's mind, and then he said it in parenthesis. Sir Robert Peel, the protectionist, gave free trade to England, and when McKinley, the silver crank, gave the gold standard to America.

Before the expiration of the Fifty-second congress George Fred Williams made a tour of the South, where he was received with great cordial hospitality. At Memphis, Tenn., he was the guest of honor at a sumptuous banquet and made an admirable speech that captured the hearts of his audience. There were some very noble sentiments expressed in that address, and his subsequent political course showed that the South captured her Yankee guest.

When Bryan was nominated for president he had no more ardent and enthusiastic supporter than George Fred Williams. He was one of the first friends began to doubt if Bryan was quite as good a 16-to-1-er as George Fred. And ever since that year Williams has been a Bryan man. In 1912 he supported Champ Clark for the nomination, but his old friend Bryan sent him to Greece, where he has succeeded in astonishing some of the chancelleries of the Old World.

And truly George Fred is as bumptious a diplomat as he was a politician.

DAUGHTER IS SUED BY MOTHER

Latter Seeks to Recover Property Held in Daughter's Name.

Mother and daughter are at loggerheads in a law suit filed yesterday in district court in which Mrs. Jennie Gardner seeks to compel her daughter, Mrs. Regina Wenzel, to convey title to certain real estate to her. The suit was filed since the daughter purchased it on Feb. 18 last, she and the title agent, J. H. Wenzel, had her daughter with the understanding that it should be reconveyed on demand. Since then the daughter has married E. J. Wenzel and has refused to reconvey the land. The tract is described as lot 1, section 23, 58-21, the son-in-law is joined as a defendant in the action to compel a transfer of the title.

HEALTH TALKS
William Brady, M.D.
Recreation for Mother

KNOW a good father, who thinks of the world of his family. He supplies the best of everything for his wife and children. When he is at home there is nothing he will not do to add to their pleasure and well-being. In fact, he puts in every minute of his spare time in the already comfortable home. Yet I call that man selfish, and I'll tell you why. A Change is Good as a Rest.

Nothing rests an overworked doctor like getting out and pitching hay. Oh, how sore it makes his back! How it starts the perspiration! Starts it! Why, it takes the starch right out of him. And how he sleeps, with the smell of the hay in his medulla oblongata!

After a day or two of such recreation the doctor is ready to return to his practice. He is thoroughly rested. He can make a better diagnosis than before. He administers more optimism and good cheer with his remedies. The selfish man is an engineer. It is no secret that he is selfish. He knows it as well as I. In fact, I told him so. I had to tell him so, in order to save the mother and his children from a breakdown. She was worth saving, being a mother, so, although the engineer is a pretty husky fellow and has a bit of a temper, I told him bluntly—by mail—how selfish he was. This seemed the most convenient way to do it.

A Woman Is Much Like a Man. He didn't like to have his wife "gadding about the street" all the afternoon, or "nosing about the bargain counters." Her place, it seemed, was at home with her family. Look how he enjoyed putting around the house during spare hours—why, he'd rather put on old clothes and foot with the furnace or lay a new cellar floor than go to the best show in the town or ride out on the street cars, or attend any blooming suffrage meetings. Of course he would. An engineer naturally needs some change. But suppose the boss insisted on an engineer sticking twenty-four hours a day on the job, with no time off Sunday and holidays? The world would be a strike or a civil war very soon, wouldn't it? The engineer would first get grouchy, then neurotic, then—The engineer was a sensible fellow. He can give and take logic. He now plays nursemaid real often, while his wife kades out the movies or goes to the opera. The doctor is at the pretty things in the shops. Questions and Answers. B. A. typewriters: (1) What is the cause of a "chlorotic condition," and how should one live to overcome it? (2) What is the cause of a red, acety, itchy condition of the elbows, which recurs at irregular intervals. Would it be out of your line to suggest a remedy?

REPLY. (1) Chlorosis is one of the essential forms of anemia or weak blood. Live strictly according to your family physician's instructions. (2) Many pretty girls have this affliction in the summer months. If anything, it adds to a girl's attractiveness, by setting off her general softness or skin. So it is out of my line to suggest a remedy.

Mrs. O. C. asks: Having read your Health Talk on fifty-seven kinds of itching, I would like to know how to distinguish between itch (scabies) and eczema. And what is the best paratiticide to use? Is scabies itch contagious?

REPLY. Scabies begins usually between the fingers, on the front of the wrists, and wherever else we are shy about soap and water. It shows little whitish lines about 1/4 inch long, and later these become festered and inflamed from scratching. Eczema usually exudes watery material which crusts when dry. There are cracks and scaling. It appears on all parts of the body. Itch is extremely contagious, and probably infectious via towels, clothing and bed clothing. Eczema is lightly, if at all, infectious. Your physician is the only person who can advise what paratiticide, if any, you should use.

Mr. L. asks: I am 25 years old, six feet tall and weigh 150 pounds. Should be glad to have you suggest something to increase my weight.

Aye, aye, sir. Read the notice below. Prescribe an English word meaning to write down beforehand what should be taken. It would be folly for me and worse than gambling for you. If I were to attempt to prescribe without previously examining you. See your doctor.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through this column; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnosis, address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald.

Doctor's Boyish Face Reveals Skin Renewer

I heard the other day the story of the physician with so admirable a skin that all his women patients asked his secret. He told one, who generously told others, that, knowing the remarkable absorbent property of ordinary mercurized wax, he concluded this substance would make an excellent complexion renewer and preserver. Knowing the wax could do no injury, he began using it after shaving. He soon observed that the old, withered, colorless water he used gradually was absorbed and replaced by younger, healthier skin. This was the simple secret of "Bea" Trout of Hartford, Ark., a miner, in connection with the death of Clarence Syleberry and John Baskin, mine guards, said to have been executed by members of the Mammoth vein company at Prairie Creek, in the latest development in the mining troubles of this section. The charred bodies of the two guards are said to have been found Sunday

LARGES PROBE FOR TEXTILES

Step to Secure Honest Labeling Is Advocated Before Launderers.

Imitations Goods Costly to Launderies Declares St. Paul Man.

Urging the appointment of a government commission to investigate the entire textile industry, for the purpose of aiding congress in passing on the Linquist bill, which provides for the honest labeling of textiles, J. Clair Stone of St. Paul this morning addressed the convention of the Northwestern Launderers' association on "Pure Fabrics."

Other addresses made. Besides Mr. Stone's address, talks were made by Otto Rice of Chicago, president of the Chicago Laundry Owners' association, on "Organization," S. Williams, Marquette, Mich., "Human Efficiency," R. H. Tyner, Chicago, "Efficiency in Marking Laundry," Mayor A. L. Johnson, Devils Lake, N. D., "Business Rates," Jake Barkley, Chicago, a member of the executive committee of the Laundrymen's National association, "Co-operation," and Guy C. Hammel, Minneapolis, who read a paper prepared by Gus Willworth of Chicago, who was unable to come. The subject of the paper was "The Troubles of the Small Launderer."

The honest labeling of textiles, Mr. Stone explained, is one of the pure food law and will enable the public to know what it purchases in the stores of the country. In this respect, he said, the laundrymen will be saved the inconvenience of washing articles that are only imitation and as a result do not wash out as would the genuine material.

Many changes needed. "New angles are presenting themselves constantly," said Mr. Stone, "making necessary either a revision or a complete change of plans until we are convinced that our best line of action is to secure the passage of a government commission whose duty it will be to investigate the entire textile industry and as a result, consumer, the results to be reported to congress, which report may propose to amend the basis of an act that will be remedial in its character, and one that will be acceptable to a large percentage of the manufacturers."

A report of this kind would be of untold benefit to the industry, and an educational way, and as an authoritative source from which extracts could be printed and distributed among our patrons from time to time, there is nothing available that would be equal to it. This phase of the matter will be submitted to the national convention at Niagara Falls in August.

"We have labored diligently for the enactment of the Linquist bill, the provisions of which are familiar to you. As long as the author of this measure is in congress we propose to work with him."

Massachusetts Sets Example. "Early this year when congress introduced in the Massachusetts state legislature a resolution (House No. 1937) calling on congress to pass the Linquist bill. It was referred to the committee on Federal Relations, and an important single factor that has developed in opposition to the Linquist measure, came as a result of the introduction of this resolution."

"Mr. Linquist is not a politician. He is a business man and I know that he is big enough and broad enough to only consult with manufacturers that would be affected by the various provisions of his bill, but to accept reasonable suggestions from them that might result in improved legislation."

"I believe, however, that we are beginning to make some progress and that before long we are going to get some kind of corrective legislation. There has been infinitely more public discussion of a pure fabric law in the last few years than ever before. Real firms are recognizing the importance of the measure, and are starting to swing the other way. There are evidences of it on every hand. Some have even gone so far as to make announcements through the newspapers and magazines, proving that they are cooperative to public demand in this respect."

"The United States are working for legislation of this character because, by so doing, public attention will be diverted from what some are pleased to call their own shortcomings, is unfair and attempts to cloud the truth. Nothing was ever farther from the truth than that. We want relief from a situation over which we cannot exercise control, that is rapidly going from bad to worse, and that is costing us thousands and thousands of dollars annually in damages."

"You can pick up almost any issue of the various magazines going to the textile industry, and you can find articles written by practical men that go into detail as to how to make this, that or the other thing look like something other than what it is. New patent processes are coming out all the time that give deceptive finishes to fabrics, and it seems to be taken as a matter of course, that this information should be published broadcast in order that other manufacturers might get in the game of fraud and deceit."

"Now there isn't any objection to the manufacture of imitation linen. There is probably a demand for it and always will be. But if it is sold at it should be sold for what it is. Under the Linquist bill, if that measure ever becomes a law, this particular material would be labeled cotton. Weighing in with a certain per cent starch and china clay. Then whoever buys it will know what they are getting."

"The manufacture of artificial silk is increasing at an exceedingly rapid rate. At the price of pure silk advances, it is but natural that there be more of a demand for the artificial. Although reliable statistics regarding the production and consumption of this product are not available, certainly undoubtedly heads the list in both cases. In Krefeld alone, over a half million pounds were used last

YOU OF THE WRINGERS

It looks now as if Fargo will get the 1915 convention. The boys from the north Dakota city are working hard with their slogan: "You need Fargo; Fargo needs you."

Mayor Johnson of Devils Lake scored a hit this morning when he said that the 1915 convention of the National Association of Launderers and Dry Cleaners should be held in the same scale by the state railroad commission in dealing on express rates. His argument to the commission was that "take care of a necessity and beer a luxury."

Charles Luter of Duluth is still the only man mentioned for the presidency. He is vice president this year.

Resolutions were passed this morning expressing appreciation of Mayor Johnson's address at the meeting yesterday afternoon. It was also adopted to have the city last evening and the change was made.

There are twenty-two women attending the convention. This is the largest number in the last six years. An official of the association said it was a record.

Whereas, the newspapers of the city year, chiefly in the manufacture of men's ties, France and Switzerland are the address is one of this kind of silk.

Urges National Co-Operation. "In conclusion let me urge upon you the necessity of co-operating with the association and one way to spread the gospel of honest textiles. You can help immensely, and in a humbler way, by scrutinizing the advertising of the dry goods stores, especially at sale time. Buy some of the things advertised. Launder them and watch how they come out. If you investigate reason why I do not urge that in your opinion should be added to our collection of data, then report it to me at St. Paul, together with any samples. In addition to furthering the work of the association by carrying out this plan, be educating yourselves, and then when you are familiar with something you are familiar with you can talk intelligently with your customers."

"Get acquainted with the heads of the different stores in your city. Tell them of some of the difficulties with which you have to contend. This policy will make them ready to listen to the laundress when things go wrong. Besides, after you have completely gained their confidence, you will be surprised at the number of trade secrets you will get—things that help you in your business."

"And finally remember this: That no matter what the difficulties, the Laundrymen's National association will ultimately have some sort of legislation that will correct at least the greater portion of these textile evils. It may take a year or it may consume five years. It is coming just the same, because the laundry industry is so absolutely fair. It is fair to the public, and fair to the manufacturer."

Mr. Tyner, who is vice president of the association, is also a member of the city board of review. He is interested in the efficiency of new systems adopted throughout the city. He is a member of the city board of review, and is interested in the efficiency of new systems adopted throughout the city.

An open discussion was held after all the addresses had been read and the delegates then adjourned for the night. The convention will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the annual election of officers will be held. The city board of review will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the annual election of officers will be held.

This afternoon the delegates and their wives left for a boat ride up the river. They will return late this afternoon and this evening will attend the performance of "St. Elmo" at the Lyceum theater. In addition motion pictures are to be shown of the largest laundry in the world in operation. These pictures were prepared at an outfit of $10,000.

At the meeting tomorrow morning Charles C. Huebsch of Duluth will deliver an address on the subject of "The Laundryman's Problem." The other address will be made by Oliver L. Best of Chicago, who will speak on "Water Heating." After the addresses the committee will report and the annual election will follow. In the afternoon the delegates and their wives will be taken on an inspection trip through all the laundries in Duluth and Superior.

LAUNDRY ON PAR WITH BEER

Mayor Johnson of Devils Lake Tells of Express Rate Fight.

"Because we believed that the people of North Dakota needed their laundry more than beer, the laundrymen of our state worked for years and finally succeeded in having that commodity placed in the second-class express list with beer, instead of the first-class."

The foregoing statement was made by Mayor A. L. Johnson of Devils Lake, N. D., before the convention of laundrymen, during his address on "Express Rates," before the convention was scheduled to speak tomorrow morning.

URGES PROBE FOR TEXTILES

Step to Secure Honest Labeling Is Advocated Before Launderers.

Imitations Goods Costly to Launderies Declares St. Paul Man.

Urging the appointment of a government commission to investigate the entire textile industry, for the purpose of adding congress in voting on the Lindquist bill, which provides for the honest labeling of textiles, J. Clair Stone of St. Paul this morning addressed the convention of the North-western Launderers' association on "Pure Fabrics," the most important paper scheduled for the gathering here this year.

Other addresses made. Besides Mr. Stone's address, talks were made by Otto Rice of Chicago, president of the Chicago Laundry Owners' association, on "Organization," S. Williams, Marquette, Mich., "Human Efficiency," L. H. Trenchard, Chicago, "Efficiency in Marking Laundry," Mayor A. L. Johnson, Devils Lake, N. D., "Express Rates," Jake Barkley, Chicago, a member of the executive committee of the Laundrymen's National association, "Co-operation," and Guy C. Hummel, Minneapolis, who read a paper prepared by the Illinois association, which was unable to come. The subject of the paper was "The Troubles of the Small Launderer."

The honest labeling of textiles, Mr. Stone explained, is on the order of the pure food law and will enable the public to know what it purchases in the stores of the country. In this way, he said, the laundrymen will be saved the inconvenience of washing articles that are only imitations and which do not wash out as would the genuine material.

Many changes needed. "New angles are presenting themselves constantly," said Mr. Stone during the course of his address, "making necessary either a revision or a complete change of the existing law. I am about convinced that our best line of procedure is to secure the appointment of a government commission to investigate the entire textile industry, from the factory to the consumer, the results to be reported to congress, which report may properly be used as basis of action."

Mr. Stone's address was well received. He pointed out the fact that the laundrymen are being deceived by the use of imitation goods, and that the public is being deceived by the use of imitation goods. He urged the appointment of a government commission to investigate the entire textile industry, from the factory to the consumer, the results to be reported to congress, which report may properly be used as basis of action.

OUT OF THE WRINGERS

It looks now as if Fargo will get the 1915 convention. The boys from the North Dakota are working hard with their slogan: "You need Fargo; Fargo needs you."

Mayor Johnson of Devils Lake scored a hit this morning when he said that the boys from the North Dakota are working hard with their slogan: "You need Fargo; Fargo needs you."

Charles Lutes of Duluth is still the only man mentioned for the presidency. He is vice president this year.

Resolutions were passed this morning expressing appreciation of Mayor Prince, Warren E. Green of the Duluth Launderers' club, and all the women who attended the convention.

Another resolution praising the newspapers of the city was adopted. "Whereas, the newspapers of the city year, chiefly in the manufacture of men's ties, France and Switzerland are large consumers of this kind of silk."

Urges National Co-Operation. "In conclusion, let me urge upon you the necessity of co-operating with the national association in its effort to secure the honest labeling of textiles. You can help immensely, and in a variety of ways. Secure the advertising of the dry goods stores, especially at sale time. Buy some of the things advertised. Be familiar with how they come out. If your investigation results in disclosure of a dishonest dealer, report it to our collection of data, then report it to the national association. In addition to furthering the work of the association, you will be carrying out this plan, be educating yourselves, and then when claims come in concerning something you are familiar with you can talk intelligently with your customers."

Get acquainted with the heads of the different stores in your city. Tell them of the difficulties with which you have to contend. This policy will make them less ready to blame the laundryman when things go wrong. Besides, after you have completely gained their confidence, you will be surprised at the number of trade secrets you will get—things that help you in your business.

And finally remember this: That irrespective of all opposition and no matter how difficult the situation, the Laundrymen's National association will ultimately get some sort of legislation that will correct at least the greater portion of these textile evils. It may take some time, but it will come. It is coming just the same, because what we are asking for is absolutely fair. It is fair to the public, and fair to the manufacturer.

Marking Machine Talks. Mr. Tynen, who is vice president of a marking machine company, gave an address on the efficiency of new systems adopted throughout the country. His talk was very instructive, but was considered very dry by the delegates. Mr. Tynen used a great deal of laundry and then the installation of a marking system that will save time and money.

An open discussion was held after the address. The delegates and the delegates then adjourned for the day. The final session will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning when the annual election of officers will be held and a convention city selected for the next year.

Visitors Take Boat Ride. This morning the delegates and their wives left for a boat ride up the river. They will return to the city tomorrow and this evening will attend the performance of "St. Elmo" at the Lyceum theater. In addition to seeing the motion picture, the delegates will see the largest laundry in the world in operation.

These pictures were prepared at an outlay of $10,000. Mr. Tynen, who is vice president of a marking machine company, gave an address on the efficiency of new systems adopted throughout the country. His talk was very instructive, but was considered very dry by the delegates.

"GOOD WILL" WAS WORTH NOTHING

Jacob Sher Asks Damages
From Eugene Fiskett on Sale of Stock.

In an action started in district court yesterday, Jacob Sher is seeking $2,800 damages from Eugene Fiskett. He alleges that Fiskett misrepresented the terms of a lease to a storeroom at 607 West Superior street to him and induced him to pay $2,100 for a small stock of goods because he believed that a long term lease could be secured on the property. According to Sher, the property is owned by Jennie C. Wolf and leased to Young Sing, a Chinaman, who sublet one of the rooms to Fiskett, who has been conducting a broker's office and tobacco store.

Sher alleges that Fiskett, although he knew that an unlawful detainer action had been brought by the owner of the property to oust the Chinaman as lessee on the grounds that the latter had failed to pay his rent, took the opportunity to unload his business onto him. The plaintiff alleges that Fiskett told him that the Chinaman owned the property and there would be no difficulty attendant to securing a long term lease on the premises. Sher says that he paid $2,100 for the stock and good will and that he finds the stock worth $200 and the good will nothing. He is suing for the balance, $2,800.

J. Swenson of the state board of control said:

"Our appropriations are so limited that we find it impossible to pay nurses and attendants a proper salary. As a result we have the greatest difficulty in getting help and must take inexperienced men and women."

UNIONS FOR THE FARMER

Would End Inhuman Drudgery of Farm Life, Says
"Farmer" Brown.

President of Missouri Federation Urges Equal Suffrage at Banquet.

That labor union methods are the lever by which the farmer may be lifted out of his drudgery was the message delivered by "Farmer" Brown, of Farmington, Minn., representative of the Minnesota Wool Growers' association, at the banquet held last evening at the St. Louis hotel by the Minnesota State Federation of Labor. About 300 men and women were present.

"Drudgery," declared the speaker, "is hardly the term to apply to the manner in which the farmer and his family toil from early morning until ter and retiring secretary-treasurer of the federation, filled the position of toastmaster just as efficiently as he has handled the affairs of the federation, and put everyone in a happy frame of mind.

President Wood of the Missouri Federation of Labor touched upon a subject that is becoming more and more prominent in labor circles—the cooperation of unions to bring about equal suffrage.

"No country can be free," he said, "unless every person in that country has equal opportunities and rights. Labor is responsible for most of the changes in this world that are made, to give all the same opportunities in this world and should take decisive action in giving women the franchise."

Unions for All Endeavor.
The organization of unions in all forms of endeavor was advocated by George Thelma, organizer of a waiters' union in Minneapolis and one of the leaders of the bookbinders' and teamsters' unions. "Unions are not a social evil," he said, "they are a social good. They are a social good because they are a social good."

That the Duluth unions are well organized and have hopes of accomplishing great things was the optimistic declaration of P. J. Coole, recently elected head of the Duluth organization of the bookbinders' and teamsters' unions. "Unions are not a social evil," he said, "they are a social good. They are a social good because they are a social good."

Contention Has Good Results.
Hartell of St. Paul was touched upon the differences of opinion that usually arise at conventions and declared that it was through open opposition that the greatest good was accomplished.

James O'Connor, vice president of the Switchmen's Union of America, gave a short address on the accomplishments of the Illinois Federation of Labor.

EIGHTH PLAGUE CASE IS FOUND.

New Orleans, La., July 21.—The eighth case of bubonic plague was reported here yesterday. Charles H. Leaman, who resides at 2845 Baronne street and is employed at 629 Canal street, the principal business street of this city, was taken ill Thursday and his case was diagnosed yesterday as plague.

late at night. A condition that compels people to work from before sunrise until after dark is more than drudgery—it is inhuman, unsocial and unhuman.

Some "Expert" Opinion.
Speaking of some experts who maintain that it takes an hour for a farmer's family to be a sufficient wage the speaker declared the idea to be ridiculous.

"How is the farmer to compete with persons living in the city where the minimum wage for one person is $7.50 a week—only 60 cents less than the whole family of a farmer is allowed?" he said.

Outlining in detail some of the difficulties confronting the farmer, Mr. Brown pointed to unionism as the proper remedy for the ills on the farm, and declared that union labor would make a great mistake if it did not aid the farmer in forming an organization whereby the tiller of the soil can obtain a just and adequate wage for his labor.

Despite the sizzling heat that permeated the atmosphere down town last night the Woodland cafe at the St. Louis was crowded with a jolly crowd who mingled jests about the "cool" weather of Duluth with serious comment on labor problems. There was not an empty chair in the dining room and all enjoyed the cabaret show and an excellent repast.

Council Appropriates Additional $5,000 for Middle System Reservoir.

Paving of First Avenue East
Will Cost $35,-

The city council yesterday afternoon heard the first reading of an ordinance making an additional appropriation of $5,000 to pay the remainder of the cost of the new middle system reservoir at First avenue east and Thirteenth street. The total cost of the reservoir was about $45,000.

The gigantic reinforced concrete tank is now ready to receive water but it will not be filled until the members of the city commission have had an opportunity to inspect it. The reservoir has a capacity of 5,200,000 gallons.

The additional cost is due principally to the fact that the size of the reservoir was increased. About 1,231 more yards of rock were excavated than originally estimated and thirteen extra tons of steel reinforcement were used. The reservoir was constructed by D. H. Clough & Co., local contractors.

The contract for laying a concrete pavement with a granite curb on South First avenue east from the railroad tracks to Buchanan street and on Sulphur street between South First avenue east and Lake avenue was awarded to D. H. Clough & Co. Their bid was $8,018.05.

The contract for improving Victoria street between Woodland avenue and the Hartley road will be awarded to A. N. Nelson. A 16-foot concrete pavement will be laid. Whether one-course or two-courses will be laid has not been determined. City Attorney Clapp said that the resolution awarding the contract could be introduced, the works division to be given authority to select the material. Under the charter all resolutions involving over $1,000 must lay over one week before being passed.

Three sanitary sewers were ordered. The largest will be laid in Fifty-second street west from Ramsey street to Polk street. The estimated cost is $3,415.50. Another will be constructed in Wellington street at Michigan avenue at an estimated cost of $55,19 and the other in East Tenth street between Twelfth and Thirteenth avenues at an estimated cost of $45.37.

OIL AND GAS LAND BILL IS DEFEATED.

Washington, July 21.—An effort to pass a bill providing for the temporary development of oil and gas lands, title to which is in dispute between the government and private claimants, failed in the house. The bill would apply particularly to oil lands in California and would allow the secretary to make agreements with the claimants to the land, under which oil and gas could be taken from the land and the proceeds impounded or divided between the claimants and the government pending the settlement of the disputed title.

Through his attorneys yesterday, Mr. Saari filed notice that a motion would be made in district court Saturday to amend the petition on which the election of Mayor Gleason is being contested so as to incorporate this charge. The court will also be asked to order a special term at Virginia to try the contest. A local judge will preside, as an affidavit of prejudice has been filed against Judge Martin Hughes by Mr. Saari.

REMEDIES FOR APHIS OR THE GREEN FLY.

In spite of repeated bulletins on this pest, inquiries continue to pour in concerning its eradication. One has used belladonna and another Paris green without results.

The fact is neither of these poisons has the slightest effect on the aphid. One might as well use distilled water. This little insect does not eat the foliage, he simply sucks out the juices from the leaves and the tender branches of the plant. As he usually works from the under side of the leaf, the leaves invariably curl in this direction. Insects of this character must be exterminated by suffocation. In greenhouses, smudges of tobacco smoke are used quite effectively; but, in the open, other remedies must be sought. Kerosene emulsion has proven the most effective remedy thus far discovered, but it must be applied in such a manner that it reaches the insect. That is, the spray must be powerful enough to drench the under side of the leaf. The soap and kerosene form a coating around the insect which cuts off his air supply. Two or three applications at short intervals are usually necessary to get them all.

Recipe for Kerosene Emulsion.
Dissolve one-half pound of whale oil soap in two gallons of boiling water and add one pint of kerosene while at the boiling point. Let this preparation cool and apply with a fine spray as directed above.

There is a commercial preparation of this emulsion on sale at the drug-gists and at some of the hardware stores. An early preventive for aphid on apple trees, shrubs, etc., is a lime-sulphur wash while the trees are dormant in the spring.

There is a large and destructive caterpillar working on the holly-hocks this season. Pick off and kill those visible and spray with belladonna or arsenate of lead. The same pest is feeding on the Canadian thistle. If he could be confined to such a diet, he would be well worth protection. During this hot weather gardens should be hoed frequently. An inch or two of loose soil about the plant is worth more than many gallons of cold water. Do not let the grass encroach upon your sweet pea trench and be sure to pick the blossoms daily.

Great-Grand Grandchild.
Red Wing, Minn., July 21.—By the arrival of a daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Skoglund of Red Wing, unusual family history is recorded in that the new born babe becomes the great-grandchild of Mrs. Carrie Mundahl of Toronto, South Dakota, who is now over 100 years old. The five generations represented in the family are Mrs. Carrie Mundahl, great-grandmother and John Mundahl of Toronto, great grandfather of the child. Mrs. S. A. Olson of Madison is the grandmother of the child. Mrs. C. L. Skoglund and the little child of this city.

STATE ECONOMY IS AUTOMATIC ISSUE

Cheese-Paring Will Not Accomplish Needed Reform in Handling Minnesota's Business Affairs.

St. Paul, Minn., July 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—In a crisp half column, the St. Paul Herald argues convincingly that the state is not going to cut down expenses materially. Whoever is governor, he will not discharge single office-holder nor reduce by penny-most of the items are fixed by the legislature—the pay of any public servant. On the contrary, the Herald maintains, the employees of the institutions ought to get a raise of 50 per cent. That estimate may be unduly liberal, but it is generally agreed by those who know best that many of the employees are underpaid and that it is difficult, if not impossible, to get competent attendants at the hospitals within the scale permitted.

There won't be any reduction in state expenses that anybody will notice, no matter who is governor. The Herald sticks to that and pretty well proves it. From which the Herald concludes that woman suffrage and county option are the issues of this campaign.

Need of Economy.
Whatever may be the fact about the issues pending, there remains the necessity for the most vigorous effort that can be made for economy in state expenditures. It may not be possible to cut down the total, but the voters will continue to rage against extravagance unless the legislature and the governor do the best they know how to compass it.

If you have read the efficiency commission's report, you probably agree that nothing worth mentioning can be accomplished by mere cheese-paring, cutting off a stenographer here and there or saving on stationery and postage. The only way in which expenses can be held to a reasonable figure is by system in appropriations and organization of the government on business lines—the method pointed out in that report.

Before it will be possible to do anything in the way of particular economies, the state's business must be run on the same economical basis that any business concern of like magnitude would have to do. The state's problem is not different. Organization of the administration comes first. And that is something the legislature must tackle.

Beats Wife: Kills Self.
St. Paul, Minn., July 21.—N. J. Ruppinger, 27 years old, attacked his wife with a flat iron, seriously injuring her, and then committed suicide by drinking poison. The couple came here recently from Waterloo, Iowa. The police say jealousy was the cause of Ruppinger's act.

The banquet was served in the large convention hall at 7 o'clock. Warren E. Greene, county attorney, acted as toastmaster following the dinner and after few addresses the remainder of the evening was given over to dancing. In opening the program Mr. Greene lauded the work of the laundrymen today and commented especially on the remarkable progress made by these men during the last ten years.

John T. Armstead of Duluth was the principal speaker of the evening and he addressed the members on "Local Organizations," urging the delegates to establish a system and organization among themselves, so as to establish confidence in one another and greater co-operation among the laundrymen in a community. During the course of his address Mr. Armstead paid a glowing tribute to Duluth, its manufacturing possibilities and scenic wonders.

Following Mr. Armstead's address, Mr. Greene called on the following guests for short remarks: Victor Adams, Chicago, president of the Illinois Laundrymen's association; Leo B. Lombard, Chicago; Stephen Gazele, Milwaukee, and Henry Bell, Minneapolis.

At the close of the program the ball was started and the members danced until midnight.

NO MORE PINS IN LAUNDRY PARCELS

In the future shirts sent to laundries will not come back full of pins. There won't be a pin in the shirt.

After decades of swearing and cursing at the many pins in the clean shirts received from the laundry, announcement was made at the convention of laundrymen this morning that in the future shirts will come back, sans pins.

In the past a man would receive his shirt from the laundry, take out several pins and then dive into the shirt. (All this for the benefit of those who have never dived into a shirt or have never seen it done). But no sooner would the man dive in than he would dive out, emitting a yell. He had struck several pins which had been concealed from him.

J. Clair Stone of St. Paul, one of the delegates to the laundrymen's convention, said this morning that in a short time shirts will be placed in envelopes and that there will be no pins at all. These specially made envelopes are being shown in the convention and it is expected will be universally adopted within a short time. They are used by some laundrymen already and are reported very popular.

MARMARTH DIVORCE SUIT

Well Known North Dakotan Accused

Marmarth, N. D., July 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three days of the district court were taken up in the hearing of the divorce case of Minnie Barber vs. O. Barber. The latter is a well-known local business man. There was some testimony, and the plaintiff won the decree, but the final findings have not yet been made pending the inventory of the property to determine the amount of alimony. The plaintiff named several women as co-defendants, and the defendant showed a long period of quarrels and domestic discord.

A NURSE TAKES DOCTOR'S ADVICE

And is Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Euphemia, Ohio.—"Because of total ignorance of how to care for myself when verging into womanhood, and from taking cold when going to school, I suffered from a displacement, and each month I had severe pains and nausea which always meant a lay-off from work for two to four days from the time I was 16 years old.

"I went to Kansas to live with my sister, and while there a doctor told me of the Pinkham remedies but I did not use them then as my faith in patent medicines was limited. After my sister died I came home to Ohio to live and that has been my home for the last 18 years.

"The Change of Life came when I was 47 years old and about this time I saw my physical condition plainly described in one of your advertisements. Then I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot tell you or any one the relief it gave me in the first three months. It put me right where I need not lay off every month and during the last 18 years I have not paid out two dollars to a doctor, and have been blessed with excellent health for a woman of my age and I can thank Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it.

"Since the Change of Life is over I have been a maternity nurse and being wholly self-supporting, I cannot over-estimate the value of good health. I have now earned a comfortable little home just by sewing and nursing. I have recommended the Compound to many with good results, as it is so excellent to take before and after childbirth."

CHAMPIONS BEATEN IN A THIRTEEN-ROUND BATTLE

Clarence Grina Defeats
Ralph Bell By Score of 4 to 3.

Harold Bond Features Contest By a Low Diving Catch in Right.

BY BRUCE.

Clarence Grina removed his arm from the wrappings of laced oil yesterday and went in and overcame the Winona champions by the score of 4 to 3 in thirteen lurching rounds. For two weeks Mr. Grina of Saxon, N. D., has had his salary under cover. The doctors prescribed rest and quiet. Yesterday it was taken out and given nourishment in the form of glorious victory. From now on Mr. Grina will be a regular member of our high priced pitching staff.

Lincoln, Neb., Ralph Bell was the sparring partner of Grina. For the greater part of the long afternoon Mr. Bell sparred with exceeding agility. It was very difficult to break through his guard. Mr. Bell won something like ten straight games in this league last season. Charley Comiskey rewarded the young man for his labors by showing him a bit of the country. Winona could not get along without Bell and his friend Meyer, and a rich lumberman bought the boy back.

We hooked the delivery of the expensive southpaw for eleven blows. The full body swing delivery of the Saxon youth was found for seven cracks in the thirteen rounds, one of the shots clearing the fence. Dutch Weigert was the marksman who raised the sights on his weapon and fired high.

In the matter of salubrious heating the wheat raising youth had much to offer of his more sophisticated opponent. In only one round did the accurate Champ win. One of the high falutin' feats of the matinee was the diving catch of Bell's right hander, Dutch Weigert, who won the game in regulation time. In two rounds the Dooks concentrated their bludgeon attack on the Comiskey ward and in these two rounds three of the four runs gathered by the Sox.

Some Lurid Pastings. Those who murdered or otherwise reached the park were rewarded by some of the most lurid (excuse us, North Webster) pastings of the prevailing season. One of the high falutin' feats of the matinee was the diving catch of Bell's right hander, Dutch Weigert, who won the game in regulation time. In two rounds the Dooks concentrated their bludgeon attack on the Comiskey ward and in these two rounds three of the four runs gathered by the Sox.

How They Scored. De Rucha walked in the second round. Joe Fautsch sacrificed the runner along. Meyers walked and the two started the double steal. While the infielders were chasing Meyers around and back and forth between first and second, De Rucha crossed the plate, beating the enervated leg of our leader. The next two hitters went out. In the fourth Collins walked and stole second and went to third when the wild pop of Meyers got away from Fautsch. Ford singled to right and Collins counted. Chicksen was on the mound for the home team and Tony Faeth started for the visitors and was driven through the large round divided.

In the fifth, Dutch Weigert clouted the ball over the left field fence. The next three batters went down. In our fifth we gathered into ourselves two excellent accommodations in the twenty choice base lakes within easy portage.

Ban Johnson is called by some the czar of baseball—by others the great diplomat of the game. A situation has arisen where the president of the American league will have to exhibit all of the qualities of a great leader. It begins to look as if the very foundations that have made the game great are being shaken. War has torn asunder some of the old tenets and destroyed some of the old customs. The courts are threatening the precedents of old established custom, and should the players walk out on a strike a revolution may be started that will result in the overthrow of the game.

TENSE SITUATION IN MAJOR LEAGUE CLUBS

Waltout Scheduled for Wednesday Still in Uncertain Stage.

Fultz and Herrmann Disagree on Interpretation of National Agreement.

New York, July 21.—Organized baseball and the Baseball Players' Fraternity appear to be on the verge of an open break regarding the status and disposition of Player Clarence O. Kraft, who recently declined to obey an order by the national commission to report from the Newark International club to the Nashville club of the Southern association, and was suspended. Kraft maintained that by joining the Nashville club he would receive $150 per month less than he paid him by the Newark club.

The disposition of this player has been the source recently of both correspondence and interviews between the representatives of the national commission, the National league and the players' fraternity, and at a meeting of the board of directors of the players' fraternity Sunday, President David L. Fultz was instructed to prepare a letter from the fraternity to organized baseball.

The letter addressed to August Herrmann, chairman of the national commission, said, unless the demands of the federation in the case of Kraft were agreed to, the members of the federation on and after Wednesday would not longer consider themselves under contract.

President Fultz in an interview outlined the case of the players' fraternity in a general way, although he refused either to affirm or deny that the ultimatum to the national commission contained any such drastic threat as a strike or walkout of the players in the major leagues, who are also members of the fraternity as well as myself. "Personally, as the president of the fraternity, have not the power to order a strike," he continued. "Such power is vested in the board of directors. I hope that no such drastic action will be necessary, but I will say that the members of the fraternity believe that in the Kraft case they are justified in demanding that the action as outlined in a number of letters to the national commission, be followed."

States the Case.

"Clarence O. Kraft, the player in question, was secured from New Orleans by Brooklyn last fall. Later waivers were asked and he was claimed by the Boston Nationals, who in turn asked waivers and Brooklyn recalled him again. Brooklyn then turned him over to Newark. In the meantime the Nashville club had filed a claim with the National commission claiming prior rights to Kraft's services and the commission ordered him to report to Nashville.

"This is in direct violation of paragraph 18 of the agreement between the players' fraternity and national agreement leagues, which reads: 'Before a major league player shall be released outright or under an option to the commission to class A or a lower classification, his services shall first be tendered to all class A clubs at a price not to exceed $1,000 and then to all class A clubs at a price not to exceed $750. If he be a drafted player from the minor leagues he shall have prior claim to all other clubs in his classification.'

"It is the federation's contention that this procedure was not adopted in Kraft's case. He was ordered to report to Nashville at a reduction in salary of $150 a month and when he refused he was suspended and has been without pay for nearly five weeks. During the last five weeks I have seen and discussed the case with Chairman Herrmann of the National commission, President Ban Johnson of the American league, and President John K. Tener of the National league, without being able to secure any action."

Contention Supported.

"In addition I have seen the presidents of all the major league clubs, and the executives of the International league. Many of them assure me they personally believe that our contention that Kraft cannot be ordered to Nashville again before he is offered to other clubs in accordance with the agreement previously quoted, is correct. Kraft had an iron-clad contract with the Newark club in which both the ten-day clause and the disability clause were stricken and he was before being signed by player and club management. The board of directors of the fraternity as well as myself earnestly hope that the matter may be amicably settled and without resorting to severe measures. Kraft has put it directly up to the fraternity to protect on this matter and we must see that he gets justice. The national agreement clubs must live up to their agreement in this matter."

"It is the first real test case that the federation has had put up to them and we cannot afford to back down in any way in the Kraft case. All the members of the fraternity are agreed on this point, and are one in desiring that justice be done to Kraft."

"It would perfectly satisfy the fraternity if Kraft was purchased outright by a major league club from either Newark or Nashville, but he cannot be sent back to the Nashville club in the manner prescribed by the national commission, simply because Chairman Herrmann of the commission says he does not interpret the clause

HERRMANN TALKS TO HIS PLAYERS

Tells Them Fultz Is Mistaken and Asks for Fair Play.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 21.—An unqualified ultimatum that all members of the Cincinnati baseball club, called the members of the team together and recited to them his version of the controversy that has arisen. Mr. Herrmann said:

"The friction between the national commission and the Cincinnati baseball club has arisen over the decision that was made by the Cincinnati club to transfer to the Boston National League club, and later signed a contract with the Newark International league club. This provides any Class A player drafted by a major league can be claimed by the Cincinnati club from which he was drafted, provided he is sent back to the minor leagues."

"This section is practically a condition of section 18 which Mr. Fultz claims we have violated. Section 18 provides that when a player is sent from a major league to minor league club, he shall first be offered to Class AA for a stipulated price, and if he is not wanted there, he shall be offered to Class A. It has been my contention that this section does not apply to drafted players, and I have been unable to do so, but even if I can later, I believe it is a matter of too much importance to decide in a hurry."

"Be that as it may, however, there is a difference of opinion, but I do not believe that a case of such minor importance as this is justification for the members of the Cincinnati club to consider themselves under contract."

Shortly after receiving this letter, Chairman Herrmann, as president of the Cincinnati baseball club, called the members of the team together and recited to them his version of the controversy that has arisen. Mr. Herrmann said:

Shortly after receiving this letter, Chairman Herrmann, as president of the Cincinnati baseball club, called the members of the team together and recited to them his version of the controversy that has arisen. Mr. Herrmann said:

"The friction between the national commission and the Cincinnati baseball club has arisen over the decision that was made by the Cincinnati club to transfer to the Boston National League club, and later signed a contract with the Newark International league club. This provides any Class A player drafted by a major league can be claimed by the Cincinnati club from which he was drafted, provided he is sent back to the minor leagues."

"This section is practically a condition of section 18 which Mr. Fultz claims we have violated. Section 18 provides that when a player is sent from a major league to minor league club, he shall first be offered to Class AA for a stipulated price, and if he is not wanted there, he shall be offered to Class A. It has been my contention that this section does not apply to drafted players, and I have been unable to do so, but even if I can later, I believe it is a matter of too much importance to decide in a hurry."

"Be that as it may, however, there is a difference of opinion, but I do not believe that a case of such minor importance as this is justification for the members of the Cincinnati club to consider themselves under contract."

PLAYERS AT SEA.

Some Will Stick, Some Strike and Others Not Decided.

Philadelphia, July 21.—Both Ira Thomas, captain of the Philadelphia Americans, and J. Collins of the Chicago Americans, who are delegates of their clubs to the Baseball Players' Fraternity, said tonight that they knew nothing of the meeting of the organization at New York Sunday. They were not present and had received no call for the meeting, they said.

The world's champions are members of the fraternity but it is reported that only one of them has paid his dues for this year. Several of them declared they would stick to their club. "I'll be out there playing on Wednesday unless Manager Mack orders me to sit on the bench," declared Outfielder Oldring. "Fultz doesn't get me three times a day and the Athletic club does."

Except to say that he would attend the meeting called by President Johnson at New York today, Connie Mack declined to discuss the controversy.

Boston, Mass., July 21.—The players of the Boston and Detroit clubs, American league will support President Fultz of the players' Fraternity, officials of the latter organization on each team said last night. Ray Collins, president of the Detroit club, vice president of the Fraternity, said the Red Sox would follow Fultz's lead to a man.

Sam Crawford of Detroit, a director of the Fraternity, speaking for his teammates, said: "We have implicit confidence in President Fultz and will back him to the limit."

St. Louis, Mo., July 21.—Lee Magee, representative of the local National League club to the Baseball Players' Fraternity, announced last night that he had received word from David Fultz, president of the organization, to call a strike of players for Wednesday. Magee said he had called a meeting of the players for this morning at which the strike will be discussed.

We have the population to make possible the transfer next season to Class B. Then the proposition seems comparatively simple. If we are paying high salaries now and are also getting the attendance throughout the season, why not get into Class B?"

The fans here have been clamoring for years for some real baseball. Climbing into Class B would be a boost for local baseball and would result in more prestige for the Northern league. I believe that the move can be worked and am at the present time interesting the other managers of the league as well as the fans.

The statement of President Blume that the Northern league is above the usual run of Class C leagues is borne out by the playing of the various teams of the league. The Northern this season is the fastest in its history.

Most important of the amendments recommended by the committee is one to provide for a court review of orders issued by the interstate commerce commission or the proposed interstate trade commission when against corporations found to have violated the trust statutes.

The amendment would provide that in case corporations or individuals neglect or fail to obey orders of either commission, the commission, through its attorney or district attorneys, may apply for enforcement of the order to the United States district court, transmit the original record of the proceedings, including all testimony taken, and the ruling of the commission shall be taken as prima facie evidence.

Either party to any proceeding brought before the commerce or trade commissions, under the amendment, would have the right of appeal from any final order by either commission within thirty days by serving notice on the adverse party and filing it with the commission.

The final order of any district court, the amendment would provide, might be reversed by the supreme court on appeal.

Detroit, Mich., July 21.—By unanimous vote, delegates representing the Knights of the Maccabees in every state and the Canadian provinces voted here in favor of amalgamation of the order with the Knights of the Modern Maccabees. The latter organization ratified the proposed amalgamation at a meeting in Bay City a few weeks ago. The new organization will be known as the "Maccabees."

By combining the organizations, it is said, the expense of administration will be greatly reduced and there will be a large saving in other directions. It was stated that there would be no unusual change in the rates or by-laws of either society.

Washington, July 21.—Senator Walsh of Montana, recently personally investigated conditions at Butte, Mont., growing out of riots between regular and scab members of the Western Federation of Miners, called on President Wilson yesterday and told him that the chances of settling the trouble were excellent. He did not believe, however, that the necessity of Federal interference.

Jesus Carranza this morning.

ON THE RANGES

BONDING KEEWATIN TO BE CONSIDERED

Range Village Wants to Issue $125,000 to Make Improvements.

Hibbing, Minn., July 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The question of bonding the village of Kewatin for $125,000 to take up the outstanding indebtedness and the payment of permanent improvements is to come up at the council meeting in that village this evening. Council members have been negotiating with Twin City banks in an effort to unload their bond stock since the First State bank, Kewatin, which has been carrying the village orders, has given notice that it does not desire to carry the amount of the current and contemplated improvements for the current year.

There is outstanding about $60,000 and the amount of the improvements to be made is only about $45,000. Only one-half of that amount will be available before December. This effort on the part of Kewatin for municipal improvements has been watched here with much interest.

DIES AS RESULT OF STOMACH BLOW

John Magnuson Victim of Saloon Row—Warrant for Manslaughter Likely.

Coroner McComb is investigating the death of John Magnuson, 35 years old, at a Two Harbors hospital yesterday morning, as the result of a blow received on Thursday last, and it may be that after the inquiry, which will be held here, a warrant may be issued for the arrest of George Bise, 25 years old, of Knife River, on a charge of manslaughter. The police in the vicinity of Fairbanks are making a search for Bise, who is claimed to have struck Magnuson a blow in the stomach with the butt end of a rifle. Magnuson was later taken to Two Harbors, where he was found dead. Magnuson was a millhand at Fairbanks, where he was married and had made his home at Knife River for some time.

County Attorney R. A. McQuinn is here from Grand Rapids looking after the sensational stories afloat as to the cause of the accident and the matter is expected to be thoroughly probed this afternoon. It is said that the machine turned over on the wrong side of the road and that the Scannell machine coming along at a rapid rate struck it before Scannell could turn out.

Turned Several Times. The Butler machine turned over several times in going down the embankment. Butler, his wife, his daughter, Miss Lenora Butler, and A. Jackson, who were also in the car, escaped with slight bruises.

Mrs. Bush was thrown about thirty feet. She was picked up and rushed to the hospital, where she was held until the end. Her husband works for the village of Marble. She was

WHAT NEURASTHENIA IS

Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Continuous work, mental or physical, without proper attention to diet and exercise, also worry over the struggle for success, are the most common causes. Excesses of nervousness, irritability, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, possibly nausea, the treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

NET GAIN FOR PREUS SHOWN

Votes of Twenty-Nine City Precincts Recounted By Inspectors.

One Voter Voted for Every Candidate on Ticket But Eberhart.

Rapid progress is being made in the recount of the ballots cast at the last primary election for Republican nomination for state auditor. The nomination of J. A. O. Preus, state insurance commissioner, is being contested by Henry Rines, speaker for the house at the last legislature.

The recount of twenty-nine city election districts at the city hall has given Preus a net gain of forty-three over Rines. In the ninth district Preus made a jump of thirty-two votes, due to the fact that second choice voters had not been counted by the election judges.

Failure to count second choice votes has been the chief cause of the difference between the figures in the recount and those returned by the election judges. Rines has been keeping an accurate check upon the figures and has found that in twenty-seven districts the recount has increased the total 263 votes.

The inspectors, L. M. Willcutts, Lester U. Young and Richard M. Funk, are expediting the recount as much as possible. They worked until 11 o'clock last night and were on the job again early this morning. Both Preus and Rines were present during the whole time. It is probable that the recount of the forty-three city districts will be finished today. The inspectors will then go to the auditor's office to recount the ballots cast in the county.

Silent Scarecrow.
One ballot attracted particular attention. A cross was placed after the name of every candidate on the ticket except that of Governor Eberhart. That's certainly a pointed illustration of the silent kind of concentrated silence of "scarecrow," remarked one of the inspectors.

The changes made thus far by the recount were as follows:

The Iron Mountain Mining company yesterday afternoon under which large Eastern interests will take over and operate its property on the Cuyuna range of advanced royalty basis.

The company now pays a royalty of 35 cents a ton to the freeholders and the operators will pay 75 cents a ton.

Under the agreement, an advance royalty payment running up into a large figure, said to be $50,000, will be sufficient to guarantee substantial dividends to stockholders. It is taken as assured, too, that the tonnage provided for in the lease will be largely exceeded. It is announced that the operating company will take possession at once, and push developments with a view to getting out a large tonnage this year.

The Iron Mountain mine has attracted considerable interest among mining men and engineers since the sinking of its experimental shaft two years ago disclosed a large body of rich manganese ore. It was in fact in many quarters considered to be the greatest find of high-grade manganese ore ever located in the United States.

Last year a standard shaft was sunk to the mine and a spur was laid into it by the Soo line, so that with the installing of a hoisting equipment, the property will be immediately ready to start ore shipments. The agreement just concluded had been under negotiation for several months and the officers of the company are now enthusiastic over its outcome and the receipt of the signed agreement from the East. It is believed that the income of the new interests will be augmented a period of fresh activity in that section of the Cuyuna range.

It looks as if it may now be taken as assured that they are going to have bumper crops in North Dakota, this season," said H. S. Macgregor, cashier of the City National bank this morning on his return from a trip over the state.

Mr. Macgregor came across the state from Williston, and he averred that the crops are looking beautiful everywhere, and that the outlook is very bright. There were no complaints of drought, and in that connection he talked last Saturday with a prominent Chicago grain operator who had just returned from a motor trip over the state.

The latter expressed the opinion that North Dakota will harvest one of the largest crops of all grains this fall in its history.

Mr. Macgregor found a general feeling of optimism to prevail in Chicago, and the opinion among leading financial and mercantile interests there that the garnering of the big crops will lead to a period of activity in business this fall.

The Duluth banker also took a run down to Toronto and Montreal where he noted that an extended period of dry weather had left business men in the Eastern Canada to regard the situation anything but promising. It is the impression down there, he found, that the slowing down period is likely to continue for some time longer, and bankers disposed to be very conservative in extending credits to a greater extent than merely to cover current requirements.

"My husband has not found it necessary to discharge him from her company after only one night's work, he had proved himself a good sweetheart that she was married to him."

"Nothing," replied the actress. "Absolutely nothing. In fact, the only money I knew him to earn was $100 that I paid him before we were married."

"Tell us about it, please," ordered the examiner.

"Well," said Miss Anglin, as she cast a look at Mr. Hull, who sat with her through the proceedings—"it was this way. I engaged Mr. Hull to play a part in my company, but he proved such a poor actor that I discharged him after only one night's work."

"We were married, although I knew that he had nothing to do with my company after only one night's work, he had proved himself a good sweetheart that she was married to him."

"I furnished our house, from cooking utensils to bedclothing. All the money he had was what I gave him from account, and so she opened one for him with a deposit of $1,000. Several other deposits were made later, until she had as much as $5,000 in the bank at one time. The famous star admitted

Iron Mountain Property Will Be Operated By Eastern Company.

Cash Payment of $50,000 Said to Have Been Made.

An important deal was closed up by the Iron Mountain Mining company yesterday afternoon under which large Eastern interests will take over and operate its property on the Cuyuna range of advanced royalty basis.

The company now pays a royalty of 35 cents a ton to the freeholders and the operators will pay 75 cents a ton.
